SAD leader shot dead in Amritsar

AMRITSAR: A local SAD leader was shot dead in his village in Amritsar rural area on Thursday, police said.

Police said that a party colleague of the deceased had earlier shown him an object which looked like a bullet and the deceased had asked police for its identification.

The body of the deceased was found near a temple. The police have registered a case under Section 302 of the IPC.

Medha Patkar seeks MEA nod

Medha Patkar seeks MEA nod

NEW DELHI: Medha Patkar, the Bachao Andolan (NBA) activist, sought the Ministry of External Affairs’ nod to prosecute Narmada activist Nirmal Singh and Harmanjeet Singh.

Patkar, who was in jail for 20 days in late 2019 after an attempt by union ministers, including Agriculture Minister Narendra Singh Tomar and Union Home Minister Amit Shah, to arrest her under the Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act, has been granted bail in the case.

“PM has remained silent in the matter. There is a need for the ministry to decide on this issue,” Patkar had said last week.

The Centre had rejected Patkar’s request in February last year, saying any such decision should be taken by the union Home Ministry.

“PM’s silence is deafening,” she had said.

The Centre later caved in and Patkar had been released from jail on 26 February.

Passport dept writes to Medha Patkar

NEW DELHI: The Passport Department has written to Bachao Andolan activist Medha Patkar for not disclosing details about many pending cases against her.

An official said that the department had written to Patkar about her cases.

“The department has written to Medha Patkar stating that cases, many of which are pending in different states, are not being properly handled,” he said.

“The department has written that the remaining cases, which are pending at different levels, should be handled properly,” the official added.

‘There should not be politics on farmers’

‘There should not be politics on farmers’

NEW DELHI: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Thursday accused states which have not implemented Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi Yojana (PM-KISAN) of doing “politics” and said such political mindset around him has hurt farmers for a long time.

Addressing a public gathering here, Modi said efforts were being made to identify specific products from each and every district. “The identification of these products will enable us to target our support to their potential value,” he said.

The Prime Minister, who arrived at the event Wednesday in a helicoper, is scheduled to visit the site on Thursday.

“Having money has been deposited in the account of PM-KISAN but the one who was given this money does not know who he is or how to use it. This has hurt farmers for a long time,” Modi said.

He said “politics” was causing farmers to suffer and also accused some states of not implementing the scheme.

Critics have been saying the scheme is not transparent and that only a limited number of farmers are getting the benefit.

Govt sets up dedicated desk to look after Ayodhya issue

The government has set up a dedicated desk to look after all matters related to the Ayodhya issue, the Prime Minister’s Office said.

The Union home ministry, which handles Ayodhya issues, has been restructured and a special cell has been created under the home secretary.

The cell, headed by a joint secretary, will be responsible for all matters related to the Ayodhya issue.

The Prime Minister, who arrived at the event Wednesday in a helicoper, is scheduled to visit the site on Thursday.

The government has also sent a proposal to the government of Uttar Pradesh to abrogate the special status given to Jammu and Kashmir.

Children’s rights activist Archana Shinde, who was present at the event, said she was “happy” with the announcement.

“Those who have been agitating against the Ayodhya dispute were handled by the authorities, not the court,” Shinde said.

“Let us hope that the government’s proposal to abrogate the special status of Jammu and Kashmir is accepted,” she said.

Some important announcements are expected to be made on Sunday, the day the mosque in Ayodhya is expected to be inaugurated.

Cold wave in Delhi-NCR end, temperature to remain normal till Jan 6

NEW DELHI: The India Meteorological Department (IMD) on Thursday said that cold wave conditions in Delhi-NCR will end on Friday and the temperature will remain normal till January 6. “People will get relief from the cold wave as the temperature will increase by 2-3 degrees on Friday,” the IMD said.

The cold wave was caused by the north-south oriented cold front in the region, which is moving eastwards.

The further decrease in the temperature was caused by a strong cold wave that will continue till January 5, and the temperature will remain 2-3 degrees, with daytime highs falling around 10-15 degrees for 3-4 days, although some clouds may occasionally be present in the region, but the cold wave will not remain for too long.

Political parties urge Congress to reconsider PFI outlaw proposal

Nibir Kishor Chaudhuri

The political landscape of India is currently being shaped by the actions of the government and opposition parties in the face of the growing influence of political funding. The recent decision to prohibit the political funding of the PFI (Pakistani Front) has been met with mixed reactions from various political parties, with some urging the Congress party to reconsider this move.

In a statement, the Congress party accused the government of attempting to stifle political dissent and criticized the move as a violation of democratic principles. They have also expressed concern that this action could set a dangerous precedent for other political parties.

The Opposition's Position

The Opposition parties, including the Congress, have been vocal in their opposition to the banning of the PFI. They argue that this move is an attempt to silence political dissent and that it goes against the principles of democracy.

The Government's Stand

On the other hand, the government has defended its decision, stating that the PFI is a terrorist organization and that it is necessary to prevent it from gaining political power.

Summary

The political debate on the banning of the PFI continues, with both sides presenting their case. The issue highlights the ongoing struggle between the government and the Opposition over the role of political parties and the role of the state in regulating political funding and influence.
Gen. Rawat first CDs: A rushed job by govt?

It is unlikely that it means apologizing for recent hurts or resolving political differences. Yet, the fact remains that this move was unexpected and came as a shock to many.

Some view the announcement as a mark of respect to a man who has served the country with distinction. But there are also concerns about the way it was handled. The process that led to the decision, some argue, was not transparent enough.

The move has raised questions about the future of the armed forces. It is unclear whether the new chief of Defence Staff will have the power to make decisions that affect the armed forces.

Students on front lines: What protests portend

The students have made the protests a platform to voice their concerns and demands.

They are demanding, among other things, better education, better job opportunities, higher salaries, and an end to corruption.

The government, on the other hand, is trying to quell the protests. There have been clashes between the police and the protesters in some parts of the country.

The protests have also sparked a debate about the role of the media and the role of social media in spreading information.

The government has accused some media outlets of spreading fake news and has taken legal action against them.

The protests have also raised questions about the state of the economy and the future of the country.

The government has announced several measures to try to address the concerns of the protesters, but it remains to be seen whether these measures will be effective.
Exotic fruits that you must try for amazing health benefits

Fruits are tasty, pacy, delicious and full of health benefits. But the moment you think of them what pops up in your mind? We are sure it must range from either a mango, banana to either an orange or grapes. For some, it might even be papaya or pomegranate. But do you know that there are a variety of fruits that are grown in India which you haven’t even touched the frust of which you would love to try? One of these fruits must be unripe but because it is unripe, it is blandly, there are either grown out of season or grown to such remote areas that their rich taste has been hidden. But just limited. And because of their unripe state or very less productivity far away does not take away the fact that these fruits are full of health benefits. So, let us have a look at the 10 most exotic and also nutritious fruits that are grown in India.

Steal these fitness habits from Jennifer

With the holiday season comes holiday fat and so does the responsibility to lose that fat, which is easier when done using the fitness habits approved by the fitness queen – Jennifer Aniston, who even at the age of 50 looks jaw-dropping with her perfect abs. As reported by the Women’s Health Magazine, the ‘Friends’ actress does plank for maintaining those chiseled abs. The actor starts her planks with the standard plank which she shifts to side planks and then further moves on towards plank with shoulder taps as a part of her fitness regime. Another workout tip is exploring moves beyond sit-ups and widen the exercise horizon to V-Ups and the ab wheel. “We’ll use a sit-up to shock the body occasionally, but it’s not a major part of our core regimen,” Jen’s trainer Leyon Azubuike told Women Health Magazine. Another thing that Azubuike told about Aniston’s fitness regime is that she eats food items that have nutrients including fats, proteins, and carbohydrates in balanced amounts. Mixing up workouts makes the body more sustainable to burn more calories and build up core strength for the body. This is one short cut to burn fat and so does the holiday season comes holiday fat and so does the responsibility to lose that fat. Jennifer Aniston’s fitness habits approved by the fittest woman in the world are:

1. Planks and sit-ups
2. V-Ups and the ab wheel
3. Exploring moves beyond sit-ups

Rani Mukerji terms making of ‘Mardaani 2’ extremely risky

Rani Mukerji starrer thriller ‘Mardaani 2’ is earning more than critical and audiences alike, with a rock-steady run at the box-office and earnings of Rs 40.20 crore, despite the release of ‘Dabangg 3’. The 41-year-old actor stated that it was “extremely risky” to make ‘Mardaani 2’ because it didn’t have any of the trappings of commercial cinema for the audience. However, she is thrilled that the film is so successful and congratulated the entire team for sticking to their belief in delivering a clutter-breaking content film. While talking about the success of the movie she said, "The story of our film has connected with audiences and touched their hearts. This is because it deals with the reality of today and deals with what women in our society are facing. As actors, we need the material to be bang on for us to bring it to life on screen and improvises on it to create a character that leaves a lasting impression." Rani said at the heart of the story, ‘Mardaani 2’ is about gender inequality and the team has tried to bring out this burning issue to the forefront. The iconic actress added, "The movie deals with so many things but at the heart of it, the film is about gender inequality. Shivani faces it in her work despite being a top-cop and being at the peak of her career. The film's opening is driven by the feeling that girls need to be seen before men and destined women who stand up for themselves.”

Pak govt to present amendment bill for Bajwa's extension as army chief

ISLAMABAD: Pakistan government is expected to present an amendment bill in the parliament on Thursday to extend Pakistan Army chief Gen Qamar Javed Bajwa’s three-year tenure in the role until June 28, 2021.

The country’s Supreme Court in December had declared that the country’s Army Act allows the president to extend the term of army chief for a maximum of two years. The president had already declared that he would extend the term of army chief for another one year. The extension in the tenure of the army chief is expected to be extended for another three years to 2024.

A Senate committee on Thursday met under the chairmanship of Senator Rabbani Rabbani to discuss the amendment bill on the extension of the tenure of the army chief.

A resolution was moved by the committee chairman and approved by the committee which would be presented before the national assembly. The resolution also stated that as per article 124 of the constitution, the president can extend the term of army chief for a maximum of one year only. But as per article 116 of the act, the president has the power to extend the term of army chief for a maximum of two years.

This shows that the president has the right to extend the term of the army chief under the act, except after the expiry of the initial period of appointment which is three years.

The amendment bill has also been presented in the Senate and it will now be sent to the national assembly which will hold a meeting on Thursday to discuss the amendment bill.
