Retail inflation rises to 7.41% in Sep

NEW DELHI: India's retail inflation accelerated to 7.41 per cent in September from a year ago on higher food and energy costs, the highest since April and above the upper end of the RBI's 2-6 per cent tolerance band in each month this year. Data released by the National Statistics Office showed consumer price index-based inflation (CPI) in September rising to 7.41 per cent.

AGENCY CHANDIGARH, OCT 12

The Haryana government has given orders to halt drug manufacturing at the Maiden Pharmaceuticals Sonipat unit, and the action was taken due to various violations at the pharma unit, state Health Minister Anil Vij said on Wednesday.

"We have ordered that all drug production of this unit be stopped with immediate effect," Vij told

Samples of four cough syrups manufactured by the firm had been sent to the Central Drugs Laboratory in Kolkata for examination soon after the WHO potentially linked them to the deaths of 66 children in The Gambia. State health minister Anil Vij told on Wednesday, "The samples of three drugs of the Sonipatbased pharmaceutical company which were mentioned by WHO, have been sent to Central Drug Laboratory in Kolkata. The report is yet to come. We will take action only after the report comes. After a joint inspection by Central and State officials, 12 violations were found in the manufacturing facility. ... It has been decided to shut total production. We have sent a notice in this regard."

The pharma company had come under scanner following the death of 66 children who had consumed the cough syrup.

World Health Organization (WHO) on October 5 issued a medical product alert over four India-made cough and cold syrups manufactured by Maiden Pharmaceuticals. WHO has also notified that the same cough and cold syrups could be linked to deaths of 66 children.

It said that it was conducting further investigation with the company and regulatory authorities in India. "This WHO Medical Product Alert refers to four substandard products, identified in reported to WHO in September 2022. Substandard medical products are products that fail to meet either their quality standards or specifications and are, therefore "out of specification," the WHO

Centre forms panel to study WHO report

NEW DELHI: The government on Wednesday formed a four-member panel of experts to examine the details and adverse event reports received from the WHO on the deaths of 66 children in The Gambia being linked potentially to the four made-in-India cough svrups, official sources here said.

They said after examining and analysing the adverse event reports, causal relationship and all related details shared by or to be shared by the World Health Organization, the committee will advise and recommend further course of action to the Drugs Controller General of India (DCGI). The development comes on a day the Haryana government ordered the halting of drug manufacturing at the Sonipat unit of Maiden Pharmaceuticals, and asked it to explain within a week "many contraventions" found during a recent inspection, or face suspension or cancellation of license.

are Promethazine Oral Solution, Kofexmalin Baby Cough Syrup, Makoff Baby Cough Syrup and Magrip N Cold Syrup. Laboratory analysis of samples of each of the four products confirmed that they contain unacceptable amounts of diethylene glycol and ethylene glycol as contaminants, the WHO had said. The company was issued a show cause notice on October 7 after a joint inspection with the Central Drugs Standard Control Organisation. The pharma company has to reply to the notice by October 14, failing which action may be taken against it. The Haryana drug controller has listed the contraventions detected during inspections of the pharma company's facility on October 1 and October 3.

AGENCY NEW DELHI, OCT 12

Delhi Commission for Women (DCW) chief Swati Maliwal on Wednesday said she has been receiving rape threats on social media after she wrote to Union Information and Broadcasting Minister Anurag Thakur to remove filmmaker Sajid Khan out of Bigg Boss over allegations of sexual harassment against him. She also asked Delhi Police to arrest the people who allegedly gave her rape threats.

"Ever since I wrote a letter to the I&B minister to get #SajidKhan out of Bigg Boss, I have been receiving rape threats on Instagram. Obviously, they want to stop our work. I am giving a complaint to Delhi Police. Register FIR and investigate. Arrest those who are behind them," she tweeted.

Earlier on Monday the DCW chief took to her Twitter account and said that the numerous complaints against Sajid Khan show his 'disgusting mentality.

"Ten women had accused Sajid Khan of sexual harassment during the #MeToo movement. All these complaints show the disgusting mentality of Sajid. Now, this man has been given a place in Bigg Boss, which is wrong. I have written to @ianuragthakur to have Sajid Khan removed from this show," she tweeted.

Filmmaker Sajid Khan's participation in the new season of Bigg Boss 16 started on October 1 has led to a lot of anger among people. Sajid was mired in the #MeToo controversy in 2018 after nine women from the industry - who worked with Khan on his various projects had accused the filmmaker of them. sexually harassing Actresses like Saloni Chopra, Sherlyn Chopra, Aahana Kumra and Mandana Karimi, among others, had allegedly levelled the allegations against him.

Colors TV's decision to bring Sajid to the Bigg Boss house is being criticised by many including singer Sona Mohapatra who claimed that she faced harassment at the hands of music composer Anu Malik.

In an Instagram post, Sona requested filmmaker Farhan Akhtar to raise his voice against Sajid's participation in the reality show. "This is #SajidKhan, now on a reality TV show. Then there is #AnuMalik judging a music reality show on TV, for children no less. #KailashKher? Celebrity Judge on TV. ALL called out by many many women in @IndiaMeToo. Indian TV channels, executives are indeed depraved & sad lot," she wrote.

In another tweet, she requested Farhan Akhtar, "Dear @FarOutAkhtar, you front an organisation called MARD. This man & the many others are known to you personally. Speak up, Stand Up only when it's convenient or pays to virtue signal for 'our cause' not now? Charity begins at home.

After facing the allegations, Sajid decided to take a 'moral responsibility of stepping down' from his directorial post at 'Houseful 4'. The directorial responsibilities were handed over to filmmaker Farhad Samji. He also said that he decided because 'pressure' was being put on his family.

THE FINEST STEEL HAS TO GO THROUGH THE HOTTEST FIRE. RICHARD M. NIXON

YUGMARG, CHANDIGARH, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 13, 2022

EDITORIAL Wishful history

t is difficult to decide if time exists at all, or whether it is an imagined absolute. Leaving aside the metaphysical uncertainty, it is necessary to accept that human affairs carry upon them a deep imprint of the unceasing interplay between the past and the present of individuals as well as of families, societies and nations. Depending on the material, cultural and ideological expediencies of a given present, societies and nations conceptualise, constitute, inhabit and represent their past rather than their several and ceaselessly shifting pasts. Being forever in the process of getting restructured, no single version of the past can admit the test of absolute authenticity. The openness of history as a field of inquiry allows autocratic regimes and class hegemonies to replace the narrative of history with irrational and untenable claims. They tend to raise the pitch of hatred on account of perceived injustice at the hands of ancestors of the people against whom the sentiment of revenge is sought to be invoked. In order to bolster the self-perception of the dominant sections of society, such regimes concoct illusions of a glorious past era as the essential for the people no matter how far away such claims are from the truth of history. Present-day India is a living example of this pattern of re-imagining history that is leading to a wilful departure from its rational confines.

A Press Information Bureau post in September, 2020 reported that an expert committee had been constituted by the government for conducting holistic study of origin and evolution of Indian culture to since 12000 years before present... . A similar committee had been appointed earlier in 2017 when Mahesh Sharma was the minister of culture. The committee had the same or similar fourteen members. There was no woman in it; none from the Northeast; only one member from the South; no scheduled caste or scheduled tribe scholar; none at all from religions other than Hinduism. The composition of the committee raises serious concerns about the nature of the mission. A Reuter s report of March 2018 by Rupam Jain and Tom Lasseter attempted to lay bare the intentions of the 2017 committee. Minutes of the meeting, reviewed by Reuters, and interviews with committee members set out its aims: to use evidence such as archaeological finds and DNA to prove that today $\ s$ Hindus are directly descended from the land s first inhabitants many thousands of years ago, and make the case that ancient Hindu scriptures are fact not myth. Sharma told Reuters that he expects the conclusions of the committee to find their way into school textbooks and academic research.

India's far-sighted investment in Chabahar port

In recent years India has embraced an ambitious and expansive vision for foreign trade in the Central Asian region. India's trade with Afghanistan and Central Asia has long been hindered by an inability to access land routes through Pakistan.

The development of Iran's new port at Chabahar has transformed India's trading prospects in the region by allowing India a trade route that bypasses Pakistan altogether. Alongside the development of the Chabahar Port, a number of investments have been made in projects intended to develop physical connectivity in the Central Asian region.

In 2018, Uzbekistan began a railway project connecting Herat and Mazar-i-Sharif near the Uzbek border. This railway line will connect to the Chabahar-Zahedan railway line along the Afghanistan-Iran border which is projected to be concluded in 2024.

In 2020, India, Iran and Uzbekistan established a trilateral working group to coordinate joint use of the Chabahar Port and work on various connectivity projects in the region with a particular emphasis on the Shahid Beheshti Terminal at the Chabahar Port. In 2022, following hostilities in Ukraine, India and Russia have established enormous trade volumes in agricultural produce and energy resources. Russia's need for more reliable trading partners for its exports has served to validate the existing emphasis on regional connectivity while also presenting a fresh case for further investment and accelerated development.

The changing geopolitical scenario has worked to India's advantage in a number of ways. Firstly, with energy prices increasing globally and fears of food shortages abounding, fears of inflation are well-founded and countries are scrambling to ensure energy and food security for their populations. India is no exception and has explicitly placed the needs and livelihoods of its population above ideological posturing. With Europe seeking to avoid trade with Russia to the extent possible and a number of additional sanctions and price caps being mulled, Russia is eager to find a source for its exports of food, fertilizers and energy. The environment of sanctions and curbs has afforded India a valuable opportunity to meet these needs at attractive prices. India is seeking to convert this temporary benefit to something more permanent according to Japan Oil, Gas and Metals National Corporation (JOGMEC) analyst Mika Takehara.

According to Takehara, Indian experts and policy-makers are considering increasing Russian oil imports to 30 PC of India's total intake by buying on the spot market while reducing their dependence on long-term contracts with Middle Eastern exporters. Simultaneously, Indian state-run corporations such as Bharat Petroleum are reportedly attempting to negotiate long-term oil deals with Russia. In addition to providing India with an avenue for energy and food security, elevated trade volumes with Russia have served as proof of concept for the viability and value of the International North-South Corridor (INSTC) as a route capable of handling large volumes of trade as well as making a convincing case for more investment on connectivity projects around the INSTC. A number of recent conferences including the recent meeting of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization (SCO) have produced a broad consensus amongst Central Asian Nations, Iran, Russia and India that underlines the importance of the INSTC, the Chabahar Port. Finally, the establishment of this route has served to free India of the difficulties caused by its geographic location and Pakistan's obstruction of regional trade. In addition, the INSTC affords India an alternative route to operate in and an opportunity to counter-balance China's attempted monopolization of trade routes in the region through its Belt and Roads Initiative (BRI) and investments in Pakistan.

The prospects of the INSTC appear to be brighter in the long run as a project conceived and furthered through the mutual interest of a large number of nations in contrast with the BRI which is intended purely to further Chinese strategic interests and has greatly aggrieved local residents and generated much backlash in many of the locations where its projects have been established.

India has invested substantial time, attention and capital in the development of the Chabahar Port and infrastructure and connectivity in Afghanistan.

severe consequences, according to a state-ment released by the White House. Leaders of G7 states (the UK, Ger-many, Italy, Canada, the US, France, and Japan) said, "We deplore deliberate Russ-ian escalator steps including the partial ian escalator steps, including the partial mobilization of reservists and irresponsible nuclear rhetoric, which is putting global and security at risk any use of chemical, biological or nuclear weapons by Russia would be met with severe consequences.' Earlier, on Monday, Russia conducted that large-scale strikes on the Ukrainian capital Kyiv and other locations on Monday, which drew condemnation from several countries. The statement came after the G7 held a meeting with Ukraine's President Volodymyr Zelenskyy that took place against the backdrop of the recent missile attacks against civilian infrastructure and cities across Ukraine, leading to the death of innocent civilians. Talking about Russia's annexation of Ukraine's four regions, the G7 said that Russia has blatantly violated the principles enshrined in the UN Charter. "They cannot and do not give Russia a legitimate basis to change Ukraine's borders. We call upon all countries to unequivocally reject these violations of international law and demand that Russia ceases all hostilities and immediately, completely, and unconditionally withdraw all of its troops and military

"There's been a lot of thought put into oxygen and methane as biosignatures. Fewer researchers have seriously considered nitrous oxide, but we think that may be a mistake," said Eddie Schwieterman, an astrobiologist in UCR's Department of Earth and Planetary Sciences.

This conclusion, and the modeling work that led to it, are detailed in an article published today in the Astrophysical Journal.

To reach it, Schwieterman led a team of researchers that determined how much nitrous oxide living things on a planet similar to Earth could possibly produce. They then made models simulating that planet around different kinds of stars and determined amounts of N2O that could be detected by an observatory like the James Webb Space Telescope. "In a star system like TRAPPIST-1, the nearest and best system to observe the atmospheres of rocky planets, you could potentially detect nitrous oxide at levels comparable to CO2 or methane," Schwieterman said. There are multiple ways that living things can create nitrous oxide, or N2O.

G7 in the statement said that they have imposed and will continue to impose further economic costs on Russia, and even on other countries who are providing political or economic support for Russia's illegal attempts to change the status of Ukrainian territory.

"We reiterate our call on the Belarusian authorities to stop enabling the Russian war of aggression by permitting Russian armed forces to use Belarusian territory and by providing support to the Russian military. The announcement of a joint military group with Russia constitutes the most recent example of the Belarusian regime's complicity with Russia. We renew our call on the Lukashenko regime to fully abide by its obligations under international law," the statement said.

Women have a lower range of 'normal' blood pressure than men: Study

A new study shows that women have a lower 'normal' blood pressure range compared to men.may be detrimental to a woman's health," said Susan Cheng, MD, MPH, MMSc, associate professor of Cardiology and director of the Institute for Research on Healthy Aging in the Department of Cardiology at the Smidt Heart Institute and senior author of the study. "Based on our research results, we recommend that the medical community reassess blood pressure guidelines that do not account for sex differences." The first number in a blood pressure reading is called the systolic pressure and measures the force of the blood against the artery walls as your heart beats. The second number is the diastolic pressure, the blood pressure against the artery walls between heartbeats.

For years, 120 mmHg has been considered the normal upper limit for systolic blood pressure in adults. Persistent elevations above this limit amount to hypertensionwhich is well known as the key risk factor for common cardiovascular diseases, such as heart attack, heart failure, and stroke.

In their newest study, Cheng and her research team examined blood pressure measurements conducted across four community-based cohort studies, comprising more than 27,000 participants, 54% of whom were women.

In doing so, the research team identified that while 120 mmHg was the threshold of risk in men, 110 mmHg or lower was the threshold of risk in women. Systolic blood pressure levels that were higher than these thresholds were associated with risk for developing any type of cardiovascular disease, including heart attack, heart failure and strokes. Investigators also found that women had a lower blood pressure threshold than men for risk of each specific cardiovascular disease type, including heart attack, heart failure, and stroke. "We are now pushed to rethink what we thought was a normal blood pressure that might keep a woman or a man safe from developing heart disease or stroke," added Cheng, who also serves as director of Cardiovascular Population Sciences at the Barbra Streisand men">Women's Heart Center and is the Erika J. Glazer Chair in men">Women's Car-diovascular Health and Population Science. These findings build on past research led by Cheng suggesting women's blood vessels age faster than men's. Cheng's research, published last year, confirmed that women have different biology and physiology than men and also explained why women may be more susceptible of developing certain types of cardiovascular disease and at different points in life. With both the 2020 study and in their latest work, Cheng and her team compared women to women and men to men, rather than the common model of comparing women to men women to men. "If the ideal physiologic range of blood pressure truly is lower for females than males, current approaches to using sex-agnostic targets for lowering elevated blood pressure need to be reassessed," said Christine Albert, MD, MPH, chair of the Department of Cardiology at the Smidt Heart Institute. "This important work is far-reaching and has numerous clinical implications."

Colonizers doing illegal construction in Chhachhrauli

RK KASHYAP CHHACHHRAULI, OCT 12

The business of establishing illegal colonies is flourishing in full swing in Pratap Nagar and surrounding areas. Colonizers are doing the work of settling illegal colonies without a license. Due to this, where the rules are being disobeyed, the same government is also losing revenue. If the licenced colonisers establish the colony, then the government will also get revenue in the form of government fees, but in the Tehsil premises, only the government representatives are getting the fees due to the registration of acres in pieces in this manner. The business of establishing illegal colonies in dozens of places such as Ledi, Bakkarwala, Muzafat, Pratap Nagar, Tajewala, Hafizpur, Khadri, and others is thriving in the towns thanks to the registration of acres. And their registry is also being done in pieces from Tehsil, which is wrong Not only this, the facilities of electricity, water, sewerage roads, etc. are also provided in these colonies, due to which poor people invest their hardearned money. Milne, Phillips, and Conway oust Bangladesh to setup NZ vs PAK Tri-Series final

CHRISTCHURCH : New Zealand booked a place in the final of the ongoing Tri-Series after putting up a clinical performance against Bangladesh, securing a 48-run victory in Hagley Oval, Christchurch on Tuesday. A fierce bowling spell from Adam Milne helped the Kiwis stop Bangaldesh to 160/7 as Shakib Al Hasan's superb 70run inning went in vain. Blistering halfcenturies from Devon Conway and Glenn Phillips saw New Zealand set a daunting total of 209 runs. Chasing a massive target of 209, the Bangladesh openers survived some close calls before being eventually dismissed inside the powerplay. Liton Das and Najmul Hossain Shanto walked onto the crease with the former being the aggressor scoring 23 runs off 16 balls before being dismissed by Doug Bracewell in the sixth over. Shaanto never really looked settled and was Milne's first wicket in the fourth over, scoring 11 off 12 balls Shakib walked in at number four and made his intentions very clear as the batter danced down the wicket on the very first ball and smash a powerful boundary. The left-hander shared a 43run stand with Soumya Sarkar in just 21 balls taking Bangladesh to 90/2 after the

Suryakumar could be India's version of de Villiers: Steyn

NEW DELHI, OCT 12

South Africa's veteran pacer Dale Steyn has touted Suryakumar Yadav to be India's version of Ab de Villiers in Australia during the T20 World Cup.

Citing that the Australian conditions offer more pace and bounce, the former World number one bowler explained that the batter likes to use the pace on the ball making the Aussie conditions tailor-made for him while speaking exclusively on Star Sports show Cricket Live.

Suryakumar Yadav's emergence as a stalwart in the Indian batting line-up was clearly on show when the Men in Blue squared off against Australia and South Africa in the bilateral series. As India look to end the wait of winning the ICC Men's T20 World Cup, Suryakumar Yadav's red-hot form will be crucial to India's success in the tournament.

Dale Steyn said, "He's the kind of player that likes to use the pace of the ball. He likes to get in behind the square. In places like Perth, Melbourne, all of these grounds, there is a little bit of extra pace on it. So, you can use the pace, you can hit on fine leg, behind and all along the carpet. And he's also really good when standing still and getting off the back foot.'

"He has played some amazing back foot cover drives and some beautiful cover drives off the front foot too. So, he's an all-round player, and it's in Australia, where the wickets are so good, they are batter friendly. You can also get away when a bowler tries to bowl full, you can place the ball left and you can use the pace of the ball really well, given some room. So, he is a wonderful 360-degree player and reminds me of AB de Villiers. He could be India's out for this World Cup."

Dale Steyn also heaped praise on Shreyas Iyer, who scored a matchwinning century in the second ODI against South Africa, "There's just little things you can do to improve your game, but the way he's batting at the moment, I don't think he has to change much. He looks in phenomenal form. He's seeing the ball like it's a beach ball and for him in India, that's continued a long way," he said.

Former South Africa all-rounder Chris Morris shared his views on the Australian pitches, "The wickets in Australia are usually pretty good to bat on. There's a lot of extra pace and bounce where guys like getting through the line, especially in the T20's. And the quicker the ball gets onto the bat, the quicker it goes. So, looking at the conditions in Australia, it would be quite consistent and good enough to favour the fast bowlers. They've been saying that batters have scored a lot of runs in Australia, so I recommend it's a 50-50 at both ends" version of AB de Villiers and with the red-hot form that he's in right now, he's a player to definitely watch

Kaushik also made 65 off 50 balls smashed four sixes and three fours. Chandigarh scored 178 runs for the loss of three wickets. Sikkim also launched with a dismal start and couldn't recover against the pace attack. Team was restricted to 112 for nine. Sandeep Sharma (3/22) took 3 wickets while Jagjit Singh Sandhu (2/19) clinched two wickets. Captain Ashish Thapa (52) was the top scorer for his side. Chandigarh will play its second match on October 13 against Jharkhand. Meanwhile in Vizag, Priyanka Guleria helped Chandigarh to make a prolific comeback against Baroda which ensured 12 runs victory at Women's Senior T 20 tournament. Chasing a target of 114 runs, Baroda was comfortably placed 69 for tw in the 11th over at. Priyanka took the bowling command in 13th over and was rewarded with three important middle order (Tarunum Pathan 7, Amrita Joseph 3 Tanveer Sheikh 1) wickets in lieu of 18 runs in four overs.

Shami, Siraj and Shardul flying out to join India's T20 WC squad in Australia

NEW DELHI: The trio of pacers Mohammed Shami, Mohammad Siraj and Shardul Thakur are flying out on Thursday to join India's squad in Australia for the upcoming ICC T20 World Cup 2022.

As per ESPNCricinfo, it is not still certain as to which one of these players will join the main squad. None of the reserve players- Shreyas Iyer, Ravi Bishnoi and Deepak Chahar are travelling currently.

A back injury had sidelined Chahar from the recently-concluded ODI series against South Africa.

The main squad for the global cricketing event left for Australia on October 6 and are currently in Perth, where the player have had a oneweek training camp to up their skills and also a practice match against Western Australia. Men in Blue's next practice game is scheduled for October 13.

Jasprit Bumrah suffering a stress reaction during the T20I leg of the series against South Africa was a massive blow to Team India ahead of the T20 WC. At that point of time, Shami and Chahar were in contention to be his replacement, but the latter picking up an injury made Shami the most likely replacement for the Indian pace spearhead. The final decision will be taken after Shami's fitness is assessed.

Shami has not played T20I cricket since the previous edition of ICC T20 World Cup in November last year. After recovering from COVID-19, he has been training at the National Cricket Academy in Bengaluru. This bout of virus had kept him out of white-ball series against Australia and South Africa at home. He last featured in a competitive cricket match during India's tour of England back in July. After the practice game in Perth on Thursday, India will travel to Brisbane where they will play two official ICC T20 WC warm-up matches against Australia and New Zealand on October 17 and October 19.

BBFS is India's largest football academy and already provides over INR 2 Crores worth of scholarships for talented footballers under its residential program. There are opportunities to gain up to 100% scholarships covering cademics, training, food, lodging, and competitive exposure.

This is just the beginning. As our operations grow, we will keep on adding more venues to the list. Eventually, the plan is to cover every district in India," said Kishore Taid, Cofounder and CEO of Enjogo and Bhaichung Bhutia Football Schools.

BBFS Residential Academies are operational across five cities - Delhi,

Maharashtra, Meghalaya, Karnataka, and Kerala. The trials will happen in two phases - regional and national. After selection in the first phase, the selected footballers will travel to one of the BBFS Residential Academies for the final round. "We want to reach out to every youngster and allow them to represent us. Through the trials, we aim to find talented footballers and provide them an ideal pathway to reach the top," said Bhaichung Bhutia.
