Bilkis Bano case: SC quashes remission order of Gujarat govt

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, JAN 8

The Supreme Court on Monday quashed the Gujarat government's decision to grant remission to 11 convicts involved in the case of the gang-rape of Bilkis Bano and murder of seven of her family members during the 2002 Gujarat riots.

The apex court held that the judgement of May 13, 2022 (which directed the Gujarat government to consider remission of convict) was obtained by "playing fraud" on the court and by suppressing material facts.

The convicts had not approached the court with clean hands, the apex court observed. Noting that the state, where an offender is tried and sentenced, is competent to decide the remission plea of convicts, the apex court held that Gujarat was not competent to pass the remission orders but the Maharashtra government.

In March 2002, during the post-Godhra riots, Bano was allegedly gang-raped and left to die with 14 members of her family, including her three-year-old daughter. She was five months pregnant when rioters attacked her family in Vadodara.

The Gujarat government had released the 11 convicts, who were sentenced to life imprisonment, on August 15, 2022. All the 11 life-term convicts in the case were released as per the remission policy prevalent in Gujarat at the time of their conviction in 2008. Bilkis Bano and others had approached the top court, challenging the premature release of 11 convicts. Some PILs were filed, seeking directions to revoke the remission granted to 11 convicts. The pleas were filed by the National Federation of Indian Women, whose General Secretary is Annie Raja, Member of the Communist Party of India (Marxist) Subhashini Ali, journalist Revati Laul, social activist and professor Roop Rekha Verma and TMC MP Mahua Moitra.

Congress hails court decision

NEW DELHI: Congress leader Priyanka Gandhi on Monday hailed the Supreme Court judgment quashing the Gujarat government's decision to grant remission to 11 convicts in the Bilkis Bano case, saying it has removed the veil over the BJP's anti-women policies.

Taking to X, the Congress leader said that justice has ultimately prevailed after the SC verdict in the case.

"Justice has ultimately prevailed. With this order, the veil over the anti-women policies of the Bharatiya Janata Party has been removed. After this, public confidence in the justice system will be further strengthened," she said in a post in Hindi on 'X'.

She further lauded Bilkis Bano and said, "Congratulations to Bilkis Bano for continuing her fight bravely."

The Congress party also took to X and attacked the BJP, saying that the verdict shows the "anti-women" act of the BJP government in Gujarat.

MEA summons Maldivian envoy to India over derogatory remarks against Modi

AGENCY

Amitabh Bachchan, Sehwag endorse Indian beaches amid diplomatic spat

NEW DELHI: In the midst of escalating tensions between India and the Maldives, Amitabh Bachchan and Virender Sehwag took to social media to encourage people to discover the breathtaking beauty of the Indian islands. These statements from the megastars come in response to some remarks made by some Maldivian political leaders regarding Prime Minister Narendra Modi's recent visit to Lakshadweep. Amitabh Bachchan's endorsement of Indian islands as tourist destinations came in a tweet where he shared his personal experience, stating, "I have been to Lakshadweep and Andamans, and they are such astonishingly beautiful locations. Stunning waters, beaches, and the underwater experience is simply unbelievable.

This endorsement was triggered by a tweet from former cricketer Virender Sehwag, who highlighted the potential of unexplored places in India, including Udupi, Pondicherry's Paradise Beach, and Neil and Havelock Islands in Andaman. Sehwag emphasized the need for infrastructure support to transform these hidden gems into tourist attractions, contributing to India's economy.

BUREAU
CHANDIGARH, JAN 8

The Enforcement Directorate on Monday arrested former Haryana MLA Dilbag Singh and his aide Kulwinder Singh in an alleged illegal mining-linked money laundering investigation, official sources said.

The Enforcement Directorate had raided Singh, a former legislator of the Indian National Lok Dal (INLD) from the Yamuna Nagar assembly seat, and Congress MLA from Sonipat, Surender Panwar, as well as their linked entities on January 4 and the searches ended after five days on Monday. About 20 locations were covered by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) during the searches. The former Haryana MLA and his aide have been taken into custody under the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) and the two will be produced before a local court where the agency will seek their further custody in the illegal mining case as well in a fresh case of possession of illicit firearms. At least five "illegal" rifles, 300 bullets and cartridges, more than a 100 liquor bottles and □ 5 crore in cash were recovered by the ED from the premises of Dilbag Singh and linked persons during the searches.

The central agency filed an FIR at the Pratap Nagar police station during the course of the searches after it found that the licence of the weapons recovered by it had expired.

Govt has made all-round efforts to ease difficulties of farmers: PM Modi

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, JAN 8

Noting that his government has made all-round efforts to ease the difficulties of farmers and each beneficiary has received Rs 30,000 crore under PM Kisan Samman Nidhi, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday said that the governments in the past had a "narrow ambit" of the issues linked to farmers.

The Prime Minister, who interacted with beneficiaries of 'Viksit Bharat Sankalp Yatra' via video conferencing on Monday, said that the aim of the yatra is that no eligible beneficiary is left out of the government schemes.

"Since the launch of the 'Viksit Bharat Sankalp Yatra', around 12 lakh new beneficiaries have applied for free gas connections under the Ujjwala scheme. Notably, over 2 crore health check-ups have been conducted during this Yatra, and around one crore people have been screened for Tuberculosis during the same period," he said.

"Discussions take place in our country on farmers and farm policy but the ambit of previous governments was very limited. The talk of empowerment of farmers was limited to the production of crops and sale of produce but the farmer faces a lot of issues in his daily life. Hence our government tried to make all-round efforts to ease every difficulty of farmers," the Prime Minister said.

He said that 'Viksit Bharat Sankalp Yatra' witnessed the participation of 11 crore people within a short span.

"This yatra is not only of the government but also of the country. This is a yatra of dreams, of aspirations, of hopes, of resolutions. The government is trying to reach out to the last person in the society and connecting him with its schemes. It has been a journey of dreams, resolutions and trust. The biggest objective of the Vikas Bharat Sankalp Yatra is that no deserving person should be left out of the benefits of any government scheme. Therefore, we are focusing on the future of the poor, women, farmers and youth," he added. Emphasizing "Modi's guarantee," the Prime Minister said the initiative is traversing villages to ensure that every deserving person is connected with the advantages of government schemes. Viksit Bharat Sankalp Yatra crossed a major milestone on January 5 with the number of participants crossing 10 crore in 50 days.

Sukhu govt receives praise from HPCC Secretary for bold steps in economic revival

DINESH AGARWAL
SHIMLA, JAN 8

In a statement issued today HPCC Secreatary Hari Krishan Himral lauded the efforts being put in my Sukhu Government for revival of ecomony of the state by introducing new and innovative steps to reduce state, dependence on central aid and explore possibilities of generating income within the state. Introducing water cess on Hydel projects is a first welcome step in this direction and this shows long sighted vision of our Leader Thakur Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu who is our first Chief Minister to think and explore in this direction whereas Hydel projects have been exploiting our state resources since years altogether.

I also welcome yesterday, judgement of Himachal High Court to hand over prestigious and historic Wild Flower Hotel back to government of Himachal Pradesh from Oberoi Group. Sukhu Government again deserves appluad to fight this case in the court and his legal team deserves patting for putting correct facts and avidence in front of hon,ble High Court which made this decision in favour of the government otherwise this case was unnecessarily lingering on and benifit was given to Oberoi group due to lack of political will power.

Few more tough decisions like closing unbudged institues which were opened unnecesarliy to fulfil political aspiration without benifiting the public. Vision of our Chief Minister to make Himachal Pradesh a self reliant state is appreciable and we all should be prepared for more tough decisions in this direction

Because of the case of Chamkaur Singh Rampura, why is the case not being filed against the female agent, is there no involvement of the police administration with the female agent, so they are not taking proper action against that agent. The lax performance of the police administration by accepting to cancel the illegal leaflets on the farmers of Jiud village also raises many other questions. Sukhdev Singh Rampura, Harpreet Kaur Jethuke, Buta Singh Ballho, Baldev Singh Chowke, Amandeep Singh Chowke and Gurmail Singh Dhade spoke on this occasion.

He should be dismissed forthwith". He also took on chief minister Bhagwant Mann for not taking note of the action while adding that the Education department had also failed the victims. Mr Majithia said it was even shocking that four days had passed since a case was registered against the teacher, but he was yet to be arrested. "What message are we sending out? That students from the poorer sections of society studying in government schools will not get justice? Is this the Delhi Model which is now being implemented in Punjab?" Demanding a high-level independent probe into the entire episode, Mr Majithia said "it is clear that an attempt was made to cover up the entire incident with school principal Gurpreet Kaur also telling parents not to report the matter to the authorities".

Editorial

The signifiers

The Union government has withheld funds from West Bengal under the National Health Mission for an unusual reason: the health centres are painted the wrong colour. An 80-page document lays down in detail the design, logo, colours and adornments for "Façade Branding" of NHM "health and wellness centres". The walls must be a "specified shade of yellow", doors and windows a "specified shade of brown". No doubt coincidentally, Union government buildings are donning the same colours. So are railway carriages, once blue and white, and still earlier a reddish brown.

As everyone in West Bengal amply knows, our chief minister loves blue and white. In point of fact, the railways adopted those colours before her term in office as railway minister. The sisters of the Missionaries of Charity wore blue and white habits from before Mamata Banerjee's birth. But in Bengal today, blue and white are indelibly associated with a particular party and personality. Equally, the yellow and brown prescribed by Delhi seems a discreet variant on strident saffron, a spiritual hue glowing with political purpose. Either way, it seems egregious that our highest rulers should squabble like children over their favourite colours when public health is at stake.

The NHM forms the single largest item of the Union health budget. The health and wellness centres are local hubs for immunization, community hygiene, disease control and primary medical treatment. Evidently, the Union government considers destabilizing them a sporting risk to ensure walls of the right tint.

The aesthetic choice is not for medical but promotional reasons, to meet the NHM's 'branding' requirements. Branding is a practice in marketing consumer products. How does it apply to government clinics for the poor? What is being sold?

The answer cannot be medical treatment: sick people will flock to government health centres anyway, unless their faith in them is utterly destroyed. That could happen whatever the colour of the walls. The only other possible commodity on sale is the government itself, hence the ruling party. The branding and packaging are to ensure that the public is suitably grateful to its rulers for the treatment funded by its own money. A carper might protest that this ploy offends democratic norms. The government in question is based in Delhi. This opens up a hornet's nest of issues. The funds for this as for most 'Central' schemes do not come exclusively from Delhi. In most states, including Bengal, the state government provides 40% of the money. Yet invariably, the scheme is formulated and guidelines cast in stone without any reference to the latter.

No new inquiry for holidays in Maldives

Tour operators in India are gearing up for an impact of calls for a cancellation of holidays in the Maldives as they said that there are "no new inquiries by people" for visits to the island nation.

The Indian Association of Tour Operators predicts that the repercussions of recent events and the call for a boycott will become apparent within the next 20-25 days.

However, the operators deny reports of mass cancellations, stating, "If a person has paid an advance for plane tickets and hotels, they will not cancel it."

Many Indians on social media have claimed that they have cancelled their planned holidays to the island nation.

The founder of Make My Trip, Deep Kalra, said that there has been no mass cancellation of planned holidays by Indians to the island nation.

"We have not noticed such a pattern as of now. There has been no such mass cancellation," Kalra said.

Meanwhile, the Indian Association of Tour Operators said that the impact of the chain of events and the call for a boycott will be visible in 20-25 days.

"Suddenly, there has been no inquiry on Maldives. There are sudden drops. Those who have made payments will not cancel them. We are expecting that people will not book trips to the Maldives," Rajiv Mehra, president of the Indian Association of Tour Operators, said.

When asked whether the reports of mass cancellation are true, Mehra replied, "People have spent lakhs of rupees, but they are not cancelling it.

Those who have not made payments are expected to back out. But the real impact of the boycott will be visible in the next 25 days as there are no new inquiries."

The Indian Association of Tour Operators (IATO) is the national body for the tourism industry. It has over 1600 members, covering all segments of the tourism industry. Another operator echoed a similar sentiment, stating that such statements by politicians prevent people from choosing a particular nation for a trip.

Moreover, the Maldives was quite popular among Indians as a tourist destination.

Indian tourists were the highest among visitors to the Maldives till December 2023, according to data from the country's tourism ministry.

The largest number of tourists who visited the Maldives were from India (2,09,198), followed by Russia (2,09,146) and China (1,87,118).

"Maldives is quite popular among Indians. But this incident will have an impact. We are also seeing an impact right now as well. We are expecting a downfall in people choosing the Maldives as a tourist destination," a Delhi-based tour operator said on the condition of anonymity.

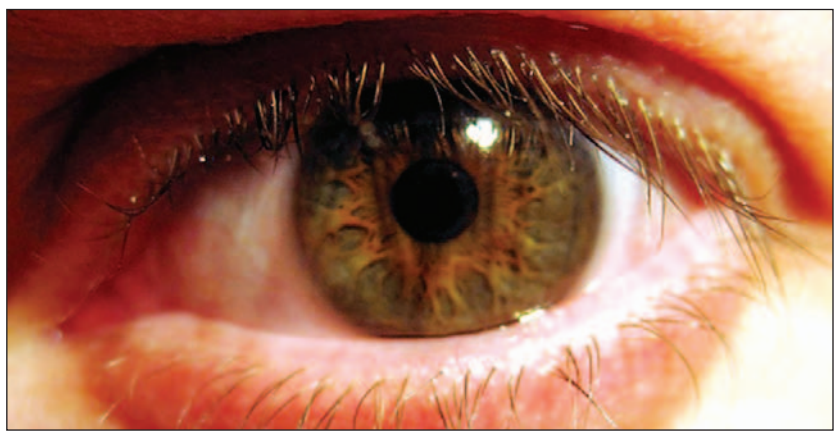

The Maldives government on Sunday suspended three ministers over their derogatory remarks against Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

Mariyam Shiuna, Malsha Shareef, and Mahzoom Majid were suspended over their remarks against PM Modi, which triggered a massive backlash.

Shiuna made derogatory remarks against PM Modi on social media platform X. The post by Shiuna, which has now been deleted, featured images of PM Modi from his recent visit to Lakshadweep.

Blood flow changes in eyes may influence visual symptoms of migraines: Study

A new study has discovered that variations in blood flow in the retina may explain why certain migraine patients have visual disturbances. The findings may provide a long-awaited visible marker for migraines that doctors may use to aid in the medical treatment of the condition. While patients with migraines often experience symptoms such as pain around the eye, sensitivity to light, blind spots and visual blurring, the mechanisms behind those symptoms have not been well understood. UCLA Health researchers used a non-invasive imaging technique, known as optical coherence tomography angiography, or OCTA, to visualize changes in the retinal blood vessels of migraine patients both during and between migraine attacks. The imaging was performed on 37 migraine patients with aura symptoms, 30 migraine patients without aura symptoms and 20 healthy patients for a control group.

Researchers found that blood flow decreases in the retina during migraine attacks for both migraine patients with and without aura symptoms.

However, patients with aura symptoms were found to have lower blood flow in certain areas of the retina compared to patients without aura symptoms. Additionally, asymmetrical blood flow in the retinas was also correlated with which side of the head migraine patients experienced pain.

POEM

Only Thee

That I want thee, only thee---let my heart repeat without end. All desires that distract me, day and night, are false and empty to the core. As the night keeps hidden in its gloom the petition for light, even thus in the depth of my unconsciousness rings the cry ---`I want thee, only thee'. As the storm still seeks its end in peace when it strikes against peace with all its might, even thus my rebellion strikes against thy love and still its cry is ---`I want thee, only thee'.

Portion control helps you lose weight

To lose weight, one needs to burn calories with exercise or give up on certain foods. A third way is to control the portions of the food you eat so you're not depriving yourself of any kinds of food, but only limiting the amount you consume.

Follow these steps to control the portions of food you eat.

Dinnerware that helps lose weight

If you eat food in contrasting coloured dinnerware, you are most likely to eat less for you can see the quantity you take in your plate, says a 2012 Cornell University study.

Avoid bag or box eating

When buying ready-to-eat food, try emptying the contents in a plate or bowl. You will instantly know whether the food packed is for one person or for two. By practising this, you will eat 50 per cent less than when you eat directly from the bag or box.

Soup before starters

By drinking soup before your starters and/or meals, you tend to cut down on the overall food intake. As per a 2007 study, people who ate soup before their lunch or dinner, cut down their total calorie intake by 20 per cent.

Avoid mealtime distractions

Dining at your dinner table is the best way to eat. Don't eat in front of the TV or while scrolling through your phone. A study published in the American Journal of Clinical Nutrition says that office goers tend to eat more when eating at their desk or while playing a game or watching a video, because they felt less full.

TV actors ke pasandita Hindi muhavare

Chandigarh : Vishwa Hindi Diwas is observed on January 10th to promote Hindi language globally. Hindi is a beautiful language, and what makes it interesting is the array of famous Hindi idioms used in day-to-day conversations. &TV artists including Ashutosh Kulkarni (Krishan Bihari Vajpayee, Atal), Himani Shivpuri (Katori Amma, Happu Ki Ultan Paltan), and Shubhangi Atre (Angoori Bhabi, Bhabiji Ghar Par Hain) recount interesting incidents when they encountered fascinating Hindi idioms and explain their meanings. Ashutosh Kulkarni, essaying Krishan Bihari Vajpayee in &TV's show Atal, says "Hindi was my favourite subject in school, and I enjoy reading Hindi poems and stories. To enhance our command over the language, our Hindi teacher used to provide us with tongue twisters, proverbs, and idioms. Initially, I used to feel somewhat irritated because I often struggled to understand the exact meaning of a few words and proverbs in Hindi. However, with time, I started enjoying it. I remember once, my mother said 'Aam ke Aam, Gutliyon ke Daam' and I got curious about it. I asked my teacher to help me understand its meaning and was surprised to know that this phrase aims to express that the actual value or cost of something is not solely determined by its superficial appearance or easily accessible parts, but rather by considering all its aspects. The idiom suggests that the worth of something should not be solely based on what is visible or easy to obtain, but also includes the less obvious or hidden aspects. The good thing is that today, I have found myself using this idiom whenever I encounter similar situations. As a Hindi and Sanskrit student, I feel very proud to see how Hindi words are widely accepted and used in common parlance by everyone."

Himani Shivpuri, aka Katori Amma from Happu Ki Ultan Paltan, shares, "My father was a Sanskrit and Hindi teacher. His profession helped me gain a thorough command over the language. Over the years, I have become skilled at speaking the language in different forms, as every region in India has a specific Hindi dialect. I recall my father giving me books to read and advising me to keep myself engaged. He would often say, 'Khali dimaag Shaitan ka ghar hota hai', which means 'an idle brain is a devil's workshop'. At times, I used to wonder and laugh at such proverbs and idioms, but as I grew older, I realized the true meaning of these phrases and their deep value in our daily lives. Like father, like daughter, I also use this idiom on my son whenever I see him idle (laughs)."

Shubhangi Atre, aka Angoori Bhabi from Bhabiji Ghar Par Hain, shares, "During the shooting, I came across many famous Hindi idioms, which we often use in our day-to-day lives and in between scenes. I remember the famous Hindi muhavara 'Dhobi ka kutta na ghar ka na ghat ka', which I was supposed to use on Vibhuti (Aasif Sheikh) in a scene. One meaning is that a person who never settles down in one place will not be successful. Another is that someone who is always moving, with no roots in one place, avoids responsibilities. We use many such proverbs daily in our show like 'Bandar kya jaane adrak ka swad', which means to waste your time by offering something helpful or valuable to someone who does not appreciate or understand it. Some of them have a true deep meaning and moral. On set, we often use such funny proverbs and idioms regularly as fun banter. Hindi is truly an amazing language to learn, and today's kids should learn and enjoy it just as they enjoy speaking English."

Chandigarh: Bandhan Mutual Fund announced the launch of the Bandhan Multi Asset Allocation Fund, an open-ended scheme that enables investment across diverse asset classes including Indian Equities, International Equities, Arbitrage, Fixed Income, Gold and Silver. Studies have established that asset allocation, rather than security selection or market timing, is the dominant factor impacting return variability. This new fund will adopt a multi-asset allocation strategy to optimize reward and risk by diversifying investments across various asset classes, each offering unique advantages in terms of growth, stability, and inflation protection. The New Fund Offer (NFO) is set to open on Wednesday, 10 January 2024, and will close on Wednesday, 24 January 2024. Investments in the Bandhan Multi Asset Allocation Fund can be made through licensed mutual fund distributors, investment advisors, online platforms, or directly at https://bandhanmutual.com/nfo/bandhan-multi-asset-allocation-fund/.

Highlighting the importance of a multi-asset allocation approach, especially at a time when select segments in equity markets have provided very strong past returns potentially leading to build-up of concentration risks for some investors, Vishal Kapoor, CEO of Bandhan AMC, commented, "Asset Allocation helps investors avoid behavioural pitfalls, such as market timing and performance chasing which can result in shorter holding periods, portfolio imbalances and eventually sub-optimal returns. Seasoned investors recognise that no single asset class has been a winner for consecutive periods, and hence, diversifying across asset classes brings greater stability and consistency of returns. Bandhan Multi Asset Allocation Fund is crafted to offer investors a sophisticated, transparent, and effective way to achieve a well-diversified portfolio investing in 5 major asset classes and across 13 sub-asset classes. By expertly integrating major asset classes into a single well-curated fund, the fund aims for potential long-term growth, with relatively lower volatility. Investors seeking a long-term well-rounded portfolio for relatively stable returns may find this very attractive."

'Should be sacked immediately,' Chirag Paswan on Bihar Education Minister

AGENCY
PATNA, JAN 8

Reacting to Bihar Education Minister Chandra Shekhar's remark on the Ram temple, Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas) president Chirag Paswan asserted that the ministers making such derogatory statements should be "sacked immediately."

This comes after the Bihar Education Minister sparked off yet another controversy with his statements on the Ram Temple and said that if the people fall sick or get injured they will seek medical attention rather than visit a temple. "It is beyond my understanding that instead of worrying about his own department why he is worried about abusing Sanatana Dharma...What surprises me is why his party's leadership and friends in the alliance tolerate this," Paswan told ANI on Monday. He further said that the minister making such statements is hurting the people's sentiments and instigating them.

"You are hurting people's sentiments and instigating them. Ministers making such statements should be sacked immediately...If their alliance has lost elections in the past, it is due to such statements," he added.

As the day of Ram Mandir Pran Pratishtha is approaching, the opposition party leaders are targeting the government and making indecent remarks about Ram Lalla. Bihar Education Minister said that if the people fall sick or get injured they will seek medical attention rather than visiting a temple.

"If you get injured, where will you go? Temple or hospital? If you want education and want to become an officer, MLA, or MP, will you go to a temple or school?" Shekhar told reporters on Sunday. Chandra Shekhar also suggested the people be cautious of "pseudo-Hinduvaad and pseudo-nationalism." Extending his support to Rashtriya Janata Dal (RJD) MLA, Fateh Bahadur Singh, he said that Singh said the same thing had been said by Savitribai Phule. "Fateh Bahadur Singh (RJD MLA) said the same thing that had been said by Savitribai Phule. What is wrong here? He quoted Savitribai Phule. Isn't education necessary? We should be cautious of pseudo-Hinduvaad and pseudo-nationalism," he added. He further said, "Fateh Bahadur Singh (RJD MLA) say? The road to the temple is the road to mental slavery. The road to schools paves the path to light. He did not say this on his own, he reiterated what Savitribai Phule had said."

India's Jemimah Rodrigues, Deepti Sharma nominated for ICC Women's Player of the Month Award for December 2023

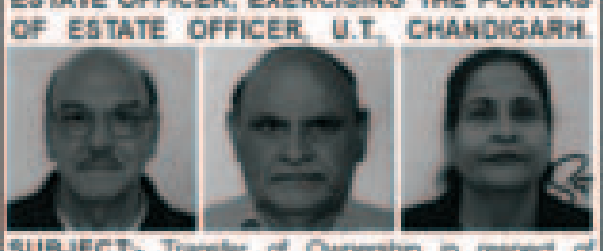

DUBAI: India's star batter Jemimah Rodrigues and all-rounder Deepti Sharma are among the stars nominated for the ICC Women's Player of the Month Award for December 2023, the International Cricket Council (ICC) announced on Monday. "Two Indians and a 41-year-old Zimbabwe player have been shortlisted for the ICC Women's Player of the Month Award for December 2023," ICC announced in an official statement.

An impressive month for Jemimah Rodrigues saw her shine across formats for India. The right-hander slammed fifties in India's Test triumphs in the month over England and Australia. India's star batter Rodrigues exhibited superb versatility in December, producing impressive batting displays in all formats of the game. A modest start to the month in T20Is was followed by classy first-innings knocks of 70-plus in India's two Test victories over England and Australia. Rodrigues also continued her run-scoring spell in the subsequent ODI encounters against the Australians, hitting 82 and 44 in the first two matches to end the month having averaged over 60 in Tests and ODIs in December. India's veteran all-rounder Deepti Sharma was also a key performer in India's Test and ODI outings during December. The Test victory over England was a particular highlight for Sharma, striking 67 and 20 with the bat as well as taking nine opposition wickets. She then top-scored for India in the following Test success against Australia before also outlining her ODI strengths, which included five for 38 in the second match as India fell agonizingly short. Zimbabwe's veteran bowler Precious Marange enjoyed a career-defining series of performances in December as her side secured safe passage from the Women's T20 World Cup Africa Qualifier.

Two wickets in their opening match against Kenya was followed by a wicket-less performance against Botswana.

It was a first-of-its-kind experience for me as we had never gone to an outdoor location for such a long time. The shooting experience was quite different from our routine shoots in Mumbai. We used to travel in a Shikara to reach the houseboat where we used to shoot. It was magical. Kashmir is truly a heaven on earth. I also got the chance to explore Srinagar properly for the first time and now I can truly appreciate the beauty of this place. The shoot for Pashminna left me with lasting memories that will stay with me forever. I am grateful for such an opportunity coming my way."
However, for Hiten and other cast members, shooting in Kashmir comes with its challenges. Expanding further, Hiten shared, "The production team faced its share of challenges, especially dealing with remote locations and the unpredictability of the weather. Adjusting schedules, early morning shoots, and midnight wake-up calls became the norm.
