UP court orders judicial probe into Mukhtar Ansari's death

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, MAR 29

A three-member team will conduct a magisterial investigation into the death of gangster-turned-politician Mukhtar Ansari.

The Chief Judicial Magistrate Banda issued orders concerning the judicial probe. Officials said a panel of two doctors will do the post-mortem, which will be videographed.

Mukhtar Ansari's body will be handed over to his son, Umar Ansari, following the post-mortem. Mukhtar Ansari died in a hospital in Banda, Uttar Pradesh, on Thursday.

Umar Ansari told that he has written a letter demanding that the post-mortem should be done by doctors at AIIMS, Delhi.

"It (post-mortem) is their procedure. I have written a letter saying that it should be done by doctors at AIIMS Delhi. We don't trust the medical system, government and administration here...You know why I am saying this...Panchnama is done. District Magistrate has to make a decision. Let's see what he decides. The post-mortem has not begun...," he said.

"We hope that the court will help investigate the suspicions that we are expressing. We will consult our legal team. We are confident that this is not a natural death but an orchestrated murder," he added.

According to the official release from the hospital, Ansari was brought to the hospital around 8:25 pm on Thursday. A team of nine doctors attended to him before he died, the release added.

Sibgatullah Ansari, Mukhtar Ansari's elder brother, claimed on Friday that the administration did not inform him and he learned about his brother's death through the media.

Sibgatullah said, "I saw it in the media and came to know about it. The administration didn't inform me. He had been very unwell since March 18 and he was not being given any treatment despite raising an alarm again and again. On March 25-26, his health was in a very bad condition, so he was brought to medical college for a few hours as a formality. He was sent back and it was said that he was stable. He was not given any treatment."

On the apprehensions of the family, he said, "It was expressed months ago and was also given in writing to the High Court as well as the Supreme Court but no cognizance was taken."

Earlier, Umar Ansari had claimed that his father was "given poison in the food" and said "they would move the judiciary".

In April 2023, Mukhtar Ansari was convicted and sentenced to 10 years imprisonment for the murder of BJP MLA Krishnanand Rai by an MP-MLA court. He was sentenced to life in prison on March 13, 2024, in a case related to the use of forged documents for obtaining an arms licence in 1990.

IT Department issues demand notice of Rs 1700 cr to Cong

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, MAR 29

In mounting troubles for Congress amid Lok Sabha poll campaign, the Income Tax Department has issued demand notice of about Rs 1700 crore to the party, sources said.

They said the fresh demand notice is for assessment years 2017-18 to 2020-21 and includes penalty and interest.

The Delhi High Court had earlier this week dismissed the party's plea, challenging Income Tax Department's order opening of reassessment proceedings against it for 2017-18, 2018-19, 2019-20, and 2020-21.

The Division Bench of Justice Yashwant Verma and Justice Purushaindra Kumar Kaurav on Thursday dismissed four pleas filed by the Congress on similar terms as its earlier judgement, whereby identical pleas of the same political party were dismissed regarding the reassessment proceedings for three years.

Recently, the Delhi High Court upheld the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (ITAT) order refusing to stay on the Income Tax notice for recovery of more than Rs 105 crore as outstanding tax against the Congress. The Court while upholding the ITAT order, granted liberty to the petitioner's Congress party to move the appellate tribunal afresh with the grievance.

The Congress has recently approached the Income Tax Appellate Tribunal (ITAT) against the recovery and has filed a complaint and sought a stay against Income Tax Department proceedings of recovery and "freezing" of their Bank accounts.

Opposition parties finalise Bihar seat sharing: RJD 26, Congress 9, Left 5

PATNA: The Mahagathbandhan, the opposition coalition in Bihar, on Friday announced that the RJD, its largest constituent, will contest 26, out of the state's 40 Lok Sabha seats. The Congress will contest nine seats, followed by CPI(ML) 3 and CPI and CPI(M) one each. As per the announcement, the Congress has been made to give up the Purnea Lok Sabha seat, which recent entrant Pappu Yadav, husband of Rajya Sabha MP Ranjeet Ranjan, was hoping to contest, claiming that he had received assurance of Congress ticket from Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi. The seat will be contested by RJD, which recently gave the party ticket to JD(U) turncoat Bima Bharti, but stopped short announcing it formally. The Mahagathbandhan's seat-sharing announcement comes a day after the filing of nomination papers for the first phase of Lok Sabha polls was over. The RJD has fielded its candidates in all four seats going to polls in the first phase, in what has been resented by allies as a "unilateral move". The Mahagathbandhan press conference here was scheduled to be addressed by RJD leader Tejashwi Yadav, who, however, remained conspicuous by his absence.

Kejriwal's wife launches Whatsapp campaign to seek support for Delhi CM

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, MAR 29

Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal's wife Sunita Kejriwal on Friday launched a Whatsapp campaign 'Kejriwal ko Aashirwad', to seek support for Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) convenor who is under ED's custody in excise policy case.

In a video message, Sunita shared two WhatsApp numbers and appealed public to send their wishes, blessings, prayers or any message irrespective of their gender, age, financial status and party affiliation, which will be shared with the AAP leader in ED custody.

"Yesterday Arvind ji presented his side in the court, and the entire country heard it. If you have not, then please listen to it once. Whatever he said in front of the court requires a lot of courage. He is a true patriot. This is exactly how our freedom fighters fought the British tyranny. I have been with him for the last 30 years; patriotism is in his every pore. Arvind ji has challenged the most powerful, corrupt, and dictatorial forces of the country," Sunita said.

"You have called Arvind ji your brother, your son, will you not support your brother and your son in this fight? I have full confidence that we will all fight this battle together," she said.

Sharing two WhatsApp numbers 8297324624 and 9700297002, Sunita appealed people to send their blessings, good wishes and prayers to Arvind Kejriwal under the campaign 'Kejriwal ko Ashirwad'.

"If anyone wants to send any other message, he can also send it," she said.

Out of those analysed, 5 per cent are billionaires, with assets exceeding 100 crore.

The report by the ADR, which scrutinised affidavits of the sitting MPs, revealed that among the sitting MPs with criminal charges, 29 per cent face serious criminal cases, including allegations of murder, attempt to murder, promoting communal disharmony, kidnapping, and crimes against women.

DoT advisory against fraud WhatsApp calls

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, MAR 29

Taking note of rising fraud calls and cyber crimes, the Department of Telcom Friday issued an advisory about WhatsApp calls from foreign origin mobile numbers and asked citizens not to entertain such calls and not reveal any information.

Department of Telecommunications (DoT), Ministry of Communications, has issued an advisory to citizens that calls are being received by the citizens wherein callers, in the name of DoT, are threatening that all of their mobile numbers would be disconnected or their mobile numbers are being misused in some illegal activities. The callers then ask citizens to complete KYC and in the process acquire sensitive information from citizens. They should know that the govt doesn't authorize anyone for such calls.

The DoT has also issued advisory about WhatsApp calls from foreign origin mobile numbers (like +92-xxxxxxxxxx) impersonating government officials and duping the people.

Cyber criminals through such calls try to threat/steal personal information to carry out cyber-crime/financial frauds. "The DoT does not authorise anyone to make such call on its behalf and has advised people to stay vigilant and asked not to share any information on receiving such calls," the advisory said. The DoT has advised citizens to report such fraud communications at 'Chakshu-Report Suspected Fraud Communications' facility of Sanchar Saathi portal (www.sancharsaathi.gov.in).

Heat wave conditions expected in April and May: IMD

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, MAR 29

The India Meteorological Department has predicted that temperatures may be above normal and heat wave conditions are expected in the months of April and May.

IMD Senior Scientist Dr Naresh Kumar said that there is a forecast of heavy rainfall today in Jammu and Kashmir and Himachal Pradesh. The IMD said that very light rainfall is expected in Delhi in a in a few days.

Responding to a question relating to summer this year, IMD scientist Naresh Kumar said that it will be too early to say anything now but he expected that the temperature will be above normal and heat wave conditions are expected in the months of April and May.

"We are expecting above-normal temperatures as we are approaching April. In April, we will experience heat wave conditions over the central part of the country," he said.

"May is the warmest month of the seasons and the country may experience heat waves over northwest and central India," he further said while adding that "as per our long-term predictions, there will be abnormal temperatures and heat wave conditions may prevail over the central part of the country for the next two-three months."

While forecasting the temperature for next few days, the IMD official said that there is an active Western disturbance that is likely to influence Northwest India from today.

"Jammu and Kashmir, Himachal may experience heavy rainfall today and adjoining planes will experience light to moderate rainfall, even thunderstorm activity, even hailstorm activity," he said

There is light rain expected in Delhi-NCR, the official said.

"At present, temperatures in northwest India are abnormal and as Western disturbances are affecting this region today, the temperature will fall gradually, so it will become slightly comfortable. However, this is a summer season, so the temperature is likely to be above 35°C over Northwest India," the official said. The IMD official made a forecast that the heat wave or warm light conditions are prevailing over Maharashtra and nearby regions. "Heat wave conditions are over Madhya Pradesh for the next two days and dry weather is specifically over central India, he said. "Heat waves will also prevail in the next two days in some parts of Karnataka," he added.

DC holds meeting of crime monitoring committee

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA KARNAL, MARCH 29

DC Uttam Singh held a meeting of the District Level Monitoring Committee of the identified crimes in his office located in the Mini Secretariat on Friday. He instructed that the police should investigate criminal cases scientifically. SOP for police investigation should be made and training of police personnel should also be organised so that the criminals involved in identified and heinous crimes are punished under all circumstances. He learned the status of criminal cases and examined the cases in which criminals were acquitted. In identified and heinous crimes, the Superintendent of Police and the District Attorney were instructed to gather as much scientific evidence as possible as well as get the testimony of the victims and eyewitnesses as soon as possible. In case of serious crimes, there should be good supervision of the police. District Attorney asked to monitor court cases in serious crimes. They discussed the cases of identified crimes and learned their status. District Attorney Dr.

Pankaj Saini told the Deputy Commissioner that all the cases are prosecuted properly. Witnesses are told to testify boldly, yet many cases turn out to be resistant when they go to court. Atrocities against women and weaker sections, monitoring of cases related to the POCSO Act and corruption were also discussed.

A report regarding the identified crime is sent to the government through a committee formed in every district. Such crimes create a curiosity in the hearts and minds of the public to know whether the perpetrator of the crime will be punished or not and after the decision of the case, there is also curiosity to know the reasons behind it. "ED wants AAP's Lok Sabha strategy from Kejriwal's phone", claims Atishi

NEW DELHI, MAR 29

Aam Aadmi party minister Atishi on Friday accused the Bhartiya Janata party of using the Enforcement Directorate (ED), to probe the AAP strategy for 2024 elections.

Atishi questioned the relevance of ED, searching a month-old phone, emphasizing that it couldn't have been used during the period under investigation.

Addressing a Press conference in Delhi, Atishi said, "Yesterday in Rouse Avenue Court during the hearing of Arvind Kejriwal's remand, ED's counsel ASG SV Raju unknowingly presented the real motive of the agency before the court, before the world. He said that ED needs to have custody of Arvind Kejriwal for a few more days because Kejriwal has not given them the password of his phone. This is the same ED that had said that the phone that was used by Arvind Kejriwal at the time of the forming and implementation of the liquor policy could not be found by them."

"The excise policy was formed in the year 2021, was implemented from November 2021 to August 2022, From August 2022, 1.5 years passed on and the ED says that phone seized by them is months old. I want to ask them, that what do they want to search in a month old phone? When they themselves know that the phone does not belong to the time when liquor policy was implemented" she added.

Atishi alleged that BJP's interest lies in accessing AAP's Lok Sabha election plans and constituency surveys through Kejriwal's phone, using the ED as a tool to achieve their political objectives.

"They want to find the Lok Sabha strategy for 2024 elections. The conversations between INDIA alliance and Arvind Kejriwal will be found in the months old phone. The survey of AAP, constituency by constituency, will be found in that phone. The ED doesn't want the password of Arvind Kejriwal's phone, the BJP wants the password. Through ED, they want to know, how the AAP is preparing to contest the Lok Sabha elections", Atishi said.

Meanwhile, The Rouse Avenue Court on Thursday extended the custodial remand of Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal by four more days in a money laundering case related to the Excise Policy.

Chugh said National Conference vice president Omar Abdullah and PDP's Mahbooba Mufti should acknowledge the Modi government's contribution in bringing peace to J&K. The Abdullah and Mufti families have been promoting separatism in J&K for their petty political interests and with the new policies of the Modi government both of them are rattled and frustrated.He said the Modi government had taken a series of steps including abrogation of Article 370 to take J&K onto the new path of development and progress."Since Union Home Minister Amit Shah has AFSPA and withdrawal of troops in Jammu and Kashmir, the regional political parties especially NC seems to be in absolute frustration. Perhaps NC has forgotten its role in its bringing and implementation in J&K," Chugh said.He said NC has brought AFSPA to J&K in 1978 with an aim to crush their political opponents and to remain in power. This party has made enough destruction to J&K and its institutions with the help of such laws. "Now when BJP took a stand to revisit the law it led NC and its entire leadership into absolute frustration," Chugh added."NC during their times pampered terrorism, separatism, and corruption.

Din and destruction

Learning music requires the activation of two cognitive processes — listening and remembering. In this context, I would like to distinguish listening from hearing. Hearing is involuntary; the registering of a sound. There is no association, recognition and understanding born from the incident. I also propose that mere repetition or rote action, even if accurate, remains within the domain of hearing, when there is no mental application. Listening, on the other hand, is the completion of the entire process beginning from the arrival of the sound and ending with awareness and understanding. This is how, even in a crowded train, we are able to converse. The ambient sound is pushed to the background because we make the effort to concentrate on what an individual is saying. But listening is not standalone. It is influenced by visual cues and stimuli, tactility, and olfactory and gustatory changes.

Memory is an unusual creature. To begin with, its quality is influenced by whether the individual heard or listened. If he heard, then memory fails or results in incoherent recollections. When sound is internalised completely, memory is richer. But even this is suspect because the mind is never static and, hence, the social environment and life experiences of the listener add, delete, turn and twist that which has been listened to.

In a music class, I often encounter a situation where my student is unable to comprehend what I teach. I repeat the same line over and over again; yet the student repeats the same mistake. My student appears to be attentive and putting in the required effort. Yet, it does not happen. It is possible that the individual does not have the intellectual tools to understand the line of music. In which case, I need to go back to the drawing board and ensure that the needed inputs are first put in place. But I face the same problem even when the student is fully capable. In these cases, something else is happening. As I begin to sing, the student is unconsciously singing in his mind. He follows the tune a micro-second behind me, overlapping my voice with his own mental voice. In other words, his mind is mapping the musical flow and intonations based on all the knowledge his mind has already gathered. Much like how we tune out other sounds when we speak in a crowd, the individual here pushes my voice to the background and hears himself even though his voice is in the mind and not audible. When we sing in our mind, the song is listened to from within. If the impression of the inaudible music is strong enough, it can drown the auditory stimuli.

AI technique accurately predicts deadly heart rhythms

In a Leicester study to see if artificial intelligence (AI) could identify whether a person was in danger of a deadly cardiac rhythm, an AI tool accurately detected the condition 80 per cent of the time.

The study's findings, led by Dr Joseph Barker in collaboration with Professor Andre Ng, Professor of Cardiac Electrophysiology and Head of the Department of Cardiovascular Sciences at the University of Leicester and Consultant Cardiologist at the University Hospitals of Leicester NHS Trust, were published in the European Heart Journal - Digital Health.

Ventricular arrhythmia (VA) is a cardiac rhythm disorder that originates in the bottom chambers (ventricles), where the heart beats so quickly that blood pressure decreases, leading to loss of consciousness and abrupt death if not treated promptly.

NIHR Academic Clinical Fellow Dr Joseph Barker co-ordinated the multicentre study at the National Institute for Health and Care Research (NIHR) Leicester Biomedical Research Centre and co-developed an AI tool with Dr Xin Li, Lecturer in Biomedical Engineering, School of Engineering. The tool examined Holter electrocardiograms (ECGs) of 270 adults taken during their normal daily routine at home.

These adults had the Holter ECGs taken as part of their NHS care between 2014 and 2022. Outcomes for these patients were known, and 159 had sadly experienced lethal ventricular arrhythmias, on average 1.6 years following the ECG.

The AI tool, VA-ResNet-50, was used to retrospectively examine 'normal for patient' heart rhythms to see if their heart was capable of the lethal arrhythmia.

Professor Ng said, "Current clinical guidelines that help us to decide which patients are most at risk of going on to experience ventricular arrhythmia, and who would most benefit from the life-saving treatment with an implantable cardioverter defibrillator are insufficiently accurate, leading to a significant number of deaths from the condition."

"Ventricular arrhythmia is rare relative to the population it can affect, and in this study, we collated the largest Holter ECG dataset associated with longer-term VA outcomes.

"We found the AI tool performed well compared with current medical guidelines, and correctly predicted which patient's heart was capable of ventricular arrhythmia in 4 out of every 5 cases.

"If the tool said a person was at risk, the risk of lethal event was three times higher than normal adults.

"These findings suggest that using artificial intelligence to look at patients' electrocardiograms while in normal cardiac rhythm offers a novel lens through which we can determine their risk, and suggest appropriate treatment; ultimately saving lives."

He added, "This is important work, which wouldn't have been possible without an exceptional team in Dr Barker and Dr Xin Li, and their belief and dedication to novel methods of analysis of historically disregarded data."

Dr Barker's work has been recognised with a van Geest Foundation Award and Heart Rhythm Society Scholarship and more research will be carried out to develop the work further.

New Zealand's Maori King seeks 'personhood' status for whales

The King of New Zealand's Indigenous Maori community has called for granting legal personhood to whales, Anadolu News Agency reported, citing Teao News website, on Thursday.

Kiingi Tuheitia Potatau Te Wherowhero VII made the call after signing 'He Whakaputanga Moana', or the Declaration for the Ocean, along with an indigenous chief in neighbouring Cooks Island on Thursday.

"He Whakaputanga Moana (declaration) is not merely words on paper. It's a Hinemoana Halo, a woven cloak of protection for our taonga (treasured possession) our treasures - the magnificent whales," the Maori King said.

This development comes as the 'Hinemoana Halo Ocean Initiative' is aiming at an ocean protection fund for the big mammal, as reported by Anadolu News Agency.

The king termed the Declaration for the Ocean as a "declaration for future generations", saying their descendants deserve to inherit an ocean where whales continue to resonate.

"Our mokopuna (descendants) deserve to inherit an ocean teeming with life, where the songs of whales continue to resonate across the vast expanse," he added.

Aperahama Edwards, one of the drivers of the initiative, said the fund will empower the indigeneous communities in protecting their treasured possessions. "

Columbia expels Argentina's diplomats

The Columbian government has ordered the expulsion of all Argentine diplomats from the country's embassy in Bogota following Argentina's President Javier Mile calling his Columbian counterpart a "terrorist murderer," CNN reported.

"The Argentine president's expressions have deteriorated the trust of our nation and offended the dignity of President (Gustavo) Petro, who was elected democratically," the Colombian Foreign Ministry said in a statement Wednesday.

Argentina President, Javier Milei during an interview with Andres Oppenheimer of CNN en Espanol and The Miami Herald made a harsh comment on the Columbian President Gustavo Petro, a former guerilla who became Colombia's first left-wing president following a 2022 election victory and said, "You can't expect much from someone who was a terrorist murderer."

Milei, a former television pundit with a reputation for bombast, also attacked Mexican President Andres Manuel Lopez Obrador in the interview, calling him "ignorant."

Lopez Obrador, a left-wing populist, has previously criticized Milei's policies and compared him to a dictator. On Thursday, in a post on social media, Lopez Obrador hit back, wondering why Argentinians "voted for someone who is not right, who despises the people."

In the nearly hour-long interview, conducted in Buenos Aires, Milei also defended Israel's response to the October 7 Hamas terror attack, saying its war in Gaza is "within the rule of law."

"Israel was the target of a brutal attack, and this type of thing requires a response that sets the example. Israel is not committing any excess," Milei told CNN.

Milei, who was born Catholic but has expressed a wish to convert to Judaism, said that his meeting in February with Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu was one of the warmest he had held since entering office.

Milei also admitted he privately hopes former President Donald Trump wins the US election in November, but that he intends to be an ally with the United States regardless of who will be in the White House next year.

The Eve of St. Agnes

St. Agnes' Eve—Ah, bitter chill it was! The owl, for all his feathers, was a-cold;

The hare limp'd trembling through the frozen grass,

And silent was the flock in woolly fold: Numb were the Beadsman's fingers, while he told

Tennyson

His rosary, and while his frosted breath, Like pious incense from a censer old, Seem'd taking flight for heaven, without a death,

Past the sweet Virgin's picture, while his prayer he saith.

His prayer he saith, this patient, holy man;

Then takes his lamp, and riseth from his knees, And back returneth, meagre, barefoot, wan, Along the chapel aisle by slow degrees.

Taking a stride further into the New Era with user engagement and involvement, the company has also announced 'Name Your Škoda', a campaign where participants contribute to what the name of Škoda's all-new compact SUV will be. Speaking at the announcement, Petr Janeba, Brand Director, Škoda Auto India, said: "India is driving growth for Škoda Auto globally. The key enablers of this so far have been the first products specifically developed for India – the Kushaq and the Slavia. With 'Name Your Škoda' we want to extend this tradition to our upcoming all-new SUV and want the people, customers and fans to be involved in the naming process of their new car. The Anatomy of Fake News Factories Unraveling the Damage to Brands- Dr Meena Mehta

AMRITSAR : In today's digital age, the proliferation of fake news has become a menacing force, capable of wreaking havoc on individuals, institutions, and even entire industries.

Among the victims of this epidemic are brands, which often find themselves ensnared in webs of misinformation that tarnish their reputation and erode consumer trust.

"As a concerned voice in the community, we recognize the challenges posed by misinformation regarding palm oil. The dissemination of false information not only leads consumers astray but also jeopardizes the integrity of the palm oil industry. It is crucial for us to unite in dismantling the web of misinformation. We advocate for the prevalence of precise, scientifically supported information, empowering consumers to make well-informed decisions. Through dispelling myths and promoting open communication, we can cultivate a more nuanced comprehension of palm oil's contributions, advantages, and sustainable practices, enriching India's diverse industries", said Dr.Meena Mehta, an Associate professor who is currently working as a visiting Faculty in Department of Post Graduate Studies and Research in Home Science & Department of Food Science and Nutrition, S.N.D.T Women's University.

Fake news factories operate in a clandestine manner, leveraging the power of social media, click bait headlines, and viral content to disseminate false information with alarming efficiency. These factories exploit the inherent vulnerabilities of online platforms, where sensationalism often trumps accuracy, and misinformation can spread like wildfire.

One striking example of the impact of fake news occurred when a multinational company in Hong Kong fell victim to a staggering $25.6 million scam orchestrated using deep fake technology. Employees were manipulated through a video conference, underscoring the sophistication of modern deception tactics.

Other sectors have also fallen prey to the insidious spread of fake news. For instance, the myth that soft drinks can dissolve a tooth overnight has persisted despite being debunked numerous times, highlighting the enduring power of misinformation.

For brands in the palm oil industry, false accusations of deforestation and worker exploitation can lead to consumer boycotts and financial losses. However, it's essential to separate fact from fiction and recognize the positive contributions of sustainably produced palm oil.

Sustainably sourced palm oil is not only environmentally friendly but also economically beneficial, requiring less land and resources compared to other oil sources.

Private school operators suffer the consequences of arbitrary attitude of the officers: Dr. Sharma

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA
CHANDIGARH, MAR 29

National President of National Independent Schools Alliance (NISA) and State President of Federation of Private Schools Welfare Association Haryana, Dr. Kulbhushan Sharma said in a press conference held in Chandigarh that private schools, which played an important role in education were wrong. Due to policies, they have become victims of bureaucracy. Sword was hanging on the skulls of 4500 private schools. These schools have reached the verge of collapse. Along with this, one lakh teachers and class IV employees associated with these schools have also reached the verge of becoming unemployed. NISA and the Federation would not allow this to happen. Schools would not be allowed to be closed at any cost. For this, NISA will take refuge in the High Court and will fight strongly against the repressive policies. Santosh Bhargava and many other leaders including Surender Yadav, Ashwani Sharma, Devendra Arora were present during the conversation with the media.

Dr. Kulbhushan Sharma said that due to wrong policies, the future of thousands of private schools and one lakh teachers and class four employees associated with them has become bleak and 80 per cent of these teachers were women who supported their families with their salaries. Dr. Sharma said that the government says that they will run the school in two shifts. The truth was that many government schools were of this type which have only one room. There was a lack of basic facilities in all the government schools. On one hand, the government says that it will educate the children of the private schools which are being closed in government schools. He believed this was a dictatorial attitude. Whether the government talked to the children and their parents for this or obtained their consent. Will its decision be imposed on them? This is wrong. This was a unilateral action of the government. This was a discriminatory decision.

Santosh Bhargava from Hisar said that due to wrong decisions an atmosphere of anarchy has been created in the field of education. Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Singh Saini should take cognizance of this entire matter and take action towards resolving the matter. There was a need to rein in the bureaucracy in Haryana. The government should take cognizance of those who have given wrong affidavits in this case. Public representatives were there for the welfare of the people. They were not meant to bother., Dr. Kulbhushan Sharma informed that not a single private school should be closed

For this, NISA and Federation will go to the High Court and seek justice from the judiciary. Dr. Sharma said that in Right to Education, rules have been set for both private schools and government schools. In such a situation, how appropriate was it to attack private schools only by citing rules? Why was this discrimination being done? NISA and the Federation will fight every possible way for justice. Hisar's Legal Advisor Santosh Bhargava, associated with the Federation, said that this entire matter was being legally studied. Soon many petitions will be filed in the High Court in this matter.

"I aim to portray DJ as a multidimensional character," says Mahir Pandhi sharing his experience while working in Sony SAB's Vanshaj

CHANDIGARH : Sony SAB's Vanshaj is an intriguing family drama portraying a fierce struggle over inheritance between Yuvika Mahajan (Anjali Tatrari) and Digvijay Mahajan AKA DJ (Mahir Pandhi). After the sudden demise of Yuvika, the show took a year's leap and saw the entry of Yuvika's doppelganger Yukti Multani who enters the Mahajan house to take revenge from DJ and save her family.

Recently, actor Mahir Pandhi opened up about playing a grey character, his character's growth post-leap, and some memorable moments while working for the show. Excerpts:

How did you approach portraying a character like DJ in Vanshaj?

To play DJ, I thought about how he grew up and what the people around him taught him. DJ thinks that the sons should carry on the family name, and he doesn't think he's breaking any rules; he believes he's doing what's right for him. I aim to portray DJ as a multidimensional character, who is driven by the sense of entitlement and seeks justice and fairness for himself.

What impact can Vanshaj have on viewers' perceptions of gender equality and traditional family structures?

Vanshaj has characters who aren't just good or bad; they have many layers and shades. The show spotlights how succession cannot be based on a person's gender but should rather be considered on the basis of a person's capability. By showcasing characters like DJ who can go to any lengths to claim his right to business inheritance, the show makes people wonder if things could be different. It makes the audience ask the question if the sons should take the legacy forward or if the daughters can do it too considering they are equal capability too?

Any challenges or memorable moments while working on Vanshaj?

Working on Vanshaj has been an enriching experience filled with memorable moments. While shooting in Umbergaon, we encounter minor challenges such as connectivity issues and being away from our families. However, these obstacles are overshadowed by the camaraderie among the cast and crew, creating a supportive and collaborative environment. Another memorable experience is witnessing the evolution of DJ's character, from his suave persona to a more complex and conflicted individual. It's been a journey of growth and discovery both on and off-screen.

What responsibility do you see when portraying characters challenging societal norms?

It's a big responsibility. We want to show these characters in a real way, so people can understand and relate to them. Everyone involved in creating Vanshaj is very invested and has to think carefully to achieve that. By showing characters like DJ, who has nuance and depth, we hope to have conversations and make people see inheritance beyond the set gender rules.

What do you hope viewers will take away from your character's journey and the narrative of Vanshaj?

Through the portrayal of DJ, we want to highlight a fair approach that is needed in businesses and families and creating opportunities based on capabilities.

Tune in to Sony SAB's Vanshaj every Monday to Saturday at 7 PM and 10 PM

So, unleash your inner prankster and have some side-splitting fun with these awesome toon tricks.

Master Practical Jokes with Honey & Bunny

Honey & Bunny are the OG Jholers. They might "borrow" your favourite hat (without asking), but they'll always return it with a smile. Remember how Honey turned the swimming pool into a bathtub with just soap? Or how Bunny fooled Popat with a paint gun? So, this April Fools' Day, take a page out of the playbook of these mischievous brothers and have fun. Their playful pranks are all about laughs, so keep it light-hearted and silly.

Disguise Like a Pro With Karate Sheep

Ever wanted to be a master of disguise? Look no further than Karate Sheep. Just like Piddi, who uses clever costumes to surprise his friends (and sometimes even the wolf), you can create a playful prank with a simple disguise. Throw on a funny mask, grab an unexpected outfit from your closet, or even borrow your sibling's hat – the key is to surprise someone you love with a friendly scare and a good laugh.

Learn Sneaky Surprises with Oggy

Think you're good at hide and seek? Let's put it to the test. Whether the cockroaches raid his fridge, or they draw on his face while he sleeps at night, Oggy always ends up getting a nasty surprise from his tiny rivals. This April Fools' Day, turn the tables and hide some harmless fake bugs (spiders work too) around the house. When your friends or family least expect it, they'll come face-to-face with a creepy crawler, sending them scrambling around swatting just like Oggy, all in good fun.
