SC seeks more information from EC on credibility of EVMs

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Wednesday, while hearing the petitions seeking 100% tally of Electronic Voting Machines (EVMs) data with VVPAT records, said that the EVM source codes ought not to be disclosed, as the same can be misused. The bench comprising Justice Sanjiv Khanna and Dipankar Datta while dealing with petitions filed by NGO-Association for Democratic Reforms and others had today called one representative from the Election Commission to clarify certain points. The hearing in the matter had concluded on April 18, and the verdict was reserved on the same day. Today, the matter was listed "for directions'. The matter pertains to petitions seeking that instead of the prevalent procedure, where the Election Commission cross-verifies EVM votes with VVPATs in only 5 randomly selected polling stations in each assembly constituency, all VVPATs be verified. Further, the petitioners had sought measures to ensure that a vote is 'recorded as cast' and 'counted as recorded'.

PM slams Cong on Pitroda's 'inheritance tax' remark

AGENCY
AMBIKAPUR, APRIL 24

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday attacked the Congress over its leader Sam Pitroda's "inheritance tax" remark, saying that the grand old party's "dangerous intentions" of snatching the assets and rights of people have come to the fore.

The Congress will loot and equally distribute people's earnings and properties, he claimed while addressing an election rally in Ambikapur, the headquarter of Surguja district, in Chhattisgarh.

"The dangerous intentions of Congress are coming to forth one by one and now it says it will impose inheritance tax. The advisor of 'shehzada' of the 'shahi parivar', who was also the advisor to the shehzada's father, said that more tax should be imposed on the middle class and those who earn by toiling hard," Modi said, apparently referring to Rahul Gandhi and Pitroda.

"He (the advisor) said this publicly. Now they (Congress) have gone a step further and Congress is saying it will impose inheritance tax. It will impose tax on the assets inherited by people from their parents. Now, the 'panja' (Congress poll symbol) will snatch the assets from your children," he said without taking any name.

Modi was apparently referring to a statement made by Indian Overseas Congress chairperson Sam Pitroda at Chicago in America over the inheritance tax law.

The PM said the Congress' mantra is "loot of Congress zindagi ke sath bhi, zindagi ke baad bhi". "Till you are alive, Congress will impose more tax and after your life ends, it will impose the burden of inheritance tax on you. They (Congress) want to snatch your assets and rights of your children," the PM added. Congress does not want that common Indians give their property to their children. From values to culture, our country is not a consumerist country. We believe in accumulation, enrichment and preservation, he said.

"Today, our nature and environment is protected because of these values. Our old parents, grandparents keep their small ornaments safe thinking that it will be worn by their grandchildren during their wedding. The people of my country are fond of living life by taking loans. People are hard-working and spend as per their needs and have a tendency to accumulate," he said. The Congress is going to attack strongly on the fundamental values and culture of India. The reason why they have given this statement yesterday is that this thinking of theirs is very old, he said. "Why did a storm trigger in their camp (Congress). When I said that Urban Naxals and Urban Maoists have taken over the Congress, they felt that they should say something to appease America.

WB teachers' recruitment case: State govt moves SC against Calcutta HC

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, APRIL 24

The West Bengal Government on Wednesday moved the Supreme Court against the Calcutta High Court decision that declared the entire panel of 2016 School Service Commission teachers' recruitment null and void, cancelling all appointments of teachers and non-teaching staff.

"Vide the Impugned Order, the High Court, based oral submissions, without any affidavit on record, has proceeded to in a cursory manner, direction to cancel all appointments of teachers and non-teaching staff, in utter disregard to the fact that the same will lead to a huge vacuum in the State Schools, unless new selection process is completed by the SSC, especially when the new academic sessions is on its brim, leading to the students being adversely impacted," the petition, moved by West Bengal Govt, said.

The plea was filed through advocate on record Astha Sharma. The plea said that Calcutta HC decision to set aside the selection process affects nearly 23,123 teaching and non-teaching staff in the State of West Bengal. The High Court had directed the persons who had been appointed outside the panel, after expiry of the panel as also those who submitted blank OMR sheets but obtained appointments, must return all remunerations and benefits received by them to the State exchequer along with interest calculated at 12 percent per annum.

"The High Court failed to appreciate the ramification of cancelling the entire selection process leading to straightaway termination of 23,123 teaching and non-teaching staff from service with immediate effect, without giving sufficient time to the Petitioner State to deal with such an exigency, rendering the education system at a stand-still. That even though as per the CBI enquiry report and the affidavit by the SSC irregularity in appointments were only found for 4,327 teachers and non-teaching staff, the Impugned Order on its own wisdom strikes at the legal.

RBI curbs on Kotak Mahindra Bank: No new online customers, credit cards

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, APRIL 24

Citing data security concerns and deficient IT infrastructure, the Reserve Bank of India has barred Kotak Mahindra Bank from onboarding new customers online and issuing new credit cards with immediate effect. The bank can, however, continue to serve its current customers, including those holding credit cards.

"The Reserve Bank of India has today, in exercise of its powers under Section 35A of the Banking Regulation Act, 1949, directed Kotak Mahindra Bank Limited (hereinafter referred to as 'the bank') to cease and desist, with immediate effect, from (1) onboarding of new customers through its online and mobile banking channels and (II) issuing fresh credit cards. The bank shall, however, continue to provide services to its existing customers, including its credit card customers," the central bank said in a release.

The RBI said the actions are based on "significant concerns arising out of Reserve Bank's IT Examination of the bank for the years 2022 and 2023 and the continued failure on part of the bank to address these concerns in a comprehensive and timely manner".

It said there were "serious deficiencies" in the way Kotak Mahindra Bank manages its IT inventory and secures its data. "Serious deficiencies and non-compliances were observed in the areas of IT inventory management, patch and change management, user access management, vendor risk management, data security and data leak prevention strategy, business continuity and disaster recovery rigour and drill, etc. For two consecutive years, the bank was assessed to be deficient in its IT Risk and Information Security Governance, contrary to requirements under Regulatory guidelines," the RBI said. "During the subsequent assessments, the bank was found to be significantly non-compliant with the Corrective Action Plans issued by the Reserve Bank for the years 2022 and 2023, as the compliances submitted by the bank were found to be either inadequate.

Manipur highway cut off after IED blast

AGENCY
IMPHAL, APRIL 24

A main highway bridge in Manipur was badly damaged when an Improvised Explosive Device exploded at Kangpokpi district on Wednesday. Movement on the Imphal-Mao highway was completely stopped and some 200 vehicles on either side of the bridge left stranded, police said.

As per the police, the blast made about three holes in the bridge. Since May 3, 2023, the highway had been blocked by various Kuki organizations and movement of Meitei people had been stopped. It was not yet known who was involved in the blast.

The blast occurred just days ahead of the April 26 second phase Lok Sabha elections in the ethnic-violence affected state.

Movement on Imphal to Jiribam highway had also been disturbed after suspected Kuki militants fired at oil tankers at Tamenglong on April 16.

After the crisis in Manipur started in May 2023 the blast at Kangpokpi was the second incident of bomb blast targeted to stop movement of vehicles and people.

On June 21, 2023, suspected Kuki militants had used a powerful IED at a bridge at Kwakta, Bishnupur district in which three persons sustained injuries. The matter was taken up by the National Investigation Agency (NIA) and the main conspirator was identified as Seiminlun Gangte who worked with one Mohammed Noor Hussain to carry out the blast.

Gangte had allegedly planted a bomb in a four wheeler which was driven by Hussain. They were charged under various sections of Indian Penal Code, Unlawful Activities Prevention Act (UAPA), Explosive Substances Act 1908, and Prevention of Damage to Public Property Act, 1984

He is strong, says Delhi Minister after meeting Kejriwal in Tihar jail

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, APRIL 24

Delhi Cabinet minister Saurabh Bharadwaj on Wednesday had a 30-minute-long meeting with Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal in Tihar, saying he has asked people to not worry about him.

Mr Bharadwaj said he met Mr Kejriwal in the 'mulakat jangla' and had a conversation with him over the phone.

"I had a half-an-hour meeting in the 'mulakat jangla'. He said that people should not worry about him. He said he is strong and he will continue his fight with the blessings of the people of Delhi," the Delhi minister told reporters after the meeting.

The 'mulakat jangla' is an iron mesh that separates the inmate from the visitor in a room inside the jail. A visitor and an inmate can talk to each other by sitting on different sides of the mesh.

The Delhi chief minister who was arrested by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in a money laundering case on March 21 has not stepped down and the Aam Aadmi Party has asserted that he will continue to run the government from jail. Earlier, Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann and AAP's national general secretary Sandeep Pathak met Mr Kejriwal in Tihar Jail on April 15. After the meeting, Mr Pathak told reporters that Mr Kejriwal will meet two ministers each week and review the progress of work under their respective departments.

After his arrest, Mr Kejriwal had sent messages to his ministers to address issues such as water supply and availability of medicines in government hospitals. He also asked party MLAs to visit their constituencies and offer help to the people there.

Uproar regarding who will get Hisar LS seat from Congress

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA KARNAL, APRIL 24

Every street, square and mohalla of the village and city is buzzing with election discussions across the state regarding the Lok Sabha elections. Hisar, which has become the biggest direct witness of the electoral battle between the most powerful political family of Haryana, is also the subject of political discussions about who will be the Congress candidate for the Lok Sabha seat. This time there is sure to be an exciting contest for the Hisar Lok Sabha seat, which has become the hottest seat in the state. Two women candidates from different parties are also in the fight from here and the current BJP MP from here left the party and joined Congress. On the other hand, BJP has fielded a borrowed 79-year-old old warrior in the political battle of Hisar by going against its leaders and workers. Even though the political religious war in the Dwapar era was fought in Kurukshetra, the political religious war of the modern era will definitely take place in the political battle of Hisar.

It will be a matter of thinking on the 10th that who will win in this race, Naina, Sunaina or Ranjit Chautala or someone else. Two, three, three members of the same family have come face to face. While Naina Chautala never gets tired of praising her son former Chief Minister Dushyant Chautala in her election speeches, Sunaina Chautala praises Tau Devi Lal and INLD supremo Om Prakash Chautala.But the uncle and father-in-law of these two women candidates are also facing opposition from BJP candidate Ranjit Chautala, farmers and people of rural areas who are angry with BJP and Manohar Lal.

He said that Chandigarh is known as a beautiful city all over the world, but during the Mayor elections in the month of January, BJP wrongfully cancelled 8 votes of Mayor Kuldeep Kumar and tarnished the name of Chandigarh. The people of Chandigarh will never forgive BJP for this. This time the people of Chandigarh will wipe out the BJP and the Indian Alliance candidate will win with a huge majority.On this occasion, India Alliance candidate Manish Tiwari thanked AAP for the support given to him and said that he will be indebted to the Aam Aadmi Party throughout his life, which has given him its open support.

He said that BJP is killing democracy in the entire country, there is a lot of anger among the people of the country towards BJP. The people of Chandigarh are also eagerly waiting for June 1, when they will cast their vote and show the BJP the way out of power.On this occasion, Dr. SS Ahluwalia said that the entire team of AAP Chandigarh will work day and night to make India Alliance candidate Manish Tiwari win.

In the coming days, election campaign will be conducted in every ward under complete planning and the dark deeds of BJP will be put in front of the public. He said that BJP has created an atmosphere of fear in the entire country. Leaders of opposition parties are being implicated in false cases by BJP by misusing various government agencies. The people of the country have now come to know about these wrongdoings of BJP, hence its defeat in the Lok Sabha elections is certain.He further said that BJP has worsened the condition of Chandigarh during its tenure.

The people of Chandigarh are still yearning for basic facilities. In the last ten years, BJP leaders have only looted Chandigarh, and no attention was paid to the development of Chandigarh. The city residents were left to fend for themselves. BJP is not talking about health, education and development, it is only dividing people in the name of religion.

Conspiracy to seize property of common people in Cong alliance manifesto: Dhumal

RAJNEESH SHARMA
HAMIRPUR, APRIL 24

Congress and the India alliance are eager to seize the hard-earned money, wealth, property, and assets of the public under the guise of financial and institutional surveys, according to a press release issued by senior BJP leader and former Chief Minister Professor Prem Kumar Dhumal from Hamirpur. He said that the announcement letters of Congress and India alliance clearly indicate that the property, homes, gold, FDs, and any other assets of the common people will not be safe. This is Congress's hidden agenda. Dhumal further said that while many senior leaders of Congress and the INDIA alliance are talking about conducting financial and institutional surveys during the process of general elections in the country, a senior leader of Congress has mentioned redistribution of property by conducting such surveys across the country. This has raised a significant issue across the nation that instead of securing the ancestral property and resources accumulated through hard work for the future of their children, Congress and the INDIA alliance are eager to confiscate these resources under a pre-planned scheme. This pre-planned scheme can be inferred because whenever Congress has been in power in the past, it has not only worked to secure the votes in its vote bank but has also adopted discriminatory policies against all other citizens, rather than integrating them into the mainstream. The former Chief Minister also stated that since the advent of the Modi government, which has been advancing the country on the path of 'Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas, Sabka Vishwas', Congress has been consistently losing its political ground because its hidden agendas of breaking and looting the nation have gradually become apparent to the public. Once again, Congress and its allied parties are making efforts to deceive the public by spreading lies and misinformation in order to push Prime Minister Narendra Modi behind and move forward with their agenda of looting and breaking the nation.

Congress' dangerous intentions exposed: Bindal

DINESH AGARWAL
SHIMLA: Pradesh Congress Committee President Dr. Rajiv Bindal has stated that the dangerous intentions of the Congress party are being revealed one after another. Recently, Sam Pitroda, an advisor to the royal family and also the advisor to the prince's father, had said some time ago that the middle class of our country, who earn through hard work, should be taxed more. Now, these people have gone a step further. Now, the Congress party says that it will impose taxes even on the inheritance received from parents. He said that the wealth accumulated through your hard work will not be given to your children. They will also snatch that from you. The Congress mantra is to snatch from you, to loot you. The Congress mantra is, with you in life, even after life. As long as you are alive, the Congress will burden you with more taxes. When you are no longer alive, it will burden your heirs with inheritance tax. Those who consider the entire Congress party as their paternal property do not want to give their children to ordinary Indians.

Mental, intellectual, and physical development will only happen through moral education: Bhagwan Bhai

JOGINDRA DEV ARYA
BANGANA, APRIL 24

We are witnessing rapid physical development in society and the world today. However, it is not physical development that leads to societal progress; rather, it is moral education that fosters mental, intellectual, and physical development. Education is a seed, and life is a tree. Until our life-like tree bears the fruits of humility, patience, brotherhood, mutual affection, truthfulness, and honesty, our education remains incomplete. Moral education refines our behavior and character. The increasing violence and crimes in society are a worrying concern, but through moral education, a crime-free society can be built. Moral education is essential for a crime-free society. This statement was made by BK Bhagwan Bhai during a program on the importance of moral education at Rajkiya Model Senior Secondary School, Dhundhla. Today's youth are wandering due to bad company, addiction, cinema, and fashion, which is leading to an increase in crimes in the present time. It was explained that only through moral education and spirituality can the youth be directed towards the right path. Moral education fosters creative and positive consciousness in the human mind. BK Bhagwan Bhai stated that through moral education, jealousy, hatred, animosity, opposition, and arrogance spread in society can be eliminated. The lack of cultured education is the root cause of crimes in the present time. He emphasized that while we are striving to be included in the category of developed countries, concerns about spreading negativity and violence in society persist.

Who will prevail in battle of existence in Sujanpur, Rajendra Rana or Congress?

RAJNEESH SHARMA
HAMIRPUR, APRIL 24

Rajendra Rana, after losing the election along with his wife in 2014, finds himself entangled in the cobwebs of Congress and BJP. Will he face defeat for the fourth time or will Congress, after winning a seat in the 2022 general elections, continue its winning streak in the by-elections? The Sujanpur by-election, with Rajendra Rana from BJP, is challenging his existence, while on the other hand, questions are raised about the survival of CM Sukhdev. Rajendra Rana and his family have contested against BJP five times, winning thrice and losing twice. In 2012, Rajendra Rana won the Vidhan Sabha election from Sujanpur as an independent candidate, securing 24,674 votes while BJP's Urmil Thakur received only 8,853 votes. Rana defeated Congress's Anita Verma by a margin of 14,166 votes, after which Urmil and Anita Verma never entered the election arena. In the 2017 general assembly elections, Rajendra Rana, as a Congress candidate, received 25,288 votes, while BJP's Prem Kumar Dhumal got 23,369 votes. In this way, Rajendra Rana won the election with a margin of 1,919 votes for the second time, becoming an MLA. After Dhumal's defeat, he did not contest the elections again. In 2022, Rajendra Rana entered the electoral fray as a Congress candidate again, while Captain Ranjeet Singh from BJP stood against him. This time, Rajendra Rana received 27,679 votes while Captain Ranjeet Singh received 27,280 votes. Rajendra Rana won the election for the third time, defeating the BJP candidate by 399 votes, becoming a legislator.

In 2014, Rajendra Rana faced defeat, including his wife, in the Sujanpur Vidhan Sabha by-elections and Lok Sabha elections. Rajendra Rana, an independent MLA, joined Congress after resigning and contested against BJP's Anurag Thakur. In this election, Rajendra Rana lost the Lok Sabha election against BJP's Anurag Thakur. On the other hand, in the Sujanpur by-election, Congress candidate Rajendra Rana's wife, Anita Rana, was defeated by BJP candidate Narendra Thakur by 538 votes. The Rana family lost in two elections together. Now, in the 2024 Sujanpur by-election, Rajendra Rana is the BJP candidate. Congress has not yet announced its ticket. Rajendra Rana is the target of Congress, but with his entry into BJP, there is also unrest within the BJP. It seems that in the cobwebs of Congress and BJP, Rajendra Rana will either surpass with his political skills or be forced to fight the battle of existence.

Caste census is my life's mission: Rahul dares PM Modi

AGENCY

NEW DELHI, APRIL 24

Former Congress President Rahul Gandhi on Wednesday said that caste census was no politics for him but his life's mission and his party will conduct it without fail once it forms a government at the Centre.

Addressing the Samajik Nyay Sammelan at Jawahar Bhawan here, the Congress leader mounted a scathing attack on Prime Minister Narendra Modi and his Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP), declaring that all "so-called deshbhakts" were running scared from the moment he floated the idea of an 'X-ray' of the caste system.

Asserting that no force will be able to stop the census, the Wayanad MP said, "Caste census is not politics for me but it is the mission of my life. As soon as the Congress Government comes to power at the Centre, we will immediately conduct caste census and it is my guarantee." Stating that all sections of the society were not getting their dues, Gandhi said that there was hardly any presence of Dalits, Adivasis or OBCs in the management strata of the media or at private hospitals and big companies and for that even in the judiciary, especially if one considers the apex level.

"I am not interested in caste but in 'Nyay'. In India injustice is being done to 90 per cent of the people. We said that we need to find out how much injustice is happening and this is possible only through a caste census. "On hearing this, both PM Narendra Modi and his handpicked media panicked. Don't you need an X-ray when injured?" he asked, adding that the census will be that very X-ray.

"As soon as I used the word X-ray, the Prime Minister and a particular section of the media started accusing me of trying to divide the country," he said.

Gandhi also slammed the BJP for telling the media that he was "non-serious and not interested in politics".

He questioned, "Was raising the issue of MNREGA non-serious? Or the land acquisition bill, or Bhatta Parsaul was non-serious and Samajik Nyay was non-serious?"

He also accused the Prime Minister of waiving Rs 16 lakh crore debt of 25 of his 'billionaire friends' comparing that the same amount could have been used to waive off the loans of poor farmers of the country and save them from ending their lives.

Grey truth

That disinformation has slipped deep into the bloodstream of Indian democracy is not a secret. During the electoral season, that challenge has been compounded by the widespread use of Artificial Intelligence to deliver manipulated and misleading memes, videos and photographs to voters. AI-generated, deep fake videos in which two popular Hindi film actors are seen criticising the prime minister have come to light. In Tamil Nadu, the ruling Dravida Munnetra Kazhagam used an AI-generated speech by the late leader, M. Karunanidhi, to address voters. Reports suggest that on Instagram, accounts affiliated to the Bharatiya Janata Party that rules nationally have been violating the platform's regulations for political propaganda using AI by not formally declaring the use of the technology to manipulate content. It is not as if technology platforms or the government are unaware of the threat posed by the use of AI in political messaging. What is worrying is their unwillingness or inability to do more to tackle this problem.

Meta, the company that owns popular social media platforms like Facebook and Instagram, has introduced rules requiring accounts to clearly disclose the use of AI in political content or risk a ban. Yet, as the case with the pro-BJP messaging on Instagram shows, those norms are not being enforced effectively. Meanwhile, other platforms appear to be following different standards in different geographies. In March, for instance, the popular AI-generation tool, Midjourney, banned the creation of images of Joe Biden and Donald Trump, the current and former presidents of the United States of America. The idea was to prevent any misuse of the platform ahead of the November election in the US. Yet, no such restriction appears to exist on the creation of AI-generated images of Indian politicians. In effect, this has turned India's election into what some analysts have described as the 'Wild West' — the chaotic, unregulated frontier of AI in politics. To be sure, any rule must neither be heavy-handed nor give the government discretionary powers over AI content generation. An independent regulator in charge of rules crafted by experts could give India a chance to curb AI-driven electoral manipulation. Indian democracy owes that to its voters. This is especially urgent given that surveys have found India to be leading the world in the generation of false information. The truth, not manipulated images and videos, must win.

Pro-Palestinian protests rock American universities

Colleges across the United States are grappling with escalating unrest as pro-Palestinian protests sweep through their campuses, prompting administrators to implement unprecedented measures to address the intensifying situation, CNN reported.

Amid a seventh consecutive day of tense demonstrations, Columbia University has opted to transition most of its classes to a hybrid format on its main campus for the remainder of the semester.

President Minouche Shafik of Columbia University has come under scrutiny from both faculty and students for summoning the New York Police Department last week to disband a pro-Palestinian encampment. However, she now faces mounting pressure from legislators and donors to repeat the action in the face of ongoing protests this week, as reported by CNN.

The unfolding protests, counter-protests, administrative interventions, and calls from lawmakers underline the turmoil engulfing American universities. This unrest has left some students, particularly those of Jewish descent, apprehensive for their safety, particularly as the Passover holiday unfolds.

As demonstrations continue to ripple through campuses nationwide, US House Speaker Mike Johnson is scheduled to visit Columbia University on Wednesday to meet with Jewish students and address the concerning surge of virulent antisemitism on college campuses, according to his office.

At New York University, more than 130 individuals were arrested during a pro-Palestinian demonstration on Monday night, as reported by an NYPD official to CNN. The university requested assistance from the NYPD due to "intimidating chants and several antisemitic incidents" during the protest. This resulted in a chaotic clash between protesters and police officers donning full riot gear. While the overall demonstrations remained non-violent, there were isolated incidents of bottles being hurled at law enforcement.

Yale University witnessed the arrest of at least 45 individuals on Monday for trespassing after they refused to disperse from an on-campus protest, according to police reports. Amid concerns of a "dangerous and volatile" environment, officials at California State Polytechnic University, Humboldt made the decision to close the campus through Wednesday and transition to remote classes for the safety of the campus community. Protesters had barricaded themselves inside a campus building.

Pro-Palestinian encampments have sprouted up at various other institutions, including the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Emerson College, the University of California, Berkeley, and the University of Michigan. Nine individuals were arrested at the University of Minnesota's Twin Cities campus on Tuesday morning for establishing an encampment that violated school policies, as confirmed by the university to CNN.

Harvard University took measures to close Harvard Yard, and university officials suspended a pro-Palestine student organisation for allegedly breaching school policies, according to the student group and a knowledgeable source.

Administrators at Columbia and other universities find themselves under intense pressure from multiple fronts. Pro-Palestinian protesters and their allies, sometimes including faculty members, condemn crackdowns on protests and free speech. Conversely, students, parents, donors, and lawmakers implore administrators to take decisive action to restore order.

The Columbia chapter of the American Association of University Professors is expected to propose a censure of President Shafik and other university officials for their decision last week to involve the NYPD in arresting protesters on campus, as reported by student-run news outlets Columbia Daily Spectator and Bwog.

Simultaneously, ten Republican US House representatives from New York have demanded Shafik's resignation, expressing a lack of confidence in her leadership amidst the ongoing crisis.

Several lawmakers, including a contingent of Jewish representatives, visited the campus on Monday and argued that the university's inaction against the protesters may constitute a violation of Title IX, a law protecting students from discrimination and harassment based on race or nationality. Republican Representative Virginia Foxx, chairwoman of the House Education and Workforce Committee, cautioned university leaders of potential consequences if they fail to quell the protests.

Organisers have announced plans for pro-Palestinian protesters to gather at the gates of Columbia University on Tuesday afternoon.

Taking to X, formerly known as Twitter, US Education Secretary Miguel Cardona expressed deep concern about incidents of antisemitism at Columbia University and referenced the department's ongoing civil rights investigation.

"Antisemitic hate on college campuses is unacceptable," Cardona affirmed. "While we can't comment on pending investigations, every student deserves to feel a sense of safety and belonging at school. Hate has no place at our schools," CNN reported.

Study gives more insight into how obesity affects fecal incontinence

For millions of adults in the United States, involuntary loss of bowel control, or fecal incontinence (FI), has a major negative influence on their quality of life and mental health. Although it is believed that obesity has an impact on bowel function, it is still unknown how body mass index (BMI), the usual measure of obesity, and FI are related.

Investigating more accurate indicators of obesity, like as body composition and fat distribution, as opposed to BMI alone, may provide more insight into how obesity affects FI.

In a cross-sectional examination of the U.S. population, researchers from Brigham and Women's Hospital, a founding member of the Mass General Brigham healthcare system, showed that waist circumference-to-height ratio (WHtR), a marker of central obesity, was a greater predictor of FI than BMI. Using data collected between 2005-2010 by the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey, the researchers calculated WHtR and BMI for more than 7500 participants and assessed them for prevalence and risk of FI. They found that FI occurred in just over 9% of the study cohort and that higher prevalence was linked to higher WHtR, but only weakly associated with higher BMI. After adjusting for potentially confounding factors like sociodemographics, metabolic comorbidities, diet and physical activity, the research team observed that higher WHtR, but not BMI, remained consistently correlated with FI. Sex-specific analyses also revealed more significant associations between WHtR and FI in men. "We know that central adipose tissue distribution tends to be more prevalent in men than women," said first author Brent Hiramoto, MD, a senior fellow in the Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Endoscopy. "These sex-based differences could indicate the importance of central obesity in the pathogenesis of FI.""Our findings suggest that risk of bowel continence may depend on how body mass is distributed," said senior author Walter Chan, MD, MPH, of the Division of Gastroenterology, Hepatology and Endoscopy. "BMI is a pragmatic measure for obesity but does not distinguish between fat and muscle mass or assess distribution of adiposity. WHtR may contribute to FI through increased intra-abdominal pressure affecting the pelvic floor or anal sphincter, or through higher visceral fat with the associated inflammatory and oxidative stress.

5 asylum seekers die while crossing English Channel to UK

Five asylum seekers died while crossing the English Channel from France to Britain in an overcrowded small boat on Tuesday, reported Al Jazeera.

This come just hours after the UK government approved a bill to deport some asylum seekers to Rwanda.

The boat carrying 112 people set out from Wimereux, about 32km (20 miles) southwest of the French port of Calais, to cross one of the busiest shipping lanes in the world. However, rescuers picked up 49 people, and four were taken to hospital, but others stayed on the boat and continued their journey to Britain. Local prefect Jacques Billant said, "A tragedy occurred on a boat overloaded with migrants early this morning. We deplore the deaths of five people, a seven-year-old girl, a woman and three men." "The engine stopped a few hundred metres away from the shore, and several people fell into the water," Billant added. The French coastguard said that 58 people stayed on board and it was still searching for any other survivors, Al Jazeera reported.

"They did not want to be rescued. They managed to restart the engine and headed towards Britain," Billant said.

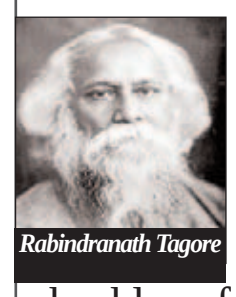

Reportedly, over 6,000 people have arrived in Britain this year on small, overloaded boats that risk being lashed by waves as they try to reach British shores.

The UK government has been trying for two years to get approval for a divisive policy to send asylum seekers to Rwanda, and finally, on Tuesday, the UK parliament passed legislation overnight to allow the deportations, according to Al Jazeera.

UK Prime Minister Rishi Sunak said that he expected the first flights to take off in 10 to 12 weeks, giving time for further legal challenges from charities, campaigners and unions.

Freedom

Rabindranath Tagore

Freedom from fear is the freedom I claim for you my motherland! Freedom from the burden of the ages, bending your head, breaking your back, blinding your eyes to the beckoning call of the future; Freedom from the shackles of slumber wherewith you fasten yourself in night's stillness, mistrusting the star that speaks of truth's adventurous paths; freedom from the anarchy of destiny whole sails are weakly yielded to the blind uncertain winds, and the helm to a hand ever rigid. and cold as death.

World Sindhi Congress highlights unlawful land accusation in Pakistan

A group of delegates from the World Sindhi Congress (WSC), an organisation involved in Sindh rights advocacy, participated on Tuesday in the 23rd session of the ongoing UN Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues (UNIPFII), raising concerns about the occupation of agricultural and residential lands belonging to the Sindhi people by the military and their proxies, the World Sindhi Congress said in a press statement. During his intervention, the representative of the World Sindhi Congress, Farhan Soomro, made a statement on the grave situation of the occupation of the lands of the Sindhi people by the Pakistani army and its proxies.

He said that the process started at the inception of Pakistan when Sindhi Hindus were coerced to leave and their lands seized. "We need our rights to life, food, and economic security. This issue traces back to the displacement of Sindhi Hindus at the time of Pakistan's inception and further intensified Ghulam Muhammad Barrage in 1955. This resulted in the allocation of vast tracts of land to military affiliates through opeques processes by an unelected interim government," he said.

"These allocations are often void of transparency and legal rectitude and do not represent the local communities. This a stark representation in the Dhabeji area, where 50 thousand acres of land are under threat of military occupation, manoeuvres, and military firing jeopardising centuries-old villages. Moreover, Bahria Town's occupation of 46 thousand acres of land in Karachi despite being ruled illegal by the Supreme Court of Pakistan, underscored the persistent disregard for the law and rights of indigenous people," Soomro added while highlighting the sheer lawlessness in Sindh.

Putting forward the demands of the local people of Sindh, the WSC leaders stated, "In light of these circumstances, the World Sindi Congress urgently requests the United Nations to press the Pakistan government to immediately seize the land exploitation in Sindh and facilitate the restoration of land wrongfully snatched back to their rightful Sindhi owners.

Best exercises for weight loss according to science

Embarking on a journey to lose weight often involves a combination of regular physical activity, a balanced diet, and overall lifestyle adjustments. Exercise is a key component of this process, helping to burn calories, build muscle, and improve overall health. Let's look at some exercises for weight loss that provide a well-rounded approach to achieving your fitness goals.

1. Walking

Walking burns calories, and weight loss is essentially a result of burning more calories than you consume. The number of calories burned depends on factors such as your weight, speed, and duration of walking. Consistency is crucial for weight loss, and walking can be done regularly without requiring special equipment or a gym membership.

2. Jumping Rope

Jumping rope is an excellent and efficient exercise for weight loss. It offers a full-body workout and can be a fun way to burn calories. Jumping rope engages multiple muscle groups, including the legs, core, arms, and shoulders. This means you're working various parts of your body simultaneously, helping to improve overall fitness and burn more calories.3. Jogging Or Running

Running is a higher-intensity activity than jogging. It typically involves a faster pace and greater impact on the joints. If you're new to exercise or have joint concerns, starting with jogging and gradually progressing to running may be a good approach. Researchers have found that jogging and running can help burn visceral fat, commonly known as belly fat.[2]

4. Cycling

Cycling engages various muscle groups, including the legs, glutes, and core. Building and maintaining muscle mass can contribute to an increase in metabolism, which makes it an effective exercise for weight loss.

5. High-Intensity Interval Training(HIIT)

HIIT workouts are typically shorter than traditional steady-state cardio sessions. This makes it easier for people with busy schedules to incorporate effective workouts into their routines, increasing the likelihood of consistency.

6. Hiking

Hiking provides an opportunity to enjoy the outdoors, which can positively impact mental well-being. Being in nature can reduce stress and improve mood, potentially reducing emotional eating or stress-related weight gain.

7. Swimming

8. Strength Training

One 6-month study showed that doing 11 minutes of strength-based exercises three times per week resulted in an average 7.4% increase in metabolic rate.[4] Strength training improves overall functional fitness, making daily activities easier to perform. This increased physical capacity can encourage a more active lifestyle, contributing to weight loss. In addition, studies have shown that your body continues to burn calories many hours after a weight-training workout, compared with aerobic exercise.

9. Yoga

Exercise for weight loss at home for females includes Yoga which encourages awareness of your body and its sensations. This heightened awareness can lead to better self-care, including making healthier food choices and being more attuned to your body's hunger and fullness cues helping with weight loss. Xiaomi Tipped to Launch First Snapdragon 8 Gen 4-Powered Smartphone Ahead of OnePlus, iQoo

Qualcomm's Snapdragon 8 Gen 3 SoC was unveiled in October 2023 and the Xiaomi 14 series was the first handset to feature this flagship chipset with a peak clock speed of 3.3GHz. The company's next generation chipset — the Snapdragon 8 Gen 4 — is expected to be released in the last quarter of 2024. According to a new leak, Xiaomi will once again be the first smartphone manufacturer to release a Snapdragon 8 Gen 4 SoC-powered handset. The Xiaomi 15 and Xiaomi 15 Pro could be the first devices to use the new chipset.

Tipster Yogesh Brar (@heyitsyogesh) on X (formerly Twitter) claims that Xiaomi will be the first brand to unveil phones powered by the Snapdragon 8 Gen 4 processor. The Chinese smartphone brand has "exclusive first launch rights" for the new chipset and the Xiaomi 15 and Xiaomi 15 Pro will be the first smartphone to arrive with the next generation mobile platform, Brar says. The OnePlus 13 and iQoo 13 could be the next two phones to launch with the Snapdragon 8 Gen 4.

The Xiaomi 14 lineup was the first to get the Snapdragon 8 Gen 3 chip after it was unveiled by Qualcomm last year. The Xiaomi 15 flagships are also expected to be introduced in China before they are launched in global markets. Based on the Xiaomi 14 series, we can speculate that these phones could be released soon after this year's flagship processor is launched. The Snapdragon 8 Gen 4 SoC is expected to be designed using TSMC's 3nm fabrication process. It could feature a custom Oryon CPU and Qualcomm's FastConnect 7900 connectivity system. It is also expected to arrive on other flagship handsets like the Samsung Galaxy S25 series and the Asus Zenfone 11.

WhatsApp Working on In-App Dialler Feature to Call Unsaved Contacts: Report

WhatsApp is reportedly working on a new feature that will allow users to access an in-app dialler to make voice calls. The feature is still under development, and the instant messaging platform has not made it available to those who have signed up for the Google Play beta programme. While the functionality of the dialler is unclear, it is believed that the feature could allow users to call numbers that are not saved in their contact list. A recent report claimed that the company is also working on a nearby file-sharing feature.

Spotted by feature tracker WABetaInfo on WhatsApp beta for Android version 2.24.9.28, the feature is currently not available for beta testers, but the tracker suggests that it might appear in one of the next updates. The in-app dialler could expand the functionality of the app from a standard voice and video calling platform to one that even allows calling contacts not saved on and could mimic an actual calling service.

The report also shared a screenshot of the feature, which is yet to be enabled on the latest beta version. It appears like a generic dialler with a green calling icon and numbers and alphabets located as they usually do.

World Malaria Day: Prevention is the key to safeguard against malaria

Patiala: Malaria is a life-threatening disease caused by the plasmodium parasite, which is transmitted to humans through the bites of infected mosquitoes. India is one of the countries with a high burden of malaria, with over 60% of the global malaria cases reported in the country. The disease is more prevalent in rural areas, where access to healthcare and preventive measures is limited. Dr. Prashant Bhatt, Senior Consultant - Internal Medicine, Manipal Hospital, Patiala highlights 7 tips to prevent malaria:

1. Use mosquito nets: Mosquito nets are a simple and effective way to prevent mosquito bites. They should be used by all individuals, especially children and pregnant women, who are at a higher risk of developing severe malaria.

2. Wear protective clothing: Mosquitoes are most active during the evening and night, so it is advisable to wear long-sleeved shirts, long pants, and socks to cover as much skin as possible. Light-colored clothing should be preferred as it makes it easier to spot mosquitoes.

3. Use insect repellents: Insect repellents are effective in repelling mosquitoes. They should be applied to exposed skin, especially during peak mosquito activity hours.

4. Eliminate mosquito breeding sites: Mosquitoes breed in stagnant water, so it is essential to eliminate all sources of stagnant water in and around the house. This includes emptying and cleaning all containers that hold water, such as buckets, flowerpots, and tires.

5. Take antimalarial medication: In areas with a high risk of malaria, it is recommended to take antimalarial medication before, during, and after travel. Antimalarial medications should be prescribed by a doctor, as the type and dosage of medication may vary based on the region and the type of malaria.

Sunrisers eye another run-fest against bottom-placed RCB

HYDERABAD: Sunrisers Hyderabad will look to unleash their brute batting power on struggling Royal Challengers Bengaluru when the two teams face off in their return-leg fixture of the IPL here on Thursday.

Having breached the 250-run mark thrice in this IPL edition itself, Sunrisers Hyderabad are pushing the boundaries of T20 batting with their no holds barred approach.

While Mumbai Indians were the first victim of SRH's new-found batting strength this season, RCB bore the maximum brunt when the Travis Head-led batting line-up powered the 2016 winners to IPL's highest-ever total of 287/3 in Bengaluru.

If this was not enough, SRH's carnage against Delhi Capitals — which included a record 125/0 being scored in the powerplay — brought forth the possibility of the 300-run mark being breached for the first time ever in the IPL.

And it won't be surprising if SRH manage to do the unthinkable and that too against a bowling attack as frail as RCB's, whose struggles with in the bowling department could be gauged with the fact that their best bowler, Yash Dayal, is at 24th spot in the overall list with seven wickets.

Placed at the bottom of the pool, RCB have conceded at least 180 in their last five matches. In the last two games, the opponents have raked up totals in excess of 200.

RCB batters have worked hard to make up for their severe shortcomings in bowling, but for such a lopsided squad in terms of balance, the task to produce an all-round performance looks nearly impossible.

To their credit, RCB fought incredibly hard with the bat but were unfortunate to have lost to Kolkata Knight Riders by a mere one run after conceding 222/6. Moreover, a collective batting effort must have pleased the RCB management to a large extent.

He was a victim of a contentious call but Virat Kohli remains RCB's best batter in the tournament so far, having scored 379 runs to keep the Orange Cap in possession.

But hot on his heels are a few others including SRH's Head, who is making most of his purple patch.

Head's game is designed not only on aggressiveness and ability to cash in on every opportunity, his ability to find gaps at will makes him a compulsory watch.

Abhishek Sharma has flourished in Head's company and Heinrich Klaasen too has made merry with the bat this season. Overall, SRH's compelling shows with the bat have made the job of their bowlers and skipper Pat Cummins easier.

SRH are placed comfortably at the third position in the table with 10 points from seven matches. While the journey so far has been fuelled by the batters' fire, SRH would know their bowling would be tested along the way and Cummins' men could do well to watch out against a hurting RCB side.

Superstar Aamir Khan, known for his selective public appearances, finally made his debut on 'The Great Indian Kapil' show.

The much-awaited teaser of this upcoming episode, featuring Khan, has been circulating on social media platforms, generating significant buzz among fans.

In the teaser, Kapil Sharma, the charismatic host, engages in his trademark banter with Khan, drawing out candid responses from the actor.

The 'Dangal' actor has shed light on his choice to skip film award ceremonies, emphasizing the value of time.

When questioned by Archana Puran Singh about his absence from award shows, Khan replied with characteristic wit, stating, "Time is precious, use it wisely."

The episode promises more laughter-inducing moments as Khan reveals amusing anecdotes about his family life, including his children's not greenlighting his choices. He humorously recounts how his attire for the show had been chosen by his children the night before, showcasing a glimpse into his off-screen persona.

One particularly memorable moment sees Kapil Sharma teasing Khan about his iconic scene in the film 'PK,' where he appears naked with only a radio. Sharma quips, "PK mein Radio ki frequency zara si idhar udhar ho jaati toh saara broadcast wahin ho jaata," eliciting hearty laughter from Khan and the audience.

On the work front, as a producer, Aamir is coming up with 'Lahore 1947', which stars Sunny Deol in the lead role. It is directed by Rajkumar Santoshi. Preity Zinta, Shabana Azmi, Karan Deol and Ali Fazal are also part of the film.

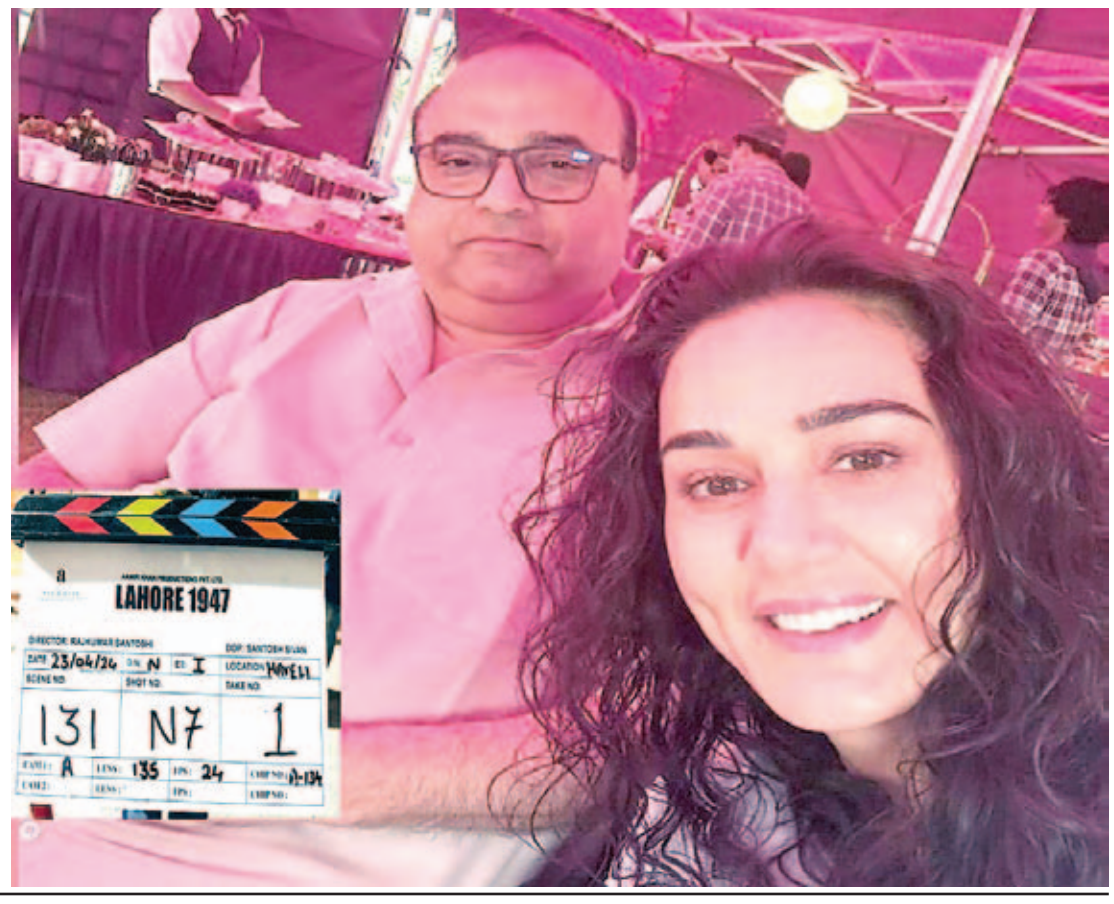

Sunny and Aamir have never worked together before. But the duo have had very iconic box-office clashes as competitors in the past, where both have eventually emerged victorious.

The first iconic clash at the ticket window was witnessed in 1990 when Aamir Khan's Dil and Sunny Deol's Ghayal were released on the same day. Then, in 1996, it was 'Raja Hindustani' vs 'Ghatak' followed by the most epic Box Office clash of Indian cinema in 2001 when 'Lagaan' was released on the same day as 'Gadar'.

Now, for the very first time, the duo has come together and joined hands on a project. 'Lahore, 1947' also marks the reunion of Aamir Khan and Santoshi after their iconic cult classic, 'Andaz Apna Apna'.

Ulka Gupta explores method acting for Main Hoon Saath Tere

CHANDIGARH: Zee TV's upcoming show – Main Hoon Saath Tere is set to take its viewers through the journey of a single mother, Janvi (Ulka Gupta), underlining the numerous challenges a mother has to take on, while doubling up as a parent. Based in Gwalior, Janvi lives with her son, Kian (Nihan Jain), who is the nucleus of her world. Despite their strong bond, Kian feels the void of a man in the house, but more from his mother's point of view as he sees her managing everything alone. The plot thickens when Janvi crosses paths with an affluent businessman Aryaman and the two end up working under the same roof. As Aryaman expresses interest in Janvi, will Kian approve of the match and play a role in bringing his single mother closer to the man who loves her …?

Popular actress Ulka Gupta has decided to go out of her way and do something unique to play Janvi authentically. To get into the skin of her character of a single mother living and managing everything independently, Ulka has taken it upon herself to do all her household chores without any assistance by her household help. She believes this will make her body language more believable and natural as she is seen doing the same activities on screen.

Ulka Gupta said, "Given that I am quite young and not a mother yet, I haven't had to do all the typical things a mom does around the house. With a view to imbibing the typical body language of an independent mother who does everything around the house herself, I felt I should do my household tasks myself for at least a month. There's a certain nonchalance in the way a woman tucks her dupatta or ties her bun when she sweeps the floor or is cooking – these things cannot be taught, they come instinctively out of habit or experience. I hence felt the need to adopt these habits to bring them alive on screen naturally."

While Ulka is very excited about learning new things for her character, it will be interesting for the viewers to watch an innocent take on love, life, and relationships, which is all set to unfold.

While Janvi and Kian will be played by the talented Ulka Gupta and the adorable Nihan Jain respectively, Aryaman will be played by none other than the television heartthrob- Karan Vohra. The show's promo got massive traction on social media, and after managing to generate a lot of intrigue, Main Hoon Saath Tere was unveiled in front of the media at a mega launch event in Mumbai where Kian threw challenges at Aryaman to test whether he's the right partner for his mother.

Producer Sonali Jaffar, Full House Media Pvt Ltd said, "It is not everyday that you see a child in search of a companion for his mother, so in that sense, our concept is truly differentiated. Main Hoon Saath Tere is not only a family drama, but also an innocent take on love, life and relationships from the lens of a single mother Janvi and her child, Kian who truly cares about his mother and her happiness. It's the child that will decide the fate of this love story.
