SC denies urgent hearing of Kejriwal’s bail extension on medical grounds

Says CJI will take ‘appropriate decision

AGENCY NEW DELHI, MAY 28

The Supreme Court Tuesday declined to pass any directions on Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal’s plea for urgent listing of matter seeking an extension of his interim bail by one week in the Delhi Excise Policy case.

A Vacation Bench of Justice JK Maheshwari and Justice KV Viswanathan said: “This is a heard and reserved matter. We cannot do anything. This matter was heard and reserved on May 17. Place before CJI for appropriate orders.”

The Supreme Court on May 17 had reserved its judgment on Kejriwal’s plea challenging his arrest by the Enforcement Directorate (ED).

Senior Advocate Abhishek Manu Singhvi, representing Kejriwal, pleaded before the court to grant only a seven-day extension of interim Bail. “This is just a medical extension and not an abuse of liberty,” Singhvi said Tuesday.

Earlier in the day Singhvi had mentioned the application for urgent listing before the Vacation Bench saying that the Chief Minister is required to surrender on June 1 in the money laundering case registered against him by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) and he be allowed seven days extension on medical grounds.

However, the Court said only the Chief Justice of India can take a call on the listing.

The Bench asked Singhvi why Kejriwal’s application was not mentioned before Justice Dipankar Datta who was heading the Vacation Bench last week.

It was a bench of Justice Sanjiv Khanna and Justice Dipankar Datta which had on May 10 granted interim bail to Kejriwal till June 1 so he could campaign in the ongoing Lok Sabha elections.

To this, Singhvi replied that the prescription was given only the day before yesterday and that is why the application could not be moved last week. The Court reiterated that it can’t take a decision about the listing and referred the matter to the CJI for an appropriate order. Kejriwal was arrested by the ED on March 21, soon after the Delhi High Court had refused to grant any relief against any coercive action against the CM in the money laundering case. Charges against Kejriwal are that he in collusion with his party members siphoned off huge amounts of money in Delhi’s New Excise Policy Scam which was later withdrawn.

Kejriwal urges Punjabis to give all 13 LS seats to AAP

BUREAU LUDHIANA / CHD, MAY 28

National Convener of Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) and Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal addressed the Vyapari Milani program in Ludhiana on Tuesday. He appealed to the people of Ludhiana to make AAP candidate Ashok Parashar Pappi win and said that the AAP candidate will raise all your issues in Parliament and will fight at the central level for your rights.

Addressing the traders in the town hall meeting, Kejriwal said that a year ago, I and CM Bhagwant Mann had held several meetings with traders in Amritsar, Jalandhar, Ludhiana and Mohali. We had meetings with traders and industrialists of every city for 3-3 hours and listened to their problems. After this, Bhagwant Mann went to Hoshiarpur, Dasuya, Dinanagar, Patiala, Moga and Pathankot and met with the traders.

Kejriwal said that before our government was formed, the condition of business and industry in Punjab was so bad that the industries here were leaving Punjab and going to Madhya Pradesh, Uttar Pradesh, Himachal Pradesh, Rajasthan and the surrounding states. Within the last 2 years, the trend of industries leaving Punjab has stopped and new industries are coming to Punjab. Punjab, under the Mann government, got investments worth 56 thousand crores.

tries are coming to Punjab. Punjab, under the Mann government, got investments worth 56 thousand crores.

Foreign companies are also now buying land for industries here. After Jamshedpur, Tata Steel’s biggest plant is now being set up in Punjab.

Kejriwal said that last time I came to listen to your problems but this time I have come to ask for your support. You people gave us a huge majority in the assembly two years ago. These are the Lok Sabha elections. This time make us strong at the center. Make the Aam Aadmi Party win all 13 seats, then only Punjab will reverberate inside the Lok Sabha.

Protect elderly, children, and pets from heat wave

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA
KARNAL, MAY 28

The Meteorological Department has predicted extreme heat and heat waves in the coming days. In response, the Haryana government has advised citizens to take special precautions and ensure their safety.

According to the advisory issued by the Health Department, avoid strenuous activities when temperatures are high. Refrain from consuming substances like tea, coffee, and carbonated soft drinks that deplete the body's water levels. Avoid high-protein and stale foods. Be aware of the signs of heat-related illnesses, such as heat stroke and heat rash, which can include symptoms like weakness, dizziness, headache, and seizures. If you feel faint or unwell, seek medical attention immediately.

The advisory emphasizes the importance of taking special precautions due to the sudden temperature rise. Citizens are urged to make necessary arrangements to protect themselves from the heat. Special care should be taken of young children and the elderly. It is crucial to drink enough water to prevent heatstroke, even if you do not feel thirsty. Wear light-colored, loose, and porous cotton clothing. When going out in the sun, use protective gear such as sunglasses, an umbrella or hat, and appropriate footwear. Avoid strenuous activities when the temperature is high, and do not leave the house during the hot afternoon unless necessary. Keep water with you while traveling and avoid alcohol, tea, coffee, and carbonated soft drinks. If you work outdoors, use a hat or umbrella and keep a damp cloth on your head, neck, face, and limbs. Additionally, do not leave children or pets in parked vehicles. If you feel faint or sick, consult a doctor immediately. Use ORS and homemade drinks like lassi, torani (rice water), lemon water, and chaacha to rehydrate. Ensure animals are kept in the shade and have plenty of water. Keep your home cool by using curtains, shutters, or sunshades, and open windows at night. Use fans, wear wet clothes, and take frequent baths with cold water.

Priyanka emphasized that inflation and unemployment have risen due to the central government's policies, including the Agniveer scheme, which leaves young people without pensions or sufficient support after four years. Priyanka promised that a Congress government would scrap the Agniveer scheme, provide Rs 8500 per month to women, fill 30 lakh vacant government posts with 50% reserved for women, double the pay for Anganwadi and ASHA workers and legally

Past life

The celebration of 250 years of the General Post Office in Calcutta is likely to generate curiosity among people in the cities that developed during the colonial period. Three metropolitan cities in three corners of India — Bombay, Calcutta and Madras — were developed by the Bri-tish East India Company and, subsequently, by the raj. Although the pattern of develop-ment was similar in these three cities, Calcutta benefited marginally more because being the capital of British India till 1911.

After the decisive victory of the East India Compa-ny in the Battle of Buxar, defeated Indian rulers were forced to sign the Treaty of Allahabad giving the Com-pany the right to administer and collect land revenue from Bengal, Bihar and Odisha on behalf of the Mughal emperor. Eventually, the Company obtained the right to exercise criminal jurisdiction in the area and thus possessed full sovereignty of the Bengal Pre-sidency. Warren Hastings was appointed governor of the Bengal Presidency and the Company brought the three Presi-dencies, Bengal, Madras and Bombay, under a unified rule with the governor of Bengal serving as the de facto governor-general of the Company raj headquartered at Calcutta. The General Post Office in Calcutta was set up on March 31, 1774. People under the jurisdiction of the Company were allowed to use the postal services on payment, a service which was hitherto used only by the Company employees. The present building of the Cal-cutta GPO was opened to the public on October 2, 1868.

Although the postal system in India for the com-moners was initiated by the Company, the system was manned by Indians (except high-ranking officers) and the expenses to develop and maintain the system was borne by Indian taxpayers. When Warren Has-tings opened the GPO in Calcutta for use by commoners, the idea was to recover the expenses so as to make the new venture financially viable. In 1815, for a letter posted in England, the postage was 3 shillings and 6 pence payable on delivery in India. But the employees of the East India Company and those of Royal Crown were privileged to receive them at 1 penny.

The original Fort William stood where the GPO is located now. Disturbed by the audacity of the British company in misusing trading favours, Siraj-Ud-Daulah, the nawab of Bengal, attacked the fort in June 1756 and captured the area. About 146 soldiers of the Company and Indian sepoys working on its behalf were impris-oned and some died. It is believed that the prisoners died out of suffocation and shock while in confinement overnight in a guardroom located in an alleyway beside the present post office building; the incident is referred to as the Black Hole Tragedy of Calcutta. How many soldiers and sepoys had actually died while in confine-ment in a 14X18 feet dungeon remains a matter of de-bate among historians.

India-Singapore relations on newer heights

India and Singapore's efforts and strategic planning have brought the bilateral link-ages between them to a new juncture, fur-ther opening up with upswing in the trade and investment ties between the resource-rich and resource-dependent countries re-spectively.

With the recent change of guard in Singa-pore, the relationship between India and Singapore remains old and vibrant. It has a history of bilateral relationships rooted in shared values, economic opportunities and convergence of interests on key issues.

From economic and technological ties, cultural, people-to-people ties to skills devel-opment and digitalisation, the relationship at large has been very vibrant and extensive.

The India - Singapore relations will see a new trajectory in upscaling the bilateral relationship, with the year 2025 marking 60 years of diplomatic relationship between the two countries. Several MOUs or Memoran-dum of Understanding between India and Singapore are likely to see a forward move-ment soon.

After two decades at the helm, Lee Hsien Loong stepped down as Singapore's prime minister and his deputy Lawrence Wong took the hold.

After taking office, Lawrence Wong be-came Singapore's fourth prime minister since the country's independence and its first premier in 20 years. Notably, Prime Minister Narendra Modi congratulat-ed Lawrence Wong on assuming office as the new Prime Minister of Singapore.

In a post on X, PM Modi wrote, "Warmest congratulations @Lawrence-WongST on assuming office as Prime Minis-ter of Singapore." I look forward to working closely with you to further advance our Strategic Partnership," he added. In terms of trade relationships, there has been an upswing in the trade and investment ties be-tween the two countries. India was Singa-pore's 12th largest trading partner and 12th largest export destination in 2023. Accord-ing to India's Department for Promotion of Industry and Internal Trade, which meas-ures investment flows, Singapore invested USD 17.2 billion in FY2022. Cumulatively, Singapore has accounted for about 23 per cent of India's FDI equity Inflows since 2000.

Singapore which began its investments in 1995 onwards, has cumulative invest-ments in ASEAN of about USD 130 billion, cumulative investment in China of about USD 160 billion and for India, there are around two figures (The Indian figure is USD 190 billion. The Singapore figure is closer to USD 120 billion).

Singapore perceives India as a very important player, both geopolitically and as an important engine of growth.

In terms of defence partnership, India and Singapore have a healthy relationship with two of the Indian warships in Singa-pore right now. Notably, last year, the 15th India-Singapore Defence Policy Dialogue be-tween the two countries was held with an agreement to enhance collaboration in serv-ice-to-service interactions, bilateral exercis-es & emerging areas such as cyber security.

Both sides reaffirmed their commitment to fully implement the 'Strategic Partner-ship' based on mutual trust and understand-ing, common interests and shared values of democracy and the rule of law. This was the first physical meeting at the level of defence secretary between India and Singapore post the COVID-19 pandemic.

The present boost to India-Singapore re-lations has contributed to interactions be-tween the states of India and Singapore. As regards the high-level visits, there could likely be some of them in future after the cabinet is formed. Earlier, a new momentum and direction in the Strategic Partnership was anchored when Prime Minister Modi travelled to Singapore in 2018 for an official visit and then for his second visit on 14-15 November to attend the ASEAN- India and RCEP and 13th East Asia Summit.

PM Modi also became the first Indian PM to deliver the keynote address at the an-nual Shangri La Dialogue on 01 June 2018. In a November visit, he also became the first Head of Government to deliver the keynote address at the Singapore Fintech Festival, the world's largest fintech event.

Then Prime Minister of Singapore Lee Hsien Loong also visited India on January 25-26, 2018 to participate in the Republic Day Celebrations in New Delhi and co-chaired the 2018 ASEAN India Commemora-tive Summit (AICS).

India and Singapore have achieved pro-ficiency in establishing economic linkage.

Notably, to enable faster remittances be-tween the two countries at a competitive rate, last year the link between India's UPI and Singapore's PayNow was officially launched in the presence of PM Modi and PM Lee Hsien Loong, by RBI Governor Shaktikanta Das, and Monetary Authority of Singapore's Managing Director, Ravi Menon.

The PayNow-UPI linkage offered cheap-er, faster, and safer cross-border retail pay-ments and remittances, for businesses and individuals alike, directly between bank ac-counts or e-wallets, using a mobile phone number, UPI identity, or Virtual Payment Address (VPA).

US lawmakers support Taiwan after China's military drills

In the wake of massive military drills by China in the area surrounding Tai-wan, a visiting delegation of US law-makers has expressed support for Tai-wan, Focus Taiwan reported.

Michael McCaul, chair of the US House Foreign Affairs Committee who is leading the bipartisan congressional dele-gation in a meeting with Taiwan's new president Lai Ching-te, said that China's "intimidating military exercises" demon-strated that the mainland is "not inter-ested in taking Taiwan by peaceful means."

Addressing a news conference in Taipei, US Representative Michael Mc-Caul called the drills an "intimidation tactic to punish democracy" and vowed to bolster Taiwan's defense by speeding up the delivery of defensive weapons from the US, CNN reported.

He further reiterated Washington's long-term support for Taiwan, stressing that the US will continue to be Taiwan's "reliable partner." The Republican legis-lator stressed that following the newly-sworn Taiwan President's inauguration last Monday, China held a round of mili-tary exercises in response.

"The forces of China conducted in-timidating military exercises, sending 110 aircraft and 46 warships, demon-strating they are not interested in taking Taiwan by peaceful means," he said.

He called on all democracies to "stand together against aggression and tyranny," whether the tyranny is Rus-sian President Vladimir Putin or Chinese President Xi Jinping, Focus Taiwan re-ported.

German chancellor expected to visit India later this year

German Chancellor Olaf Scholz and a big part of his cabinet are likely to travel to India for intergovernmental consultation in the second half of 2024, said German Ambassador Philipp Ackermann on Monday. Speaking to ANI on the side-lines of an event, Ackermann said that the visit will help in preparing a roadmap for ties between the two nations.

When asked about any upcoming visit by the German Chancellor or ministers, the envoy said: "We have to wait for the new government... In the second half of this year, we will have inter-governmental consulta-tions in Delhi so the Chancellor and a big part of his cabinet will travel to Delhi to meet the Prime Minister...Sit together and try to figure out the roadmap for Indo-Ger-man relations in the coming years and I am looking forward to that."

The German ambassador also lauded In-dia's electoral process, terming it a fantastic exercise and said the participation of voters is unbelievable. General elections are being held in India from April 19 to June 1 in seven phases, to elect all 543 members of the Lok Sabha. The votes will be counted and the results will be declared on June 4.

When asked whether he got a chance to go on the ground and see democracy in ac-tion, Ackermann said that his team trav-elled across India. "My team did all across India from Kashmir to Bangalore...It is a fantastic exercise...970 million voters, the lo-gistical aspect alone is a masterpiece. We are looking forward to the 4th of June," Ack-ermann said. "...And I think it's a fantastic event. That's something that even in such a big country like India, you can organize so soundly and meticulously elections.

Ghatkopar billboard collapse-a manmade disaster

In a gruesome incident in Mum-bai on May 13, 2024, in Ghatkopar area, a billboard of the size of 120 feet by 120 feet col-lapsed due to dust storm upon the unsuspecting commuters present in a filling station for refueling or had taken shelter to wait for the storm to abate, but they became unintended victims of the disas-ter.

It killed 16 people and injured about 75 others. Rescue opera-tions continued for almost four days. The number of deaths and injuries, time taken to rescue the people and retrieve the dead bod-ies indicate the enormity of the tragedy. In a similar incident in April 2023, five people were crushed to death when an iron hoarding had collapsed due to wind and rain in Pimpri-Chinch-wad in Pune.

Many people will be tempted to call this tragedy a natural dis-aster since it was triggered by a dust storm, a proximate cause, but scratching the surface a bit re-veals that it was caused by human agency failure. Media reports in-dicate that the civic body in Mumbai has put out that the billboard was several times the permitted size.

Also, the agency that had the licence for the billboard had vio-lated many norms governing the erection of hoardings in the city. Civic body had put the agency to notice to dismantle the billboard along with other such hoardings elsewhere in the city along with the Government Railway Police which was instrumental in the first place to permit the billboard allegedly without following the es-tablished norms for erecting this billboard.

Though it may appear that the civic body put this vital informa-tion in the public domain for the sake of transparency and ac-countability to the citizens, yet it fell short of admitting that it failed to ensure regulatory compliance in the first place which now has consumed 16 lives.

The filling station which suf-fered because of the billboard and the site of the billboard are both owned by the Government Rail-way Police which is ironically re-sponsible for ensuring the safety and security of the people. Be-sides, the civic body was aware of the irregularities allegedly com-mitted by the Railway Police and the licensee agency for more than one year, but it could not resolve the issue having implications for the public safety.

Moreover, the licensee is be-lieved to have been charged for similar violations under the Mumbai Municipal Corporation

Act, 1888, on 21 occasions in the past. As such, billboard collapse is a classic case of a manmade disas-ter. It was more of a predictable disaster, waiting to happen owing to violation of norms by the con-cerned state authorities and the li-censee.

Mayhem in Ghatkopar should be seen through the lens of sys-temic and administrative failures at multiple levels.

The reality of this disaster be-comes even more stark when ap-preciated in the wake of various orders passed by the Bombay High Court on the issue of illegal hoardings in Mumbai city and elsewhere in the State since 2017. In December 2023, the High Court had pulled up the concerned for non- compliance with its 2017 order to pull down illegal hoardings. While hearing pleas against ille-gal hoardings, including con-tempt plea initiated by the High Court itself in this regard, it ob-served that the hoardings and banners not just deface the city but also create obstacles and sometimes are hazardous.

The incident calls for fixing ac-countability to send a message that the human lives cannot be sacri-ficed at the altar of dereliction of duty and negligence of those whom the law has entrusted with the responsibility for protecting the people's lives and property.

The dynamic pair will take the audience on a laughter spiral, sharing humorous anecdotes and engaging in playful banter. Talking about his initial days, Rajkummar Rao shares an incident where he was conned by someone who falsely promised him an acting debut, adding a touch of humor to the otherwise daunting experience. Kapil

Sharma asks Rajkummar Rao about the incident, “I have heard about Rajkummar, that someone scammed him. He took 10,000 from him saying he would make him an actor. Is it true?”

Narrating the incident, Rajkummar shares, "It was quite filmy actually. I had read a cutting in a newspaper that a show was being made for TV. I was in 11th standard. We didn't know the difference between TV and films. I just wanted to act. So I called them and (this person) asked me to meet him. I cycled all the way to South Ext in Delhi. They had a typical office. The man had a photo with everyone from Gulshan Grover to Raza Murad. I thought he knew everyone. He said it would cost me 10,000 rupees for a photo shoot. My mother borrowed money and gave me 10,000 rupees and he then got my photo shoot done at Kalindi Kunj Park. Then I got a call that I had been selected. I was on my knees thinking I made it in life. I was all set. After three days, when I went to meet him that place was empty. The office was locked and no one was there. I asked people around me about it. They said, what happened, are you here to act? I said yes. They told me they had run away. "Catch all the laughs at The Great Indian Kapil Show, this Saturday at 8 PM, only on Netflix!"

As soon as Ulka put the Mickey Mouse band-aid on my forehead, everyone on set started laughing out loud, which made us break the character and re-shoot the whole scene again.
