Court asks Centre to frame model policy on menstrual leave for women

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Monday directed the Centre to frame a model policy on menstrual leave for women employees by holding consultations with states and other stakeholders. A bench comprising Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud and Justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra said the issue related to policy and was not an issue for the courts to look into. Moreover, such a decision from a court on granting such leave to women may prove to be counterproductive and "detrimental" to the cause as employers may avoid employing them.

Incessant rain paralyses daily life in Kumaon, Char Dham Yatra resumes DEHRADUN : Incessant rain continued to lash several parts of Uttarakhand on Monday, flooding rivers in the Kumaon region, blocking hundreds of rural motorable roads and leaving several villages in Champawat and Udham Singh Nagar districts heavily waterlogged. However, the Char Dham Yatra resumed on Monday after remaining suspended for a day in view of the Met office's prediction of heavy rain following an improvement in the weather in the Garhwal region, Additional Commissioner (Garhwal) Narendra Singh Quiriyal said. The Kali, Gori and Saryu rivers in Pithoragarh, which received 125.50 mm rainfall, were flowing close to the danger mark while more than 200 rural motorable roads across the state were blocked by debris from landslides, the State Emergency Operation Centre in Dehradun said.

If sanctity of exam is lost, re-test has to be ordered: SC on NEET

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, JULY 8

The Supreme Court said Monday that if the sanctity of the medical entrance exam NEET-UG 2024 is "lost" and if the leak of its question paper has been propagated through social media, then a re-test has to be ordered. A bench headed by Chief Justice D Y Chandrachud also said if the question paper leak was taking place through Telegram, WhatsApp and electronic means, then "it spreads like wildfire". "One thing is clear that leak of question paper has taken place," the bench, also comprising Justices J B Pardiwala and Manoj Misra, said. "If the sanctity of the exam is lost, then a re-test has to be ordered. If we are unable to identify those who are guilty, then a re-test has to be ordered," the bench observed, adding that if the leak was propagated through social media, then a re-test has to be ordered.

"Let us not be in self-denial about what happened," it said, adding, "Assuming that the government does not cancel the exam, what will it do to identify the beneficiaries of the question paper leak?" The apex court was hearing more than 30 pleas related to the controversy-ridden NEET-UG 2024, including those alleging irregularities and malpractices in the May 5 test and seeking a direction to conduct it afresh. "There is no question that leak of question paper has taken place. We are determining the extent of the leak," the bench observed. It said there were certain "red flags" as 67 candidates had scored 720 out of 720. "In the previous years, the proportion was very low," the bench added. The top court said it wanted to know how many people benefited from the question paper leak and what actions were taken against them by the Centre. "Results of how many wrongdoers have been withheld, and we want to know the geographical distribution of such beneficiaries," it asked. The bench is also hearing a separate plea of over 50 successful Gujarat-based NEET-UG candidates seeking a direction to restrain the Centre and the National Testing Agency (NTA) from cancelling the controversy-ridden exam. The lawyers representing a petitioner started the submissions, saying that they were seeking the cancellation of the exam on grounds such as paper leak, OMR sheet manipulation, impersonation and cheating. The Centre and the NTA, which conducts NEET-UG, recently told the apex court through their affidavits that scrapping the exam would be "counterproductive" and "seriously jeopardise" lakhs of honest candidates in the absence of any proof of large-scale breach of confidentiality. The NTA and the Union education ministry have been at the centre of media debates and protests by students and political parties over alleged large-scale malpractices ranging from question paper leaks to impersonation in the test held on May 5. The National Eligibility-cum-Entrance Test-Undergraduate (NEET-UG) is conducted by the NTA for admissions to MBBS, BDS, AYUSH and other related courses in government and private institutions across the country. Allegations of irregularities, including paper leaks, have led to protests in several cities and sparring between rival political parties. The Centre and the NTA on June 13 told the court that they cancelled the grace marks awarded to 1,563 candidates. These candidates were given the option to either take a re-test or forgo the compensatory marks awarded for loss of time.

Looking forward to deepening ties with Russia: PM Modi

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, JULY 8

Prime Minister Narendra Modi arrived in Moscow this evening, marking the first time he visited Russia since it launched its campaign in Ukraine. Russia's First Deputy Prime Minister Denis Manturov received him at the airport. "I look forward to further deepening special and privileged strategic partnership between our nations," PM Modi said after landing in Moscow. He will hold talks with Russian President Vladimir Putin tomorrow. Landed in Moscow. Looking forward to further deepening the Special and Privileged Strategic Partnership between our nations, especially in futuristic areas of cooperation. Stronger ties between our nations will greatly benefit our people. Mr Putin will host a private dinner for PM Modi tonight ahead of tomorrow's 22nd India-Russia summit in Moscow. "PM is set to hold substantive discussions with President Vladimir Putin to take forward the special partnership between the two countries. He will also interact with the Indian community in Russia," External Affairs Ministry spokesperson Randhir Jaiswal said on X. PM Modi has been treading a fine line between maintaining a longstanding relationship with Moscow and courting closer Western security ties. The visit is also PM

Modi's first since he returned to power for a third term. "I look forward to reviewing all aspects of bilateral cooperation with my friend President Vladimir Putin and sharing perspectives on various regional and global issues," PM Modi had said in a statement before leaving India. "We seek to play a supportive role for a peaceful and stable region." Russia is a key supplier of cut-price oil and weapons to India. Western powers have in recent years also cultivated ties with India as a bulwark against China and its growing influence in the Asia-Pacific, while pressuring it to distance itself from Russia. PM Modi last visited Russia in 2019 and hosted Mr Putin in Delhi two years later, weeks before Russia began its offensive against Ukraine. India and Russia have maintained a close relationship since the Cold War, and Russia was for a long time India's largest arms supplier. But Ukraine has stretched Russia's arms supplies thin. Russia's share of Indian imports of arms has shrunk considerably in recent years, according to the Stockholm International Peace Research Institute. At the same time, India has become a major buyer of Russian oil, providing a much-needed export market for Moscow after it was cut off from traditional buyers in Europe. That has dramatically reshaped energy ties, with India saving itself billions of dollars.

5 Armymen killed in ambush by terrorists in Kathua

AGENCY
SRINAGAR, JULY 8

Five Army personnel were killed and six injured after terrorists attacked a military convoy in the remote Machedi area of Jammu and Kashmir's Kathua district on Monday afternoon. The Army vehicles were on a routine patrol on the Machedi-Kindli-Malhar road when attacked about 150 km from Kathua. The injured have been shifted to a hospital for treatment. After the initial attack - terrorists threw a grenade and then opened fire - the security forces retaliated but the terrorists fled into the nearby forest, officials said. Reinforcements were then rushed in and a search op was launched to track down the terrorists. Officials said there is intermittent firing going on between the terrorists and the security forces. This is the second attack on the Indian Army in the Jammu region in the past 48 hours. On Sunday an Army camp in Rajouri district was attacked. One soldier was injured. Today's attack came 24 hours after six terrorists were killed across two separate encounters in J&K's Kulgam district. The encounters, which began on Saturday, also claimed the lives of two soldiers, including a para-trooper, while another soldier sustained injuries, police told NDTV. The first encounter took place in Modergam village when security forces, comprising the CRPF or Central Reserve Police Force, the Army, and local police, launched a search op based on intelligence about terrorist presence. In the initial exchange of gunfire, a para-trooper was fatally wounded.

CHANDIGARH/JAL, JULY 8

In a major action by the Counter Intelligence (CI) Jalandhar amidst the ongoing fight against organised crime launched on the directions of Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann, member of Babbar Khalsa International (BKI) Simranjit Singh alias Bablu - who is key assailant of former terrorist Rattandeep Singh - sustained bullet injuries on his both legs while unsuccessfully attempting to escape from the police custody on the outskirts of Jalandhar city, said Director General of Police (DGP) Punjab Gaurav Yadav here on Monday. As per the information, former militant Rattandeep Singh was shot dead by two bike-borne assailants in

SBS Nagar on April 3, 2024. The development came few hours after the arrest of the accused Simranjit Bablu by the Counter Intelligence Jalandhar, when, following his disclosures, a Police team under the overall supervision of AIG CI Jalandhar Navjot Singh Mahal was taking the accused to the place near Wadala located at Jalandhar-Nakodar road, where he claimed to have concealed the pistol suspected to be used in Rattandeep's murder. "On reaching the location, the accused tried to escape from the police custody after pushing down a police official, which led the CI Jalandhar team to open fire to stop him from fleeing resulting in gunshot injuries," said the DGP, while adding that the accused has been taken to the nearest hospital for treatment. Police teams have also recovered two sophisticated weapons - including one .32 Webley revolver and one .32 pistol - along with one magazine and 19 live cartridges from his possession. DGP Gaurav Yadav said that preliminary investigations have revealed that the arrested accused Simranjit Bablu was working on the directions of Pakistan-based terrorist Harwind er Rinda and USA-based Gopi Nawanshehria, who tasked him and the other assailant identified as Jaspreet Singh alias Jassi Kulam to carry out target killing of former militant Rattandeep Singh to create panic in the society. As per the information, accused Jassi Kulam managed to flee abroad after committing the crime. He said that the Police have invoked sections of Arms Act and criminal conspiracy, and further investigations are on to establish forward and backward linkages in this case. Sharing operation details, AIG Navjot Mahal said that following the intel-inputs Police teams from CI Jalandhar laid a special naka in the area of Deol Nagar Colony, Jalandhar and successfully arrested the accused Simranjit Singh alias Bablu.

BUREAU
PANCHKULA, JULY 8

Over 40 schoolchildren were among those injured after the public bus they were travelling in overturned in Haryana's Panchkula this morning. This accident occurred near Naulta village of Pinjore. Cops suspect the Haryana Roadways bus was speeding, due to which the driver lost control and it overturned. Overloading of the bus and bad condition of the roads are also among the reasons that could have led to the accident, said police. The bus was packed and had about 70 children, said a witness. The injured have been taken to Pinjore Hospital and Sector Civil Hospital in the city. A woman passenger, who is critical after the early morning crash, has been referred to PGI Chandigarh. Visuals from hospitals showed students on stretchers being given first aid and doctors inquiring about their health.

Hemant Soren wins floor test in Jharkhand Assembly

AGENCY
RANCHI, JULY 8

Days after he was sworn in as the Chief Minister of Jharkhand for the third time, Hemant Soren won the floor test during a special session of the state assembly on Monday. Hemant Soren won the vote of trust with the votes of 45 MLAs in his favour. He was sworn in as the 13th Chief Minister of Jharkhand in Raj Bhavan, Ranchi on July 4. Hemant Soren was released from the Birsu Munda Jail on June 28 after nearly five months following bail from Jharkhand High Court in a money laundering case linked to an alleged land scam. He had resigned as Chief Minister before his arrest on January 31. He was arrested by the Enforcement Directorate (ED) in January on charges related to an alleged land scam and money laundering. Champai Soren who had taken over as the CM following the arrest, resigned from the post just five months after taking the oath, setting the ball rolling for Hemant Soren to again take over the role on Wednesday. Champai Soren had taken oath as the 12th Chief Minister of Jharkhand in the Raj Bhavan on February

2 this year. Earlier in a video message Hemant Soren had accused the BJP of leveling false allegations against him. "In the 2019 Jharkhand Assembly Elections, the people of Jharkhand gave our party mandate but the conspirators were unable to digest how an Adivasi youngster can sit in such a high position. At last, on January 31, they (the BJP) made false allegations against me and removed me from the post of Chief Minister.

Kashmir valley witnessing 'purple revolution' as Lavender farming yields good revenue

BY QIESAR BABA
SRINAGAR, JULY 8 (UNI)

Kashmir valley is witnessing a 'purple revolution' as Lavender farming yields bumper crops this year much to the delight of the people associated with it. The harvesting of the crop has almost been completed at most of the places much ahead of its exact time to save the crop from dry weather conditions, Mukhtar Ahmad Wani, Incharge Check-e-Badrinath Lavender farm in south Kashmir's Pulwama told UNI. Wani attributed the bumper crop to a short spell of dry weather during harvesting, which was completed earlier than usual.

He noted that there is high demand for Kashmir Valley's lavender in India and globally. Lavender, a perennial plant that can live up to 20 years under optimal conditions, is a beautiful aromatic shrub with purple flowers containing high levels of essential oil. The essential oil of lavender is recognized globally as a respected commodity besides it has several medicinal and other uses. It is of very low toxicity, while showing remarkable antiseptic and antimicrobial action, the experts said. The flowers of lavender are very rich in nectar and attract bees and other pollinators. After being cut and dried, lavender flowers are used in the aromatic fragrance industry. Lavender plants are also grown as ornamental. Commercially, the plant is grown mainly for the production of Lavender essential oil. Wani said this year on the 22 Kanals of Lavender farm at Check-e-Badri-nath around 19.6 quintals of flowers were harvested comparing to the last year of 17.45 quintals. There are two distillation plants in the valley one each in Al-lhawpora Shopian and another in Srinagar where the processing of lavender is being done to extract the oil. "The stem of Lavender is usually producing a good crop after two years and it is completely an organic based flower", Wani said and added "however, excess watering causes fungal infection to the crop". He urged the farmers who had land on upper heights to adopt the Lavender farming to earn handsomely every year.

Govt should withdraw cases against farmers and release them: Goraya

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA KARNAL, JULY 8

Senior Congress leader and national spokesperson of All India Kisan Congress Inderjit Singh Goraya said that the Haryana government is harassing and troubling the leaders who were leading the farmers' movement. He said that farmer leader Navdeep Jalbada, known by the name Water Cannon, was arrested by Ambala police from Chandigarh airport on 28 March and was subjected to third degree torture in a very inhuman manner and has been lodged in Ambala jail under non-bailable sections. This act of the administration is only a matter of creating fear among the farmers, which we strongly condemn. Inderjit Goraya said that a similar case has been registered in Fatehabad by Ashok Tanwar, who was BJP candidate from Sirsa, against 95 farmers under SC/ST Act and 307. The only fault of those farmers was that They asked him questions during the election due to which BJP candidate Ashok Tanwar got angry and got false cases registered against those farmers under non-bailable sections. Which is a very wrong act.

Goraya said that farmers have been protesting for their demands during the tenure of many governments but this BJP government is treating farmers like criminals and atrocities which has never happened before. He said that we demand from the government that these cases should be investigated impartially and all the cases registered against farmers out of political malice should be cancelled. Goraya said that if the government is trying to scare the farmers by using the power, then farmers are not a community to be scared. He said that if there is a delay in releasing these farmer leaders, then the Congress party stands strongly with the farmers in their fight and on coming to power, justice will be done to the farmers and false cases will be withdrawn.

Dr Singh told the Minister that despite two years passing by no concrete steps were taken forcing the farmers to again march to Delhi to press their demands. The current agitation started in February and has seen unprecedented violence being used against farmers who are simply using their democratic rights. Late Shubhkaran Singh was shot by Haryana police while many more farmers have been martyred since the agitation began.

Farmers have been struggling with adverse climate, floods, lumpy skin disease and other natural calamities in Punjab since 2022. 5-6% increase in paddy MSP will not provide any relief to farmers as increasing input costs and natural calamities have caused major losses to them in last 2 years.

Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu on Monday questioned the integrity of three BJP candidates fielded from Dehra, Nalagarh and Hamirpur Assembly constituencies for the July 10 bye-elections. Addressing election rallies in Dehra and Hamirpur on the final day of campaign, Sukhu said the three BJP candidates were earlier independent MLAs who resigned from the Assembly to join the BJP for financial gain.

The CM said former MLAs Hoshiyar Singh (Dehra), Ashish Sharma (Hamirpur) and K L Thakur (Nalagarh) decided to resign under BJP's influence and recontest on the Opposition party's ticket. He argued that the independent MLAs' actions forced unnecessary elections on the people of Dehra, Hamirpur, and Nalagarh. On Monday, Sukhu campaigned in support of his wife, Kamlesh Kumari, and Pushpendra, the Congress candidates for Dehra and Hamirpur, respectively. The Chief Minister also mentioned a failed attempt by the BJP to sway six Congress MLAs, a move that ultimately strengthened the ruling party's position in the Assembly from 34 to 38 seats. In response to Sukhu's similar public statements, the three former Independent MLAs and a former Congress MLA have filed defamation suits against him. Voters in the three constituencies will cast their ballots on July 10, with results to be announced on July 13. Twelve candidates, including three each from both the Congress and BJP, are competing in the by-elections.

Water supply not restored in Dakkoti Village for 2 Months, protest held

RAJNEESH SHARMA
HAMIRPUR: A severe water supply issue persists in Dakkoti village under Gram Panchayat Tapre (Touni Devi), leading the villagers to protest against the Jal Shakti Department and chant slogans. The villagers claim that the national highway construction company frequently breaks and disrupts the water supply pipes, causing a severe water crisis for the past two months. The Jal Shakti Department has not been monitoring this illegal activity by the construction company, nor has any action been taken against them. The department has not provided water supply for two months. It should be noted that the distressed villagers decided in a general assembly held on June 30 to appeal to the District Magistrate for the resolution of this pressing issue. They also decided that if the disrupted water supply, which has been halted for two months, is not restored immediately, they would start a protest in front of the Touni Devi police post and block the road traffic.

Villagers block road in Tauni Devi over two-month water supply disruption

RAJNEESH SHARMA
HAMIRPUR, JULY 8

Due to a two-month water supply disruption in Darkoti (Tauni Devi), villagers staged a protest and blocked the road, causing traffic to come to a standstill. The situation escalated to the point where site engineer Sushil Kumar was involved in a scuffle with the agitated villagers. Engineer Kumar attempted to explain the situation to the villagers, but their anger led to intense opposition. He mentioned that he was there to resolve the issue, but the enraged villagers confronted him instead. Amid the chaos, the villagers chanted slogans against the administration, the department, and the construction company. The police eventually intervened to restore traffic.

The water supply issue arose due to ongoing National Highway construction, which has severely affected the water pipelines in Darkoti village under the Gram Panchayat Tapre (Tauni Devi). The villagers accused the construction company of frequently damaging the water supply pipes, leading to a serious water crisis for the past two months.

According to the villagers, the Jal Shakti Department has not been monitoring the illegal actions of the construction company nor taking any action against them. The villagers of Darkoti had previously notified the administration that the Jal Shakti Department had not supplied water for two months. In a general assembly held on June 30, the affected villagers decided to address this pressing issue. They resolved that if the water supply was not restored immediately, they would start a road blockade and protest in front of the Tauni Devi police post from July 8.

Discourses in conflict

India's independence from British rule set off the process of 'decolonisation' — the gradual dismantling of European imperialism in the Afro-Asian world. It's a point to keep in mind as India moves beyond the euphoria of celebrating the 75th anniversary of Independence. So, as we move beyond Covid-19 and India@75, where exactly does our 'truth and reconciliation' agenda with the legacy of Empire stand? As I write, a decolonisation-flavoured meme is going around on social media, with the jubilant faces of Rohit Sharma's boys in blue superimposed on a Lagaan poster. But on a more serious note, what would be the meaningful questions to ask in this respect, other than periodic wishful reiterations of the demand for the return of the Koh-i-Noor to India, or a grumpy half-anger at the consistent British refusal to formally apologise for Jallianwala Bagh?

Decolonisation has undeniably become even more of a buzzword in recent times, growing especially around the Black Lives Matter movement and, then, in the aftermath of George Floyd's murder in Minneapolis in July 2020, when significant parts of the world burst into angry protests against the legacies of Empire, including the enslavement, brutalisation, and exploitation of colonised peoples. Statues of slave traders (like Edward Colston in Bristol) were pulled down and imperialist figures — among them, Sir Cecil Rhodes in Cape Town (#RhodesMustFall), King Leopold of Belgium in Ostend, and Robert Clive in London (#RemoveClive) — got vandalised, shifted, or confronted with raucous demands for obliteration.

How do such symbols of Empire matter in our public history, especially in relation to our museums? Calcutta's Victoria Memorial Hall, which took off in 1921 as a mu-seum to showcase the achievements of the British Empire in India, might be a good case to look at. As an Empire Museum, its initial choice of worthies to commemorate included mostly 'good Indians', mainly the loyalist rajahs of princely India. While 'heroic' Indian adversaries like Tipu Sultan and Ranjit Singh were co-opted into the display, 'villainous' Indian foes like Nana Sahib were completely obliterated for committing the diabolical atrocity of massacring captive British women and children at Kanpur during the Revolt of 1857. The VMH was thus primed for hosting an imperialist game of cultural politics in which the Indian nation was present in a cosmetic, non-threatening way. In the late-1960s, as part of a postcolonial mandate of making it into a 'people's museum', space was carved out right in front of the VMH's imperialist statuary for a 'National Gallery' of leaders primarily from the ranks of the Indian National Congress.

Violence erupts in France

Violence erupted across France following a surprising exit poll suggesting a left-wing coalition's lead in the snap election, dealing a blow to Marine Le Pen's ambitions of forming France's first hard-right government since the war, Fox News reported.

Video footage captured masked demonstrators running through streets, igniting flares, and causing disturbances as riot police were dispatched nationwide.

French election night turned turbulent as results showed a left-wing coalition poised to claim the majority of parliamentary seats, prompting both celebrations and unrest in Paris, Fox News reported.

Prime Minister Gabriel Attal announced his resignation as a far-left political alliance unexpectedly surged ahead in the snap elections.

Thousands gathered at Paris's Place de la Republique to cheer the news, highlighting widespread support for the coalition over Prime Minister Emmanuel Macron's centrist bloc, which secured second place.

Conservatives were left reeling by the upset, having anticipated Marine Le Pen's National Rally to seize power, as reported by Fox News.

Social media footage captured fiery scenes in Parisian streets, with authorities in riot gear managing crowds as tear gas was deployed amid clashes. Protesters reportedly threw Molotov cocktails and set off smoke bombs.

The victorious left-wing coalition, known as the Popular Front, comprises France's Socialist Party, the French Communist Party, the Ecologists, and France Unbowed.

Their platform includes overturning Macron's pension reforms and advocating for a retirement age of 60, along with plans to raise public sector wages, reinstate a wealth tax, and increase France's minimum wage.

The election results marked a significant shift in French politics, with the National Rally, led by Jordan

Bardella, claiming substantial gains despite initial high expectations. He criticised Macron for purportedly "pushing France into uncertainty and instability" and expressed disappointment at falling short of projected outcomes despite an increase in parliamentary seats.

Meanwhile, President Emmanuel Macron will wait to make decisions about a new government, according to a statement from Elysee Palace, following the announcement of preliminary results from the second round of parliamentary elections.

In Paris, the announcement that the left-wing NFP was projected to surpass RN sparked jubilation among supporters. The result marked a turnaround from RN's initial lead after the first round of elections. In a show of emotion, Parisians took to the streets, holding signs and cheering as the outcome was confirmed at 8 pm local time.

Amidst the celebrations, expressions of relief were evident as flares were lit and chants of "everyone hates fascists" echoed through the streets.

Initial projections were released at 8 PM Paris time (1800 GMT), with official results anticipated to be announced between late Sunday and Monday.

POEM

Friend

Art thou abroad on this stormy night on thy journey of love, my friend?

The sky groans like one in despair. I have no sleep tonight. Ever and again I open my door and look out on the darkness, my friend! I can see nothing before me. I wonder where lies thy path! By what dim shore of the ink-black river, by what far edge of the frowning forest, through what mazy depth of gloom art thou threading thy course to come to me, my friend?.

AMBALA: Former Home Minister of Haryana Anil Vij give a significant challenge to the Leader of the Opposition in Lok Sabha, Rahul Gandhi today, saying, "If Rahul Gandhi considers himself so popular, let him contest the Assembly election against me in Ambala, he will realize his popularity." While challenging him, Vij added, "If the laws can be changed to allow the election of the Chief Minister in an American style, let him contest against me, then he will know his popularity." Sh. Vij was responding to questions asked by media personnel today. It is noteworthy that Rahul Gandhi said in Ahmedabad that the BJP would be defeated in Gujarat just like in Ayodhya. Reacting strongly to this, former Home Minister Anil Vij, often referred to as the "Gabbard" of Haryana, issued this open challenge to Rahul Gandhi. Sh. Vij commented that in the results of the Lok Sabha elections, Rahul Gandhi got more votes than before but he failed. This increase in votes has led him to mistakenly believe that he has become a national leader and is very popular. If he wants to check his popularity, he should contest against me in an American-style election for the Chief Minister, and he will realize his true popularity. Regarding the stampede incident during the satsang in Hathras, where Rahul Gandhi wrote a letter to Uttar Pradesh Chief Minister Yogi Adityanath, requesting higher compensation for the victims' families, Anil Vij said, "Our government is very serious about the incident. A committee has been formed for investigation. As for the compensation, whatever has been decided by the states will be implemented, and it is the same for everyone."

Vishwa Hindu Takht head Veeresh Shandilya said that after 15 August, the meeting of Vishwa Hindu Takht will be held in Lord Ram's birthplace Ayodhya and this Takht was also formed in the presence of saints on the banks of the Saryu river where Lord Ram took Jal Samadhi. He said that every person who respects Sanatan, respects Sanatanis, worships cow mother or not, a person who respects cow mother will also be added to Vishwa Hindu Takht, whether he is from Muslim caste or Sikh caste or Christian. Veeresh Shandilya told the journalists that the reason for cancelling the appointments of the officials of Vishwa Hindu Takht at national and state level was that some officials wanted to use this Takht to shine in politics. He said that whether the government belongs to any religion or caste, or any political party, when that government takes oath on the constitution, then it is the government of every society of the entire country and whether that government belongs to any party, if it does injustice to Sanatan and Sanatanis, then Vishwa Hindu Takht was formed to face them and to answer them. I love going for long drives, enjoying the weather, and especially experiencing Bombay's monsoon. It's wonderful here. I love going out on dates and adore chai and pakoras. There's no specific monsoon fashion for me, but I do prefer boots because of the weather. I also have many clothes made from parachute fabric, a lifesaver during the monsoon. This is my go-to monsoon fashion. I love this weather so much that I don't feel like waking up in the morning; I just want to sleep." Amandeep Sidhu who essays the lead character of Baani in Badall Pe Paon Hai said, "When I was in Delhi, my mother used to make Kheer and Puri which used to be my favorite dish growing up. Savoring every bite of it used to be my favorite pastime during rain. Upon moving to Mumbai, life took a busier turn. Amidst the hustle and bustle, my fondness for Vada Pav blossomed. Childhood memories are incredibly special to me, especially the snowfall and unexpected holidays it brought. We used to go out, get drenched, and play in the puddles—I really miss those carefree days. Living in Umar Gaon now, surrounded by lush greenery, I still love enjoying the magic of the monsoons.
