

Russia agrees to release Indians working in its Army

AGENCY MOSCOW, JULY 9

In a significant diplomatic win for India, sources have told that Russia will discharge and facilitate the return of all Indians who are reportedly working for the Russian Army. This matter was raised by PM Modi in his interaction with the Russian President Vladimir Putin.

Prime Minister Narendra Modi had met Russian President Vladimir Putin at the President's House in Moscow on Monday. Putin welcomed PM Modi and the two leaders shared a hug. The two leaders shook hands and warmly greeted each other before proceeding to the meeting. They also had a private meeting and dinner together.

In a post on X PM Modi said "Gratitude to President Putin for hosting me at No-v-Ogaryovo this evening. Looking forward to our talks tomorrow as well, which will surely go a long way in further cementing the bonds of friendship between India and Russia."

The issue of Indians working for the Russian Army had also been raised by the opposition with the Congress questioning the government's stance on the issue.

Congress RS MP Jairam

Ramesh raised the issue in a series of questions to the PM saying "According to the Indian Embassy in Moscow, at least 50 Indian nationals have joined the Russian Army. At least two individuals have already been confirmed as fatalities of the war. Many others have been 'duped' into fighting a war where they have no stake, aside from a chance to escape the poverty and unemployment crisis that the non-biological Prime Minister has perpetuated domestically. Will the non-biological Prime Minister take up the cause of these youth? Will he ensure their safe return to India as soon as possible?" The two leaders also discussed the situation in Ukraine and further comprehensive discussions will be held later today. According to government sources, the Indian view is that the solution to the Ukraine conflict cannot be found on the battlefield.

PM Modi describes Russia as India's 'all-weather friend'

MOSCOW: Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday described Russia as India's "all-weather friend" and hailed President Vladimir Putin's leadership in strengthening the bilateral relationship over the past two decades. The Prime Minister's praise of Putin, during an address to the Indian diaspora here, came amid attempts by Western powers to isolate the Russian leader over the war in Ukraine.

Hathras stampede: SIT blames organisers for incident, 6 including SDM suspended

AGENCY LUCKNOW, JULY 9

The Special Investigative Team (SIT) constituted by the Uttar Pradesh government to probe the Hathras stampede case, in which 121 people were killed, has primarily held satsang organisers and local administration responsible for the incident, official sources said here on Tuesday.

Sources said that in its report submitted to the state government, the SIT, comprising ADG Agra Zone and Divisional Commissioner Aligarh, has not ruled out the conspiracy behind the incident and has recommended an in-depth investigation.

Sources said that on the basis of the report submitted by the SIT, the government has suspended the Sub-Divisional Magistrate (SDM) of Sikandra Pao, the Circle Officer of Sikandra Rao, the Station Officer of Sikandra Rao, the Tehsildar of Sikandra Rao, the outpost in charge of Kachora, and the outpost in charge of Pora.

The SIT, constituted immediately after the accident during the Satsang on July 2 in Sikandra Rao in Hathras district, inspected the incident site on July 2, 3, and 5.

During the investigation, statements were collected from a total of 125 individuals, including administrative and police officials, the general public, and eyewitnesses. Additionally, copies of news articles related to the incident, on-site videography, photographs, and video clippings were reviewed.

BJP govt wants to suppress voice of people in Parliament: Balla

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA KARNAL, JULY 9

Haryana Pradesh Congress Committee member and former member of Haryana Police Recruitment Board and strong contender for Congress ticket from Nilokheri assembly constituency Rajendra Balla while addressing the workers during the public relations campaign in the assembly constituency said that the opposition is the voice of the people in Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha. The BJP government is trying to suppress the voice of the people by suppressing the voice of the opposition. The government will have to listen to the voice of the people. In democracy, everyone has the right to speak their mind and the government will have to listen to it. The way the mic of the Leader of Opposition Rahul Gandhi in Lok Sabha and Congress Party President Mallikarjun Kharge in Rajya Sabha was switched off, it is clear that the government has no intention of listening to the opposition and the government only wants to suppress the voice of the opposition. Rajendra Balla said that the people are unhappy with the policies of BJP and the property ID will prove to be the nail in the coffin when BJP rule ends. The policies run by the state government are anti-people. Crime is at its peak in the state. Every day businessmen are being threatened and intimidated for ransom. Despite Karnal being the CM city, crime is increasing day by day. In the last 180 days, 465 murders, 720 rapes and 813 kidnappings have taken place in the state, which clearly shows the failure of the Haryana government in law and order.

Shandilya to meet Shah to cancel Amritpal's LS membership

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA KURUKSHETRA, JULY 9

National President of Anti Terrorist Front India Viresh Shandilya said that the Speaker of Lok Sabha should not have administered the oath to Amritpal Singh, who runs the Khalistani movement, as a Lok Sabha member at any cost. With Amritpal Singh taking oath, the central government has given strength to Khalistanis sitting all over the world, which will harm Punjab and the country. Viresh Shandilya said that if Amritpal Singh's membership is not cancelled in the national interest by calling the Lok Sabha House, then terrorism will come to Punjab hit and Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann to cancel the membership of Amritpal Singh, who is lodged in Dibrugarh jail for running the Khalistani movement, and will demand that a resolution be passed in the Punjab Assembly and sent to the Center that Amritpal Singh's membership be canceled to save the peace and tranquility of Punjab. Anti Terrorist Front India's National President Viresh Shandilya said that Amritpal Singh took oath on July 5 and on July 4, Khalistanis cut down the Hindu leader wearing Nihanga with swords in Ludhiana. The Hindu leader is fighting for life and death. By doing this, Khalistanis have started spreading terror in the Hindu society. Not only this, Amritpal Singh attacked the police station by running a Khalistan movement and tried to incite riots in Punjab in the name of Guru Granth Sahib, but it is beyond limits that why did the Central Government and the State Government allow Amritpal Singh, who was under NSA, to contest the Lok Sabha elections? Today the dignity of the Lok Sabha was not tarnished, but by Amritpal Singh taking oath as a Lok Sabha member, the Government of India itself has put the Khalistanis on the head of India, which the Anti-Terrorist Front India will not tolerate. Shandilya said that Amritpal Singh is against the Constitution, against the law, against the tricolor and is a supporter of Pakistan's ISI and wants to bring back the era of terrorist Bhindranwala. Which is a conspiracy to destroy the Hindu Sikh brotherhood.

SCHOOL VEHICLES RISKING LIVES OF STUDENTS BY BREACHING SAFETY RULES
JAGRAON (SUKH NAHAR): There have been several incidents where students got injured in accidents involving school vehicles but the schools are still negligent to the same issue. The schools repeatedly risk lives of students due to lack of proper maintenance of vehicles which is highly concerning. We have a safe school vehicles policy in India to ensure safety of students while travelling in school vehicles and under this policy, the school vehicles are supposed to go through strict parameters to ensure safety of students but the schools take this policy very lightly. The civil and police administrations pay a crucial role in ensuring implementation of this policy but they too have seemed to turn a blind eye to the issue. Talking about Jagraon city, several schools are not even near obeying the policy. Several vans of these schools don't even have number plates on and they are parked outside shops after dropping students that creates huge inconvenience to people. One of the private schools, when questioned about the same, denied parking their vehicles outside homes of people or shops but then they stated that they shall look into the matter.

Internal strife threatens BJP in Dehra, Hamirpur, and Nalagarh

RAJNEESH SHARMA
HAMIRPUR : The BJP faces internal strife in the upcoming by-elections for the Dehra, Hamirpur, and Nalagarh seats, with just hours left before voting. The party is concerned about potential sabotage from within, which could impact its performance. Long-standing dissatisfaction among senior BJP leaders has come to the forefront, particularly in the Hamirpur seat. The BJP previously lost seats in Sujampur, Kutlehar, Gagret, and Lahaul Spiti due to internal conflicts. The Congress party, on the other hand, has historically struggled to win these three seats. The ruling Congress, however, is less worried about internal sabotage. Despite this, the Congress has not won the Dehra seat even once and last won the Hamirpur seat in 2007. In Hamirpur, several BJP leaders are displeased with the decision to give the ticket to independent and former MLA Ashish Sharma. If Sharma wins, it could dash the hopes of other aspiring BJP leaders like former MLA Narendra Thakur. Recent events suggest growing divisions within the Hamirpur BJP. Despite the internal discord, BJP candidate Ashish Sharma remains confident in his victory and trusts his supporters and voters.

Vote for strengthening democracy: CM Sukhu

DINESH AGARWAL
SHIMLA, JULY 9

Chief Minister Thakur Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu has urged all voters to participate in the upcoming by-elections for the three Assembly seats on July 10. He emphasized that every voter should cast their vote to strengthen democracy. He accused the BJP of using monetary power to conspire against an elected government and forcing independent MLAs to resign as part of a deal.

This, he said, is unprecedented in history, with independent MLAs having to sit in protest and go to court to have their resignations accepted. He stated that the BJP has imposed these by-elections on the people by manipulating the political market and buying independent MLAs, and now it is time for voters to teach them a lesson.

The Chief Minister noted that the election is a battle between truth and falsehood, honesty and dishonesty, and he is confident that voters will choose truth and honesty. He mentioned that the Congress Party currently has 38 MLAs in the Assembly and expects this number to increase to 41 after the by-election results. He highlighted that the Congress government has a remaining tenure of three and a half years, and voters in Nalagarh, Dehra, and Hamirpur will choose development.

Thakur Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu listed the welfare measures the Congress government has implemented in the past year and a half, such as providing OPS to employees, offering a monthly pension of ₹1500 to women, starting English medium education from the first grade in all government schools, creating a ₹680 crore startup fund for unemployed youth, and becoming the first state in the country to provide a minimum support price for milk. He mentioned increasing the rate of cow's milk from ₹32 to ₹45 and buffalo's milk from ₹47 to ₹55, providing a 4% DA to employees, and giving ₹1000 diet money to police personnel.

He contrasted this with the previous BJP government's record, which provided only 20,000 government jobs during its tenure, many of which were entangled in legal issues. In contrast, the Congress government has created more than 28,000 government job opportunities in just one and a half years. The government has also introduced free medical treatment for elderly people over 70, free education for widows' children up to 27 years, and financial assistance of Rs. 3 lakhs for building houses.

Cong govt resorted to dictatorship to win by-elections: Vishav Chakshu

SANJAY AGGARWAL
DHARAMSHALA, JULY 9

BJP state media co-incharge Advocate Vishav Chakshu said that the government has collected huge amounts from contractors in the name of elections, now they are asking for support for Congress. They are also threatening to face consequences if they support BJP. The Congress government has completely resorted to dictatorship to win the by-elections. It is making every effort to harass BJP supporters.

The government wants that no one should give any kind of cooperation and support to the Bharatiya Janata Party. Shopkeepers are being harassed for hanging BJP flags on their shops.

They are being threatened by the police. Till now, in the three assembly constituencies where by-elections are being held, raids have been conducted on thousands of shopkeepers because they had put up BJP flags on their shops.

Similarly, employees are also being targeted. An eye is being kept on any employee so that he does not say anything in favor of the BJP. The ministers of the concerned department are monitoring the employees and are strictly warning them not to cooperate with the BJP. The government deliberately delayed the three by-elections so that it can influence the elections on the strength of its power. Vishav Chakshu said that whatever the Congress, enraged by the defeat in the Lok Sabha elections, may do, the people of the state have rejected the Congress.

This government has fallen in the eyes of the people. With the increase in the numbers of the BJP in the Vidhan Sabha, the Bharatiya Janata Party will put a check on the dictatorship of the Congress government and stop it from taking decisions related to public interest.

The 30 MLAs of the BJP will force the Congress government to take decisions in public interest and will put an end to the dictatorship of the government.

Misuse of power will not last long: Rajeev Bindal

SANJAY AGGARWAL
DHARAMSHALA: Dharamshala, BJP State President Dr Rajeev Bindal said in door to door campaign Dehra that misuse of power will not last long, BJP's numbers will increase in Himachal Assembly and Congress will be reined in. BJP will win all three by-elections because people do not like dictatorial government in Himachal. He said that BJP has always worked for the progress and development of Himachal, has done work worth crores in Himachal, but this Congress government has stopped even the ongoing work in the state. The government which has pushed the entire state into darkness is now making false promises of the light of development at the time of elections. He said that the Congress government only wants to get votes by intimidation and it will fail in that, this government is only promoting corruption and mafia rule. Why is the Chief Minister and his friends silent on the cases of corruption? Who is spreading bullying in Himachal? If you are silent it means you accept that this government is corrupt.

People will give big blow to BJP in by-elections: Mukesh Agnihotri

SHANTI GAUTAM
BADDI, JULY 9

Deputy Chief Minister Mukesh Agnihotri stated that no matter how hard the BJP tries, they cannot prevent their candidates from losing in the three upcoming by-elections. He said that the public is giving a fitting response to all of BJP's conspiracies. Having already handed over four seats to Congress in the last six by-elections, the public has delivered the first major blow to the BJP, and they are poised to deliver the second on July 13 when the election results are announced.

Agnihotri, speaking in support of Congress candidate Hardeep Bawa in Baddi, launched a verbal attack on Leader of the Opposition Jai Ram Thakur. He accused Thakur of imposing the by-elections on the state due to BJP's greed, Operation Lotus, and Thakur's impatience. Agnihotri pointed out that Thakur keeps asking who imposed these elections, while simultaneously blaming the government.

Agnihotri asserted that Thakur seems to have forgotten that the idea of imposing these elections was his own. First, he got six MLAs dismissed, and then he had three independent MLAs resign to contest the elections, making it clear that BJP forced these by-elections on the people of the state. He added that not only were the by-elections imposed, but due to the code of conduct, developmental works were halted, for which BJP is also responsible.

Agnihotri argued that there was no valid reason for the resignation of the independent MLAs. These resignations, he claimed, were obtained under pressure and as part of a deal, with the BJP buying out what was available in the political market and imposing the elections.

Prominent leaders present at the event included Congress National General Secretary Sachin Pilot, Rajeev Shukla, Pratibha Singh, Ministers Dhani Ram Shandil, Harshwardhan Chauhan, Rohit Thakur, Vikramaditya Singh, KP Rana, CPS Chaudhary Ram Kumar, Sunder Thakur, and Sanjay Awasthi, among others.

Sukhu panicked before defeat, deployed police behind BJP candidate: Rakesh Jamwal

DHARAMSHALA, JUL 9

Dehra Assembly by-election coordinator, BJP chief spokesperson and Sundarnagar MLA Rakesh Jamwal has said in a statement issued to the press that even after taking a loan of 30 thousand crores, Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu is misleading the people of the state by making hue and cry that the treasury is empty. Even after taking a loan of crores of rupees, Sukhu has not been able to get even a penny of development done in the state. He said that Sukhu should issue a white paper to the public as to where did the crores of rupees taken as loan go. He said that a group of friends is spending billions of rupees to win the Dehra election. Sukhu government has deployed plainclothes police behind BJP candidate Hoiyar Singh, a video of which has also gone viral. From this, it can be guessed what kind of tactics Sukhu is resorting to to get his wife Kamlesh Thakur elected.

He said that Hoshiar Singh's victory from Dehra is certain, Sukhu is nervous about this. He said that the government machinery is contesting the elections in the state and Sukhu's government is lagging behind. Despite this, BJP will register its victory in all these three by-elections. He said that after these elections, there is a change in leadership in the state. Rakesh Jamwal said that Sukhu government has currently become a mountain of false announcements, under which the public is suffering. The law and order situation in the state has completely collapsed due to the abundance of murder, rape, robbery. The people of the state are feeling unsafe. He said that Sukhu government is hell-bent on winning this election by creating an atmosphere of terror, but the public will soon give an answer to Sukhu government. He said that Sukhu is blaming others for his failures. In one and a half years, Sukhu government has thrown dust in the eyes of the people of the state.

Sukhu government's pot of sins is full: Hoshiyar Singh

DHARAMSHALA, JUL 9

BJP candidate from Dehra Hoshiyar Singh has said that whatever tactics Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu adopts, the people of Dehra will show him the mirror on July 13. He said that Sukhu government has left no stone unturned in creating an atmosphere of terror in Dehra in the name of police patrolling, but the time to end Sukhu's terror is near. Hoshiyar Singh said that Sukhu's pot of sins is full and can burst anytime now.

He said that Sukhu's second name will be written in the pages of history after Hitler. The public will be seen cursing him. BJP candidate Hoshiyar Singh said that in the by-elections being held in Dehra, Sukhu government is adopting all the tactics by keeping the law at bay and an attempt is being made to silence the voice of the people of Dehra.

He said that the time is about to change and Hitler's rule is also about to end from the state. He said that Congress has grabbed power by telling lies once, but Sukhu cannot fool the public again and again.

He said that the people of Dehra have made up their mind to make him victorious with a huge margin, seeing which Sukhu has lost his mental balance. He said that after coming to power, the government and the government machinery have been misused, which the public is seeing with their own eyes.

He said that Chief Minister Sukhu has also played with the hope and trust of the people of the state by giving false guarantees. The election results of Dehra will be in favor of BJP.

By-election: Bilaspur social worker challenges Hamirpur Doctor and Engineer

RAJNEESH SHARMA
HAMIRPUR: In the Hamirpur by-election, BJP's engineer Ashish Sharma and Congress's doctor Pushpendra Verma are facing a challenge from an independent candidate, Nand Lal, a social worker from Bilaspur. Nand Lal, who previously contested the recent Lok Sabha elections against BJP MP

Anurag Thakur and Congress candidate Satpal Raizada, garnered only 1,017 votes. Despite this, he has decided to contest the by-election once again. In the Lok Sabha elections, he received 48 votes from the Hamirpur Assembly constituency. Remarkably, Nand Lal hails not from Hamirpur but from Auhar in Bilaspur district. Nand Lal's campaign method is unique. He has not utilized posters, flex banners, rallies, or public meetings for his election campaign. Instead, he sits in a temple and conveys his message to passersby. Known for his social work, particularly in assisting with the marriages of underprivileged girls, Nand Lal advocates for purity in politics. He expresses concern over the corruption brought about by the influence of money in politics. He emphasizes that the number of votes is less important than the number of people who hear his message.

Editorial

Feel the heat

The far-Right across Europe has more voting power than ever before. In last month’s elections to the Parliament of the European Union, far-Right parties across 27 nations captured over a fourth of the 720 seats. This means that the far-Right coalition could effectively immobilise EU-wide governance until the next election, five years from now. And a key area of law-making which not only impacts Europe but also the world is at risk: climate change.

Although far-Right parties across Europe are using the same anti-immigrant rhetoric that they have in the last decade, this year saw a major shift with these parties weaving in attacks on climate change policies into their rhetoric. Almost without exception, far-Right parties have remained ambiguous on concrete proposals on how to effectively respond to demands for reaching the CO2 emission targets set by the Paris Agreement, preferring instead to cast doubt on the entire decarbonisation project and attack green politicians and their initiatives as either willfully ignorant or maliciously dismissive of the concerns of voters who already feel that they are economically stretched thin.

Take Germany, for example. Last summer, the German Greens outlined a bill that would require all new buildings in Germany to instal heating systems that use at least 65% renewable energy. In a leaked version of the bill, the language also mandated that any building, including private homes, with broken heating systems would be required to meet this goal. The bill was met with widespread resistance and protest. The Alternative for Germany, smelling blood in the water, quickly capitalised on the discontentment. Alice Weidel, an AfD leader, called the law a “prosperity annihilation in reality absolute gigantic dimensions”. Almost instantly, the AfD saw a significant jump in polling, going from 15% to 21% in a matter of weeks, making the party the second most popular one in Germany. The AfD cast itself as the party of freedom and choice while the Greens and its allies became dictatorial, socialist boogymen. “They tell you which car you have to drive, what heating you have to use and what to eat and everything. It’s no more a free country,” one voter told Politico in October 2023.

Despite a polling dip following a scandal where a leak revealed AfD members meeting with neo-Nazis and discussing plans to deport German citizens with “migration backgrounds”, the AfD saw its biggest electoral success in the EU parliamentary elections since its founding in 2013. Meanwhile, the parties of the current coalition government — the Greens, the neo-liberal Free Democrats, and the Centre-Left Social Democrats — each performed poorly. In particular, the Social Democrats, Germany’s oldest party and the party of the current chancellor, Olaf Scholz, saw its worst electoral performance in the party’s 161-year history.

Thousands of high-risk cancer gene variants

Scientists have uncovered over 5,000 genetic variations that allow some malignancies to grow, as well as a possible therapeutic target for treating or even preventing these cancers from arising.

Researchers from the Wellcome Sanger Institute, The Institute of Cancer Research, London, and the University of Cambridge evaluated the health effects of genetic alterations in BAP1, a ‘tumour defence’ gene. They discovered that almost one-fifth of these potential mutations were pathogenic, considerably raising the likelihood of developing malignancies of the eye, lung lining, brain, skin, and kidney.

The findings, published in Nature Genetics, are freely available so that they can be immediately used by doctors to help diagnose patients and choose the most effective therapies for them1. Importantly, as all possible variants were assessed, the findings benefit individuals from diverse ethnic backgrounds, who have historically been underrepresented in genetics research.

The team also uncovered a link between certain disruptive BAP1 variants and higher levels of IGF-1, a hormone and growth factor. This discovery opens the door to developing new drugs that could inhibit these harmful effects, potentially slowing down or preventing the progression of certain cancers.

The BAP1 protein acts as a powerful tumour suppressor in the body, protecting against cancers of the eye, lung lining, brain, skin, and kidney. Inherited variants that disrupt the protein can increase a person’s lifetime risk of developing these cancers by up to 50 per cent2, typically occurring around middle age.

Detecting these variants early through genetic screening can guide preventative measures, greatly enhance treatment effectiveness and improve quality of life for individuals affected. However, until now, there has been limited understanding of which specific genetic changes in BAP1 to look out for, especially for rare variants that cause it to malfunction and fuel cancer growth.

Researchers from the Sanger Institute, and their collaborators at The Institute of Cancer Research and the University of Cambridge tested all 18,108 possible DNA changes in the BAP1 gene by artificially altering the genetic code of human cells grown in a dish, in a process known as ‘saturation genome editing’. They identified that 5,665 of these changes were harmful and disrupted the protein’s protective effects3. Analysis of UK Biobank data confirmed that individuals carrying these harmful BAP1 variants are over ten per cent more likely to be diagnosed with cancer than the general population.

The team also discovered that people with harmful BAP1 variants have elevated levels of IGF-1 in their blood, a hormone linked to both cancer growth and brain development. Even individuals without cancer showed these elevated levels, suggesting that IGF-1 could be a target for new treatments to slow down or prevent certain cancers. Further analysis revealed harmful BAP1 variants and higher IGF-1 levels were linked to worse outcomes in uveal melanoma patients, highlighting the potential for IGF-1 inhibitors in cancer therapy.

Notably, the technique profiles all possible BAP1 variants from diverse populations, not only those prevalent in European clinical records, helping to address the underrepresentation of non-European populations in genetic studies.

Dr Andrew Waters, first author of the study at the Wellcome Sanger Institute, said: “Previous approaches for studying how variants effect function in genes have been on a very small scale, or exclude important contexts that may contribute to how they behave. Our approach provides a true picture of gene behaviour, enabling larger and more complex studies of genetic variation4. This opens up new possibilities for understanding how these changes drive disease.”

Professor Clare Turnbull, clinical lead of the study, Professor of Translational Cancer Genetics at The Institute of Cancer Research, London, and Consultant in Clinical Cancer Genetics at The Royal Marsden NHS Foundation, said, “This research could mean more accurate interpretation of genetic tests, earlier diagnoses and improved outcomes for patients and their families.”

Dr David Adams, senior author of the study at the Wellcome Sanger Institute, said, “We want to ensure that life-saving genetic insights are accessible and relevant to all people, regardless of their ancestry. Our aim is to apply this technique to a wider range of genes, potentially covering the entire human genome in the next decade with the Atlas of Variant Effects.”

Is Laos next in line to fall victim to China's debt trap diplomacy?

Laos, a Southeast Asian nation situated between Thailand and Vietnam, is now seeking more time to pay its debts. A recent report suggests that the country’s debt has nearly doubled, reaching USD 950 million in 2023, up from USD 507 million in 2022. The majority of this debt is owed to China, according to local news outlet, The Laotian Times.

Citing a report from the Ministry of External Affairs in Laos from June this year, the same news report stated that the country had deferred a debt of USD 670 million in 2023, excluding the USD 1.22 billion that had already been deferred since 2020.

According to The Laotian Times, Laos currently has a total of USD 13.8 billion in public debt, amounting to 108 per cent of its GDP. Notably, around USD 10.5 billion of this debt is owed to China.

This heavy debt situation surfaced as China increased its lending to small countries that lack capability to repay. As a result, China can capture the assets of these countries for its expansionist motives. Meanwhile, a depreciation in the currency of Laos, the Kip, could worsen the situation for the small country. This makes Laos’s economy more vulnerable to the debt trap strategy. According to the Laotian Times report, the Kip of Laos dropped by 31 per cent against the US dollar last year, making repayment difficult as 59 per cent of the total debt is denominated in US dollars. According to another report by Nikkei Asia, the Nam Ou hydroelectric plant, one of the largest power generation facilities in the country’s north by capacity, was built by the Power Construction Corp. of China (Power China) for USD 2.8 billion .

POEM

Give Me Strength

This is my prayer to thee, my lord---strike, strike at the root of penury in my heart. Give me the strength lightly to bear my joys and sorrows. Give me the strength to make my love fruitful in service. Give me the strength never to disown the poor or bend my knees before insolent might. Give me the strength to raise my mind high above daily trifles. And give me the strength to surrender my strength to thy will with love.

Study finds how neurological symptoms associated with aura, migraine

For the first time, new research explains the relationship between the neurological symptoms of aura and the ensuing migraine, elucidating how a brain fluid flow disruption and a spreading wave of disruption cause headaches. New proteins uncovered in the study may also be the basis for future migraine medications since they may be the cause of headaches.

The findings of the study appeared in the journal Science.

"In this study, we describe the interaction between the central and peripheral nervous system brought about by increased concentrations of proteins released in the brain during an episode of spreading depolarization, a phenomenon responsible for the aura associated with migraines," said Maiken Nedergaard, MD, DMSc, co-director of the University of Rochester Center for Translational Neuromedicine and lead author of the new study.

"These findings provide us with a host of new targets to suppress sensory nerve activation to prevent and treat migraines and strengthen existing therapies."

It is estimated that one out of 10 people experience migraines and in about a quarter of these cases the headache is preceded by an aura, a sensory disturbance that can include light flashes, blind spots, double vision, and tingling sensations or limb numbness. These symptoms typically appear five to 60 minutes prior to the headache.

The cause of the aura is a phenomenon called cortical spreading depression, a temporary depolarization of neurons and other cells caused by diffusion of glutamate and potassium that radiates like a wave across the brain, reducing oxygen levels and impairing blood flow. Most frequently, the depolarization event is located in the visual processing center of the brain cortex, hence the visual symptoms that first herald a coming headache.

While migraines auras arise in the brain, the organ itself cannot sense pain. These signals must instead be transmitted from the central nervous system—the brain and spinal cord—to the peripheral nervous system, the communication network that transmits information between brain with the rest of the body and includes sensory nerves responsible for sending information such as touch and pain. The process of communication between the brain and peripheral sensory nerves in migraines has largely remained a mystery.

Nedergaard and her colleagues at the University of Rochester and the University of Copenhagen are pioneers in understanding the flow of fluids in the brain. In 2012, her lab was the first to describe the glymphatic system, which uses cerebrospinal fluid (CSF) to wash away toxic proteins in the brain. In partnership with experts in fluid dynamics, the team has built detailed models of how the CSF moves in the brain and its role in transporting proteins, neurotransmitters, and other chemicals. The most widely accepted theory is that nerve endings resting on the outer surface of the membranes that enclose the brain are responsible for the headaches that follow an aura. The new study, which was conducted in mice, describes a different route and identifies proteins, many of which are potential new drug targets, that may be responsible for activating the nerves and causing pain. As the depolarization wave spreads, neurons release a host of inflammatory and other proteins into CSF. In a series of experiments in mice, the researchers showed how CSF transports these proteins to the trigeminal ganglion, a large bundle of nerves that rests at the base of the skull and supplies sensory information to the head and face.

Health habits that are doing you more harm than good

In order to stay fit and healthy, some of us decide to hit the gym daily (if some of us are even up to it). Or we look to escape the city's hustle and bustle by plugging in our headphones and tuning it all out. Or maybe we try a new diet to cut out all the snack breaks. What you may or may not realise is that these habits may be doing you more harm than good. Here's how:

Hitting the gym daily
Myth: The gym everyday is ideal to lead a healthy lifestyle. If not the gym, you try to fit in at least 30 minutes of jogging around the neighborhood or a few push-ups and chin-ups at home.

Reality: Hitting the gym or working out too hard or too often leads to an excessive amount of weight loss or weight gain. Researchers from the Loyola University also showed that overtraining of the body leads to overstrain, which further leads to injuries. It can also upset menstrual cycles and cause amenorrhea. So, switch the intensity of your workouts, and be sure to exercise every third day rather than everyday.

Wearing flats only
Myth: Stock up on open-toed sandals, brogues, moccasins, and ballet flats to avoid the endless bumps and bunions that come along with wearing high heels. Everyday life calls for switching out of these heels and stepping into comfy flats.

Reality: Believe it or not, podiatry experts say that women may be better off in heels than flats. The main problem caused by such shoes is the inflammation of the toes due to its tapering form. Flats without any arch support actually place greater pressure on the ligaments of the foot. The solution: Alternate your footwear between cushioned flats and broad-based heels.

Cutting out junk snacks
Myth: Replace your wafers with almonds and the ice cream with a bottle of juice to aspire for a healthy lifestyle.

Reality: It's not so much about what snacks you're replacing, but rather the quantity of snacks you intake. Consuming foods like juices that contain sucrose, cause a sharp increase in one's blood and sugar level. More than a handful of almonds everyday can lead to excessive weight gain. Include healthier snacks like yogurt, fruits, berries, or oatmeal to fill in your mid-afternoon and mid-evening snack cravings. This is the ideal way to snack.

Factors That May Increase Your Car Insurance Premium

Getting your car insured is a crucial part of owning a vehicle in India. It is mandatory by law and provides a sense of security and peace of mind for your vehicle. However, you might have noticed that your car insurance premium can fluctuate. Several factors influence these changes, and understanding them can help you make informed decisions. Here are five things that can increase your car insurance premium in India. Car Model and Type:

The type and model of your car significantly impact the insurance premium. High-end cars or luxury vehicles usually have higher premiums due to their expensive parts and repair costs. For instance, if you own an expensive SUV or a luxury sedan like a BMW or Mercedes, expect the insurance premium to be higher than a more affordable hatchback or sedan. The type of engine and its capacity also play a critical role in determining the amount of your premium. For example, if you have a vehicle that runs on diesel, the motor insurance premium for it is likely to be higher than that of a car that runs on petrol. The simple reason is diesel vehicles are more expensive than petrol ones.

The engine's capacity is called cubic capacity (CC). It reflects the total power produced by your vehicle engine. Your vehicle's CC is one of the critical components that help the insurer determine your premium. The higher your car's CC, the more expensive your premium is likely to be.

Moreover, environmentally friendly electric cars might have higher insurance costs. Though the Indian government encourages electric vehicles (EVs) with various incentives, insurance premiums for some electric cars could be relatively higher due to the expensive technology used in these vehicles.

Insured Declared Value/IDV
IDV, or Insured Declared Value, is how much your car is currently worth on the market. IDV is a big deal in insurance because it affects how much you pay for your car insurance premium. When you buy a new car, the IDV in an insurance policy is equal to 95% of the car's ex-showroom price provided by the manufacturer. This is because the depreciation of a new vehicle is usually 5%, so when we deduct this from the ex-showroom price, we get the above value, i.e., 95%. Over time, IDV is reduced owing to the age of the vehicle and other factors. So, the IDV of a four-year-old car is less than a brand-new car. This is the reduction of the market value of your car over time.

Federation of Private School Welfare Association expresses grief over bus accident

NIRMAL SAINI
RADAUR : District President of Federation of Private School Welfare Association, Malkhan Singh Lal Chhappar has expressed grief over the accident of Haryana Roadways bus in Pinjore. He said that this incident is very sad, efforts should be made by the government and society to stop such incidents. He said that the government has adopted discrimination in this incident. After the incident, Transport Minister suspended driver and conductor, but if such an incident occurs with a private school bus, then on the orders of the government, the operator and principal of that school are also arrested. Whereas in such an accident, the school operator and principal are not at fault at all. When a Haryana Roadways bus meets with an accident, no such action is taken against the General Manager and Transport Minister of Roadways. Is the law and order made only to take action against operators and principals of private schools? If the school operators and principals are guilty when a private school bus crashes, then the Roadways GM and the Transport Minister should also be equally guilty when a Haryana Roadways bus crashes. He has demanded that such discriminatory law and order system should be changed and fair justice should be given to all.

BJP govt is mocking poor by giving 30-30 sq yard plots: Selja

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA SIRSA, JULY 9

The General Secretary of the All India Congress Committee, former Union Minister, and MP from Sirsa Lok Sabha constituency, Kumari Selja said that the BJP government of the state is mocking the poor, farmers, youth, and employees. Families living below the poverty line who were supposed to receive 100-100 square yard plots for free are now being given 30-30 square yard plots for a payment of one lakh rupees, which will have to be paid in installments. It is said that a loan of up to 6 lakhs will be made available for house construction. In such a situation, how will a poor family pay at least 13,000 rupees in installments? The government has entangled them in the name of plots. When they cannot arrange for the money, they will have to leave the plot. In a statement released to the media Kumari Selja said that the then Chief Minister Manohar Lal had announced that in 11 cities, poor people with an income of less than 1.80 lakh rupees would be given 30 square yard plots under the Housing for All scheme. Under this scheme, 10,000 rupees must be deposited within 30 days of receiving the provisional allotment letter, and the remaining 80,000 rupees must be deposited in six installments. According to the condition, the plot holder must build a residential unit within one year of allotment and complete the construction within 24 months. The plot can only be used for residential construction, and it cannot be sold or leased for 10 years from the date of allotment. Kumari Selja said that according to the condition, the beneficiary will be given a home loan facility of up to 6 lakh rupees from banks/financial institutions at interest. She said that the beneficiary will have to pay at least 13,000 rupees per month as plot and bank installments, which is impossible for a BPL family. How will a family with an income of less than 1.80 lakh rupees manage to pay 13,000 rupees in installments and also support the family? If the conditions of the government are not met, they will have to surrender the plot. She said that giving 30-30 square yard plots to the poor is a mockery. Kumari Selja said that if the government had to give plots, they should have been given for free. Kumari Selja said that during the Congress rule, 100-100 square yard plots were given to the poor for free. The BJP government has mocked the poor by giving 30-30 square yard plots for money instead of following that policy. She said that when the Congress government comes to power, 100-100 square yard plots will be given to the poor for free.

Ananya Panday becomes maasi as cousin Alanna welcomes baby boy

Ananya Panday expressed her excitement as her cousin Alanna Panday and husband Ivor McCray welcomed their baby boy. Alanna and Ivor took to their Instagram account to drop the news with an adorable video. In the clip, the new parents and their son can be seen dressed in blue. Along with the video, the couple added a caption that reads, "Our little angel is here." Excited Ananya reposted the video on her Instagram Story. Sharing her happiness, the 'Gehraiyaan' actress welcomed her nephew with a note that read, "My beautiful baby boy nephew is here." Earlier in March, the couple hosted a grand baby shower, where the who's who of Bollywood marked their presence. Alanna Panday and Ivor McCray, who got married in Mumbai last year, announced that they are expecting their first baby in February. Posting a video on Instagram, Alanna Panday wrote in her caption, "We love you so much already, we can't wait to meet you." Meanwhile, on the work front, Ananya

Panday has some exciting projects lined up. She'll be starring in the TV series 'Call Me Bae' with Varun Dhawan and Vir Das. The show follows a billionaire fashionista disowned by her family after a scandal and her journey to independence. Earlier in May, makers took to their Instagram account to share a fresh poster of the series announcing that it will begin streaming on September 6. With Ananya Panday leading the cast as Bella Bae Chowdhary, the series also features actors Vir Das, Gurfateh Pirzada, Varun

Sood, Vihaan Samat, Muskaan Jaferi, Niharika Lyra Dutt, Lisa Mishra, and Mini Mathur. Produced by Dharmatic Entertainment and boasting Karan Johar, Apoorva Mehta, and Somen Mishra as Executive Producers, the series stars Ananya Panday in her OTT debut. She is also gearing up for her upcoming ventures, 'Control' and 'The Untold Story of C Sankaran Nair.' Ananya was last seen on OTT in 'Kho Gaye Hum Kahan' for which she got a lot of accolades. It saw her alongside Siddhant Chaturvedi and Adarsh Gourav.

Sudesh Berry enters 'Vanshaj' as Amarjeet Talwar, a formidable business rival of the Mahajans

CHANDIGARH :Sony SAB's 'Vanshaj' explores the complexities of inheritance, highlighting a social bias towards male heirs. These norms fuel a conflict between Yuvika (Anjali Tatrari) and Digvijay Mahajan aka DJ (Mahir Pandhi) as they compete for power within the Mahajan empire. In the upcoming episodes, Yuvika takes charge of the Mahajan Empire. While advancing the business and securing multiple deals, she encounters Talwar family, who are business rivals of the Mahajans. Senior actor Sudesh Berry steps into the role of Amarjeet Talwar, a seasoned businessman and head of the Talwar family. As a former business partner of Bhanupratap Mahajan, Amarjeet harbors a deep-seated grudge against the Mahajans due to past conflicts. Amarjeet's character brings a new layer of intrigue to the storyline, intensifying the rivalry between the two families and unraveling long-buried secrets that threaten to alter their dynamics significantly. In the new chapter of Vanshaj, Amarjeet's strong-willed attitude and determination to settle old scores will create significant challenges for Yuvika. His arrival will not only escalate the rivalry between their families but will also bring hidden truths to light. Sudesh Berry, who will be essaying the character of Amarjeet Talwar said, "I am thrilled to step into the dynamic role of Amarjeet Talwar in Vanshaj. His complex character presents a compelling challenge for me as an actor. I look forward to playing Amarjeet who is charismatic and is a charmer, yet when it comes to decision making he is very aristocratic and ruthless. The story is set to turn a new leaf with the introducing of my character and viewers will get to see a new rivalry that will pose a significant threat to Yuvika and the Mahajans. Vanshaj has been received well by the audience, and I am looking forward to adding a new layer to the show."

"I want a partner like Aryaman," says Ulka Gupta as she talks about her on-screen experience on Zee TV's Main Hoon Saath Tere CHANDIGARH: Every girl has a list of qualities she desires in her partner and hopes to fulfill most, if not all, of them when choosing 'the one'. Television actress Ulka Gupta is no exception. She has a clear idea of the type of man she wants in her life. Currently portraying Janvi in Zee TV's 'Main Hoon Saath Tere,' Ulka shares that she would like someone with the qualities of her onscreen love interest, Aryaman, played by Karan Vohra. When she thinks about settling down, she envisions a partner like him—practical, yet sensitive, and supportive. Ulka Gupta said, "Whenever I think about listing the qualities I want in a partner, they would definitely include kindness, politeness, intelligence, good communication skills, and the ability to express his feelings. Aryaman's character on our show, played by Karan Vohra, is the perfect example. He not only possesses these qualities but also has immense love for his family and respects personal boundaries. Moreover, he knows how to support his partner both emotionally and professionally. These characteristics are essential because I believe they contribute to a harmonious partnership. Just like Aryaman is with Janvi, I hope my life partner will bring out the best in me and enrich every aspect of our journey together." While Ulka wishes to have a partner like Aryaman in the future, it will be interesting for the viewers to watch if Aryaman's proposal to Janvi will make her listen to her heart. Will it be the beginning of a love story? To know more, tune in to Main Hoon Saath Tere, every day at 07:30 pm on Zee TV!
