Rising militancy

The spurt in terror attacks in Jammu & Kashmir — the latest strike in Kathua district claimed the lives of five army personnel — is a grim reminder of Pakistan-sponsored nefarious elements spreading their tentacles in the region and exposes the hollowness of the government's claims on the restoration of normalcy. The Kathua attack, the fifth in the Jammu region in a month, pointed to both tactical lapses in the security apparatus and the scale of the challenge that has to be grappled with ahead of the Assembly elections. Kashmir Tigers, a shadow outfit of the banned Pakistan-based Jaish-e-Mohammad (JeM), has claimed responsibility for the attack. The Jammu region, known for its peaceful atmosphere, has been shaken in recent months by a series of ambushes on security vehicles, search parties and military convoys, particularly in the border districts of Poonch, Rajouri, Doda and Reasi, resulting in casualties among both civilians and security personnel. The back-to-back incidents reveal a clear pattern that Pakistani handlers are keen to reignite militancy in the Jammu region where it was believed to have been wiped out two decades ago. Terrorist handlers from across the border appear to have become emboldened with the way they have been able to execute the attacks at will. One of the most tragic incidents occurred on June 9 when terrorists attacked a bus carrying pilgrims from the Shiv Khori temple in Reasi district, claiming the lives of nine persons. The terror attacks pose a complex challenge which needs to be addressed by both military and political measures. No terror challenge has been overcome by military means alone. Last week, Prime Minister Narendra Modi said in Parliament the fight against terrorism in J&K is in its last stage, and that a multi-pronged strategy had been adopted to destroy the remaining network. Democratic empowerment, making the people the genuine stakeholders in development, will be the best way to foil the devious designs of terrorists to disrupt the normal rhythms of the state and society. The final step of integration of the troubled region will be the free and fair conduct of Assembly elections before September 30, as mandated by the Supreme Court and the return to statehood. The safe conduct of the Amarnath yatra and the holding of local elections should be the immediate priority for the central government.

Glacier exploitation threatens Pakistan's ecological future

The illegal cutting and commercial exploitation of glaciers in regions like Dir, Chitral, Swat, Shangla, Kaghan, Naran, and other parts of Khyber Pakhtunkhwa pose a grave threat to the ecological and climatic stability of the province. These activities flagrantly violate environmental protection statutes and regulations governing KP, Dawn reported. Pakistan boasts over 7,000 glaciers, forming the largest mass of ice outside the polar regions. Northern Pakistan, crisscrossed by the Karakoram, Himalayan, and Hindu Kush mountain ranges, is a landscape shaped by ice and rock. These glaciers are vital for local communities, providing crucial irrigation and sustaining life in the north. Local inhabitants have developed intricate canal systems to harness glacier meltwater for agriculture. However, climate change has profoundly impacted Pakistan, causing temperatures to soar and snow to melt rapidly, resulting in devastating floods that frequently destroy villages and claim lives. Like alpine regions worldwide, Pakistan's glaciers are receding at an alarming rate. Khyber Pakhtunkhwa is home to approximately 3,050 glaciers, primarily in its northern reaches. These glaciers are indispensable for the region's water resources and ecological balance. Shockingly, certain individuals and entities are illicitly extracting and transporting glacier ice for commercial gain, cutting glaciers into large blocks. This exploitation rapidly depletes these critical natural resources.

Local reports indicate that during recent years, particularly during Ramazan, 200 to 300 mini-trucks loaded with ice blocks were daily transported from Upper Dir to other parts of Dir, Bajaur, Malakand, and even Mardan Districts. Sadly, much of the local population remains unaware of the glaciers' vital role in their area's ecological system, as reported by Dawn.

Despite Pakistan's obligations under international environmental laws, there is a glaring absence of specific legislation addressing glacier protection at both national and provincial levels. The Environmental Protection Act of 1997, the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Environmental Protection Act of 2014, and the Climate Change Act of 2017 do not mention glaciers, highlighting a critical legal void given their pivotal role in the region's ecological and climatic stability.

In 2010, Argentina set a global precedent by passing the world's first national glacier protection law, which bans mining, industrial activities, and other harmful practices near glaciers. In January 2024, Tajikistan followed suit with its own glacier protection legislation.

The unauthorised cutting of glaciers flagrantly violates existing environmental protection laws and regulations in KP. These actions demand immediate investigation and the enforcement of appropriate legal penalties against the perpetrators. Glacier depletion disrupts fragile ecological balances, adversely affecting local flora and fauna.

The loss of glaciers undermines biodiversity preservation efforts and threatens endangered species in these regions. Glaciers also play a critical role in global climate regulation by reflecting solar radiation and maintaining temperature balance. Their reduction accelerates global warming and climate change, with severe repercussions for weather patterns, agriculture, and human health.

These glaciers serve as vital freshwater reservoirs. Their degradation will significantly reduce water availability for local communities, agriculture, and wildlife, jeopardising food security and livelihoods. The natural beauty and pristine environments of these regions attract a substantial tourist influx, contributing significantly to the local economy. Glacier destruction threatens tourism revenues, causing economic losses for communities dependent on this sector.

Pakistan, a signatory to the Paris Agreement and numerous international climate and environmental protection treaties, is obligated to safeguard its glacier reserves. The United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, including the Kyoto Protocol and Paris Agreement, mandates greenhouse gas reduction efforts crucial for mitigating glacier melt and preservation.

Article 2 of the Paris Agreement aims to limit global warming to well below two degrees Celsius, with efforts to cap the increase at 1.5°C, critical targets for curbing glacier melt rates.

Call for justice and recognition of 1971 Bangladesh genocide intensifies

Calls for justice and recognition of the 1971 Bangladesh genocide are intensifying, as highlighted in a recent international event. Organised by 'Genocide 71,' an initiative of Mukto Ashor and Bangladesh History Olympiad, the event featured diverse voices emphasising the need for global acknowledgment and education about the atrocities committed by the West Pakistani army and their collaborators. With eyewitness accounts and advocacy from human rights activists, researchers, and former legislators, the push for international recognition and justice for the victims of the genocide, which resulted in an estimated 3 million deaths, is gaining momentum.

A webinar titled "International Webinar on Bangladesh Genocide, Justice for the victims 53 years and counting" was organised on Saturday. Muktoi Ashor is a prominent non-governmental organisation from Bangladesh. The webinar was hosted by Priyajit Debsarkar, an independent geopolitical analyst.

The webinar featured a range of speakers, each bringing unique perspectives and expertise. "On March 25th, 1971, 53 years ago, the West Pakistani army, along with local collaborators, perpetrated horrific atrocities in Bangladesh. We pay our tributes and respects to those who fell that day. Their targets were civilians, including students, women, and children. They were eagerly anticipating the restoration of democracy after the General Election of 1970" said Priyajit in his remarks. Ian Martin, an English human rights activist who witnessed the early days of the conflict in Dhaka, highlighted the importance of remembering these events despite their relative obscurity in the West.

Xi Jinping directly responsible for Uyghur genocide: East Turkistan Govt in Exile

The East Turkistan Government in Exile (ETGE), representing East Turkistan and its people, said that the Court of the Citizens of the World, a quasi-judicial body, has held Chinese President Xi Jinping "directly responsible for the genocide of Uyghurs." East Turkistan, also known as the Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region of China, lies in the very heart of Asia. In October of 1949, the People's Liberation Army (PLA) troops marched into East Turkistan, effectively ending the ETR. The Chinese communists established the Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region in the territory of East

Turkistan. The ETGE, officially the Government in Exile of the Republic of East Turkistan, is a political organisation established and headquartered in Washington, DC by Uyghurs, Kazakhs, and other peoples from East Turkistan. "The China Tribunal delivered its final verdict on China's atrocities in Occupied East Turkistan (so-called Xinjiang). The presiding Judge emphasised that East Turkistan is an 'area which was supposed to be independent.' He asserted that China's underlying motive for its crimes is to prevent East Turkistan's independence and to forcibly integration East Turkistan and its people into a single Chinese nation." ETGE said in a social media post. "The Judge underscored that international law mandates the recognition of the right to self-determination. He concluded that China systematically planned and executed acts of genocide and crimes against humanity targeting Uyghurs and other Turkic peoples and Chinese dictator Xi Jinping is directly responsible for the crimes. The Judge further highlighted that the ongoing Uyghur Genocide is a continuous vigorous attack aiming to completely annihilate the Uyghur community," the post added. The Court of the Citizens of the World, a quasi-judicial body, launched the 'China Tribunal' in The Hague, Netherlands, holding hearings from July 8 to 12. The tribunal included charges against Chinese President Xi Jinping, covering counts including crimes of aggression, crimes against humanity, and genocide in Taiwan, Tibet, and East Turkistan (Xinjiang). Testimonies from victims of Chinese persecution were presented during the court proceedings.

POEMS

I Knew A Woman

I knew a woman, lovely in her bones, When small birds sighed, she would sigh back at them; Ah, when she moved, she moved more ways than one: The shapes a bright container can contain! Of her choice virtues only gods should speak, Or English poets who grew up on Greek (I'd have them sing in a chorus, cheek to cheek). How well her wishes went! She stroked my chin, She taught me Turn, and Counter-turn, and Stand; She taught me Touch, that undulant white skin; I nibbled meekly from her proffered hand; She was the sickle; I, poor I, the rake, Coming behind her for her pretty sake (But what prodigious mowing we did make). Love likes a gander, and adores a goose: Her full lips pursed, the errant notes to sieze; She played it quick, she played it light and loose; My eyes, they dazzled at her flowing knees; Her several parts could keep a pure repose, Or one hip quiver with a mobile nose (She moved in circles, and those circles moved). Let seed be grass, and grass turn into hay: I'm martyr to a motion not my own; What's freedom for? To know eternity. I swear she cast a shadow white as stone. But who would count eternity in days? These old bones live to learn her wanton ways: (I measure time by how a body sways).

Global trade in liquefied natural gas continued to grow in 2023

Liquefied natural gas (LNG) trade increased 3.1 per cent globally in 2023 to average 52.9 billion cubic feet per day (Bcf/d), an increase of 1.6 Bcf/d from 2022, according to a report from the International Group of Liquefied Natural Gas Importers (GIIGNL). Expanded export and import capacity and increasing natural gas demand drove the growth in global LNG trade last year.

Published by the US Energy Information Administration (EIA), the report says LNG export capacity expanded primarily in the United States, Mozambique, Russia, Indonesia, Norway, and Oman. In the United States, Freeport LNG returned to service in February 2023 after being offline since June 2022, and it was operating at full production capacity by April. Developers in both Mozambique and Russia commissioned new projects in 2022 -- the 0.4-Bcf/d Coral South Floating LNG in Mozambique and the 0.2-Bcf/d Portovaya LNG in Russia--and these projects reached full production in 2023. In Indonesia, the Tangguh LNG export facility added a third train. Norway and Oman increased LNG production capacity by optimising operational efficiency of existing LNG plants.

In 2023, the United States became the world's largest LNG exporter, with exports increasing by 12 per cent compared with 2022. Exports from the three largest global LNG exporters--the United States, Australia, and Qatar -- accounted for 60 per cent of all LNG exports in 2023. Algeria's LNG exports increased 0.4 Bcf/d as additional natural gas feedstock became available from the newly commissioned production fields. Exports also increased from Norway and Australia mainly due to optimization of the export plants' operational performance and from Indonesia after a capacity expansion at Tangguh LNG.

LNG import capacity was expanded primarily in Europe and Asia. In Europe, operators placed several new Floating Storage and Regasification Units in service and expanded regasification capacity at some existing terminals. In Asia, new capacity was added primarily in China, India, the Philippines, and Vietnam.

Asian countries continued to lead the growth in LNG imports globally, with imports increasing by 3.5 per cent 1.2 Bcf/d in 2023. LNG imports increased by 12 per cent (1.0 Bcf/d) in China, the most of any country in the world, making China the world's largest LNG importer for the second year since 2021. LNG imports in India increased by 11 per cent (0.3 Bcf/d) as new regasification terminals were placed in service and LNG prices declined. Lower LNG prices also contributed to increased imports into Thailand (by 0.4 Bcf/d), Bangladesh (0.1 Bcf/d), and Singapore (by 0.1 Bcf/d).

LNG imports in Europe increased slightly by 1.4 per cent (0.2 Bcf/d). Imports into Germany -- the newest LNG importer -- averaged 0.7 Bcf/d. Imports also increased to countries that expanded regasification capacity, such as the Netherlands, Italy, and Finland. LNG imports to the United Kingdom, France, and Spain declined by a combined 1.3 Bcf/d, mainly because natural gas demand in these countries decreased.

In Latin America, LNG imports increased mainly in Colombia, by 0.1 Bcf/d. Colombia experienced drought and used LNG for natural gas-fired electric power plants to offset lower hydropower generation. In Brazil, LNG imports declined by 0.2 Bcf/d because more electricity was generated by hydropower, reducing demand for natural gas-fired electricity generation in 2023. LNG imports into Puerto Rico also increased by 0.1 Bcf/d.

In the later half of the powerplay, Marumani joined with Dion Myers and targeted Mukesh and spinner Ravi Bishnoi. Zimbabwe ended the powerplay on high, with three boundaries against Bishnoi and 16 runs from the over. At the end of six overs, Zimbabwe was 47/2, with Marumani (22*) and Myers (12*) unbeaten.

Zimbabwe reached the 50-run mark in 6.4 overs.

The 44-run stand between Marumani and Myers ended with Washington Sundar trapping Marumani leg-before-wicket for 27 in 24 balls, with five fours. Zimbabwe was 59/3 in 8.2 overs.

Skipper Sikandar Raza was at the crease and halfway through the innings, Zimbabwe was 69/3, with Raza (2*) and Myers (25*) unbeaten.

The partnership between Myers and Raza was yet another short one, as Dube got Myers' wicket with assistance from Abhishek Sharma for 34 in 32 balls, with four boundaries and a six. Zimbabwe was 85/4 in 12.4 overs.

Dube just could not be kept out of action as he ran out Raza for just eight and got the wicket of Jonathan Campbell for four runs in quick succession, reducing Zimbabwe to 90/6 in 14.4 overs.

The all-rounders were enjoying a feast on a tough Harare surface as Abhishek Sharma cleaned up wicketkeeper-batter Clive Madande for just one run, with Sanju Samson taking a fine catch. Zimbabwe was 94/7 in 15.1 overs.

Faraz Akram and Brandon Mavuta helped Zimbabwe put up some fight, helping them cross the 100-run mark in 16.2 overs. Akram targeted Tushar Deshpande with some fine hits. Deshpande got Mavuta for just four runs. Zimbabwe was 120/8 in 17.5 overs.

In the penultimate over, Mukesh got a dangerous Faraz caught behind by Samson for 27 in 13 balls, essentially sealing the game. Zimbabwe was 123/9 in 18.2 overs. He also removed Richard Ngarva for a duck, getting his fourth wicket. Zimbabwe was all out for 125 in 18.3 overs, losing by 42 runs.

Mukesh (4/22) was the pick of the bowlers for India. Dube also delivered a fine spell of 2/25. Abhishek, Washington and Tushar also got a wicket each.

Earlier, a fine half-century by Sanju Samson and a quickfire cameo by Shivam Dube powered India to a modest 167/6 in their 20 overs in the fifth and final T20I of the series against Zimbabwe at Harare on Sunday.

India needs to defend 168 runs in order to win the series 4-1.

After being put to bat by Zimbabwe, India started off with a bang, courtesy of two big sixes from opener Yashasvi Jaiswal on a no ball and first legal delivery of the first over by Sikandar Raza, the Zimbabwe skipper.

However, Raza had the last laugh as he clean bowled Jaiswal for 12 in five balls. India was 13/1 in 0.4 overs.

Abhishek Sharma joined the skipper, Shubman Gill, at the crease. The pair eased off some pressure by taking down Faraz Akram with two fours and a six in the third over. But in the next over, pacer Blessing Muzarabani removed Abhishek for 14 in 11 balls, with a four and six.

Wicketkeeper Clive Madande took a fine catch. India was 38/2 in 3.5 overs.

In the very next over, India landed in a big trouble as skipper Gill lost his wicket to Richard Ngarva for 13 in 14 balls, with Raza plucking a catch at mid-on. India was 40/3 in five overs.

At the end of six overs of powerplay,

India was 44/3, with Sanju Samson (3*) and Riyan Parag (1*) unbeaten.

Samson-Parag, teammates from Rajasthan Royals (RR) in the Indian Premier League (IPL), continued with their fine chemistry displayed in the league, this time in Indian colours.

They took India to the halfway point of the inning without much attacking, besides a six each from both. At the end of 10 overs, India was 75/3, with Samson (19*) and Parag (14*) unbeaten.

In the 12th over, Samson relieved some pressure by hitting Brandon Mavuta for two sixes and getting 15 runs off the over. The duo stitched their half-century partnership in 40 balls.

India reached the 100-run mark in 12.4 overs.

Mavuta got the scallop of Parag for 22 in 24 balls, with a six after the batter mistimed a slog which landed in the hands of Ngarva at long-off. The 65-run partnership was over. India was 105/3 in 14.2 overs.

A look at Samson-Parag's success as batting duo in T20s this year

Harare: India batters Sanju Samson and Riyan Parag continued their fine chemistry together as a batting duo, putting up an inning-saving partnership in the fifth and final T20I of the series against Zimbabwe at Harare on Sunday. A half-century partnership between Samson and Parag helped India overcome early wickets and push themselves to 167/6 in their 20 overs in the final game. Samson ended with a fine half-century, a knock of 58 in 45 balls, with a four and four sixes at a strike rate of 128.88, while Parag managed 22 in 24 balls, with a six at a strike rate of 91.66. They both put together a 65-run partnership, rescuing India from 40/3 and helping them cross the 100-run mark. In nine innings this year in T20 cricket, including their stint in the Indian Premier League (IPL) with Rajasthan Royals (RR) this season, Samson-Parag have put on 398 runs together at an average of 44.22. The run-rate while they play together is a really strong one at 8.12 per over. Samson and Parag have put on two fifty and one hundred run partnership, with their best partnership being a 130 run partnership for RR during the IPL. Coming to the match, Zimbabwe won the toss and elected to field first. They had India at 40/3 at one point until a 65-run partnership between Sanju Samson (58 in 45 balls, with a four and four sixes) and Riyan Parag (22 in 24 balls, with a six) and a fine cameo from Shivam Dube (26 in 12 balls, with two fours and two sixes) took India to 167/6 in their 20 overs. Blessing Muzarabani (2/19) was the pick of the bowlers for Zimbabwe. Richard Ngarva, Sikandar Raza, and Brandon Mavuta also got a wicket each.

"Hard to put into words the emotions that I felt this week": Anderson after retiring from international cricket

NEW DELHI: Days after retiring from Test cricket, veteran England pacer James Anderson said that it was hard for him to put his emotions into words.

Anderson ended his final Test for England with figures of 1/26 and 3/32 across both innings. After making his debut at the Lord's in 2003, Anderson ended his illustrious career with 704 Test wickets behind the iconic spin duo Muttiah Muralitharan (800) and Shane Warne (708). The star pacer got to go out on high with a win by an inning and 114 runs. In all of international cricket, Anderson brought down the curtains on his 22-year career with 991 international wickets.

On Instagram, Anderson said that it was 'overwhelming' for him to see the reaction of the fans at Lord's. He added that it was an unforgettable week for him.

"Hard to put into words the emotions that I felt this week. It was pretty overwhelming to see and hear the reactions of people on the ground. A truly unforgettable week. The atmosphere was as good as I've experienced at Lords. Thank you for making it so memorable x," Anderson wrote on Instagram.

Recapping the first Test match between England and the West Indies, Anderson took the first wicket of the day at Lord's sending back Joshua Da Silva to all but put an end to West Indies' fight.

But while Anderson showcased his wares one final time, there was Gus Atkinson, on Test debut, who etched his name onto the Lord's honours board with a ten-wicket haul - a proper handing over of the baton if ever there was one.

Earlier, England had taken a big first-inning lead, with five batters crossing the half-century mark in a total of 371. Gus Atkinson's seven-wicket haul had helped bowl the West Indies out for 121 on day one of the Test match.

With a 250-run lead in the bag, England seamers fired away on day two to reduce the West Indies to six wickets down by stumps. While Atkinson once again shone, Anderson set the tone with a peach that seamed back in to castle Kraigg Brathwaite as the Three Lions beat the West Indies by an innings and 114 runs on Friday.

Ponting parts ways from Delhi Capitals after seven years as head coach

New Delhi: Legendary Australian batter and World Cup winning captain Ricky Ponting will no longer be the head coach of the Indian Premier League (IPL) franchise Delhi Capitals (DC), as his seven-year association with the team was announced to have concluded ahead of the mega auction for the 2025 edition of the cash-rich league. As per ESPNcricinfo, it is understood that under Ponting, the franchise failed to achieve the desired results, and the owners have decided to move on from the legend. The official X handle of the franchise on Saturday confirmed that it was parting ways with Ponting, tweeting, "After 7 seasons, Delhi Capitals has decided to part ways with Ricky Ponting. It's been a great journey, Coach! Thank you for everything." Ever since Ponting's appointment as a coach in 2018, when the franchise was called Delhi Daredevils, Delhi qualified for the playoffs thrice, in 2019, 2020, and 2021. In fact, in the 2020 season, DC made it to the finals for the first-time ever, but lost to the Mumbai Indians (MI). However, for the last three years, DC has failed to progress to the final four stages. This year, the franchise finished in the sixth spot, narrowly missing out on the playoffs on the basis of net-run-rate. They won and lost seven matches this year. However, the positives were in plenty for the team this season as not only their skipper Rishabh Pant returned to competitive cricket after a life-threatening accident, but several youngsters like Jake Fraser-McGurk, Tristan Stubbs, Abhishek Porel, Rasikh Salam Dar, etc.

Talking about the series, Director Prem Mistry said, "Life hill Gayi is a heartland drama but with a twist. Universally, siblings are known to have a chaotic yet emotional relationship. For the first time, the audiences will see a story such as this unfold in the rural setting with Kusha Kapila and Divyennu coming from the most privileged background and joining the fight as siblings. We cannot wait to introduce our dysfunctional family to the Disney+ Hotstar audiences."

Add to that I love that Kalki's character is not one dimensional - she is real, flawed and has a redemption arc that honestly is really refreshing to see. It's a show I am immensely proud of and I really hope people watch it soon on Disney + Hotstar."
