MAHAKUMBH NAGAR: The number of pilgrims who have taken a holy dip at the Sangam during the ongoing Maha Kumbh surpassed the 40 crore-mark on Friday, the Uttar Pradesh government said. The Maha Kumbh concludes on February 26.

NDA MPs from Bihar felicitate PM Modi for Budget announcements for State

NEW DELHI: Around 30 Bihar MPs from BJP, JD(U), and other parties of NDA met Prime Minister Narendra Modi in Parliament on Friday.
The MPs felicitated the Prime Minister for the Budget announcements for their state. With Assembly elections scheduled for November this year, Bihar received significant attention in the Budget. Finance Minister Sitharaman announced the expansion of Patna Airport, the establishment of four new greenfield airports, and the construction of a brownfield airport at Bihta. Notably, Bihar was mentioned multiple times in Sitharaman's Budget speech. Sitharaman had said in her Budget speech, "Greenfield airports will be felicitated in Bihar to meet the future needs of the state.

RBI cuts repo rate by 0.25 pc , loan EMI likely to come down

UNI
NEW DELHI, FEB 7

Amid easing inflation pressure, the Reserve Bank of India (RBI)'s Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) on Friday decided to cut policy repo rate by 0.25% to 6.25% raising hopes of relief in loan EMIs. The RBI has cut the key interest rate in nearly five years.

"After detailed assessment of the evolving macroeconomic and financial developments and the economic outlook, the Monetary Policy Committee (MPC) decided unanimously to reduce policy repo rate by 25 basis points from 6.5% to 6.25%," said RBI Governor Sanjay Malhotra in his maiden monetary policy statement.

The MPC also decided unanimously to continue with the neutral stance and remain unambiguously focussed on a durable alignment of inflation with the target while supporting growth.

On the rationale for the decision, the RBI Governor said that the MPC noted that the inflation has declined supported by favourable outlook on food and continuing transmission of past monetary policy actions.

"It is expected to further moderate in 2025-26 gradually aligning with the target. The MPC also noted that though growth is expected to recover from the low of Q2FY25 it is much below that of last year. Last year it was 8.2%," Malhotra said.

Retail headline inflation, as measured by Consumer Price Index (CPI), has softened from 5.4% in FY24 to 4.9% in April–December 2024. While the average inflation in FY25 has trended downward, monthly volatility in food prices and a select few commodities have been responsible for CPI inflation printing towards the upper side of the RBI's tolerance band of 4 (+/-) 2 per cent.

6.7 pc growth projected for FY'26

MUMBAI: Reserve Bank on Friday projected the growth rate for the upcoming financial year at 6.7 per cent, up from 6.4 per cent estimated for the current fiscal ending March. Healthy Rabi prospects and an expected recovery in industrial activity should support economic growth in 2025-26, RBI Governor Sanjay Malhotra said while announcing his first bi-monthly monetary policy for the current fiscal.
Among the key drivers on the demand side, household consumption is expected to remain robust aided by the tax relief in the Union Budget 2025-26, he said. Finance Minister Nirmala Sitharaman in Budget 2025-26 provided the biggest-ever tax break to the middle class to boost consumption after the economy slowed to its lowest pace since the pandemic. India's GDP growth fell to a 7-quarter low of 5.4 per cent in July-September period of current financial year 2024-25, as against RBI's own projection of 7 per cent.

All eyes on Delhi, counting today
Three-tier security, no cellphones inside counting centres

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, FEB 7

A three-tier security arrangement, including two companies of paramilitary forces and Delhi Police personnel, has been made for the 19 counting centres on the day of vote counting for Delhi Assembly elections on Saturday, officials said.

"We have made robust security arrangements (for counting day). Only authorised personnel will be allowed inside the counting centres, where the use of mobile phones will be strictly prohibited," Special Commissioner of Police, Devesh Chandra Srivastva, said while addressing a press conference on securing arrangements for the counting day.

Delhi Police has already conducted anti-sabotage checks at all the counting centres and devised a traffic management plan to ensure smooth vehicular movement, he added.

Meanwhile, the exit polls have varied in their predictions regarding the margin of the BJP's victory. One poll suggested that the BJP could win 51-60 out of 70 assembly seats in Delhi, while two other polls predicted an AAP victory.

BJP, AAP confident of victory

NEW DELHI: Ahead of the vote counting for the Delhi assembly elections, Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) leader Gopal Rai on Friday stated that a meeting was held with all AAP MLAs, during which the candidates gave their reports which mentioned that the party would win around 50 seats. On the other side BJP leaders also claimed a comfortable win in polls. Party leader Giriraj Singh said that saffron party would form next government in Delhi.
Speaking to the media, Rai expressed confidence that the people of Delhi had given a clear mandate for AAP to form the government. "Under the leadership of Arvind Kejriwal, a meeting of all AAP MLAs was held today in which all candidates gave their report. As per their reports, AAP will win around 50 seats and there will be a close fight on 6-7 seats. The people of Delhi have given a mandate to AAP to form the government..." Rai said.

UP govt seeks permission from SC to take over management of 8 temples in Mathura

NEW DELHI: The Supreme Court on Friday heard the Uttar Pradesh government's plea to take over the management of eight temples in Mathura currently under the receivership of advocates.
The state government requested temporary administrative control until ongoing civil suits are resolved.
Senior Advocate Navin Pahwa, representing UP government, urged the Court to permit the State Parishad to either directly manage the temples or appoint qualified local individuals to administer them.
"We request your lordships to issue directions to expedite the civil proceedings and allow a locally connected expert body to manage the temples in the interim," Pahwa submitted.
Pahwa highlighted the state's recent legislation aimed at protecting and preserving Mathura's temple heritage. He emphasized the importance of having a dedicated body comprised of regional experts with no vested interests to ensure smooth temple operations until legal disputes are settled.

Punjab Raj Bhavan organises conclave on stress management and drug addiction

SHASHI PAL JAIN
CHANDIGARH, FEB 7

The realization of the golden dream of VIKSIT BHARAT by 2047 rests on the shoulders of a robust young generation who needed to be given a positive direction to wean them away from drug menace and channelize their abundant energy towards the welfare of the society and ultimately the Nation. Governor of Punjab and Administrator of Chandigarh Sh. Gulab Chand Kataria expressed these views while delivering an inaugural address at conclave on Stress Management and Drug Addiction in Universities & Colleges of Punjab here today at the Punjab Raj Bhavan.

Giving a clarion call for the united and concerted action to wipe out the drug scourge, the Governor emphasized the significance of making our children Stress free which helps a great deal in having a positive bearing on their personality. Underlining the role of educational institutions in saving Punjab from the clutches of drugs, Sh. Kataria said that emphasis must be on engaging the children in the extra co curricular activities in the academic institutions to mould them into future leaders and role models. Batting the need to be on guard against the nefarious designs of some countries to harm India through drug trafficking when they can't defeat India by waging a war. Sh. Gulab Chand Kataria divulged that the NDPS Act should be implemented in full force and expressed satisfaction that under the act the State of Punjab has the highest conviction rate of 85 percent in the entire country. In his valedictory speech, the Governor stressed that addressing drug abuse requires more than just holding events—it calls for a deep, sustained commitment across all levels of society. He appealed to the Vice Chancellors to ensure that their Campuses are drug free. He further suggested that a campus should be publicized as "drug free" if it genuinely is, and if not, efforts must be intensified until that status is achieved. This commitment, he insists, should extend beyond the university campus to include affiliated colleges, ensuring that prevention and education start early.

No posts abolished in Electricity Board: Spokesperson

DINESH AGARWAL
SHIMLA, FEB 7

Himachal Pradesh State Electricity Board Limited Spokesperson, Anurag Parashar has clarified that no posts have been abolished in the Board. He refuted the allegations being made by employee organizations stating that the Board was following the directions of the independent authority, Himachal Pradesh Electricity Regulatory Commission.

He said that the commission has directed the Board to reduce salaries and pension expenses of its employees, as it was the highest in the country, standing at Rs. 2.50 per unit. Given its role in determining electricity tariffs, the commission was continuously reviewing the financial position of the Board and has repeatedly advised reducing employee-related costs, as excessive expenditure could adversely impact the financial health of the Board. Keeping this in view, certain categories of posts were being rationalized instead of abolishing. He siad that recruitment for these posts would be carried out again in the future when required.

The Spokesperson said that the Board was now functioning only as a power distributor company responsible for ensuring uninterrupted electricity supply to the consumers across the state. Despite this, the generation wing of the board still comprises 2,161 posts, including 148 Junior Engineer (JE), 102 Sub-Divisional Officer (SDO), 19 Executive Engineers, six Superintendent Engineers and one Chief Engineer, even though power generation was no longer the primary function of the Board. Additionally, there are seven Civil SDOs, 30 Civil JEs, 15 Electrical SDOs, 16 Electrical JEs and one post each of Exn (Electric) and SE (Electric). Apart from these posts, other posts such as Mistry, DG Operator, Welder, Telephone Attendant, Gauge Reader, Cook and Ferro Printer were now redundant. These roles would be replaced with T-Mat positions and this decision will be in the best interest of the Board. Anurag Prashar said that employees and the officers were the back bone of the board and were diligently providing their valuable services. While acknowledging their contributions, the Board has disbursed Rs. 134 crore in the last two months alone towards Dearness Allowance (DA) and arrears of the revised pay scale to the employees and pensioners. Such a significant amount has not been released in several years.

BUREAU
CHANDIGARH, FEB 7

Haryana Agriculture and Farmers Welfare Minister Sh Shyam Singh Rana said that agricultural statistics play a crucial role in assessing employment opportunities within the agricultural sector. To facilitate this, a digital cell will be established. He said that by giving full attention to agriculture, much of the unemployment in the state could be addressed through farming, and this can only be achieved with the cooperation of all stakeholders.

Sh Shyam Singh Rana made these remarks while speaking as the chief guest at the National Workshop on Agricultural Statistics-2025, held in Panchkula today.

He mentioned that Haryana is an agriculture-based state, with about 60 percent of its population dependent on farming. Agriculture not only ensures food security but also serves as the foundation for the livelihoods of millions of farmers across the country. He highlighted that different types of crops are grown in various regions of the state, each with its own significance. He acknowledged that although yields were initially lower, natural farming practices have since proven to be much more beneficial for health. He urged officials to prioritize organic farming over simply increasing crop yields, encouraging a shift toward more sustainable and health-conscious agricultural practices.

The Agriculture and Farmers Welfare Minister stated that the primary objective of the workshop is to enhance agricultural statistics and introduce new technologies that align with the needs of farmers. He said that the gathering was not only to discuss the current state of agriculture but also to identify solutions that would ensure its ongoing development and stability.

He further highlighted that agricultural statistics play a vital role in measuring and assessing the progress of the agricultural sector. These statistics provide insights into various aspects, such as crop production, the Prime Minister's Crop Insurance Scheme, agricultural income, and employment opportunities within the agricultural sector. He explained that agricultural statistics are instrumental in evaluating the impact of agricultural policies and in forecasting production trends, which in turn helps both farmers and the government make informed decisions.

He mentioned that under the leadership of Prime Minister Sh Narendra Modi and Chief Minister Sh Nayab Singh Saini, numerous schemes are being implemented for the benefit of farmers. These include initiatives such as Meri Fasal Mera Byora, direct sowing of paddy, natural farming, crop residue management, bhawantar bharpai, Pradhan Mantri Kisan Samman Nidhi, Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana, and soil health programs. He emphasized that farmers are deriving significant benefits from these schemes.

The Additional Chief Secretary of the Agriculture Department, Raja Shekhar Vundru, stated that farming is being carried out on about 90 lakh acres of land in the state. To remove all these confusions and misconceptions, an awareness camp was organized in Mangalsen Auditorium. In the camp, Cade Emigration and Canada's immigration consultant Arvind Kadian said that there are registered consultants of the respective countries for education visa and other works. Land mafia active in Barara, illegal colonies mushroom indiscriminately

JAIBEER RANA THAMBER
BARARA, FEB 7

These days, land mafia has become quite active in many areas of Barara subdivision and illegal colonies were being developed in the area. Commercial and residential plots were being developed on agricultural land. Looking at the area, it seemed that there was a flood of illegal colonies these days. The District Town Planner Department has been pretending to take action against colonies being developed illegally in the district for the last few days, but despite the news of illegal colonies of Barara being repeatedly exposed in the media no one was paying any attention to this menace.

Dozens of colonies were being developed illegally in most areas of Barara including Maujgarh Road, Sohana-Mulana Road, Adhoya Road, Dosarka Road, Budhiyon Road, Mullana-Tangail Road and this issue has been raised prominently from time to time. But what to talk about taking action against these colonies, the department was not even looked into this matter. The tenure of District Town Planner Rohit Chauhan has always been questionable in Ambala district.

Colonies are being built on agricultural land it was worth noting that most of the colonies were being developed on agricultural land without permission. People say that if colonies continue to be developed on agricultural land like this, then where will people do farming in the future and there may be a food crisis. Colonizers are selling residential and commercial plots on a large scale by dividing them on agricultural land. Shop plots are being sold by dividing them on a large scale. Although all this is happening openly under the nose of the administration, still no action is taken. However, the common man has to bear the brunt of this. Because the public does not know whether the colony in which they are buying a plot is legal or illegal.

Will approach court if EC doesn't provide full list of Maharashtra voters: Rahul

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, FEB 7

Alleging manipulation in voters' list of Maharashtra, Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi on Friday said that Congress will be forced to approach the cCourt if the Election Commission does not provide the full list of voters at the earliest.

Addressing a press conference at the Constitution Club of India here along with NCP-SP leader Supriya Sule and Shiv Sena-UBT leader Sanjay Raut, he alleged, "Between the 2019 Vidhan Sabha election and the 2024 Lok Sabha election, 32 lakh voters were added to Maharashtra's electoral rolls over five years. However, between the 2024 Lok Sabha election and the 2024 Vidhan Sabha election, 39 lakh new voters were added in just five months".

The former Congress president demanded from the Election Commission the entire voters' list of Maharashtra with names, addresses and pictures.

Gandhi also alleged that "Many voters have been either deleted or transferred as they come from the Dalit, Tribal and minority communities".

"We don't know how many voters have been deleted or where. We only know how many have been added. And we suspect that the number of deletions is much more than the number of additions," the Rae Bareli MP added.

Accusing the Election Commission of losing control of the list in Maharashtra, Rahul asked the poll body, "Why did the EC add more voters in Maharashtra in 5 months than it did in 5 years? Why were there more registered voters in Vidhan Sabha 2024 than the entire adult population of Maharashtra?"

The leader of opposition in Lok Sabha also gave an example of Kamthi Assembly Constituency in Maharashtra alleging that 35,000 new voters were added. He further said that Kamthi Constituency was just an example claiming that there were several constituencies in the state where such discrepancies have been found. Meanwhile, Sanjay Raut said that the issue put in front of the country is "very important". "If the Election Commission is not dead then the questions that Rahul Gandhi ji has asked should be answered".

Calling the "39 lakh" voters as floating voters, Raut alleged," These 39 lakh voters are following a pattern of the BJP as they are floating voters. They will go to all those states where elections are due. Some have come to Delhi, then they will go Bihar and then to Uttar Pradesh". Supriya Sule too flagged the same concern. It may be mentioned during the motion of thanks to the President's address, Rahul had also talked about the alleged "discrepancies in the Maharashtra voters' list".

Dream soured

The Union foreign minister, S. Jaishankar, has stated that the deportation of illegal Indian migrants from the United States of America is not unprecedented. Such deportations, Mr Jaishankar pointed out, took place regularly, with the number of returnees varying on a yearly basis. But the recent incident of the US sending back 104 Indians hailing from five states cannot be dismissed as a mundane development either. The biggest reason for this is that the US is now helmed by Donald Trump for whom illegal immigrants are the proverbial red rag. Given that Indians account for one of the largest contingents of illegal immigrants to the US, New Delhi should prepare itself to handle more such evictees.

The Indians were sent back in a military aircraft and a video shared by the US border patrol showed the deportees in handcuffs and their legs in chains. Mr Jaishankar has denied that women and children were restrained, adding that deportation procedures, which came into effect since 2012, allowed for restraint. While agreeing to take back its citizens, New Delhi must be mindful of the treatment meted out to the deportees. The timing of their return is of significance too. The Indian prime minister is scheduled to meet Mr Trump next week. It remains to be seen whether Narendra Modi's supposed personal chemistry with Mr Trump yields concessions on this issue.

The real challenge for India, though, is to tackle the issue of illegal outmigration. This is a hydra-headed phenomenon. Today, migration out of India is no longer limited to the proverbial 'brain drain'. It would not be unreasonable to argue that successive Indian governments have failed to meet the aspirations of a segment of Indians, especially the young. Diminishing returns from traditional occupations like agriculture, the scarcity of employment, poor quality of life and governance, mediocre educational institutions, minimal social security, some would even add contracting liberties, among other factors, make the West an alluring destination for many Indians. Resolving these challenges can only be a long-term goal. In the short-term, the perils posed by illegal immigration facilitated by dubious agencies should be publicly disseminated along with the formulation of a protective legal framework.

Experts applaud RBI's repo rate cut

The Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) decision to reduce the repo rate by 25 basis points to 6.25 per cent has received widespread appreciation from industry experts and market stakeholders, who see it as a well-timed move to boost economic growth, ease borrowing costs, and stimulate the real estate sector.

Anshul Jain, Chief Executive, India, SEA & APAC Tenant Representation at Cushman & Wakefield, described the move as "well-timed and much-needed," particularly as CPI inflation eases and Q2-FY25 GDP growth slows.

"RBI's decision to cut the repo rate by 25 basis points to 6.25 per cent is a well-timed and much-needed move. With CPI inflation easing and Q2-FY25 GDP growth slowing, this was an opportune moment for the RBI to initiate rate cuts," Jain said.

He added, "This move is going to help revive growth in consumption, and it will also help reduce borrowing cost for the interest rate-sensitive housing sector, particularly in the affordable and mid-income category homes. The recent measures in the Union Budget along with the RBI policy decision has offered a much-needed stimulus for sustained growth in the residential market." Praveen Khandelwal, Delhi Chandni Chowk MP and Confederation of All India Traders (CAIT) Secretary General also welcomed the rate cut, calling it a "pro-growth" decision that will lower borrowing costs for businesses and consumers. He highlighted that with inflation projected at 4.8% for FY 2025 and 4.2% for FY 2026, the RBI's move strikes a balance between economic growth and price stability.

"Lower EMIs on home and business loans will provide financial relief, boost disposable incomes, and enhance consumer spending. Increased liquidity in the market will encourage business investments and overall economic momentum," Khandelwal said. He added, "If the income tax exemption limit is increased to Rs12 lakh in the upcoming budget, it would significantly enhance household savings. The additional savings would drive higher consumer spending, increased demand, and greater market liquidity, ultimately fueling economic growth and a potential market boom."

Ashwani Rana, Founder of Voice of Banking, echoed similar sentiments, stating that the RBI's decision provides another financial relief to the middle class following the Union Budget.

He said, "The Marginal Standing Facility (MSF) rate has been lowered from 6.75% to 6.50%, making it easier for banks to borrow from the RBI when needed. Despite these measures, inflation remains within RBI's target range, and GDP growth is stable. The decision to cut interest rates is expected to strengthen the economy while providing significant relief to banks and their customers."

US lawmakers push Thailand to halt Uyghur deportation

US House Foreign Affairs Committee Chairman Brian Mast and East Asia and Pacific Subcommittee Chairwoman Young Kim have urged the Thai government to reevaluate its decision to deport 48 Uyghur refugees who are currently in Thai detention.

The politicians voiced their grave worry over the impending deportation in a letter to Suriya Chindawongse, the Thai ambassador to the United States, cautioning that sending these people back to China would subject them to harsh persecution, torture, and potentially even death.

According to the post shared by Human Rights Activist Phil Robertson on X, more than ten years ago, the 48 Uyghurs left China in search of safety from what the letter characterized as the Chinese Communist Party's continuous campaign of genocide against Uyghurs because of their political views, traditional customs, and religious beliefs.

The parliamentarians drew attention to China's oppressive practices in Xinjiang, which include the destruction of Uyghur cultural heritage, mass surveillance, forced labour, forced sterilizations, and arbitrary incarceration in so-called "re-education" camps. They pointed out that many Uyghurs have been unable to live freely as a result of these circumstances, according to the post.

These 48 refugees have been detained by Thailand for more than 11 years, yet their circumstances have not improved. The MPs emphasized that they are still in a protracted legal limbo with no clear path forward or assurance of their future. They denounced their treatment as a transgression of international norms and a betrayal of Thailand's longstanding humanitarian values as cited by the post shared on X.

Transcend Vedas to be with Self

K. Shiv Prasad

Once, a group of friends were travelling and they had to cross a wide river. They made a boat and crossed the river. They then decided to carry the heavy boat with them for the rest of their journey, thinking that it would be useful. As a result, their journey got derailed as there is no river enroute. Here the river is a pain polarity and the boat is an instrument to overcome the polarity.

Likewise, there are many instruments and rituals to give us relief from several pain polarities that we face in our daily lives. The Vedas (knowledge) describe many rituals to give relief from temporary pain polarities and many of these rituals are available and are being practiced to this day. It appears logical to turn to these rituals when we face difficulties in the areas of health, business, work and family.

Krishna tells Arjun not to get trapped by the words of the unwise who promise pleasure both in this life and the afterlife (heaven) by prescribing the outer meaning of the Vedas (2.42-2.46). He encourages him to transcend the polarities (dwandwa-ateeth) and Gunas (Guna-ateeth or Nirgun) to become atmavaan (established in self) (2.45). When one gets a big lake, he doesn't need a small ditch and similarly, for atmavaan the vedas are like that small ditch (2.46).

Just as wisdom lies in not encumbering ourselves with the burden of the boat on our onward journey, Krishna indicates about transcending the Vedas after understanding the futility of efforts in gaining pleasure and power. At the very beginning, Krishna tells Arjun that sense perception brings polarities and to bear with them as they are anitya (impermanent) (2.14). His emphasis is to transcend them and learn to witness these transients. Krishna is in favour of authentic joy than synthesising happiness.

Some species are susceptible to broad range of viruses: Study

A study on fruit flies revealed that certain species are extremely vulnerable to a variety of viruses.

In the study - by the University of Exeter - 35 fruit fly species were exposed to 11 different viruses of diverse types

As expected, fly species that were less affected by a certain virus also tended to respond well to related viruses.

But the findings also show "positive correlations in susceptibility" to viruses in general. In other words, fly species that were resistant to one virus were generally resistant to others - including very different types of virus.

"Large-scale tests like this help us understand how pathogens shift to new host species, with findings broadly applicable to other animals - including humans," said Dr Ryan Imrie, now at the MRC-University of Glasgow Centre for Virus Research.

But the findings also show "positive correlations in susceptibility" to viruses in general. In other words, fly species that were resistant to one virus were generally resistant to others - including very different types of virus. "Large-scale tests like this help us understand how pathogens shift to new host species, with findings broadly applicable to other animals - including humans," said Dr Ryan Imrie, now at the MRC-University of Glasgow Centre for Virus Research.

"These flies shared a common ancestor 50 million years ago, giving them equivalent diversity to mammals, and so we are asking questions over the evolutionary distances which host shifts typically occur.

Lots of people are trying to predict the next pandemic.

"It's impossible to test every virus, so we need to try and understand general rules about how viruses behave in new hosts."

Professor Ben Longdon, of the Centre for Ecology and Conservation on Exeter's Penryn Campus in Cornwall, added: "Information about new viruses can partly be inferred from their relatedness to existing viruses."

"However, a small number of mutations can change that - giving new viruses very different properties than their close relatives."

"Studies like this can help reveal the fundamental processes behind this."

Susceptibility in the study was measured by "viral load" - how much a virus had replicated and persisted two days into an infection.

Explaining why some fly species might be generally poor at resisting viruses, Dr Longdon said: "Immunity is very costly, so the highly susceptible species in our study may be ones that evolved in an environment with relatively few viruses, or species that viruses are particularly well able to hijack and successfully infect."

"We found no negative correlations (where high resistance to one virus came with low resistance to another)."

"This could suggest that, as fruit fly immune systems have evolved in response to infection, they have not resulted in 'trade-offs' where increased resistance to one virus has decreased resistance to others."

Sakshi Gupta, Principal Economist - HDFC Bank commented on RBI Credit Policy

CHANDIGARH/LUDHIANA: In the inflation-growth trade-off the RBI tilted towards supporting growth by cutting the policy rate by 25bps today. This decision was underpinned by the governor's emphasis on the "flexibility" in the inflation target framework, a deviation from the previous assertion of reaching the median target of 4% by the central bank. While the policy rate was reduced, the MPC kept the stance unchanged at neutral. This could imply a more cautious approach towards the extent of rate cuts going forward in this rate cutting cycle.The stance also suggests that while the central bank is likely to provide sufficient liquidity – both transient and durable -- to the system, it has abstained from providing a liquidity bonanza.

Heightened Risk of Heart Attacks in Colder Temperatures Calls for Increased Awareness and Precautions

Noida : Research consistently shows that heart attack rates rise during the winter months, influenced significantly by the cold weather and increased pollution levels. These elements act as triggers for this serious health event. It is crucial to recognize and respond promptly to heart attack symptoms such as chest discomfort, unexpected sweating in cold conditions, unusual pain, or shortness of breath.
Individuals with existing heart conditions should be particularly vigilant during the colder months. Disruptions such as missed medications, decontrol of BP due to low temperature and habits like smoking and excessive drinking can elevate the risk of a heart attack.
Dr. Gaurav Minocha, Senior Director, Cardiac Sciences, Max Healthcare, Vaishali said, "Cold temperatures lead to narrower arteries, reducing blood flow and oxygen to the heart, thereby increasing blood pressure in those with existing heart conditions. The risk of blood clots is also higher as platelets become more active and sticky under cold conditions. Reduced sunlight exposure results in Vitamin D deficiency, which can further heighten the risk
Dr. Minocha further advises, "People with diabetes, high BP, high cholesterol, smokers, obesity are at higher risk. It is to avoid outdoor exercise in polluted areas and limit activities that exert significant stress on the heart. Plan any outdoor activities at a time when temperatures are warmer and air quality is better and wear masks if pollution is high. Additionally, eating smaller, more frequent meals is advisable to maintain stable energy levels and cardiovascular health."
In the event of a heart attack, early angioplasty can be a life-saving procedure that restores and improves blood flow in arteries blocked by atherosclerosis. This process involves inserting a catheter into the narrowed artery to place a stent.

Actor Sapna Sikarwar Calls Geetanjali Mishra Her Elder Sister Off-Screen Too!

CHANDIGARH: Sapna Sikarwar, the talented actress known for her portrayal of the lovable Bimlesh in &TV's Happu Ki Ultan Paltan, continues to entertain audiences with her charm, impeccable comic timing, and relatable screen presence. But how much of Sapna's real personality aligns with her on-screen character? In this candid interview, she opens up about her journey, challenges, and the secrets behind bringing Bimlesh to life.

What do you love most about being an actor?

Acting allows me to express different emotions and connect with audiences in a unique way. The love I receive from viewers, especially for Bimlesh, is the biggest reward. I enjoy making people laugh, and seeing their reactions gives me immense joy and motivation.

If you weren't an actor, what would you be doing?

I have always been fascinated by the world of dancing and choreography. If not acting, I would have pursued a career as a choreographer. Dance is my passion, and I love expressing emotions through moves. Creating and teaching unique dance routines would have been something I'd truly enjoy, as it allows me to blend creativity with performance!

How is Sapna different from Bimlesh?

Bimlesh is bubbly, talkative, and sometimes mischievous, while I am more composed and calm in real life. But I do share her affectionate nature and strong family values. Playing her allows me to explore a fun and lively side, which I absolutely love!

Did you feel any pressure stepping into a comic role?

Comedy is all about timing, and it's definitely not easy. But I see it as a challenge that keeps me on my toes. Happu Ki Ultan Paltan has a brilliant cast, and working with them has helped me refine my comedic skills. Their support has made the journey enjoyable and fulfilling.

Bimlesh has a unique sense of humour. How do you make the character stand out?

I always try to add small nuances be it in my expressions, dialogue delivery, or body language to make Bimlesh feel natural and endearing. The writers have given her great lines, and I enjoy bringing them to life in a way that feels authentic and entertaining.

How do you feel about being called 'Bimlesh' off-screen?

(Laughs) It's amazing! Wherever I go, people greet me as Bimlesh, and it makes me so happy. It means that the audience has accepted me in this role wholeheartedly. Even my close friends jokingly call me Bimlesh sometimes, and I take it as a compliment.

You share a great bond with your on-screen sister, Geetanjali Mishra (Rajesh). Tell us about it!

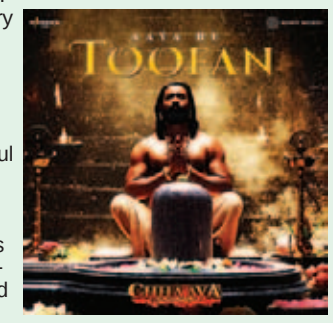

Oh, absolutely! Geetanjali and I share an incredible bond, both on and off the screen. Our chemistry as Bimlesh and Rajesh feels so natural because we genuinely enjoy each other's company. She is like an sister to me in real life too. We have so much fun together on set, whether it's pulling pranks, sharing meals, or discussing scenes. Working with her makes every moment enjoyable, and I feel lucky to have such a wonderful co-star.

How do you balance motherhood and shooting?

Balancing motherhood and a demanding shooting schedule is definitely challenging, but I've learned to manage my time efficiently. My daughter, Maanya, is my biggest motivation, and I make sure to spend quality time with her whenever I'm not on set.

Actors Reveal Their Go-To Makeup Looks

CHANDIGARH: Makeup is more than just enhancing beauty; it's a form of self-expression that reflects personality, confidence, and style. &TV actors embrace their signature makeup looks, whether it's glossy, nude, or bold. From their on-screen appearances to everyday glam, here's how Smita Sable (Dhaniya from Bheema), Geetanjali Mishra (Rajesh from Happu Ki Ultan Paltan) and Shubhangi Atre (Angoori Bhabhi from Bhabiji Ghar Par Hai) prefer their makeup style. Smita Sable, who plays Dhaniya in Bheema, shares, "I love a fresh, dewy makeup look that enhances my natural glow whenever I go out. Since I prefer a minimal approach, I go for light foundation, soft blush, and a glossy lip to keep my face radiant. A hint of shimmer on the eyes adds just the right amount of elegance, making it perfect for everyday wear. For my character Dhaniya, the makeup is kept extremely natural and simple, with earthy tones and a soft, no-makeup makeup look to align with her traditional and humble personality. The focus is always on enhancing natural beauty rather than overdoing it, which I truly admire."

Geetanjali Mishra, who plays Rajesh in Happu Ki Ultan Paltan, reveals, "I enjoy experimenting with bold and glossy looks, especially for big events. A well-defined eyeliner, voluminous lashes, and a statement lip be it a deep red or a glossy berry shade instantly elevate my confidence. I also love a bit of highlighter for that extra glow, as it makes the skin look healthy and radiant. For Rajesh, the makeup is more functional, with a touch of kajal and neutral lipstick to keep it practical yet appealing.

Taking over an already established character is no easy feat, but Megha is determined to bring her own essence while honouring the character's legacy. Sharing her excitement, Megha said, "It's truly a dream come true for me. Growing up in Kolkata, I watched Balaji shows and always imagined being a part of one someday.
