Budget Session: Guv sets vision for 'Viksit Haryana-Viksit Bharat'

BUREAU
CHANDIGARH, MAR 7

Haryana Governor, Sh. Bandaru Dattatraya while addressing the House on the first day of the Budget session of the state Vidhan Sabha on Friday reaffirmed the state government's unwavering commitment to 'Viksit Haryana-Viksit Bharat' and urged all members of the House to work collectively towards the state's holistic development.

Addressing the House, Sh. Bandaru Dattatraya said, every member must remember that no obstacle should hinder the fulfillment of the resolution of 'Viksit Haryana-Viksit Bharat.' He said that he is confident that every member will make the best use of every moment of time in this House and prioritize public welfare.

Sh. Bandaru Dattatraya highlighted that it is well-known that there is now a favourable environment for the nonstop development of the state. In the coming days, the entire state will be watching how this Haryana Vidhan Sabha makes decisions and formulates policies. It is the responsibility of every member to ensure that our state and its people derive the maximum benefit from this favourable time, said the Governor. Sh. Bandaru Dattatraya called upon the members to always remember the guiding principle of Pandit Deendayal Upadhyaya, the architect of Antyodaya, that no society can progress unless the last person becomes empowered and self-reliant. Our every decision should depend on how it will impact the poorest and unprivileged person in society, he said. The Governor said that he is confident that a new chapter of public welfare will be written in this Assembly.

High Court strikes down Punjab's unconstitutional rule on RTE Act

CHANDIGARH, MAR 7

High Court Strikes Down Punjab's Unconstitutional Rule on RTE Act: Petitioners urge Chief Minister to ensure enforcement of 25% admission of poor kids in Private Schools

The Punjab & Haryana High Court, in its interim decision on 19th February 2025, has declared Rule 7(4) of the Punjab Right to Education (RTE) Rules, 2011, ultra vires to Section 12(1)(c) of the RTE Act, 2009. The court has directed the Punjab Government to ensure strict enforcement of the 25% reservation for children from economically weaker sections and disadvantaged groups in unaided private schools for the 2025-26 academic session.

A Public Interest Litigation (PIL) challenging the unconstitutional provision was filed by Shri Jagmohan Singh Raju (Retd. Addl. Chief Secretary, Tamil Nadu cadre), Onkar Nath (Retd. Addl. Deputy CAG), Fatehjang Singh (Retd. Joint Director, Agriculture, Punjab), Kirpal Singh (Retd. Senior Officer, AG Punjab), and social activist Satnam Singh Gill. The PIL highlighted that Punjab's government failed to implement the RTE Act's mandate, depriving nearly 10 lakh students of quality education over the last 14 years, as per the CAG of India's 2016 report.

Despite the constitutional obligation under Article 21A and the RTE Act, 2009, the successive State governments of Punjab imposed the unlawful requirement of a No Objection Certificate (NOC) from government schools before private schools could admit students under the 25% admission norms. This violation has now been struck down by the High Court.

In light of the judgment, we urge the Chief Minister of Punjab to issue a fresh notification ensuring full compliance with Section 12(1)(c) of the RTE Act, 2009 without any further delay and ensure immediate and transparent admission of eligible students under the 25% quota in private schools for the academic session 2025-26.

The Patwari and Kanungo Federation, Hamirpur District Unit, submitted a memorandum to Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister through the Deputy Commissioner on Friday, demanding the withdrawal of the state cadre notification. Last year, on August 15, a meeting with the Chief Minister was held in Dehra, where the federation extensively discussed its concerns. Following this, the government formed the Balwan Committee to review the matter. However, instead of consulting the federation before implementing the recommendations, the government unilaterally issued the notification on February 22, leaving patwaris and kanungos feeling betrayed and ignored. As a mark of protest, patwaris and kanungos across Himachal Pradesh have launched an indefinite strike, which has also received support from panchayats in Hamirpur district.

BJP raises concern on "glorification" of Pakistan in J&K Assembly

AGENCY
JAMMU, MAR 7

Leader of Opposition (LoP), Sunil Sharma expressing concern over "glorification" of Pakistan in the Jammu and Kashmir Legislative Assembly, have dashed a two-page letter to the Speaker Abdul Rahim Rather urging him to exercise his constitutional authority and ensure that such discussions are strictly regulated in accordance with parliamentary conventions and established precedents.

Sharma as per the letter, have said that in his capacity as the Leader of Opposition, he is deeply concerned about certain remarks being made on the floor of the august House.

"It has been observed that discussions within the Assembly are increasingly veering towards subjects such as engaging in talks with Pakistan, comparing the development situation in Pakistan-occupied Jammu and Kashmir (POJK) with that of our Union Territory, and, in some instances, even making remarks that could be construed as glorifying Pakistan," LoP said in a letter.

He stated that such statements not only deviate from the core function of the Assembly-addressing the concerns and aspirations of people but also pose a serious challenge to the sovereignty, integrity, and security of our nation. "These narratives are detrimental to the broader interests of Jammu and Kashmir and the country at large, and they risk misleading public sentiment," he expressed.

Sharma expressed further, "as the guardian and custodian of the dignity and decorum of this Legislative Assembly, I urge you (Speaker) to take appropriate action under the relevant provisions of the Rules of Procedure and Conduct of Business in the Jammu and Kashmir Legislative Assembly to ensure that discussions that undermine national interests are curtailed."

Rule 418 of the Rules of Procedure states that the Speaker has the authority to expunge any words or remarks from the Assembly's official records if they are deemed unparliamentary, inflammatory, or prejudicial to national integrity, he added and said, "further, Rule 387 reference with practices and conventions mandate that discussions should be confined to matters of public interest and should not relate to any subject that may disturb the unity and sovereignty of the country."

"Regrettably, it has come to my notice that while candid and patriotic statements made in the interest of the nation are being expunged from the records, certain narratives that favour or glorify Pakistan are being allowed to remain on record," stated the LoP adding, "This selective approach to parliamentary proceedings not only distorts the true spirit of deliberation but also undermines the sanctity of this House."

According to the information received, Pankaj Kumar, son of Ashok Kumar, a resident of Gurdev Mohalla of the city, has planted vegetables in Satwant Kaur's plot near his house. But he had also planted opium plants among these vegetables. The police received information in this regard that opium cultivation is going on here. When the police reached Gurdev Mohalla, a young man was going inside the said plot. When the police questioned the young man, he identified himself as Pankaj Kumar. A guiding light

The voice wore aviator shades, came down at me from six-feet high and had a ring of affectionate authority: "Why did you throw it away?" It was the cigarette I had hurriedly discarded, mortified that I had been caught smoking by the boss on the street outside the office. "I am sorry," I mumbled, a little shaken and not knowing where to look. "Take one," the voice said, gently and assuringly, and fished out a pack of king-size cigarettes, "Nothing to be scared of." It was my first day at this newspaper, and lighting up that cigarette verily became my first act under the instructions of my editor.

Deepayan Chatterjee — probably the most mild-mannered, calm and handsome man to have helmed the newspaper — had nothing outwardly intimidating about him. But generations of reporters and desk hands who had the fortune of working with him would agree that Deepayanda was held in reverential awe.

A stickler for logic and language in copy — he had a unique manner of rejecting copy by tossing away printouts with a flick of his slender fingers — reporters and desk hands would think several times before submitting their work to him. I recall multiple instances of seniors in the newsroom returning to their workstations from his cabin and settling down to rework their stories.

Deepayanda was probably aware he carried a slightly forbidding air around him. Reporters whose work he tirelessly rewrote night after night, his fingers floating across the keyboard like a pianist's, were likely most aware of it and daunted by it. That's why he'd walk the extra mile — to share a smoke with a rookie or strike up newsroom conversations over this or that — to make them comfortable.

I came from an economics background. It was solely because of his encouragement that I pursued so many stories I may never have thought of, be it on dubious statistics on the Bengal economy during the Left era or the tectonic shift in Indian societal habits from that of thrift to profligacy.

Many colleagues will have memories to share on how Deepayanda prodded them to pursue stories that benefitted the newspaper and boosted their own confidence. It is way beyond the scope of this tribute and this space to do justice to the many aspects of his contribution to our craft. If he was a martinet about work, Deepayanda was also humane after his own fashion. He would seek regular updates on the newly-born babies from fathers and mothers in the newsroom.

Banking Liquidity will come into a strong surplus by March end

The liquidity situation in India's banking sector is expected to improve significantly by the end of March 2025, with a shift towards a strong surplus, according to a research report by Union Bank of India.

The report also indicated that the overall system liquidity is likely to end the financial year in neutral to surplus territory.

It said "we may potentially see a shift in core liquidity (ex-government balance) towards a strong surplus by end-Mar'25 while system liquidity is also estimated to end the year at neutral to surplus levels".

The report highlighted the Reserve Bank of India's (RBI) recent liquidity measures, announced on March 5, 2025, amounting to Rs 1.9 lakh crore.

These measures exceeded market expectations by a significant margin, suggesting that the central bank is taking proactive steps to ensure adequate liquidity in the financial system.

The report also added that despite the expected improvement in liquidity by March-end, the banking system may face some short-term challenges.

Seasonal tax outflows, such as Goods and Services Tax (GST) payments and advance tax payments, along with currency leakage, could temporarily tighten liquidity conditions.

It said "While in the near term, overall banking system liquidity may face pressures from seasonal tax outflows (GST, advance tax etc) along with currency leakage, assuming FX related outflows do not play spoilsport".

However, assuming that foreign exchange-related outflows remain under control, the overall liquidity situation should improve as the financial year concludes.

Interestingly, the market reaction to the RBI's liquidity measures has been relatively subdued.

The report attributes this muted response to several factors, including year-end liquidity pressures, an increase in the supply of State Development Loans (SDLs), and a sharp rise in global bond yields.

The global financial landscape has also influenced market sentiment. The report notes that concerns over a slowdown in the U.S. economy have been growing, particularly due to the potential impact of trade tariffs.

Overall, the report suggests that while near-term liquidity conditions may remain tight due to tax-related outflows and global uncertainties, the broader outlook remains positive.

With the RBI's liquidity infusion and other measures, the banking system is expected to end the financial year with improved liquidity conditions, potentially benefiting borrowers and financial markets.

Happy Women's Day !

Happiness is not felt, when a baby girl is born,It's only shown, but in reality, hearts are torn.Awareness made the society aware not to reveal sadness.Still people are trapped in the world of madness.Due to awareness, families restrict her and set the rules.

They drown her fire and call her a fool.Can we ask a girl at 10 pm to take us from bus stand ?I am pretty sure, she will face a cruel stranger in her own land.Her dreams are dismissed, her rights are outstored. As a daughter, wife and mother,Her sacrifices can't be ignored.It's true that the world can't prosper without women.

They can turn pain into hope, like light from heaven.When laws will be fair, the truth will be told.When justice will shine like flames of gold.When her voice will be listened and her love won't stray.That will really be "Happy women's day !".

Despite growing confidence and financial awareness, young women entrepreneurs aged 20-30 face significant challenges, with 17 per cent experiencing resistance in their early years. Gender biases, limited financial knowledge, fluctuating market conditions, and a lack of mentorship networks for women are some of the key barriers they encounter.

However, the survey also highlighted positive trends in support and respect for women entrepreneurs. An encouraging 88.47 per cent of women who are key decision-makers feel supported and respected in their roles, indicating a shift towards greater acceptance of women in business leadership.

While women business owners are becoming more financially independent, balancing their professional and personal lives remains a challenge.

Many entrepreneurs acknowledge the crucial role of family support in enabling them to manage both aspects effectively.

The findings of this survey reflect a growing ecosystem where women entrepreneurs are taking charge of their financial future while navigating challenges.

PM Modi is well-wisher of Sikh Community: Paramjeet Singh Gill

VERMA
GURDASPUR: Paramjeet Singh Gill, National Vice-President of Himalaya Family Organization and Senior Leader of Gurdaspur Lok Sabha constituency, hailed Prime Minister Narendra Modi as a true supporter of the Sikh community. He acknowledged several efforts by the Prime Minister to address the needs of Sikhs, notably the recent implementation of the Anand Marriage Act in Maharashtra, which he credits to Modi's guidance. Gill stated that Maharashtra's Chief Minister, Devendra Fadnavis, issued an official notification for the enactment of the Anand Marriage Act, which has brought immense joy to the Sikh community. Gill explained the significance of Anand Marriage, which differs from Hindu marriage customs. Unlike Hindu traditions that require auspicious timings and horoscope matching, Anand Marriage allows Sikhs to marry on any day in a gurdwara, with only four rounds (fere) performed during the ceremony. He emphasized that the Anand Marriage Act, initially introduced during the British era in 1909, could not be implemented at that time. However, following a 2007 Supreme Court ruling that made marriage registration compulsory for all communities, Sikhs began demanding the application of this act. Previously, Sikh marriages were registered under the Hindu Marriage Act.

Women at double the risk of heart attack: Dr. Kavita Tyagi

BUREAU
NEW DELHI: Heart attacks were once considered a men's health issue, but in recent years, cases among women have surged significantly. Particularly, women between 35 and 55 years are now at double the risk. On the occasion of International Women's Day, Dr. Kavita Tyagi, Senior Cardiologist at Sir Ganga Ram Hospital, highlighted the growing threat of heart disease among women and its underlying causes.

Dr. Tyagi explained that irregular lifestyles, work-life stress, and lack of self-care contribute significantly to heart diseases in women. The excessive consumption of junk food, high salt and sugar intake, and low-fiber diets weaken the heart. Additionally, high levels of mental stress and depression further increase the risk of cardiovascular diseases. The lack of exercise and yoga leads to obesity and high blood pressure.

Moreover, hormonal changes after menopause reduce estrogen levels, which otherwise protect the heart, making women more vulnerable to heart attacks.

Unlike men, women may experience subtle symptoms of a heart attack, such as:

- Mild chest discomfort or uneasiness
- Extreme fatigue and weakness
- Nausea or vomiting
- Pain in the back, neck, jaw, or arms
- Shortness of breath

Make this Holi Healthy and Special with California Almonds

Chandigarh/Ludhiana, 08 March 2025: Holi, the festival of colors, is a time of joy, togetherness, and cultural vibrancy. Celebrated to mark the arrival of spring and the victory of good over evil, it brings people together in a spirited blend of music, laughter, and indulgent festive treats. From sweet delights like gujiyas and malpuas to flavorful thandai and savory snacks, food plays a central role in the celebrations. However, amidst all the excitement, it's important to be mindful of what we eat, as excessive consumption of deep-fried or sugar-laden treats can take a toll on our health. A simple way to strike the perfect balance between indulgence and nutrition is by incorporating California almonds – king of nuts – into Holi festivities.
As India's most popular, California almonds are naturally packed with 15 essential nutrients, including protein, healthy fats, and fiber, making them a wholesome addition to traditional recipes. Whether blended into thandai, sprinkled over sweets, or enjoyed as a roasted snack, almonds enhance both flavor and texture. When included in a balanced diet, they support weight management, help regulate blood sugar levels, and aid in reducing bad cholesterol levels, making them a smart choice for everyone.
Almonds offer satiating properties, keeping you fuller for longer and reducing cravings for unhealthy snacks. Their natural energy-boosting qualities help you stay active and energized—essential for keeping up with the festive spirit. The best part? California almonds are incredibly versatile and convenient. Whether used in Holi delicacies for added crunch or enjoyed on their own, they make festive indulgence both tastier and healthier. This Holi, celebrate with colors, joy, and the goodness of almonds—ensuring a festival that's as nourishing as it is delightful.
Bollywood actress Soha Ali Khan said, "Holi is one of my most favorite festivals, a time for joy, togetherness, and of course, delicious treats! I love celebrating with my family and friends. As part of the tradition, I always prepare special festive desserts—with a healthier twist. One of my favorites is Grilled Almond Barfi, where the goodness of almonds, a touch of natural sweetness, and the grilling process make it both delicious and nourishing. Almonds are a daily essential for me—not just for their versatility but also for their incredible health benefits. They keep me energized and fuller for longer, making it easier to avoid unhealthy indulgences while still enjoying the festivities."

Rise in gynaecological disorders in India; Women's health experts call for adoption of advanced technologies to alleviate suffering

Chandigarh: On this women's day, leading women's health experts, including the national heads of gynaecologists' associations, are advocating for greater awareness and adoption of advanced surgical technologies to address the growing prevalence of gynaecological diseases in India. This is in response to the drastic rise in incidences of gynaecological disorders such as fibroids, benign tumours, endometriosis ovarian and endometrial cancers etc., among Indian women.
They attribute this surge largely to lifestyle changes, stress, obesity, and hormonal imbalances. These disorders not only affect women's health and quality of life but also elevate the risk of life, if not diagnosed and treated in time. A pioneer in Gynaecological Robotic Surgery in India, and the Founder and President of Gynaecological Robotic surgeons, Dr. Rooma Sinha, said "Women already suffer a lot due to late menopause, irregular cycles, high-dose hormone therapies for infertility, metabolic disorders etc. Those who go through these are particularly susceptible to ovarian and endometrial tumours too. If is really unfair if they have to go through the complications of surgery after all these. However, with the advent of new age technologies like robotic-assisted surgery, they no longer have to suffer the trauma of traditional surgery. I have been performing surgeries with da Vinci, an advanced robotic surgery technology, for many years and I can clearly say that with this technology, we can have improved precision, minimal scarring, reduced pain, and significantly shorter recovery times. Many patients are discharged within 24 hours, and some even return home within 8-10 hours post-surgery." Dr. Sinha, who also works as Chief of Gynaecology at Apollo Hospital Jubilee Hills Hyderabad, argues that hesitation to seek medical care is more pronounced as women age, when gynaecological health concerns shift beyond the reproductive years. The risks of hormonal changes, gynaecological malignancies, and various genitourinary conditions.

Actor-Producer Sohum Shah "tweaks" Crazxy's climax after audience feedback

Director Girish Kohli and actor Sohum Shah have announced that they have "tweaked" the climax of the film Craxzy after viewers' feedback regarding the disappointing ending.

After the massive success of Tumbaad, actor-producer Sohum returned with a thriller film, Craxzy, last month. While the trailer and performance of the actor were widely appreciated by the audience, many felt that the climax of the film reduced the overall thrilling experience of the film.

Taking the viewer's response into consideration, the makers have now decided to change the climax to attract more audiences. The new climax will be available in the cinemas from Friday.

Sohum took to his Instagram handle, Sohum Shah wrote, "Making films is only half the journey-your love completes it. The overwhelming support for Crazxy has been truly humbling. We can tell these stories because of audiences like you, who stand by us and inspire us. Many of you shared that you wanted more from the climax. We hear you. To make your cinematic experience better, more immersive, thrilling and insightful, we've tweaked the climax a little bit with a little surprise thrown in too- catch the new version in cinemas starting this Friday."

Written and directed by Girish Kohli, the film is produced by Sohum Shah, Mukesh Shah, Amita Shah, and Adesh Prasad, with Ankit Jain as co-producer. Crazxy hits cinemas on 28th February 2025.

Sohum rose to fame with his nuanced acting in Tumbbad. Tumbbad 2 is also in the works.

It's not just about cybercrime; it's a high-energy, action-packed ride. Anupam Kher offers prayers at Ganga Ghat

Veteran actor Anupam Kher offered prayers at Ganga Ghat with his mother Dulari and brother Raju Kher before his birthday and gave his fans a glimpse of it. He will celebrate his birthday on March 7.

On Thursday, Anupam shared a video on Instagram showing him offering prayers at Ganga Ghat with his mother and brother.

He wrote, "Janamdin se ek din pehle maa Ganga ke aanchal me."

Anupam will be seen in his upcoming film, 'Tumko Meri Kasam' which is loosely inspired by the life of Dr Ajay Murdia, the founder of Indira IVF, a nationwide chain of fertility clinics.

Recently, Anupam shared his working experience with director Vikram Bhatt in the film 'Tumko Meri Kasam'.

While talking to the media during the trailer launch event, he said, "I always wanted to work with Vikram (Bhatt), I think he was waiting for a great story to justify me being in his film, so Ajay Murdia ' se behtar story kya ho sakti hai'. His story is very inspiring not only for the families who he helped but also for anybody who helps in giving life... Vikram is one of the finest directors and human beings with whom I have worked. It is amazing to see how he creates a brilliance..hats off to him and now I found a friend while working with him.." Filmmakers Vikram Bhatt and Mahesh Bhatt and actors Esha Deol, Adah Sharma, Ishwak Singh, Meherzan Mazda were among those who attended the event.

Bhatt praised Kher for his acting talent. "He has reinvented himself with every film...working with Kher sahab is like driving an automatic car; you have to just feed in whatever is required and then it goes on its own, so that is a relief, and he gives good suggestions also. I had a great time working with him."

The makers of the film unveiled the trailer, which starts with Anupam Kher facing murder charges and trying to clear his name. It also shows how Adah supports her husband's dream of starting an IVF clinic while facing societal judgement and comment. The role is played by Ishwak. Esha also plays a prominent role in the movie.
