Rupee sinks 50 paise to settle at 86.26 against US dollar

MUMBAI: Declining for the third straight session, the rupee tumbled 50 paise to settle at 86.26 (provisional) against the US dollar on Tuesday, logging the maximum single-day loss in nearly three months amid a looming global trade war stoking fears of economic meltdown. According to forex traders, some recovery in crude oil prices and continued foreign capital outflows also dented sentiments. Besides, the global markets have been facing extreme volatility following a fresh threat by the US administration to impose a punitive 50 per cent tariff against China's retaliatory 34 per cent import levies on American products.

Grenade attack at BJP leader's house: ISI hand suspected, two arrested

JS SODHI
JALANDHAR, APRIL 8

In a major breakthrough amidst the ongoing drive to make Punjab a safe and secure state as per directions of Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann, Punjab Police has cracked the hand grenade attack at BJP leader's house case masterminded by Pak-ISI backed terror module with arrest of two accused persons in this case in less than 12 hours, said Special Director General of Police (Special DGP) Law and Order Arpit Shukla here on Tuesday.

"Preliminary investigations have revealed a larger conspiracy orchestrated by Pakistan's ISI to disrupt communal harmony in Punjab. The plot was masterminded by Zeeshan Akhtar, a close associate of gangster Lawrence Bishnoi and Pakistan-based ISI-sponsored gangster Shahzad Bhatti," he said, while not ruling out the possible links of the accused with Pakistan-based Babbar Khalsa International (BKI) mastermind Harwinder Singh alias Rinda and gangster Happy Passia. Special DGP Arpit Shukla accompanied by IGP Headquarters Dr Sukhchain Singh Gill, while addressing a press conference, said that police teams have also recovered an E-rickshaw used by the accused persons in executing the crime.

As per the information, an explosion occurred at the residence of Senior BJP leader Manoranjan Kalia located in Central Town Jalandhar on the intervening night of Monday and Tuesday. Police teams from Jalandhar Commissionerate immediately rushed to the spot, and the forensic team collected samples and relevant evidence from the scene.

Sharing more details, Commissioner of Police (CP) Jalandhar Dhanpreet Kaur said that the case is being investigated in coordination with central intelligence agencies to trace the entire terror network and ensure strict action against all conspirators. She said that an FIR no. 27 dated 8/4/2025 has been registered under sections 109, 324(3) and 61(2) of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita and sections 3, 4 and 5 of the Explosive Substances Act has been registered at Police Station Division number 3 in Jalandhar.

Major incident to disturb communal harmony: Special DGP

CHANDIGARH: Following the blast reported outside BJP leader Manoranjan Kalia's residence in Jalandhar, Special DGP Arpit Shukla said that two people have been arrested in this case and asserted that it was done to disturb the communal harmony in the state. Special DGP Arpit Shukla said, "Last night at 1 pm, a hand grenade was hurled outside the house of BJP leader Manoranjan Kalia in Jalandhar. Punjab police has cracked the case in 12 hours. Two people have been arrested in this case, and the auto-rickshaw which was used in this crime has also been confiscated. It was a major incident to disturb communal harmony. As per the initial investigation, this was a major conspiracy of Pakistan's ISI. Zeeshan Akhtar, who is a close associate of gangster Lawrence Bishnoi, was the mastermind of the case. Our teams are conducting raids at different locations so that the investigation in this case is finished as soon as possible. We are also in touch with the central agencies, and a big operation has been launched."

Hurriyat loses 3 more allies; Amit Shah says Valley backs India's Constitution

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, APRIL 8

In a significant political development, three more organizations--Jammu Kashmir Islamic Political Party, Jammu and Kashmir Muslim Democratic League, and Kashmir Freedom Front--have officially severed ties with the Hurriyat Conference.

The move is being seen as a major demonstration of growing public trust in the Constitution of India within the Kashmir Valley.

Union Home Minister Amit Shah, reacting to the development on social media platform X, said, "Three more organizations, namely Jammu Kashmir Islamic Political Party, Jammu and Kashmir Muslim Democratic League, and Kashmir Freedom Front, dissociate themselves from the Hurriyat. It is a prominent demonstration of the people's trust in the Constitution of India within the valley."

"Modi Ji's vision for a united and powerful Bharat stands even more bolstered today, as so far 11 such organizations have shunned separatism, proclaiming unwavering support for it," Shah further said.

Four groups affiliated with the Hurriyat Conference-- J&K Tahreeqi Isteqlal, J&K Tahreek-I-Istiqamat, J&K People's Movement and the Democratic Political Movement-- had renounced separatism last month and expressed their faith in the vision of a unified India under Prime Minister Narendra Modi.

The move is being seen as a major success for the government's efforts to integrate the Union Territory and restore lasting peace. This latest development follows similar announcements by other separatist factions, signaling a growing shift towards reconciliation in the Valley.

Shah then had termed the development a big victory for Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision of building India into a developed, peaceful and unified country.

The development follows the Ministry of Home Affairs' (MHA) decision on March 11 to ban two organisations -- the Awami Action Committee, led by prominent Kashmiri cleric Mirwaiz Umar Farooq, and the Jammu and Kashmir Ittihadul Muslimeen, headed by Shia leader Masroor Abbas Ansari -- for five years over alleged anti-national activities.

In the recently concluded Budget Session, Union Home Minister Amit Shah told Parliament that from 2019 to 2024, 14 major Hurriyat-linked organisations were banned. He asserted that the Hurriyat, once a mediator in talks with Pakistan, has now been dismantled. Shah made the remarks during a discussion on the MHA's functioning in the Rajya Sabha on March 21.

Rahul seeks Prez Murmu's intervention in West Bengal teacher job row

UNI
NEW DELHI, APR 8

Leader of Opposition in Lok Sabha Rahul Gandhi on Tuesday sought President Droupadi Murmu's intervention on cancellation of appointment of thousands of teachers of West Bengal, stating that it needs human approach as entire recruitment is "not tainted".

In his letter to the President, Gandhi mentioned that he had met a group of affected teachers representing the Shikshak Shikshika Adhikar Mancha, who urged him to raise their concerns with her.

He said, "Calcutta High Court found serious irregularities in teacher recruitment and declared the entire process null and void. On April 3rd, the Supreme Court upheld the High Court judgment. Since the verdict, the teachers, as well as staff who stand to be terminated have almost given up hope of any redressal".

While mentioning that both "tainted and untainted teachers lost their jobs", Gandhi said, "Any crime committed during recruitment should be condemned and the perpetrators must be brought to justice. However, treating teachers selected through fair means on par with tainted teachers is a serious injustice."

"Most untainted teachers have served for nearly a decade. Terminating them will force lakhs of students into classrooms without adequate teachers. Their arbitrary termination will destroy their morale and motivation to serve, and deprive their families of what is often the sole source of income," he said.

Haryana govt has brought substantial improvements to avoid power cuts : CM

BUREAU
CHANDIGARH, APRIL 8

Haryana Chief Minister, Sh. Nayab Singh Saini has come down heavily on the opposition over misleading the residents about electricity bills. Addressing a press conference in Hisar on Tuesday, Sh. Nayab Singh Saini said that when Sh. Bhupinder Singh Hooda was the Chief Minister, and Sh. Randeep Singh Surjewala was the Power Minister, the availability of power supply in the state was in dire condition. Long power cuts used to haunt the people and the electricity was made available for 4 hours only. In contrast, the present government has made significant reforms in the power sector and is ensuring 24-hour electricity supply to citizens, said the Chief Minister.

On this occasion, Public Works Minister Sh. Ranbir Gangwa, BJP State President Sh. Mohan Lal Kaushik, MLAs Smt. Savitri Jindal and Sh. Randhit Panihar were also present.

The Chief Minister said that opposition leaders should introspect their own records before pointing fingers at others.

Taking a jibe at Congress leader, Sh. Bhupinder Singh Hooda and Sh. Randeep Singh Surjewala, the Chief Minister said that both the leaders seem to be in a competition to become the leader of the opposition. They are only marking their attendance; they have no connection with the public, he added.

Sharing the data, Sh. Nayab Singh Saini said that during the Congress regime in 2013–14, the electricity bill for consuming up to 25 units was Rs. 200. Similarly, for 50 units an amount of Rs. 200 were charged.

FIR against YouTube channels, people for stone-pelting rumour

AGENCY
KANPUR, APRIL 8

The police here have registered an FIR against several unidentified people and YouTube channels for allegedly spreading rumours about stone pelting incidents during a Ram Navami procession in Moolganj here, officials said on Tuesday.

The rumours had sparked panic, particularly after reports began circulating that hundreds of office bearers of right-wing Hindu outfits, and others had been named in the FIR.

Additional Commissioner of Police (Law and Order) Harish Chander dismissed the claims as baseless. "The FIR does not name any office bearer of right-wing Hindu outfits or devotees.

Waqf Act comes into force, Top Court to hear pleas next week

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, APRIL 8

A clutch of petitions challenging the Waqf Amendment bill -- passed by parliament last week -- will be heard by the Supreme Court on April 16. The government, however, has filed a caveat in the top court, in which it said no orders should be passed without hearing its perspective.

So far, 15 petitions have been filed on the contentious bill to which the Opposition and sections of the Muslim community had expressed multiple objections.

Most of these were expressed during the marathon 12-plus hour debate on the bill in Lok Sabha and Rajya Sabha on Wednesday and Thursday last week. The bill has since been signed by the President and has come into force.

The contentious provisions in the amended law include mandatory inclusion of two non-Muslim members in the Central Waqf Council and Waqf Boards.

There is also the stipulation that individuals who practiced Islam for at least five years only can donate properties to Waqf.

Also, under the proposed law, government property identified as Waqf will cease to belong to it and the local Collector will determine its ownership.

The government has repeatedly underscored that the law is about property and its management, not religion. The Waqf bill, the BJP had declared, was developed after consulting a large section of people and it has received the support of non-Muslim minorities.

Modi hails Mudra Yojana, says Rs 33 lakh cr loans sanctioned under scheme

UNI
NEW DELHI, APR 8

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday said over Rs 33 lakh crore in collateral-free loans have been sanctioned under the Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojana and noted that over 70 per cent of Mudra loan beneficiaries are women.

Interacting with beneficiaries of the scheme at his residence, he said, "In the last ten years, more than 52 crore loans worth over 32.6 lakh crore rupees have been sanctioned under the scheme."

The Pradhan Mantri Mudra Yojana, which provides collateral-free loans of up to 20 lakh rupees to micro and small enterprises, today completed 10 years, which was launched in April 2015.

At his residence, PM Modi greeted the beneficiaries stating, "I thank you all for coming to my residence. It is said in our scriptures that when guests come to a house, the house becomes pure, so I welcome you all."

Highlighting how the scheme has transformed lives by turning dreams into reality, PM Modi said the initiative has empowered those who were previously overlooked, and underlined that for the people of India, nothing is impossible.

PM Modi said the Mudra Yojana was introduced to provide financial support to the countless individuals and enable them to showcase their entrepreneurial skills.

He highlighted that the scheme aims to empower youth of the country, making them self-reliant and confident, with the ability to become job creators rather than just job seekers. Praising women's participation, Modi said, "In Mudra scheme, the highest number of women have come forward. Women have applied for the most loans, received the most loans, and are also the fastest to repay them." "The PM MUDRA Yojana isn't just a loan scheme — it's a powerful movement driving financial inclusion, strengthening women participation, and promoting self-reliance at the community level," he added.

PM Modi saved rights of Muslim community by Waqf law amendment: Amarinder Singh Arora

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA
KARNAL, APRIL 8

Former President of Haryana Gurudwara Management Committee Amarinder Singh Arora has expressed his gratitude to the entire central leadership including Prime Minister Narendra Modi on the passing of the Waqf Amendment Bill in the Lok Sabha and its approval by the President. He said that the purpose of Waqf (Amendment) is to amend the previous Waqf Act, so that the problems and challenges faced in the regulation and management of Waqf properties can be resolved. The amendment bill aims to improve the administration and management of waqf properties in India. It aims to dress the shortcomings of the previous Act and increase the efficiency of the Waqf Boards by making changes such as renaming the Act, updating the definitions of waqf, improving the registration process and increasing the role of technology in managing waqf records. Amarinder Singh Arora said that the primary objective of the amendment in this bill is to repeal the Muslim Waqf Act, 1923, a colonial-era law that has become outdated and inadequate for managing waqf properties in modern India. He said that waqf properties in India are regulated under the Waqf Act, 1995. Waqf management includes the Central Waqf Council (CWC), State Waqf Boards (SWBs) and Waqf Tribunals.

The Central Waqf Council advises the government and state waqf boards on policies, but does not directly control waqf properties. While the state waqf boards look after and protect waqf properties in each state. At the same time, Waqf Tribunals are special judicial bodies that settle disputes related to Waqf properties. The rule of not making any changes in Waqf properties has been controversial.

The Ram Navami celebrations in Bengal this year were a closely watched affair. This is understandable given that the state goes to polls next year. The occasion witnessed quite a few developments — desirable and otherwise. For instance, there were unprecedented shows of interfaith amity in Bengal — especially in North Bengal — as well as in Calcutta. Malda — it had experienced communal clashes recently — and Siliguri in the northern part of the state witnessed the welcome sight of Hindu devotees being greeted by members of the Muslim community. There were similar scenes in Calcutta; the two major rallies in Howrah — communal discord had taken place here in 2023 — passed uneventfully as well. The administration and the police must be credited for taking steps to ensure a peaceful Ram Navami. The state's ethos of pluralism will undoubtedly be strengthened by this mutual demonstration of amity. There were, however, reports of rallies in which participants displayed metal weapons in violation of a directive by the Calcutta High Court. Those who flouted the norm must be taken to task at the earliest.

What would be of deeper interest, though, is the reading on the report card of the two principal political entities in the state. The Bharatiya Janata Party, the primary force behind the organisation of Ram Navami rallies for electoral gain, may want to take comfort from the fact that Bengal had witnessed a higher number of rallies than before. This, the BJP would argue, is likely to consolidate the Hindu vote. But it does appear that the Trinamool Congress has succeeded in stealing the BJP's thunder on this occasion. In an instance of clever mobilisation, the TMC engaged its forces — block-level leaders, legislators and parliamentarians — to organise and participate in the processions. The party's objective was two-fold. The mobilisation, the TMC insists, would dent the BJP's claim of the TMC being adversarial to Ram Navami. Second, it would, in the process, not only open an opportunity for Mamata Banerjee's party to spin a narrative of exceptionalism — that Bengal has its own, inclusive tradition centred on the deity — but also pre-empt the BJP from sharpening its agenda of polarisation along religious lines. Admittedly, the result of the next assembly election would perhaps give a clearer indication of which party won the battle over Rama. That divinity continues to eclipse issues affecting mere mortals in terms of an electoral agenda is a sad testament of Indian democracy's commitment to public welfare.

China increases the temperature around Taiwan

Just like the proverbial frog in a pot, who boils to death after the water is heated incrementally, so China under Chairman Xi Jinping is gradually but inexorably ramping up the pressure and heat against Taiwan. By acting in this way, the People's Liberation Army (PLA) is normalizing such coercive behavior against the democratic nation.

PLA activity around Taiwan has been at record-breaking levels since May 2024, as communist-controlled China ramps up the pressure. To illustrate how China is stoking the boiler, PLA aircraft sorties into Taiwan's self-declared air defense identification zone (ADIZ) from 1 January till 31 March 2025 were at record levels. In fact, the total number of PLA flights was greater than for the same three-month period in both 2023 and 2024 combined.

Add to these flights Beijing's use of China Coast Guard (CCG) vessels in coercive maritime law enforcement operations, and nefarious undersea communications cable cutting by rogue merchant vessels, and it is obvious that China is making a deliberate and concerted effort to alter the status quo across the Taiwan Strait.

As well as military harassment, China is conducting psychological warfare against Taiwan, hoping to sway public opinion. Indeed, Sir Alex Younger, former chief of the UK's Secret Intelligence Service, said Chinese activity is "a textbook on subversion, cyber and political harassment".

Things got even more heated when China conducted Exercise Strait Thunder-2025A on 1-2 April. The provocative wargames commenced at 07:30 on 1 April, as the PLA's Eastern Theater Command deployed forces to "close in on Taiwan from multiple directions". Four key elements were rehearsed: a blockade of key areas and sea routes; sea-air combat readiness patrols; seizure of air and sea superiority; and assault on maritime and ground targets.

On the following day, the PLA announced long-range, live-fire missile drills, and aircraft carrier operations in the Pacific Ocean east of Taiwan. Three broad tactics were practiced that day, according to the PLA: precision strikes on key targets; joint blockade control and enforcement; and identification, verification, warning, expulsion, interception and detention activities.

On the first day, 15-21 PLA Navy warships were detected around Taiwan, rising to 21-23 vessels on the second day. This included the Shandong aircraft carrier task group some 190-220 nautical miles southeast of Taiwan to "simulate strikes on ground and maritime targets in areas to the east". This made the Strait Thunder-2025A fleet the second highest number of warships operating around Taiwan on record, the largest being 27 ships identified in May 2024.

The CCG was also involved. It fielded 4-6 vessels on the first day and ten the subsequent day. Vessels from the CCG's East China Sea Bureau encircled Taiwan and conducted "law enforcement patrols". Furthermore, vessels of the East China Fujian coast guard performed patrols near Taiwan's outlying islands of Wuqiu and Dongyin. As for the PLA Air Force, Taiwan detected 76 Chinese aircraft on the first day, of which 37 entered Taiwan's ADIZ. A further 59 aircraft participated the next day, including 31 ADIZ intrusions. These were a mix of fighters, helicopters and drones. Of interest, for the first time an H-6K bomber was spotted operationally carrying KD-21 air-launched ballistic missiles.

The PLA Rocket Force's live-fire drills involved "precision strikes on simulated targets of key ports and energy facilities," with these achieving "desired effects". One simulated target was the Yongan liquefied natural gas terminal in Kaohsiung. As well, the 1st Rocket Artillery Brigade of the PLA's 72nd Group Army employed its PHL-16 long-range rocket launchers approximately 250 miles northwest of Taiwan.

G7 foreign ministers from Canada, France, Germany, Italy, Japan, the UK and USA issued a statement expressing "deep concern about China's provocative actions". They said, "These increasingly frequent and destabilizing activities are raising cross-Strait tensions and put at risk global security and prosperity."

Taipei itself accused China of "escalating tensions in the Taiwan Strait," while the USA said it opposed any unilateral changes to the status quo in the strait through force or coercion.

However, China sees it very differently. Senior Colonel Shi Yi, spokesperson for the Eastern Theater Command, said the drills were "a stern warning and forceful deterrence against Taiwan independence separatist forces, and it is a legitimate and necessary action to safeguard China's sovereignty and national unity".

There are multiple falsehoods here, though. The first is that Taiwan is under the control of "Taiwan independence separatist forces", a reference to the administration of President Lai Ching-te. Lai is particularly hated by the CCP, even though he has pledged to maintain the status quo. Lai is no more "separatist" than his predecessor was, yet Beijing vilifies him for refusing to kowtow to Beijing.

Strong growth expected to continue in new health and term segment

The Indian insurance sector is likely to see a strong growth in the new health and term segment, according to a report by Nuvama.

The financial services company further added in the report that choppy markets could dampen linked products' sales.

"We estimate strong growth shall continue in the new health/term segment," the Nuvama report said.

For general insurers, the industry growth has slowed down in January 2025 and February 2025 to just 6.6 per cent.

The report added that the aggregate sales growth is likely to stay at just 6.3 per cent. As highlighted by the report, in January 2025, individual APE (Annualised Premium Equivalent) growth for private insurers rose 19.6 per cent, but growth slowed to just 1.6 per cent YoY in February 2025. The choppy market conditions are expected to impact sales of linked products, while weak credit and microfinance growth could hinder the growth of credit-linked group protection. Additionally, the report adds that the negative economic variance is likely to affect financial Year (FY) 2025 EVs (Embedded Values). Meanwhile, as per Ministry of Finance, Indian Public Sector General Insurance Companies (PSGICs), that historically reported losses, witnessed a major turn around with all of them having become profitable again. While Oriental Insurance Company Ltd. (OICL) and National Insurance Company Ltd (NICL) started posting quarterly profits from Q4 of FY 2023-24 and Q2 of FY 2024-25 respectively, United India Insurance Company Ltd (UIICL) posted profit in Q3 of FY 2024-25 after a gap of 7 years.

Why are we not wise enough to care for ourselves?

Another summer is in the offing with scorching heat owing to temperature rise that may even cross an unprecedented half a century mark.The affluent are looking towardstheACs and coolers installed in their rooms and vehicles, buying new ones and preparing a list of beverages for cooling off.

But what can the poor ones,and other creatures of our natural world do to face the summer, which the affluent ones are making warmer by pulling out heat from theirhouses and vehicles? How will animals, birds, reptiles, fishesand wild animals negotiate with rising temperatures and acquire water and food to survive? This raises a pertinent question with respect to what humans, who, apart from beingthe highest form of life,arealso the most civilized species on earth, should do to help the poor andother forms of lifemaneuver with the miseries of rising temperature.To answer this, we need to revisit our life valuesand life style and drawreferences from the scripturesof ancient India to combat the adverse impacts of temperature rise. Tress plantation was considered as one of the most sacred aspect of human life. It is bounden duty of each one of us to plants as much tress which can exhale oxygen equal to what we inhale and cam inhale carbon dioxide equal to what we exhale to ensure that atmosphere always remains oxygenated enough for our survival.

Can we think of any other creature which is destroying its own habitat like humans do?

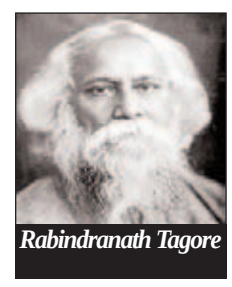

Needless to say, survival of human civilization solely depends on the safety of nature, and it is shared responsibility of all of us to save nature.Most potent way to save nature is to address the issue of temperature rise before it attains catastrophic dimensions.

POEM

She

She who ever had remained in the depth of my being, in the twilight of gleams and of glimpses; she who never opened her veils in the morning light, will be my last gift to thee, my God, folded in my final song.

Rabindranath Tagore

Words have wooed yet failed to win her; persuasion has stretched to her its eager arms in vain.

I have roamed from country to country keeping her in the core of my heart, and around her have risen and fallen the growth and decay of my life.

Over my thoughts and actions, my slumbers and dreams, she reigned yet dwelled alone and apart. Many a man knocked at my door and asked for her and turned away in despair.

Rabindranath Tagore

The revolution called MUDRA

There has been a revolution taking place in the formal lending space for micro enterprises since 2015. While Jan Dhan is an established shibboleth in banking which has obvious benefits when it comes to direct benefit transfers, the lending side has also been part of the focus of the government to ensure that credit percolates down the chain.

The tool used to move closer to the goal has been the Pradhan Mantri MUDRA Yojana (PMMY). Started in 2015, the scheme will be celebrating a decade of uplifting the quality of life through promotion of entrepreneurship among the disadvantaged classes through bank credit. The MUDRA scheme was launched with the idea of spreading financial inclusion among entrepreneurs in the non-farm sector (but include allied agricultural activities).

The scheme was launched with three variants based on credit offtake: Shishu for loans ofUpto Rs 50,000, Kishore for loans aboveRs 50,000upto Rs 5 lakhs and Tarun for loans aboveRs 5 lakh upto Rs. 10 lakhs. Another variant of Tarun plus for loans above Rs. 10 lakh upto Rs. 20 lakh was introduced in last year's budget. Besides scheduled commercial Banks, NBFCs and MFIs also lend under MUDRA scheme thereby significantly increasing the coverage specially for smaller ticket size loans. The loans are given both as term loans and cash credit based on the requirements of the project.

The ethos of this scheme was unique where lenders would extend loans without collateral to micro enterprise. This would cover vegetable vendors, kiosk shops, salons, rudimentary processed foods, poultry etc.

It would exclude farm loans or anything to large enterprise. Given the proclivity of individuals especially in the hinterland to take up such enterprises for a livelihood, the scheme aimed to cover largenumber of people. The goal was to encourage self-employment driven entrepreneurship.

The progress in these 10 years has been quite remarkable which sets a template which other countries especially in the developing world can follow.

More than 52 crore loans have been sanctioned since the launch of the scheme. More importantly the share of women in this scheme is around 2/3 which is a big step towards not just providing support but also empowering them.

The other interesting fact is that more than20% of loans i.e.10.7 crorehave been sanctioned to new entrepreneurs. In terms of overall amount of money sanctioned, the numbers are impressive. Over the last ten years, total cumulative sanctions were Rs 33.14 lakh crore of which Rs 32.41 lakh crore was disbursed. Women accounted for 44% of sanctioned amount and first-time entrepreneurs 31% of total sanctioned amount.

Credit side Financial inclusion meant reaching out to the more disadvantaged groups which would not normally have access to formal finance. Among these groups, there would be a tendency to rely on unofficial channels like moneylenders for finance.

By weaving this segment into the formal financial channels, a major challenge has been overcome.

There has also been a push factor with lenders pressing on the pedal to spread the MUDRA scheme. The three main target beneficiaries were women, first time entrepreneurs and socially weaker sections. This is something which should continue as the country strives to empower these classes. The government as well as banks need to spread awareness about this scheme so as to ensure that people migrate from unofficial channels to formal credit provided by Banks, NBFCs and MFIs.

The beneficiaries also need to be made sensitive to their credit scores to make facilitation of these loans easier. This is because both lack of knowledge of the scheme for the borrower and the lack of knowledge of credit history for the lender has led an information asymmetry in the system.

This is being addressed by lenders with the use of technology and the results have been encouraging. But for sure, there is a long way to go as prospective beneficiaries need to be tapped and current beneficiaries need to get into the next orbit of self-sustained growth in income on the back of facilitative credit.

Former BJP Municipal Chairman candidate Harjinder Singh has directly accused such individuals of misusing the name of development to exploit small business owners. He acknowledged that due to makeshift stalls and carts in the main market, there is a serious traffic congestion issue. Many shopkeepers have reportedly rented out government land in front of their shops to cart vendors, blocking key routes such as the road to the railway station. Responding to public complaints, Singh said he met SDM Amit Bhardwaj and requested action against such encroachments. The SDM directed the concerned department to take appropriate steps, but no orders were issued for removing the kiosks or evicting vendors. Mom-to-be Kiara Advani to make her Met Gala debut this year

Bollywood star Kiara Advani is all set to make her debut at Met Gala this year.

The mom-to-be will step onto the grand fashion stage with several celebrities from across the world on May 5 at The Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York.

Last year, Kiara made her debut at Cannes as she attended the Red Sea Film Foundation's Women in Cinema Gala Dinner. And now Met Gala debut would definitely elevate her global appeal.

Previously actors like Alia Bhatt, Deepika Padukone, and Priyanka Chopra have added Indian touch to Met Gala with their stunning presence.

Meanwhile, Kiara is expecting her first child with actor Sidharth Malhotra.

The couple. in February 2025, announced their pregnancy with an adorable post featuring tiny white knitted baby socks. The caption read, "The greatest gift of our lives."

Since then, they have been keeping a low profile, making only a few public appearances. Kiara and Sidharth's love story blossomed on the sets of the war drama Shershaah, and in February 2023, they tied the knot in an intimate yet grand ceremony in Rajasthan.

Madonna, Elton John end decade-long feud

Two of the biggest music stars in the world, Madonna and Elton John, seem to have ended their decades-long feud.

Madonna, on Monday, took to her Instagram account to inform fans that the two had "finally buried the hatchet!"

Their feud began in the early 2000s, mostly because of comments made by Elton. As per The Hollywood Reporter, "John had thrown barbs about Madonna's James Bond theme 'Die Another Day' in 2002. Then, in 2004, Elton insulted her during the Q Awards over her nomination for Best Live Act."

"Madonna, best live act? Fuck off. Since when has lip-syncing been live? Sorry about that, but I think everyone who lip-syncs on stage in public when you pay like 75 quid to see them should be shot. Thank you very much," Elton said at the time.

However, it seems like all has changed this past weekend as Madonna went backstage to talk to Elton after he performed on Saturday Night Live with Brandi Carlile. She said the first thing he told her was, "Forgive me."

In her long Instagram post, Madonna wrote, "We Finally Buried the Hatchet!!! I went to see @eltonjohn perform on SNL this weekend!! WOW. I remembered when I was in high school- I snuck out of the house one night to see Elton perform live in Detroit! It was an unforgettable performance that helped me understand the transformative power of music."

"Seeing him perform when I was in high school changed the course of my life. I had always felt like an outsider growing up, and watching him on stage helped me to understand that it was OK to be different--to stand out--to take the road less traveled by.

Allu Arjun announces new film with Atlee on his birthday

It's a double whammy for Allu Arjun fans as the actor announced his new film, tentatively titled 'AA 22 X A6', on the occasion of his 43rd birthday. The project will be directed by Atlee and produced by Sun Pictures.

On Tuesday, Sun Pictures took to its Instagram account to put an end to many rumours about the actor's next film.

"Gear up for the Landmark Cinematic Event," read the announcement text, along with a video of Allu Arjun and Atlee meeting Sun Pictures head Kalanithi Maran. The video also showed the duo flying to top VFX studios in the United States, hinting at the scale of the film.

Take a look

Earlier in the day, the Pushpa actor, who turned 43 today, celebrated the special day surrounded by his loved ones.

His wife, Sneha Reddy, took to Instagram to give fans a glimpse of the cozy and intimate celebration they had at home. In the picture she shared, Allu Arjun is seen cutting a cake, while Sneha, their daughter Arha, and their son Ayaan stand beside him.

Sneha has never missed a chance to share glimpses of her family with fans on social media.

In January, on the occasion of Sankranti, Sneha posted adorable family pictures on Instagram and wrote, "Happy Sankranti #2025."

The family picture featured Allu Arjun and Sneha Reddy along with their children, Arha and Ayaan, all smiles as they posed in traditional attire.

The actor has had a big year, with his film Pushpa 2: The Rule creating history at the box office. Released in December last year, the movie went on to break several records.

Directed by Sukumar, the action-drama features Allu Arjun in the role of Pushpa Raj, alongside Rashmika Mandanna and Fahadh Faasil. The actor, who is best known for hits including Arya, Race Gurram, Sarrainodu, and the Pushpa series, has never missed a chance to win fans across the country. The actor has also received the National Award for Best Actor for his performance in Pushpa: The Rise.

"I've been waiting for the right project, and Tum Se Tum Tak felt like the perfect choice," says Sharad Kelkar on returning to television after eight years

CHANDIGARH: In Indian society, relationships and marriage are often shaped by age-old traditions where factors like age, financial status, and social background hold great significance. But love doesn't follow rules—it charts its own course, breaking barriers along the way. For decades, Zee TV has been at the forefront of storytelling, bringing audiences thought-provoking narratives that challenge norms and redefine relationships. Now, with its new offering - Tum Se Tum Tak, the channel presents a fresh and heartfelt love story that will go beyond societal conventions.

The show will beautifully explore the unconventional romance between Anu, a 19-year-old middle-class girl with big dreams and deep-rooted values, and Aryavardhan, a 46-year-old self-made business tycoon known for his discipline and elegance. Despite their stark differences in age, class, and lifestyle, love finds its way into their hearts, challenging everything society deems acceptable.

While Niharika Chouksey has been roped in to play the character of Anu, renowned actor Sharad Kelkar makes a highly anticipated return to television after an eight-year hiatus as he steps into the role of Aryavardhan. Sharad is thrilled to be part of the show and will be seen portraying a powerful yet grounded businessman—one who commands respect through his wisdom, charm, and humility. Despite his immense wealth and social stature, Aryavardhan remains a man of integrity, placing relationships above riches.

Tum Se Tum Tak will go on to beautifully contrast the warmth and simplicity of a close-knit middle-class family with the grandeur and refinement of an affluent household. It also raises a poignant question—can love alone bridge the gap between generations, social expectations, and deep-seated traditions?

Sharad Kelkar said, "I am absolutely thrilled to return to television after eight years! I've been waiting for the right project, and Tum Se Tum Tak felt like the perfect choice the moment I heard the story. It's fresh, unique, and explores love in a way we don't often see on TV. This modern love story challenges conventional norms and beautifully proves that when two hearts truly connect, age is just a number. My character, Aryavardhan, is complex yet deeply relatable—he's successful, grounded, and has a mature outlook on life, but love takes him by surprise in the most unexpected way. That's what makes this story so special.

Actors speak up about the unbreakable siblings' bonds

CHANDIGARH: Having a sibling is undoubtedly one of life's most precious blessings. The exceptional bond that siblings share is unparalleled. Amit Bhardwaj, Mewa in &TV's show Bheema, shares, "My younger brother Sumit is not just my sibling; he is my silent strength and the wind beneath my wings. During my struggling days as an aspiring actor, when dreams felt too distant and hope seemed faint, Sumit stood by me like a rock. He believed in me even when I questioned myself. Whether it was those countless late-night pep talks or quietly transferring money when I needed it most, his actions spoke volumes. He never made me feel small for needing help; instead, he lifted me every single time. His quiet sacrifices and relentless support have deeply touched my heart. I owe a big part of my journey to him. On this Siblings Day, I just want to say thank you, bhai, for never giving up on me.
