End is near for those daring to wipe off sindoor of our sisters, says PM

AGENCY
DAHOD (GUJ), MAY 26

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Monday said Pakistan's only aim is to hate India and think of ways to harm it, while our nation has set goals of removing poverty and bringing about economic development.

Addressing a rally in Dahod in Gujarat, the PM hailed Operation Sindoor and said "those daring to wipe off the sindoor of our sisters must know their end is near".

Twenty-six men were gunned by terrorists in Pahalgam in Kashmir on April 22, following which India launched Operation Sindoor in the early hours of May 7, resulting in massive damage to terror infrastructure in Pakistan and Pakistan-occupied-Kashmir.

Tearing into Pakistan, the prime minister said, "The country that came into existence after Partition lives on hatred for India. It only wants to harm Bharat. However, India's goals are to remove poverty, bring about economic development and become a developed nation."

"Our government's policy is to take development to areas that have remained backward," he added.

He also urged people to buy and use products made in India during festivals like Holi, Diwali and Ganesh Puja, adding that "everything we need for our country's progress must be made right here in India".

He was speaking at a rally after launching development projects costing Rs 24,000 crore, including a locomotive manufacturing plant, here.

He flagged off the Ahmedabad-Veraval Vande Bharat service and Valsad-Dahod express train and told the gathering that state-of-the-art Vande Bharat trains were now operational on 70 routes across the country.

Country has progressed in every sector : Modi

DAHOD: Highlighting the country's growth over the past decade, Prime Minister Narendra Modi stated on Monday that India has advanced in every sector during his tenure.Speaking at a public rally in Gujarat's Dahod, PM Modi recalled that he took the oath as the country's Prime Minister on the same date in 2014."Today is May 26. On the same date in 2014, I took the oath as the Prime Minister for the first time... First, the people of Gujarat blessed me, then crores of Indians blessed me," he said.Prime Minister said that he have dedicated day and night to serving the people of the nation."All of you in Gujarat have given me abundant blessings, and later, millions of people across the country have also not held back in giving me their blessings. With the strength of your blessings, I have been dedicated day and night to serving the people of the nation," he said."In these years, the country has taken decisions that were unimaginable and unprecedented. In these years, the country has broken chains that were decades old. The country has progressed in every sector," said PM Modi, adding that the country has come out of the darkness of despair and is hoisting the tricolour in the light of confidence.
"Today we 140 crore Indians are together working hard to make our country a developed India," the Prime Minister said.Stressing the growth of the manufacturing sector in the country, PM Modi said, "Whatever is needed for the progress of the country, we should manufacture it in India itself; this is the demand of today's time. Today India is moving ahead at a rapid pace in the world of manufacturing. Be it the production of goods needed by the country or the export of goods made in our country to different countries of the world, the export is continuously increasing."

Hassle-free property registration system launched in Punjab

GAURAV GOEL
SAS NAGAR (MOHALI), MAY 26:

In a major citizen centric initiative, the Punjab Government led by the Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann has introduced the country's first Easy Registration system which was dedicated to the people by the Chief Minister and National Convener of AAP Arvind Kejriwal.

"This is a revolutionary step as people will not have to run from office to office, won't have to deal with agents or middlemen as everything from start to finish will be available on the phone and will be fast, clear and transparent", said Bhagwant Singh Mann and Arvind Kejriwal.

Interacting with the media persons after launching the project, the Chief Minister and National AAP Convener said that Citizens can now register at any Sub Registrar Office in the district, not just where the property is located. They said that combined with Seva Sahayak doorstep services via helpline 1076, this improves access for rural households, senior citizens, busy working professionals and those with limited mobility. Bhagwant Singh Mann and Arvind Kejriwal said that the system provides real-time WhatsApp notifications at every step of document from submission, approval, payment and appointment ensuring citizens always know their status. The Chief Minister and National AAP Convener said that these build trust by removing uncertainty and making the process visible and traceable. They said that through online document submission, digital pre-scrutiny and self-scheduled appointments, citizens no longer face long lines or repeated office visits. Bhagwant Singh Mann and Arvind Kejriwal said that the 48-hour pre-scrutiny guarantee and no waiting at final registration reduce stress and waiting time. The Chief Minister and National Convener of AAP said that by offering online payments through a single gateway, removing cash handling and introducing a unique WhatsApp corruption reporting system, the platform eliminates the space for unofficial demands.

India on Monday reported a total of 1,009 active COVID-19 cases in the country, the Ministry of Health and Family Welfare said. As per the Health Ministry, India's COVID-19 update showed a total of 1009 active cases, with 752 new cases recently confirmed.According to the government data, Kerala currently tops the chart with the highest number of active cases at 430.Other states with notable case counts include Maharashtra (209), Delhi (104), Gujarat (83), and Karnataka (47).Earlier, a 21-year-old Covid-19 patient who was undergoing treatment at Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Kalwa Hospital in Thane after testing positive died, Thane Municipal Corporation said.The 21-year-old from Mumbra was admitted for treatment at Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj Kalwa Hospital in Thane on May 22, 2025.On Saturday, Union Health Secretary Punya Salila Srivastava reviewed the matter regarding COVID-19 cases reported across multiple states, mainly from Kerala, Tamil Nadu, Maharashtra, Karnataka, etc., according to official sources.It is observed that most of these cases are mild and under home care. Israel rejects new Gaza ceasefire deal proposed by US mediators

JERUSALEM: Israel has rejected a new proposal aimed at halting its offensive in Gaza and securing the release of 10 more hostages, Israel's state-owned Kan TV reported on Monday.

A senior Israeli official from the country's negotiation team told Kan TV that US mediators presented the proposal overnight. It included the release of five living hostages and five deceased, the flow of humanitarian aid into Gaza, a 70-day ceasefire, and negotiations toward a permanent ceasefire, according to the official.

The official said Israel rejected the deal, describing it as a "surrender to Hamas."

Israel has insisted on the so-called Witkoff framework, a deal proposal presented by Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu in early March, which calls for the release of additional Israeli hostages in return for a 50-day truce, and a promise to engage in talks on a longer truce. It doesn't mention a withdrawal of Israeli forces or the release of Palestinian prisoners, two of Hamas's key demands.

Another round of indirect talks between Israel and Hamas -- aimed at ending Israel's 19-month-long military campaign and securing the release of the 58 hostages still held in Gaza -- ended on Thursday after Netanyahu recalled the delegation.

India's per capita income growth was higher under UPA govt: Chidambaram

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, MAY 26

Senior Congress leader P Chidambaram on Monday said that while the rise in India's per capita income under the BJP-led NDA government is "broadly correct," the rate of growth was higher during the tenure of the Congress-led UPA government.Responding to recent remarks by the CEO of NITI Aayog, BVR Subrahmanyam, who stated that India's per capita income had nearly doubled from USD 1,438 in 2013-14 to USD 2,880 in 2024, Chidambaram said he welcomed the progress but added that the complete picture tells a different story when the performance of the two successive governments is compared. Quoting data from the International Monetary Fund (IMF), Chidambaram noted that India's per capita income stood at USD 543 in 2003, when the UPA took office, and rose to USD 1,438 by 2013 -- a 2.64 times increase in 10 years. Under the NDA government, however, the increase from USD 1,438 in 2014 to USD 2,878 in 2024 amounts to just 1.89 times, falling short of a doubling in the same time frame."Under the UPA government, the per capita income more than doubled in 10 years. Under the NDA government, it fell short of doubling. The per capita income doubled in 11 years. I am happy with the record of both governments, but a shade happier with the UPA record," said the former Finance Minister.In a post on X, P Chidambaram said, "The CEO of NITI Aayog told the media that India's per capita income had doubled from USD 1438 in 2013-14 to USD 2880 (in 2024 in 11 years). Broadly correct, and we are happy.""However, he should have given the full picture, according to the IMF, which is, 2003---USD 543, 2013---USD 1438, 2023---USD 2711, 2024---USD 2878. Under the UPA government.

SC to reconsider its order on redevelopment of Banke Bihari temple corridor

UNI
NEW DELHI, MAY 26

The Supreme Court on Monday agreed to hear a petition seeking modification of its recent order that cleared the Uttar Pradesh government's ambitious redevelopment plan for the revered Shri Banke Bihari Temple in Mathura.

A Bench Comprising Chief Justice of India BR Gavai and Justice Augustine George Masih took note of submissions made by Senior Advocate Amit Anand Tiwari, who appeared for petitioner Devendra Nath Gooswami, a Mathura resident and direct descendant of the temple's founder.

"We will list it," CJI Gavai remarked briefly while allowing the matter to be placed for hearing.

The plea challenges the apex court's May 15 order, which had approved the state's proposal to acquire 5 acres of land surrounding the temple to ease crowding and create a holding area for devotees.

In doing so, the Court had also allowed the use of temple funds for the acquisition, modifying an earlier November 8, 2023 order of the Allahabad High Court, which had denied the use of temple finances for the project.

In his petition, Gooswami argued that the implementation of the redevelopment scheme, in its current form, is "practically unfeasible" and lacks the essential involvement of those historically associated with the temple's daily operations.

Filed through Advocate Ashutosh Jha, the plea warns that the project risks disturbing the religious sanctity and cultural heritage of the temple, which has been overseen by Gooswami's family for over 500 years.

"Any attempt to redevelop without consulting traditional stakeholders is likely to create administrative disorder and alter the temple's deeply devotional ecosystem," the petition contends.

Health Minister Dr. Balbir Singh inaugurates BPaLM regimen training

RAKESH JINDAL
PATIALA, MAY 26

Taking a major step toward eliminating tuberculosis (TB) from the state, Punjab Health and Family Welfare Minister Dr. Balbir Singh today inaugurated a training session on the BPaLM regimen under the National TB Elimination Programme (NTEP) at the TB Hospital in Patiala. TB nodal officers from across the state participated in the training session and discussed the potential impact of the BPaLM regimen on TB treatment outcomes.

While addressing the gathering, Dr. Balbir Singh stated that the Health Department is committed to making Punjab TB-free, and the BPaLM regimen will play a crucial role in achieving this goal. He emphasized that the training has been designed to be interactive and solution-oriented, aiming to equip TB officers with the necessary knowledge and tools for effective implementation.

Dr. Balbir Singh explained that previously, patients suffering from multi-drug-resistant TB (commonly referred to as 'Badi TB') had to undergo a long and difficult treatment course lasting 18 to 20 months. Due to the prolonged duration, many patients could not complete the treatment, leading to adverse health outcomes. He noted that the newly introduced BPaLM regimen—comprising Bedaquiline, Pretomanid, Linezolid, and Moxifloxacin—reduces the treatment period to just six months, resulting in better outcomes and fewer complications. He further added that the BPaLM technology will provide direct and immediate benefits to MDR-TB patients in Punjab. Stressing the importance of public involvement, Dr. Balbir Singh called for alignment with national platforms such as the TB Mukt Bharat Abhiyaan to encourage people's participation in the fight against TB.

DINESH AGARWAL
SHIMLA, MAY 26

Governor Shiv Pratap Shukla today launched a water source restoration campaign at Giri Ganga, located at an altitude of about 9,000 feet in Jubbal sub-division of Shimla district. The Governor participated in a cleanliness drive and emphasized the importance of forest and water conservation as part of broader environmental protection efforts. He also planted a chinar sapling in the temple complex, symbolizing a commitment to preserving nature.

The cleanliness drive was organized under the aegis of the Home Guards, Civil Defence, Fire Services, and SDRF, in collaboration with local Mahila Mandals. The Governor presented saplings to the Mahila Mandals and encouraged them to actively participate in maintaining traditional water bodies in their respective panchayats.

Addressing the gathering, the Governor called upon women's groups to contribute significantly to environmental conservation and the fight against substance abuse. He stressed that women play a pivotal role in both these areas. "Water is the source of life, and we must ensure its purity and continuity," he said. Highlighting the spiritual and cultural significance of Giri Ganga, he described it as a heritage site deeply intertwined with faith, forests and the land.

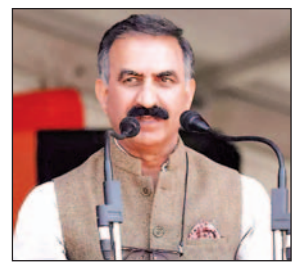

Shri Shukla emphasized the urgent need to protect and revive traditional water sources like Giri Ganga amidst the growing challenges of climate change and depleting natural resources. "Such water sources are not just environmental assets, but sacred legacies that must be preserved for future generations," he remarked.

He lauded the proactive role of the Home Guards, Civil Defence, Fire Services and SDRF in addressing environmental concerns, noting that these organizations are traditionally associated with emergency response but are now setting an example in ecological preservation.

CM Sukhu questions HC's comment in Vimal Negi case

DINESH AGARWAL
SHIMLA, MAY 26

Himachal Pradesh Chief Minister Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu expressed his disagreement with a recent remark made by a High Court judge during the ongoing investigation into the death of Chief Engineer Vimal Negi. The judge had reportedly questioned the inclusion of Himachal-cadre officers in the CBI team, a remark CM Sukhu termed inappropriate and suggested should have been avoided.

The Chief Minister clarified that the state government will not challenge the High Court's directive to hand over the investigation to the CBI, adding that his administration is committed to fully cooperating with the agency. "The government wants justice for Vimal Negi's family. Had they requested a CBI probe earlier, I would have transferred the case myself," Sukhu said. On DGP-SP Row, CM Emphasizes Discipline

Addressing the ongoing tussle between DGP Atul Verma and Shimla SP Sanjeev Gandhi, CM Sukhu admitted that internal discord among top police officers has surfaced and emphasized the need for discipline within the force. He revealed that meetings are underway with senior officials to resolve the matter. He acknowledged receiving differing reports from DGP, SIT, and Additional Chief Secretary Omkar Sharma, which, he said, naturally raises doubts for the bereaved family. CM Sukhu even questioned the basis of Omkar Sharma's report, particularly the allegations made against officials like Vipin Guleria, Harikesh Meena, and Deshraj Sharma, and the mention of the Pekhuwala project. Targeting the opposition, CM Sukhu accused the BJP of politicizing Vimal Negi's death for electoral gains. "They are not concerned about justice or the grieving family. The party that allowed a former minister to engage in corrupt practices during the COVID period is now preaching about integrity," he remarked. The controversy deepened after SP Shimla Sanjeev Gandhi held a press conference on Saturday, leveling serious allegations against DGP Atul Verma, including accusations related to drug trafficking within the police ranks. When asked about the DGP's affidavit and the recommendation to suspend the SP, the CM avoided direct answers but expressed concern over a journalist possessing a letter that hadn't yet reached his office.

AAP's Pankaj Mahajan slams BJP for double standards on Army, 'Operation Sindoor'

VERMA
GURDASPUR: Aam Aadmi Party leader Advocate Pankaj Mahajan, commenting on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's "hot vermilion" remark, questioned why the passion and anger symbolized by that statement do not surface against BJP leaders who make insensitive remarks against the Indian Army and national sentiment. He pointed out that BJP leaders have made disgraceful comments—such as referring to Army officer Colonel Sofia as a terrorist sympathizer, claiming that the Army bows at the Prime Minister's feet, and undermining the sacrifices of women who lost their husbands in the Pahalgam terror attack. He further stated that while the BJP is trying to extract maximum political mileage from the 'Operation Sindoor' campaign at all levels, it would have been better had the party taken strict action against its own leaders who made such derogatory statements.

Tarksheel Society Punjab has strongly criticized the killing of tribals who were opposing the handing over of water, forest and land to corporate capitalists in the Bastar area of Chhattisgarh in alleged fake police encounters and demanded a high-level impartial judicial inquiry. Issuing a press statement in this regard at the state headquarters of the society, Tarksheel Bhawan, state organizing chief Rajinder Bhadour and senior state leaders Hem Raj Stanon, Rajpal Singh and Sumit Amritsar said that the fascist BJP government at the center is running Operation 'Kagaar' to loot the precious natural resources of the forests for the corporate houses in the name of development, under which the local tribals who are opposing the government's pro-corporate policy to save their water and forest in the forests of Bastar are being killed by the security forces in so-called false 'competitions'. Tarksheel leaders said that the central BJP government is following an anti-people fascist policy which has nothing to do with the betterment of the people. They demanded that instead of crushing the democratic opposition of the people in tribal areas through security forces, the path of dialogue should be adopted to resolve the demands of the local people.

Vijay Kapoor urges officials to restore Yamunanagar's lost glory

RAHUL KOHLI

YAMUNANAGAR: Appreciating the efforts of local MLA Ghanshyam Dass Arora and Mayor Suman Bahmani in beautifying the Dussehra Ground, Vijay Kapoor—Chairman of DAV School and a noted social worker—has called upon the concerned authorities to take concrete steps to restore Yamunanagar's past glory.

Kapoor recalled a time when Model Town in Yamunanagar was considered an ideal locality for quality living, where people could walk freely and breathe in a clean environment. He lamented that this image is fading due to growing indiscipline, with citizens increasingly ignoring moral and civic values.

He pointed out several civic issues such as damaged roads caused by people washing vehicles on the streets and discharging dirty water carelessly. "Potholes now dominate the roads, needing urgent repair for smooth traffic movement," he said.

Kapoor also highlighted improper garbage disposal practices, where residents dump waste near others' homes or into drains instead of using dustbins, leading to clogged drainage systems and mosquito breeding. He criticized the authorities for not cleaning drains in time, which results in foul smells. "Even pet dogs are allowed to defecate in front of neighbors' homes, contributing to an unhealthy environment," he added.

He further stressed the lack of proper footpaths and rampant encroachments that force pedestrians onto unsafe roads. Citing traffic congestion near Nehru Park, Kapoor pointed to the lack of parking facilities, which often results in vehicles being parked haphazardly on the streets.

Kapoor also raised concerns about overspeeding and reckless driving in the city, especially by those who flout speed limits and blare horns excessively, causing noise pollution and distress among residents. He urged immediate action to address these issues to ensure safety, discipline, and a clean atmosphere in the city.

Selfless devotion is the best: Muni Piyush

CHAMAN LAL
KARNAL, MAY 26

On the special day of blessings of the great and influential Shri Ghantakarna Mahavir Devta, Krishna Chaudas, a Bhakti Sangam was organised with devotion at Shri Ghantakarna Mahavir Tirth Sthan, Indri Road. First of all, the collective chanting of Shri Ghantakarna Beej Mantra was done to pray for the welfare of the people and everyone. Muni Sanyamesh, Sadhvi Jagriti, Karmveer Singh, Rita Jain, Pushp Goyal, Sarita-Praveen Jain created an atmosphere with melodious devotional songs. I came to you wandering from door to door; I got everything on seeing you, I felt like this after coming to you; consciousness has awakened in my soul, everyone seems secondary in front of your qualities; you are the immortal story of my thoughts, I have written a petition in your court Dada; just put your seal on it, I am standing in wait, put both your hands on my head Dada; if you want to give, then give me lifelong companionship, I have come to like bowing my head at your door; The lyrics of the bhajans like 'Tujhe mil gaya pujari mujhe mil gaya thikaana' etc. forced everyone to dance.

Bharat Sant Gaurav Uppravartak Shri Piyush Muni ji Maharaj told about the highly influential Shri Ghantakarna deity that Shri Ghantakarna is the deity who showers his affection on his devotees and makes everyone happy and prosperous. No calamity can harm his worshipper and all the favorable circumstances are drawn towards him by magnetic attraction. Shri Ghantakarna is the 30th Veer Shiromani among the 52 Veers and is an influential deity who has the honorable position of Senapati in the council of Veers and is specially revered and worshipped in all the three traditions of Jain, Hindu and Buddhist. In the Jain tradition, he is considered to be the protector of the governance of the 24th Tirthankara Bhagwan Mahavir. In the Vedic tradition, he is considered to be the Kshetrapal deity of Badrinath Tirtha, a Gana of Lord Shiva and an inseparable associate of his son Kartikeya. In Mantra Shastras, there is mention of mantras and sadhna-methods of Shri Ghantakarna which work like a panacea for wish fulfillment, resolution success, fear removal, physical pain relief, ghost-spirit related obstacles removal, getting rid of government crisis.

He said that devotion is an easy way to get the blessings of God and divine powers. The devotion done with dedication by rising above petty desires is the best because it is selfless and nishkaar. When all three yogas are combined, the power of devotion increases and it makes the impossible possible. Shri Jai Bhagwan Jain of Bhagwati Iron Store, Gharaunda took advantage of the main aarti and the service of the feast. There was a huge movement of devotees in the temple premises throughout the day.

Thin ice

While addressing the Sagarmatha Sam-baad, a bi-ennial global summit asses-sing the impact of climate change on mountains, in Kathmandu re-cently, India's Union minister of environment, forest and climate change, Bhupender Yadav, sounded the alarm about the growing ecological vulnerability of the Himalayas. The susceptibility of the 'third pole' — the Himalayas are so named owing to their deposits of snow and ice that are the largest after the Arctic and the Antarctic — to the debilitating impacts of global warming is not new information. As early as 2010, the International Centre for Integrated Mountain Develop-ment in Kathmandu had flagged the fragility of the Hin-du Kush-Karakoram-Himalayan ecosystem. Further, the first climate change assessment report published by India's ministry of earth sciences in 2020 stated that the HKH, which spans eight countries, had warmed by about 1.3 degrees Celsius between 1951 and 2014. The retreat of the Himalayan glaciers triggered by tempera-ture rise, along with unplanned human activity on the fragile ecosystem, has led to an alarming depletion of water levels in the Himalayan rivers. This has disas-trous consequences for India's agriculture and food se-curity. There has also been a rise in the frequency of natural catastrophes. From 2013 to 2022, the region recorded as many as 68 disasters, leading to huge losses in life and property, adversely affecting the margin-alised hill communities which, ironically, contribute the least to climate change. The 2015 Nepal earthquake, the incidence of land subsidence in Joshimath in 2023, and the glacial lake outburst floods in Sikkim are indi-cators of the serious — irreversible? — damage that has afflicted the upper reaches of the Himalayas.

Mr Yadav's call for glacial preservation comes at a crucial time. Last year, the environment ministry had warned that if extreme emissions were not reduced, there would be a 53.77% reduction in snowmelt runoff in the Himalayas by 2090. The United Nations has de-clared 2025 as the International Year of Glaciers' Preservation. All this points to the need for undertak-ing contingency measures within India as well as transnationally. These should include improvement in mountain water governance — increasing the number of artificial glaciers in Ladakh can be looked into — to reduce water insecurity, risk-mitigation efforts, such as building climate-resilience infrastructure, as well as a leash on predatory construction, development projects and tourism. Mechanisms to regularly monitor glaciers and the setting up of early warning systems for floods must also be prioritised.

Beijing cements its strategic relationship with Moscow

The leaders of China and Russia met in person yet again on 8 May, as Chairman Xi Jinping visited Russia for the eleventh time to attend a parade marking the 80th an-niversary of victory in World War II. The tone of the two strongmen has becomemore confrontational as they present a united front to take on the USA and attempt toreshape the global geopolitical landscape.Some 29 world leaders - many with a dictatorial or authoritarian bent - appeared at Russia's victory parade, where visiting Chinese troops participated alongside their Russian counterparts. However, no foreign leader was more important than the guest of honor from Chi-na.President Vladimir Putin's wanton invasion of Ukraine has made Russia even more dependent on Chinese support, and Xi has been pleased to offer words and actions that underpin Putin.

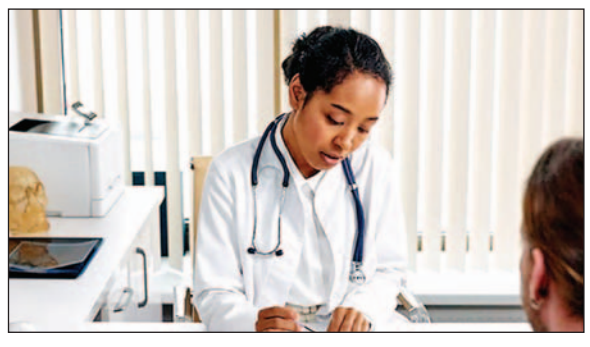

This includes buying up Russian oil and gas, as well as de-livering dual-use items such as computer chips and equipment that aid Russia's war machine. Meeting in the Kremlin the day prior to the parade, Xi and Putin had much to discuss as the world reels from President Donald Trump's unpredictable be-havior and his imposition of tariffs, and as Putin continues to prosecute his war of attrition against Ukraine. One key theme was the pair's vow to "increase interaction and strengthen co-operation" as they criticized American efforts to contain them. Indeed, the two countries' summit forged a step forward in their strategic convergence.Laughably, Putin said the pair was "interested in creating a just and democratic multipolar world order".

Xi echoed such sentiments, vowing they would together "defend international justice and equality" and that "it is im-perative that we remain the defenders of a world order in the spirit of equality and justice".Yet both countries have shame-ful human rights records, and no viable democratic institu-tions exist in either place. The Human Freedom Index 2024, published by the Cato Institute last year, gave China a ranking of 150th place out of 165 for human rights, and Russia earned a little-better ranking of 139. The index showed that the free-dom scores for both countries continue to drop, with China down three places and Russia dropping 16 spots globally since the 2021/22 edition of the Human Freedom Index.The two comrades signed a longwindedly titled joint statement on deepening the comprehensive partnership and strategic coop-eration in the new era. China and Russia also signed a spate of more than 20 agreements, including one to establish a nuclear power plant on the Moon by 2035 to set the foundation for a permanent lunar research base. Other deals covered sharing of high-tech products, developing e-commerce and the mutual supply of materials, mineral resources and agricultural prod-ucts.

Last year, China consumed a record US$245 billion worth of Russian exports. Gas from the Power of Siberia pipeline has reached its full capacity of 31 billion cubic meters of natural gas per annum, and another ten billion cubic meters will be added to China's tanks when the Far Eastern gas pipeline be-gins pumping in 2027.Already there are some 90 top-priority bilateral programs in sectors such as industrial production, transport, logistics, agriculture and mining that are worth about US$200 million. Also importantly, bilateral trade is now occurring in Rubles and Renminbi to circumvent use of the US dollar. Putin said this arrangement means the two nations are "reliably shielded from the influence of third countries and ad-verse fluctuations in global markets".Xi described his nation's current relationship with Russia as "more calm, confident, stable and resilient". Without a trace of irony, they described themselves as defenders of a fair and just world order. They referenced Russia's battle against Nazi Germany in World War II, where Russia lost some 27 million souls, as Putin at-tempts to use that struggle to energize his troops and morally strengthen his populace.The two neighbors "shoulder the common responsibility and mission of maintaining a correct view of World War II history," which, translated, means they see themselves as the primary victors of that war.

'Selfish' genes called 'introners' proves to be major source of genetic complexity: Study

A new study proves that a type of genetic ele-ment called 'introners' is the mechanism by which many introns spread within and between species. It also provides evidence of eight instances in which introners have transferred between unrelated species in a process called 'horizontal gene transfer,' the first proven examples of this phe-nomenon.

DNA is the genetic code that provides the biological instructions for every living species, but not every bit of DNA helps the species sur-vive.Some pieces of DNA are more like parasites, along for the ride and their own survival.To translate DNA into proteins, the building blocks of life, many of these selfish DNA elements have to be removed from the ge-netic code.Doing so enables the body to produce the wide diversity of proteins that al-low for complex life, but the process can also lead to health problems, like some kinds of cancer.

University of California, Santa Cruz researchers are studying the ways that these genetic elements hide and make copies of themselves, so they can propagate with-in a species' DNA, or even hop from one species to an unrelated one in a process called "horizontal gene transfer." A new study in the journal Proceedings of the National Academy of Sciences proves that a type of genetic element called "in-troners" are the cause of many of these selfish genes spreading within and be-tween species.

Education is the wealth that can never be stolen

In today's ever-evolving world, education remains the most valuable and enduring treas-ure—one that cannot be stolen, seized, or priced. This profound sentiment was shared by Mr. Sun-ny Mahajan, Director of Pratap World School, during an inspiring motivational address underscoring the vital role of education.

Highlighting its timeless im-portance, Mr. Mahajan noted that despite the growing allure of mate-rialism, true worth still lies in the pursuit of knowledge. "Those who bow before books, history and time bow before them," he said—a statement meant to ignite a sense of purpose not only in students but in anyone striving for a meaningful life.

The True Essence of Educa-tion

Education, Mr. Mahajan em-phasized, goes far beyond rote learning or passing exams. Real education fosters critical thinking, deep understanding, and a sense of responsibility toward society. It nurtures empathy, shapes moral courage, and empowers individu-als to make sound decisions. An educated person, he remarked, is the backbone of a strong society—one where knowledge uplifts com-munities and narrows the divide between rich and poor.

Empowerment Through Learning

He added that education in-stills confidence and independ-ence. A person without education, regardless of wealth, often de-pends on others to navigate life. On the other hand, an educated in-dividual, even with limited means, can carve their own path, distin-guish right from wrong, and stand up for justice.

Mr. Mahajan urged students to view education not as a burden, but as their greatest strength. "Those who possess education are never helpless," he said. "No mat-ter how dark the path, the light of learning always leads the way."

Education as a Force for So-cial Change

According to him, education has the transformative power to el-evate entire communities. When one child becomes self-reliant through education, their entire fam-ily progresses. Multiple such em-powered families create a resilient society—and from such a society, a prosperous nation emerges. Cit-ing real-life examples, he illustrated how children from underprivileged backgrounds rose to prominence solely through dedication to their studies.

"When hard work walks hand in hand with education, no dream is out of reach," he asserted.

Investing in the Nation's Fu-ture

Mr. Mahajan concluded by calling upon students, educators, and parents alike to place educa-tion at the forefront. He urged them to inspire young minds to learn and grow, assuring that such collective commitment would lead India to leave a lasting imprint on the glob-al stage.

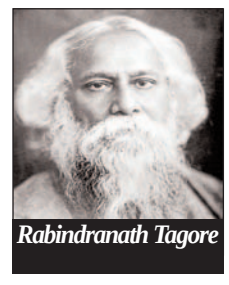

"Education is not just prepara-tion for life—it is life itself," he af-firmed. "Those who invest in it, in-vest in a future full of limitless po-tential."

Has the disoriented INDI Alliance become beyond repair?

It seems the opposition, which has been out of power for over eleven years, has now lost its mental balance in its des-perate thirst for power. No matter how sig-nificant India's achievements may be, the INDI alliance appears incapable of cele-brating them.

Instead, the moment a positive develop-ment emerges, they begin spreading confu-sion and falsehoods—making themselves the subject of ridicule among increasingly thoughtful and aware Indians.At times, it even seems that in opposing the ruling BJP, these leaders have started opposing the very nation. So blinded are they by their vendetta that they fail to see the nation's rise and instead lament progress, speaking the language of despair.The Indian public, however, is no longer deceived by narra-tives of caste, appeasement, lies, and ma-nipulation. They now wish to be active par-ticipants in India's progress and dream of seeing the country become a developed na-tion.

Two recent events have made it abun-dantly clear that the INDI alliance's opposition to the BJP has morphed into blatant opposition to India itself.Silence on Eco-nomic Milestone Speaks VolumesJust yes-terday, following the 10th Governing Coun-cil meeting of the NITI Aayog, its CEO V.V.R. Subramanian announced that India has become the world's fourth-largest econ-omy, surpassing Japan—based on data from the International Monetary Fund (IMF).Rather than taking pride in this ac-complishment, leaders of the INDI alliance were visibly uncomfortable. Suddenly, as if stunned into silence, they began down-playing the achievement. Soon enough, they re-emerged with hollow arguments, asking: "What does it matter to the com-mon man?" or "Why are we still giving free ration to 80 crore people if we are so devel-oped?"These were not just questions—they were attempts to snatch away the country's moment of pride. Not one of them ac-knowledged the more significant point made by the NITI Aayog CEO: that in the next 2–3 years, India is projected to over-take Germany to become the third-largest economy. It makes one wonder—are these statements being made by Indian politi-cians, or by those who wish ill for India?Op-position Boycotts Crucial Policy Dia-logueAdding to the disappointment was the boycott by Chief Ministers of Congress-led Karnataka, TMC-led West Bengal, and CPI(M)-ruled Kerala. These leaders chose to skip a crucial meeting where the vision of turning India into a $30 trillion economy by 2047 was laid out.When the rest of the country is coming together to craft a roadmap for a developed India, their ab-sence is a dereliction of duty. Whether will-ingly or grudgingly, they must recognise that India's progress needs the contribu-tion of every state.

Even relatively small states like Haryana have presented comprehensive plans to boost their state economy to $1 tril-lion. This collective vision is essential if we are to stand shoulder to shoulder with eco-nomic giants like the US ($30.5 trillion GDP) and China ($19.2 trillion GDP) by the time we celebrate 100 years of independ-ence.India's rise may face resistance from global powers, but if internal saboteurs—the Mir Jafars and Jaychands—don't sup-port these forces, no one can stop India from becoming a developed nation.Nation-al Security Triumph UnderminedOn the strategic front, Operation Sindoor, which reportedly struck terrorist camps and airstrips within Pakistan, brought India in-ternational acclaim.

The world acknowledged India's grow-ing defence prowess.And yet, with the ex-ception of a few patriotic voices within the INDI alliance, many of their leaders either remained silent or made dismissive, even damaging, remarks. Some statements, in fact, sounded like they were crafted for con-sumption in Islamabad, not New Delhi.Even during moments of national triumph, they seem more inclined to find fault, to question, to undermine.India Will Rise – With or Without ThemThis is New India. Under the leadership of the NDA, the country is charting its own path to devel-opment, and no amount of pessimism, mockery, or obstructionism from the INDI alliance can derail it.Let them play the role of the sulking uncle at a wedding. Let them dig their own political grave with their nega-tivity. The people of India will answer them—not with anger, but with resolve. Not with words, but with the power of the ballot.India is rising. And it will become a developed nation.

Unlocking MSME Credit Growth in India Requires a Stronger Focus on Rural and Tier 2-3 Markets

CHANDIGARH: India's MSME sector continues to face a significant credit gap of ₹30 lakh crore, despite an overall increase in formal credit supply, as highlighted in SIDBI's latest report 'Understanding Indian MSME Sector: Progress and Challenges'. The rural-urban divide is particularly stark. MSMEs in rural regions face a credit gap of 32%, compared to 20% in urban areas. This shortfall is rooted in factors such as sparse lender presence, limited industrial infrastructure, and information asymmetry. Meanwhile, women-led MSMEs face an even steeper 35% gap, often turning to informal sources due to barriers in accessing structured financial support. Despite this, MSMEs are showing digital readiness: 90% now accept digital payments, although only 18% have accessed digital lending platforms pointing to a latent but significant opportunity for growth in digital credit. There's a pressing need to refocus the lens on Bharat — the tier 2, tier 3 cities and rural heartlands that form the roots of India's economic tree. These regions are no longer just untapped markets; they are drivers of inclusive growth waiting to be empowered. "While the expansive branches are our urban centres, the roots: India's tier 2, tier 3 cities, and rural belts hold untapped potential. As businesses invest in these regions, they don't just cultivate markets; they cultivate hope, opportunity, and resilience," said Pankaj Gupta, Chief Business Officer, Godrej Capital. By nurturing these hidden economic engines with tailored credit solutions and strong on-ground partnerships, the industry can shift from addressing gaps to unlocking enduring growth.

It was truly my honor to share the stage with these Veer Naris and their families," it added. Take a look:

India launched Operation Sindoor on May 7 as a decisive military response to the April 22 Pahalgam terror attack, in which 26 people were killed. Shubhangi Atre reveals the reason for owning fifty plus plants in her home!

CHANDIGARH: Plants are more than just décor for actress Shubhangi Atre, known for her role as Angoori Bhabi in &TV's Bhabiji Ghar Par Hai. They are her peaceful companions, stressbusters, and a reflection of her inner calm. With over fifty plants in her home, Shubhangi has created a green sanctuary that not only enhances the aesthetic appeal of her living space but also promotes mindfulness, wellness, and emotional connection. Sharing her deep love for greenery, Shubhangi Atre aka Angoori Bhabi says, "By now, the world knows how much I adore plants. For me, they are not just decorative elements or accessories for my home, but they are family. This love did not blossom overnight. It started years ago with a tiny succulent gifted by a friend during a particularly stressful phase of life. That little plant sat on my windowsill and unknowingly planted a seed in my heart. Over time, I became increasingly drawn to the quiet, grounding presence of greenery. Today, I have over fifty plants spread across every corner of my house, from my balcony and living room to the kitchen and even the bathroom! But the ones closest to my heart reside in my bedroom: the Monstera, the Air Plant, and the Parlour Palm. The Monstera not only adds a tropical charm but also purifies the air and reduces stress. The Air Plant is easy to care for and promotes mindfulness and calmness. The Parlour Palm brings a soothing vibe and acts as a natural humidifier. Together, they make my sanctuary a haven of peace and freshness."

The actress adds, "My journey with plants has also led me to dabble in in-house gardening. There is something so fulfilling about growing your vegetables, even if it's just a few pots of tomatoes, chillies, or mint on the balcony. Watering them, watching them sprout, and using them in cooking brings joy and pride. For me, plants are not just a hobby; they are a way of life. Some people express themselves through fashion or makeup, I express myself through my plans. Each one has a name, a story, and a purpose.
