Extreme heatwaves to double in Indian cities by 2030

UNI
NEW DELHI, JUNE 11

A new study has sounded the alarm on the intensifying threat of extreme heatwaves in Indian cities. Urban areas like Mumbai, Delhi, Chennai, Hyderabad, Surat, Thane, Patna, and Bhubaneswar are projected to see a two-fold increase in heatwave days by 2030, according to the study by IPE Global and Esri India.

Launched at the Global-South Climate Risk Symposium in New Delhi, the report 'Weathering the Storm: Managing Monsoons in a Warming Climate' paints a grim picture of the years ahead as India grapples with rapidly intensifying climate extremes.

India has seen a 15-fold rise in extreme heatwave days over the past 30 years, with a staggering 19-fold increase just in the last decade. These prolonged heat spells are now leading to erratic and intense rainfall, expected to hit 80% of Indian districts by 2030, says the report.

"The pace and scale of change are unprecedented," warns Abinash Mohanty, climate lead at IPE Global. "We're seeing the monsoon stretch into long summer-like conditions, turning rainfall into unpredictable bursts that are hard to manage and even harder to recover from."

By 2030, 72% of tier-I and tier-II cities will likely endure frequent heat stress, violent downpours, lightning storms, and even hailstorms. Coastal districts, in particular, are under severe threat, with nearly 70% expected to suffer relentless summer-like heat during monsoons—a figure that could climb to 79% by 2040.

Delhi under 'red alert' as mercury soars beyond 45 deg C

NEW DELHI: The India Meteorological Department (IMD) has issued a red alert for Delhi as the city grapples with an intense heatwave, with maximum temperatures soaring to 45.5 degrees Celsius in several areas. The maximum alert on Wednesday comes amid a forecast of continuing extreme conditions over the next two days. However, there may be some relief on June 13 night and June 14 as the western disturbances are likely to bring light showers.

Judicial activism shouldn't turn into judicial terrorism : CJI

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, JUNE 11

Chief Justice of India (CJI) BR Gavai described the Constitution as a "quiet revolution etched in ink" and a transformative force that not only guarantees rights but actively uplifts the historically oppressed. He was speaking at the Oxford Union on the theme 'From Representation to Realisation: Embodying the Constitution's Promise'.

He also cautioned against straying into what he called "judicial terrorism" from "judicial activism".

Responding to a question by the news website Bar and Bench, Chief Justice Gavai said while judicial activism has relevance in India, it would not be a good thing to step into an area where the "judiciary should not enter".

"Judicial activism is bound to stay. At the same time, judicial activism should not be turned into judicial terrorism. So, at times, you try to exceed the limits and try to enter into an area where, normally, the judiciary should not enter," Chief Justice Gavai said in response to a question by Bar and Bench.

He said the judiciary will still step in if the legislature or the executive fail in their duties to safeguard the rights of people. However, the power of judicial review should be used in rare cases,

Chief Justice Gavai said.

"... that power [judicial review] has to be exercised in a very limited area in very exception cases, like, say, a statute, is violative of the basic structure of the Constitution, or it is in direct conflict with any of the fundamental rights of the Constitution, or if the statute is so patently arbitrary, discriminatory... the courts can exercise it, and the courts have done so," he said. In April this year, the Supreme Court for the first time prescribed that the President should decide on bills reserved for her consideration by the Governor within three months from the date on which such reference is received.

A month later, President Droupadi Murmu wrote to the Supreme Court and asked if timelines could be imposed on Governors. President Murmu sought the Supreme Court's opinion under Article 143 of the Constitution, which gives the President the power to consult the court on legal issues or matters of public importance. "Is the Governor bound by the aid and advice tendered by the Council of Ministers while exercising all the options available with him when a Bill is presented before him under Article 200 of the Constitution of India?"

Haryana CM announces Rs. 2,100 hike in wages of Safai Karamcharis

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA
SIRSA, JUNE 11

On the occasion of Sant Shiromani Kabir Das Ji's Jayanti, Haryana Chief Minister, Sh. Nayab Singh Saini made several significant announcements including increasing Rs. 2100 in the monthly wages of Safai Karamcharis. Furthermore, he also announced the establishment of a 100-bed de-addiction center at the upcoming Sant Sarsai Nath Medical College in Sirsa. He also announced the expansion of the existing de-addiction center in Dabwali from 10 to 30 beds and the setting up of a new 30-bed de-addiction center near the government hospital in Ellenabad.

The Chief Minister made these announcements while addressing the state-level function held in Sirsa under the Sant Mahapurush Samman evam Vichar Prachar Prasar Yojana, to commemorate the birth anniversary of Sant Kabir Das Ji on Wednesday. On this occasion, he also announced a grant of Rs. 31 lakh.

Reaffirming the government's commitment to the promises made in its Sankalp Patra, the Chief Minister said that the government has resolved to increase the wages of Safai Karamcharis in a phased manner to Rs. 26,000 over five years, a promise the government fully intends to fulfill.

Speaking about the spiritual legacy of Sant Kabir, the Chief Minister said, Sant Kabir was a torchbearer of India's spiritual values of 'Sarva Dharma Sambhav' (equal respect for all religions) and 'Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam' (the world is one family). He was born at a time when society was bound by superstition, casteism, and rigid traditions. Through his fearless reformist work, he earned a revered place in history, he said.

Sh. Nayab Singh Saini said that Sant Kabir boldly challenged social evils across all religions. Saints, sages, prophets, and spiritual masters like him have shown the right path to humanity. Their teachings are the shared heritage of all humankind, and it is our collective responsibility to preserve and propagate this legacy, he said.

LA protests: Curfew imposed after violence

AGENCY
LOS ANGELES, JUNE 11

Amid intensifying protests and incidents of nighttime violence, Los Angeles Mayor Karen Bass on Tuesday imposed an overnight curfew in parts of downtown, while United States President Donald Trump announced the deployment of an additional 2,000 National Guard troops and Marines to the city.

Mayor Karen Bass has imposed an overnight curfew from 8 pm Tuesday to 6 am Wednesday in a 1-square-mile section of downtown Los Angeles. The area has seen ongoing protests since Friday. Bass declared a local emergency, saying: "We reached a tipping point" after 23 businesses were looted.

President Donald Trump has ordered an additional 2,000 National Guard personnel and 700 Marines to Los Angeles, doubling down on military presence despite opposition from California Governor Gavin Newsom and local officials. Police officials say the influx of troops complicates logistical handling of protests.

California Governor Gavin Newsom said President Donald Trump is "pulling a military dragnet" across Los Angeles during a brief public address on Tuesday. Newsom said Trump's immigration crackdown has gone well beyond arresting criminals and that "dishwashers, gardeners, day labourers and seamstresses" are among those being detained. He said Trump's decision to deploy the California National Guard without his support should be a warning to other states. "California may be first — but it clearly won't end here," Newsom said.

Kejriwal, CM Mann lay foundation of multi-sports complex in Jalandhar

JS SODHI
JALANDHAR, JUNE 11

Punjab Chief Minister Bhagwant Singh Mann and former Delhi Chief Minister Arvind Kejriwal on Wednesday announced an intensified crackdown on drugs through the promotion of sports, under the ongoing Yudh Nasheyan De Virudh (War Against Drugs) campaign.

Addressing the gathering after laying the foundation stone for the Burlton Park Sports Hub—an ambitious project to be developed at a cost of approximately 78 crore—Chief Guest Arvind Kejriwal called it a historic day. He stated that this initiative will provide thousands of people with opportunities to engage in sports and maintain a healthy lifestyle. He also mentioned that this would be the first-of-its-kind sports complex in the country and would be completed within a year. Arvind Kejriwal emphasized that Punjab was once a leader in multiple fields, including sports, but regressive policies by traditional political parties caused its decline. He blamed these parties for enabling the drug menace, asserting that Yudh Nasheyan De Virudh has now broken the backbone of the drug network. He highlighted the government's bold actions, such as confiscating and demolishing the properties of drug smugglers through Operation Bulldoze. Arvind Kejriwal said the upgrade of Burlton Park is a strategic move under the anti-drug campaign, and that ultra-modern stadiums will soon be established in every village to steer the youth away from drugs.

Demand for cleaning of underground drains running from Landran road to FCI godowns before rainy season

MOHALI (LK BANSAL): Rajinder Agarwal, a prominent citizen here, has demanded from the administration that the underground drains lying along the wall of FCI godowns from Landran Road should be cleaned immediately. If this is not done, water will not be able to drain from Arya College Road and this water may enter people's houses.

Talking here today, he said that this drain was built 10-12 years ago and underground pipes have been laid. It is full of dirt and it has never been cleaned. He said that the authorities have been told about this many times but no one listens. Today, the situation is that this underground pipe is completely filled with dirt and there is no drainage of water from it.

He said that if it is not cleaned before the rains, the dirty water will enter the shops of the shopkeepers, which can cause a lot of loss to them. He has demanded that the administration should immediately pay attention to this matter and get this drain cleaned.

Bhagat Kabir teachings still deeply relevant to society and human life: Guv Kataria

SHASHI PAL JAIN
MOHALI, JUNE 11

Punjab Governor Gulab Chand Kataria today said that the couplets and teachings of Bhagat Kabir Ji remain deeply relevant to contemporary society and human life. He was speaking at a state-level seminar organized by Bhagat Kabir Welfare Foundation at Chandigarh Group of Colleges, Landran, to mark the Saint's birth anniversary.

Addressing the gathering, Governor Kataria said that although Bhagat Kabir Ji, born in Varanasi (Kashi), did not receive formal education, he attained profound wisdom through life experience and the guidance of great saints. "That is why his messages, rooted in truth and spiritual realization, continue to resonate across generations and societal sections," he noted. Calling Bhagat Kabir Ji a central figure in the Bhakti movement, the Governor highlighted his message of love, equality, and devotion to God. He said Bhagat Kabir Ji received spiritual mentorship from revered figures such as Sant Ramanand and Sheikh Taqi, which shaped his unique worldview. Reflecting on the historical context, the Governor pointed out that Kabir Ji lived during an era marked by foreign invasions, violence, and social upheaval. "In such challenging times, Kabir Sahib spread the message of faith, harmony, and unity, awakening a society entrenched in discrimination, casteism, and untouchability," he added. "He wove the fine thread of social harmony, dyed in the color of wisdom, to craft a united society."

Emphasizing the great Saint's social vision, Governor Kataria said Bhagat Kabir Ji consistently advocated compassion for the underprivileged and love for all humanity, which he saw as the true foundation of human religion. "Without empathy for the weakest, humanity and harmony cannot survive," he stressed.

The Governor expressed his gratitude for being part of the event organized by Bhagat Kabir Welfare Foundation (Regd.) in collaboration with Shri Hari Sharanam Seva Sansthan, and appreciated the non-partisan and enthusiastic spirit with which the seminar was conducted.

The seminar, held at the Landran Campus auditorium, was led by Pardeep Singh Happy, Founder General Secretary of the Foundation, and Vishal Sharma, President of the Sansthan. Prominent voices also shared insights on Kabir Ji's enduring legacy.

Despite the scorching heat, Rajya Sabha MP Sanjeev Arora — the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) candidate for the Ludhiana (West) Assembly seat — continued to address poll meetings across the city on Wednesday.

While speaking at a gathering in Mall Enclave (Ward No. 71), Arora made a fervent appeal to voters to turn out in large numbers and vote for him to ensure large-scale development across the city. Highlighting the development works he has undertaken over the past three years, he urged the electorate that now it's time to vote for him. Arora assured to deliver four times more development if elected in the upcoming by-election.

"It's time to reverse this trend and aim for a minimum 60–70 percent polling turnout," he said, urging citizens to recognize their social responsibility towards democracy.

Morinda civil hospital in shambles, locals forced to turn to costly private treatment

RADHE SHYAM SHARMA
MORINDA, JUNE 11

The government hospital in Morinda, meant to serve the city and its adjoining villages with essential health services, is ironically in need of urgent care itself.

With a severe shortage of doctors, lack of essential medical equipment, and poor infrastructure, the hospital has become a symbol of neglect—forcing patients to seek expensive treatment in private facilities.

Residents report that due to the absence of critical diagnostic services like ultrasound and CT scans, patients are routinely referred to Chandigarh or Ropar hospitals, even in emergency situations. These tests, when availed privately, are financially burdensome—especially for daily wage workers who cannot afford them.

Despite repeated public appeals, successive governments—including the current one—have taken no substantial steps to upgrade the facility. Notably, the boundary wall of the hospital collapsed during floods two years ago and remains unrepaired to this day.

Even mild rainfall leads to waterlogging inside the premises, further deteriorating the condition of the hospital.

AAP leaders Surinder Kalyan, Simmi Chopra, and Ranjit Singh Banth were also present on this occasion. Their relentless efforts and dedication have played a crucial role in the large number of people joining the Aam Aadmi Party. Former Congress Circle President Ramandeep Singh, along with his associates Parmveer Singh, Avtar Singh, Ankush Bajaj, Chetan Monga, Gurjeet Singh, Kuldeep Grewal, Balwinder Singh, Kuldeep Singh, Karamveer Chaudhary, and Arshdeep Singh, left Congress to join AAP, accompanied by around 40 other people.

Chairman of Shri Guru Ravidas Seva Society, Tulsi Ram, along with Treasurer Ashok Kumar, Deputy Treasurer Mahaveer Fauji, President Satish Kumar, Secretary Harvansh Lal Gyani, and Deputy Secretary Dr. Ranjit Kumar, joined the party with 20 members. Additionally, Rajan Kundra, Executive Member of Ludhiana Anti-Corruption Foundation, also joined AAP. From Ward Number 65, Bhanu Kiran, Ranjana Bhasin, Priya Sodhi, and Isha Bassi were among those who joined the party.

All new members expressed their admiration for Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann's work and Aam Aadmi Party's people-centric policies, which motivated them to join the party.

RAKESH JINDAL
PATIALA, JUNE 11

Punjab Health and Family Welfare Minister Dr. Balbir Singh today conducted a site visit to inspect the ongoing pond cleaning and development work in villages Baran and Nandpur Kesho.

During his visit to village Baran, Dr. Balbir Singh expressed serious concern over the incomplete construction of the pond wall being developed using the Thapar Model near the Gurdwara Sahib. Taking strong note of the irregularities, he directed officials to take action against those responsible. He instructed the Panchayat Department to submit a detailed report on the expenditure incurred and provide a list of all officials involved in the project, from the Junior Engineer level upwards. He emphasized that every rupee of public funds must be spent transparently and effectively for public benefit and warned of strict action against misuse or negligence.

Inspecting the pond at Baran, the Minister also raised concerns over a previously collapsed wall and the delay in constructing a new concrete structure, noting that such negligence could endanger nearby infrastructure, including the Gurdwara Sahib. He directed that the matter be addressed urgently and with accountability. Additionally, he issued instructions for cleaning the canal running through Baran and the pond in Nawan Baran.

At Nandpur Kesho, Dr. Balbir Singh reviewed the cleaning work at two major ponds and announced that the pond near the dispensary would be concretized and developed into a park. Water from this pond would then flow through the adjoining earthen pond to irrigate nearby fields.

He informed that tenders have already been floated, and the work will be completed soon.

Strike balance between development and environmental protection: CM

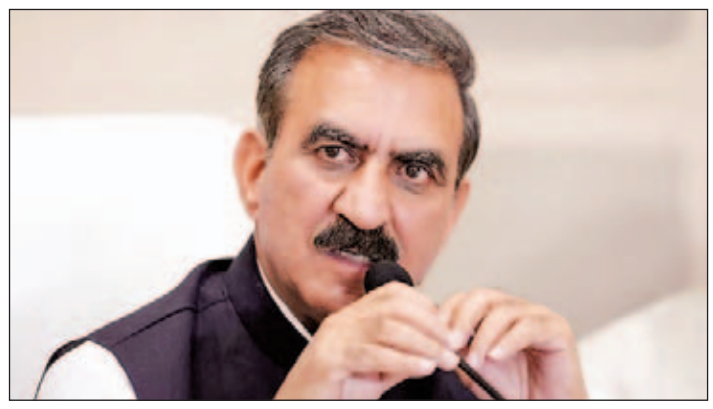

DINESH AGARWAL
SHIMLA, JUNE 11

Various initiatives have been taken during the last two and a half years to make Himachal Pradesh a 'Green and Clean State', with an objective to improve the effectiveness of environmental management, protect vulnerable ecosystems and enhance sustainability of development.

In this direction, high level meetings have been chaired by Chief Minister Thakur Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu and the results have started pouring in. The ban on use of 500 ml plastic water bottles from 1 June 2025, the 'Clean City, Prosperous City Campaign', launched on 5 February in the State, shift towards solar energy, construction of green corridors, launching of e-vehicles as compared to conventional internal combustion engine vehicles to reduce the carbon footprints, the Green School Programme, etc are the several key initiatives taken to make realize the dream of 'Green Energy State' by 31 March, 2026.

To motivate the children, the Chief Minister recently announced to distribute 60,00,00 stainless steel water bottles to school students, so that they could refrain from the use of plastic water bottles. Regulations related to plastic use have been made quite stringent.

Directions have been issued that the use of the bottles made from Polyethylene Terephthalate (PET) will be banned in all the government programmes and hotels across Himachal Pradesh to ensure cleanliness which indeed will go a long way to make Himachal a plastic-free State. Its use will be prohibited in internal official meetings, conferences and events organized by all government departments, boards, corporations and related bodies. The restriction will also apply to Himachal Pradesh Tourism Development Corporation hotels and private hotels.

"Plastic Challenging Mobile App" is yet another significant step towards digitizing enforcement of environmental laws. With this app, officials from 13 departments will now be able to issue challan directly through their mobile devices which would eliminate the need for paper-based processes and promote environmental protection.

Apart from this, Village Forest Management Society (VFMS) are being honoured for their forest conservation efforts. The Chief Minister has exhorted youth to take active part in the movement to preserve forests and emphasized for striking a balance between development and environmental protection to ensure a secure, prosperous and green Himachal for future generations.

Similarly, 'Clean City-Prosperous City programme', launched on 5th February in Himachal Pradesh, aimed to raise awareness about cleanliness and achieve urban sanitation and sustainable development goals.

The nearly two-month-long campaign focused on educating people living in urban areas about the importance of cleanliness, resolving public grievances through solution camps, and promoting the use of digital services through the online citizen service portal. The citizens were informed about nine essential online services being developed under the portal to improve access to urban facilities.

The campaign revolved around three major components: waste management and sanitation, conducting solution camps, and launching the online citizen service portal. Active participation was ensured from 962 members of Self-Help Groups, 14 NGOs and students from 85 schools to create widespread awareness. The volunteers visited around 2.5 lakh households twice during the campaign. Solution camps were organised at the ward level in urban areas.

The campaign not only improved public awareness around cleanliness but also strengthened community participation by involving citizens, NGOs, and schools.

India's global rise under PM Modi is historic: Randhir Sharma

AJAY KUMAR UPADHYAY
BILASPUR, JUNE 11

BJP State Chief Spokesperson Randhir Sharma, while addressing a press conference in Bilaspur, said that India's transformation over the last 11 years under the decisive and visionary leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi has been unprecedented. He remarked that India is no longer a passive spectator on the global stage but a formidable power that responds with strength and conviction when challenged. Citing the example of air strikes and Operation Sindoor in retaliation to terrorist attacks, he said India now replies to a brick with a stone — marking a shift from silence to strength in national defense. Randhir Sharma highlighted the contrast between the governance of the UPA and the Modi government. He recalled that the decade before 2014 was marked by rampant corruption, scams, and policy paralysis. However, the 2014 mandate proved to be a turning point for India, with Prime Minister Narendra Modi ushering in an era of bold reforms and inclusive development. Under Modi's leadership, India has surged from being the 11th largest economy to the 4th, he said. Whether it is in infrastructure, with rapid four-lane highway expansion and new airports, or in defense, where India has transitioned from a major importer to an exporter of weapons — the progress is visible and measurable. Sharma further added that the Modi government's focus on rural upliftment and grassroots development has significantly improved the quality of life for millions. Himachal Pradesh too has benefited enormously, with over 11.74 lakh people under Ayushman Bharat, 3.5 lakh women under Ujjwala Yojana, and 1.3 lakh houses built under the Pradhan Mantri Awas Yojana in the state.

Over century-old traditional wrestling festival to be held on June 29 in Sulyali Makodjaman

SANJEEV MAHAJAN
NURPUR, JUNE 11

The historic wrestling festival, popularly known as Baba Kyalu Dangal, will be organised on 15th Prashtha (29 June) in Sulyali Makodjaman village under Block Nurpur. The traditional event has a legacy spanning more than a hundred years and continues to attract top-tier wrestlers from across Himachal Pradesh and northern India.

The origin of this dangal is steeped in faith and folklore. According to the villagers, many decades ago the village often witnessed mysterious and repeated outbreaks of fire. Troubled and desperate, the villagers prayed at the shrine of Baba Sukhkhali, promising to organise a wrestling event every year in honour of Baba

Kyalu if the curse of fire was lifted. Miraculously, the fires ceased—and thus began the tradition of this annual dangal in gratitude. Over the years, the event has grown in scale and reputation, becoming a significant gathering in the regional cultural calendar. Owing to logistical reasons, the dangal committee had previously announced that this year's event would be held at a new location, a short distance from the original site. The new venue has been generously provided by Krishna Sharma, a supporter of the tradition. Nanda questioned the limited action taken so far, alleging that the arrest of a single individual appears to be a tactic to suppress a larger web of irregularities. Nanda demanded a high-level probe into the case and asked why no stringent action has been taken against officials of the Civil Supplies Department and the printing press involved. He emphasized that the arrested man is the brother of a ration depot holder, who ordered the printing of over 1,200 fake donation slips after misplacing an original one issued by local authorities. These slips bore the name of the Shoolini Mela Committee, the DC Solan's phone number, email, and even a QR code—raising serious concerns about the misuse of official identity. "Is the government protecting corrupt officials?" Rahul Gandhi writes to PM Modi, alleges 'delay' in scholarships for marginalised students

NEW DELHI, JUNE 11

Congress MP and Leader of Opposition in the Lok Sabha Rahul Gandh has written to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, claiming that that delays and failures plague post-matric scholarships for students from marginalised communities.The letter came following Rahul Gandhi's recent visit to a Hostel in Bihar where students complained, among other things, about alleged lack of mess facilities."I request you to resolve two critical issues which hinder education opportunities for the 90% of students who are from marginalised communities. Firstly, the conditions in residential hostels for students from Dalit, ST, EBC, OBC and minority communities are deplorable. During a recent visit to Ambedkar Hostel in Darbhanga, Bihar, students complained about single rooms which 6-7 students were forced to share, unhygienic toilets, unsafe drinking water, lack of mess facilities, and no access to libraries or the internet," Rahul Gandhi said in his letter dated June 10. The Congress MP further further said, "Secondly, post-matric scholarships for students from marginalised communities are plagued by delays and failures. For example, in Bihar, the scholarship portal was non-functional for three years no student received a scholarship in 2021-22. Even thereafter, the number of Dalit students receiving scholarships fell by nearly half, from 1.36 lakh in FY23 to 0.69 lakh in FY24. Students further complain that the scholarship amounts are insultingly low," the letter added. The Lok Sabha LoP suggested that government should take two actions to overcome these difficulties The letter reads, "While I have cited examples from Bihar, these failures are widespread across the country. I urge the government to immediately take two actions to remedy these failures: Audit every hostel for students from Dalit, ST, EBC, OBC and minority communities to ensure good infrastructure, sanitation, food, and academic facilities; and allocate adequate funds to address deficiencies. Disburse post-matric scholarships on time, increase scholarship amounts, and improve execution by working closely with state governments." "I am sure you agree that India cannot progress unless youth from marginalized communities progress. I look forward to your positive response," it added.

China's big game plan in Tibet, Panchen Lama meets Xi Jinping

SANAJY AGGARWAL
DHARAMSHALA, JUNE 11

Before the 90th birthday of the Dalai Lama in July, China has prepared a big game plan in Tibet. Panchen Lama, who is considered the second most important religious figure after the Dalai Lama in Tibetan Buddhism, met Chinese President Xi Jinping. During this, the Panchen Lama reiterated his loyalty to the Chinese Communist Party. President Xi Jinping urged him to play an active role in promoting ethnic unity, religious harmony, stability, development and progress in the Tibet Autonomous Region. In 1995, China appointed Gyaltsen Norbu as the 11th Panchen Lama against the wishes of the Dalai Lama. However, Tibetans have described this game plan of China as a violation of the fundamental rights of Tibetans in Tibet. Also, Tibetans have asked China to release the 11th Panchem Lama who is imprisoned by China. Xi Jinping also urged him to make continuous efforts to advance the Sinicization of religion. Since taking power in 2012, Xi Jinping has been adopting a policy of molding all major religions such as Buddhism and Islam in accordance with Chinese culture and the policies of the Communist Party, so that these religions operate under the ideology of the party. Many countries of the world are also seen strongly condemning China's game plan in Tibet. Let us tell you that the 35-year-old Panchen Lama was appointed by China in 1995, when he was only five years old. This appointment was made when China removed Gedhun Choekyi Nyima from this post. In fact, the Dalai Lama appointed Gedhun Choekyi Nyima as the 11th Panchen Lama.

Gaps remain

India has achieved near-universal primary school enrolment, according to UNESCO's Global Education Monitoring Report 2024-25 released recently. But this means little because the same report also shows that the country, along with many others, continues to grapple with poor learning outcomes. The GEMR found that 73% of children in developing countries are unable to read and comprehend a simple text by the age of 10 — a stark indicator of the growing gap between access to education and quality learning. This chasm is also borne out by the findings of the Annual State of Education Report 2024, which showed that in India, only 27.1% of Class III and 48.8% of Class V students are able to read a Class II text. The role of well-trained teachers in sufficient numbers in affecting learning outcomes is an oft-highlighted fact. But the GEMR stands out for underlining an aspect that often goes overlooked when it comes to discussions on learning outcomes: leadership. The principal of a school has a significant role to play when it comes to ensuring how students are taught and how much of the lessons they are retaining. It is worrying, then, that the GEMR revealed that the processes for selecting and preparing school principals lack coherence. In numerous cases, individuals are appointed to leadership roles based on length of service or bureaucratic credentials — West Bengal was cited as an example for this poor practice — rather than on evidence of leadership skills. A survey cited in the GEMR also shows that Indian principals are burdened with responsibilities such as data reporting, coordinating midday meals and so on, leaving them little time for academic leadership or mentoring teachers. Additionally, the GEMR also raised a red flag when it comes to skewed gender representation in leadership roles, leading to unequal learning outcomes for girls and boys.

India is among the 31% of countries that lack formal induction systems for school principals. Perhaps it could take a leaf out of the books of Bangladesh and Vietnam, which have improved learning outcomes by introducing structured reforms in principal recruitment, training, and decentralised school governance. For all its stated goals at the level of policy — the National Education Policy is an example — primary education remains an area of concern. Ameliorative steps must be taken urgently for a study suggests that a child's inability to learn starts a vicious cycle of widespread disillusionment among students, parents and teachers. Breaking this vicious cycle requires effective interventions to improve the standards of primary education.

Mexican flag fuels debate amid LA immigration protests

Mexico's green, white and red flag has emerged as a defining symbol of the ongoing immigration protests in Los Angeles, CNN reported. Demonstrators have been waving the Mexican flag alongside those of other Latin American countries and the United States to express solidarity with immigrants and to protest against recent federal raids.Los Angeles has been roiled in protests since Friday, when ICE officers conducted raids at several workplaces in the city's garment district.

While initially peaceful, the protests have led to dozens of arrests and some violent clashes.President Donald Trump deployed thousands of National Guard troops and Marines, sparking outrage from Democratic Governor Gavin Newsom, who described the mobilization as an "illegal takeover" and a "blatant abuse of power."

The Mexican flag has been a longstanding symbol in immigration protests, especially in LA, which is seen as the capital of the Mexican diaspora in the US. According to Census data, over 3.4 million people of Mexican heritage or birth live in Los Angeles County--more than any other US county.Republican leaders have criticized the prominence of the flag. "Insurrectionists carrying foreign flags are attacking immigration enforcement officers," Vice President JD Vance wrote on X. Senator Markwayne Mullin told CNN's Dana

Bash, "They were literally out there protesting, carrying a foreign flag. That is absolutely insane. They're not just peaceful protesters. These are illegals."

The Department of Homeland Security has circulated images showing protesters clashing with police while waving the Mexican flag. Stephen Miller, Trump's deputy chief of staff for policy, described the demonstrators on social media as "foreign nationals, waving foreign flags, rioting and obstructing federal law enforcement attempting to expel illegal foreign invaders."

Despite criticism, protesters and academics defended the symbolic use of the flag. Raul Hinojosa-Ojeda, a UCLA professor, said such demonization of symbols is a "well-documented move on the part of the Trump administration, knowing that every single demonstration of this type brings out the Mexican flag."Former Congressman Adam Kinzinger told CNN the optics were poor: "The visuals of the Mexican flag at protests are terrible, honestly... I just think that it would be much stronger if they were carrying American flags only."The flag's presence in protests has deep roots. Jorge Castaneda, former Mexican foreign minister, said, "This is something that goes back to the 1990s, when many people protested against Proposition 187," adding that most demonstrators today are likely American citizens. He noted it would be "quite reckless and foolish" for undocumented individuals to protest publicly due to deportation risks.

Republican strategist Mike Madrid argued in the Sacramento Bee that waving the Mexican flag "transforms what should be a debate about American constitutional rights and due process into a conversation about foreign loyalty and cultural assimilation."However, others see the flag as a symbol of unity and identity. "The flags mean their families. The flags mean their communities. It's not about having an international invasion," Hinojosa-Ojeda said.Antonio Rodriguez, an organizer with the Brown Berets, said, "I don't necessarily think just because somebody has pride in their culture that they're un-American... Waving a Mexican flag, for us, is showing pride in our culture and our family."

Food aid only lifeline for millions in crisis-hit Afghanistan: WFP

The World Food Programme (WFP) has stressed that food aid remains the only lifeline for many Afghans grappling with acute hunger, Khaama Press reported.In a statement posted on June 10 via social media platform X, the agency called for sustained assistance to vulnerable communities across Afghanistan.According to WFP, its teams continue to navigate difficult terrain and remote mountainous areas to deliver life-saving food supplies."For many Afghans facing hunger, this food is their only hope of survival," the organisation said. However, a sharp decline in funding has severely affected WFP's operations in the country. The agency noted that its services, which have been vital in preventing famine in recent years, have had to be significantly reduced, Khaama Press stated.More than 23 million people in Afghanistan are currently facing acute food insecurity, with contributing factors including prolonged conflict, economic collapse, and climate-related disasters.

The shortfall in aid comes amid growing economic challenges under the Taliban regime.

The future of robotics at elementary stage

Robotics is rapidly transforming elementary education, preparing young learners for a future where technology and artificial intelligence are integral to everyday life. At its core, educational robotics serves as a bridge to new technologies, demystifying complex concepts and making them accessible to students from diverse backgrounds.

This hands-on, interactive approach not only enhances technological literacy but also fosters creativity, problem-solving, and collaboration—skills essential for the 21st century.Integrating robotics into elementary curricula is becoming increasingly common. Robotics can be introduced as part of science, technology, or as an interdisciplinary subject, blending STEM with art and language for a more holistic learning experience. By engaging students in designing, building, and programming robots, educators cultivate an innovative mindset from an early age. Popular robotics kits like LEGO Mindstorms, Dash and Dot, and Ozobot are designed to be age-appropriate and user-friendly, balancing challenge with fun.The benefits of robotics at the elementary stage are well-documented. Students develop critical thinking and computational skills as they experiment, identify problems, and debug their robot programs.

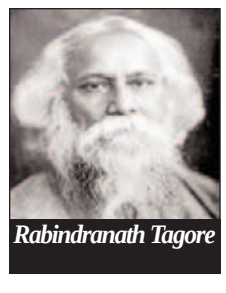

Robotics also promotes teamwork, as projects often require group collaboration, helping children build social skills and confidence. For shy students or those with special needs, robots can serve as less intimidating partners, encouraging participation and reinforcing understanding by allowing children to explain concepts to the robot.Looking ahead, the future of robotics in elementary education is bright and dynamic. Innovations such as AI-powered robots, virtual and augmented reality, and Robotics as a Service (RaaS) are expected to make learning even more personalized and immersive. These advancements will allow robots to adapt to each student's learning pace and style, providing targeted instruction and feedback. The integration of these technologies promises to create engaging, real-time, and interactive learning environments.Despite these opportunities, challenges remain. High costs and the need for teacher training can hinder widespread adoption, potentially widening the digital divide. Addressing these barriers through government support, professional development, and community involvement is crucial for ensuring equitable access to robotics education.In summary, robotics at the elementary stage is not just about preparing students for future careers, but about equipping them with the skills and mindset to thrive in a rapidly evolving world .By embracing robotics, schools can create inclusive, innovative, and future-ready learning environments.

Last Curtain

I know that the day will come when my sight of this earth shall be lost, and life will take its leave in silence, drawing the last curtain over my eyes.

Rabindranath Tagore

Yet stars will watch at night, and morning rise as before, and hours heave like sea waves casting up pleasures and pains.
When I think of this end of my moments, the barrier of the moments breaks and I see by the light of death thy world with its careless treasures. Rare is its lowliest seat, rare is its meanest of lives.

India's Global clout in 11 years: Subhash Chandra

Modi Government's 11-Year Tenure Benefits All, Strengthens the NationUnder Prime Minister Narendra Modi's leadership, the central government has completed 11 years of a golden journey. This is just the beginning. The journey, which began on May 26, 2014, has been guided by the principles of service, good governance, and welfare for the poor. No section of Indian society has been untouched by the Modi government's development initiatives.Over these years, the world has acknowledged India's progress on economic, social, and global fronts. Economically, while major economies worldwide have faltered, India has surged from the 11th largest economy to the 4th largest.

This is no small feat. Schemes like Make in India and Digital India have played a significant role in achieving this, boosting investment and innovation.Regarding the Swachh Bharat Mission, this campaign led to the construction of 117.2 million toilets, while the Jal Jeevan Mission provided tap water connections to 118.2 million rural homes. I believe the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan isn't just about building toilets; it has directly benefited public health as well.The Modi government has also placed special emphasis on women's empowerment, with 300 million Mudra Yojana loans disbursed to women and their participation in higher education increasing by 28 percent. The world's largest healthcare scheme, also known as Modi Care or Ayushman Bharat Yojana, has provided health insurance to 500 million people. In foreign policy, India's Neighbourhood First policy and growing credibility on global platforms have established the nation as a strong global power.Direct Benefit Transfers and a Stronger IndiaFurthermore, in terms of Digital India, Direct Benefit Transfer (DBT) transactions, where money is sent directly to beneficiaries' accounts, have increased by approximately 130 times. The synergy of Jan Dhan bank accounts, Aadhaar cards, and mobile phones has prevented leakage of around 3.9 trillion rupees. Wherever the BJP government is in power today, there is welfare for the poor.It would be no exaggeration to call these 11 years a golden era for building a developed and self-reliant India. In these 11 years, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has not only given India a global identity but has also dedicated himself to the nation and society, becoming a symbol of trust for 1.4 billion Indians. Good governance is now being seen as a culture.

This 11-year tenure prioritizes service as a resolution, good governance as a culture, and security as the highest priority.For 65 years after independence, the common person's trust was broken, their faith shattered, and India's image on the global stage tarnished due due to Congress leadership and other unstable governments. However, in the last 11 years, Prime Minister Modi has provided leadership free from corruption, dynastic politics, and appeasement, realizing the vision of 'Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat' (One India, Great India).

The government completes 11 years at a time when the entire world witnessed India's military might in Pakistan, and the world has seen that power with confidence, as evident through the ongoing Operation Sindoor. The central government advocates for peaceful development with good people, but if anyone imposes war on us, breaches our security, or incites and encourages terrorism, the response will be surgical strikes, air strikes, and Operation Sindoor.Bold Decisions and Inclusive DevelopmentArticle 370 was a stain on India's forehead, which this Modi government removed in one swift move, despite all the claims of opposition leaders and intellectuals. The Modi government has presented India's integrity from Kashmir to Kanyakumari as a new model of 'Ek Bharat Shreshtha Bharat'. Over the past 11 years, the country has moved forward with the mantra of 'Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas, Sabka Vishwas, Sabka Prayas' (Together with all, Development for all, Trust of all, Efforts of all).In these 11 years, the central government led by PM Modi has transformed the culture of Indian politics.

Eleven years ago, appeasement and dividing society to secure one's position had become the norm in political culture. But after 2014, a responsible and accountable government led by Prime Minister Modi came into power. Before the Modi government, the country believed certain things were impossible, but bold decisions under the Modi government, such as the abrogation of Article 370 in Jammu and Kashmir, the construction of the Ram Temple, and the abolition of Triple Talaq, have further strengthened public trust in the BJP government.As a result, voter turnout in the Lok Sabha elections was 58.46 percent, while in the Jammu and Kashmir Assembly elections, it was 63 percent. This change has come about due to the Modi government's bold decision-making. Over the last decade, the Modi government has prioritized all sections of society, including farmers, SC-ST, and OBC. Similarly, it has advanced development schemes focused on women.

During this period, from women becoming pilots to receiving commissions in the army, from admissions to Sainik Schools to recruitment in the NDA, from the 'Lakhpati Didi' scheme to promoting Self-Help Groups, women, SC-ST, and OBC communities have all been brought into the mainstream of society under the Modi government. Many more significant schemes are yet to be implemented in the future, which future generations will always remember.

Congress slams BJP's 11-year tenure, calls achievements "Zero"

AJAY KUMAR UPADHYAY

BILASPUR: In a strongly worded statement, Congress media coordinator and HRTC Purchase Committee Member, Sandeep Sankhyan, launched a scathing attack on the BJP-led central government, declaring that the last 11 years under Prime Minister Narendra Modi have yielded "zero achievements" for the nation. Terming the BJP as a "private limited company," Sankhyan said the party has completely abandoned the foundational principles laid by its own ideological forebears. He accused the BJP of promoting a cult-like worship of a single individual while the nation grapples with rising unemployment, growing economic disparity, and the erosion of democratic institutions. "BJP's achievements are limited to chanting the name of one man, while the youth are jobless, farmers are on the streets, and institutions like the CBI are used to target political opponents," said Sankhyan.

Haryana Agriculture Minister calls upon the farmers on direct sowing paddy

RAHUL KOHLI

YAMUNANAGAR, JUNE 11

Haryana's Agriculture and Farmers Welfare Minister Shyam Singh Rana, while talking to the media, said that with the aim of saving the depleting ground water level, the Central and State governments have started joint efforts and the government was promoting all those crops which require less amount of water and to increase the inclination of farmers towards such crops. The government was also providing subsidy amount. He said that the source of water was only land, water, river and canal. Due to indiscriminate use of ground water, its level was falling day by day and due to repeated use of only the upper layer of land, a hard layer was formed at some depth, as a result of which rain water was not able to go into the ground water. He said that to save ground water, the government was emphasizing on direct sowing of paddy, farmers doing direct sowing of paddy were being given special subsidy. He said that direct sowing of paddy saved water and energy, as well as reduced environmental pollution. He appealed to the farmers to do direct sowing of paddy keeping in mind the falling level of ground water. Agriculture Minister Shyam Singh Rana said that he also belonged to a farmer family and he also has good knowledge about agriculture. He said that farmers prepare paddy saplings by traditional method and plant paddy in the field. In which along with time, water consumption is very high. Apart from this, transplanting paddy also requires a lot of labor, which increases the expenditure on paddy cultivation. NEWS BRIEF

Wimbledon champion Krejcikova suffers first-round defeat at Queen's Club

London, June 11 (UNI) Defending Wimbledon champion Barbora Krejcikova failed to reach the second round at Queen's Club, as the 29-year-old Czech lost to Rebecca Sramkova of Slovakia 6-4, 6-3 at the WTA 500 event here. Krejcikova started her campaign at Queen's Club in west London as the seventh seed in the women's singles main draw, but was outplayed by 28-year-old Sramkova after one hour and 15 minutes on Tuesday.

Last year, Krejcikova celebrated her first Grand Slam win since the French Open in 2021, but withdrew from this year's Australian Open due to a back injury and had been out of action until May. World No. 41 Sramkova's next opponent is Emma Raducanu, as the home favorite smashed Spanish qualifier Cristina Bucsa 6-1, 6-2. "I think it was a very clean performance. I'm really pleased with what I was able to put out on the court despite any first-round nerves," said the 22-year-old former U.S. Open champion.

Raducanu's compatriots Katie Boulter and Heather Watson also enjoyed opening-round wins in front of their home crowd. Boulter, 28, edged out Ajla Tomljanovic 7-6(4), 1-6, 6-4 after battling against the Australian qualifier in two hours and 21 minutes.

WI coach Sammy on Nicholas Pooran's international retirement

Southampton: West Indies white-ball head coach Daren Sammy broke silence on star batter Nicholas Pooran's retirement from international cricket, saying that "more will follow in that direction" and his instincts told him that "something like that would happen". Pooran's decision comes days after he requested Cricket West Indies not to consider him for their ongoing white-ball tour of England. With over eight months left before the T20 World Cup 2026 kicks off in India and Sri Lanka, Pooran's decision serves as a massive setback for the 2016 winners. Since bursting onto the international scene in 2016, Pooran featured in 106 T20Is and 61 ODIs, garnering more than 4,258 runs across both formats. He mustered up 2,275 in the shortest format of cricket, averaging 26.14 at 136.39. While in the 50-over cricket, he tallied 1,983 runs at 39.66 while maintaining a strike rate of 99.15, laced with three centuries and 11 fifties.

Speaking as quoted by ESPNCricinfo, Sammy said after 0-3 loss to England in T20Is, "My instincts told me something like that would happen. Nicholas sent me a text message, and so did I had a conversation with his agent as well... When we first spoke about the UK tour and the conversation I had with him, I did ask him, 'Are you unavailable for the UK tour only, or indefinitely?' And from that response, I just knew I had to start preparing for the worst case."

WTC final: Rabada's fifer floors Australia for 212, South Africa gain early edge

AGENCY

LONDON: Day 1 of the World Test championship final between Australia and South Africa saw Australia get bundled out at 212 courtesy of the Protea pacers at the Lord's, giving South Africa a slight advantage going ahead in the one-off Test. Kagiso Rabada's fifer paved the way for South Africa who have got Australia restricted to a decent total with the responsibility shifting to the batters now to try and get a good start with the time left on the first day. Steve Smith began the post lunch session in a positive way for the Aussie featuring a resilient fifty by Steve Smith who continued to inspire the innings in a crucial tie for the side. The duo kept finding the boundaries at regular intervals and went on to rotate the strike along the way as well. South Africa's introduction finally paid off in the 42nd over wen Aiden markram got the big wicket of Steve Smith on 66 as he was caught behind in the slips by Marco jansen after fumbling the ball twice before getting his fingers around it. The batter departed on 66 as Webster tried to continue putting runs on the board alongside Carey with the former also reaching his fifty before tea. Both batters put up a 44-run partnership that took the total to 190/5 after 50 overs. Earlier, the start of the innings was pretty steady by openers Usman Khawaja and Marnus Labuschagne that started off with 3 consecutive maiden overs. However, it was Rabada who gave the Proteas the breakthrough by taking 2 wickets in a single over as Usman Khawaja was sent back for a duck while the incoming batter Cameron green departed after scoring a boundary as well. In came Smith and started to build up with marnus in the middle. The next wicket courtesy of marco jansen who got Marnus in the 18th over, caught behind again. While Head came in and started to try and hit from the word go, it was Smith too who partnered him and got some fours along the way. The disappointment for the Aussies came when travis Head lost his wickets in the final over before lunch as he too was caught behind on marco jansen's delivery. The Aussies are 67/4 at lunch and have a lot to do now.

India players engage in intense fielding drills filled with banter ahead of England Tests

AGENCY

LONDON : Indian players engaged in intense fielding drills, which were topped up by a fun banter between the players as they continued to fortify their preparations for the upcoming Test series against England.

Fielding coach T Dilip orchestrated the fielding drills, which involved taking low and high catches and hitting the stumps from a distance, in a video posted by the BCCI. Vice-captain Rishabh Pant's throw was a whisker away from hitting the stump, and he expressed his agony by saying, "Arey yaar."

In one instance, Indian Test captain Shubman Gill was impressed when his Gujarat Titans teammate Sai Sudharsan took a sharp catch and said, "Catching yaar." Towards the end of the video, Mohammed Siraj celebrated by jumping in the air after cleanly completing a catch.

After batting wizards Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli bid adieu to Test cricket last month, India was left short on experience. With India bereft of its torchbearers, the management turned to youngsters to mark the beginning of a new era.

The five-test tour of England starts June 20 at Leeds and lasts until August 2025. With India lining up without its batting bigwigs Rohit and Virat following their retirement from the game's longest format, the onus lies on the Shubman-led revamped side to prove itself away from home in testing and gruelling English conditions.

The series will be held from June to August, with matches scheduled at Headingley in Leeds, Edgbaston in Birmingham, Lord's and The Oval in London, and Old Trafford in Manchester.

India's Test squad for England series: Shubman Gill (c), Rishabh Pant (vc), Yashasvi Jaiswal, KL Rahul, Sai Sudharsan, Abhimanyu Easwaran, Karun Nair, Nitish Reddy, Ravindra Jadeja, Dhruv Jurel, Washington Sundar, Shardul Thakur, Jasprit Bumrah, Mohammed Siraj, Prasidh Krishna, Akash Deep, Arshdeep Singh, Kuldeep Yadav.

England squad for first Test vs India: Shoaib Bashir, Jacob Bethell, Harry Brook, Brydon Carse, Sam Cook, Zak Crawley, Ben Duckett, Jamie Overton, Ollie Pope, Joe Root, Jamie Smith (wk), Ben Stokes (capt), Josh Tongue, Chris Woakes.

UTT Season 6: U Mumba TT eye playoffs, Dabang Delhi TTC chase history in final league stage tie

AGENCY

AHMEDABAD : U Mumba TT will have their sights set on a semi-final berth when they take on playoffs-bound Dabang Delhi TTC in the Ultimate Table Tennis (UTT) Season 6 on Thursday. There is a lot on the line for Delhi, too, who are aiming to become the first team in history to pass through the league stage unbeaten.

U Mumba sit fifth on the table with 32 points; their playoff chances rest not just on a win, but also on the outcome of the Jaipur Patriots vs PBG Pune Jaguars tie. Five games might be enough, but nothing less than a fight will do for the team from Mumbai.

They come in buoyed by a gritty win over Stanley's Chennai Lions, with Bernadette Szocs, Lilian Bardet, and Yashaswini Ghorpade all in strong form. Szocs and Bardet have each won three of their four matches, while Yashaswini--who beat China's Fan Siqi in her previous outing--has won two of three.

The Szocs-Akash Pal pairing has been a revelation, winning three straight in mixed doubles. Though Akash is yet to win a singles match, his doubles presence remains key. Bardet and Szocs rank among the league's top forehand shot-makers, while Yashaswini has been a backhand machine. Dabang Delhi, meanwhile, have already locked in their playoff berth, but a win here would etch their names in UTT history. They've been consistently clinical: Diya Chitale, Sathiyan Gnanasekaran, Maria Xiao, and Izaac Quek have all won at least two matches each, delivering consistent returns.

Steve Smith overtakes Tendulkar to reach closer to Virat Kohli's ICC knockout matches record

LONDON : Australian batting icon Steve Smith overtook legendary Indian cricketer Sachin Tendulkar, climbing up to the second spot among batters with the highest number of fifty-plus scores in ICC tournament knockout matches.

Smith continues solidifying his legacy as the ultimate clutch batter for Australia, with yet another half-century against the Proteas during the ICC World Test Championship (WTC) final at Lord's. Walking in with Australia at 16/2, Smith's fluency was on showcase as he scored 66 in 112 balls, with 10 fours. His runs came at a strike rate of 58.92. This is Smith's seventh fifty-plus score in ICC event knockout matches, overtaking Tendulkar, who had six such scores in 15 matches, scoring 682 runs at an average of 48.71 with a century and five fifties. Smith loses out to Tendulkar in volume of runs, scoring 650 runs in 13 matches and innings at an average of 59.09, with two centuries and nine fifties. His best score is 121.India's Virat Kohli remains the undisputed king of ICC knockout matches, being the only player to have made 1,000 runs in such matches. He has made 1,024 runs in 22 matches and 24 innings at an average of 51.20, with a century and nine fifties (a total of 10 fifty-plus scores) and best score of 117 against New Zealand in the 2023 World Cup semifinal at Mumbai.

Indie Sensation Iqlipse Nova joins hands with Banger Producer Hiten create Magic with Saawariya, their new track CHANDIGARH : If messy love had a soundtrack, it would probably sound a lot like 'Saawariya', the latest single by India's most loved Indie voices Iqlipse Nova in collaboration with genre-defying producers- composers Hiten along with the powerhouse vocalist Bandana Dutta and the lyrics penned by Iqlipse Nova and Aditi Sharma.

A heady blend of classical and pop influences, the indie track with mainstream magnetism is a quirky, fresh and drama-filled take on relationship dynamics. Packed with playful tension, Saawariya tells the story of a boy hopelessly smitten, trying to charm a girl full of nakhras. The track is layered with a modern groove of a timeless twist and playful textures, delivering both dancefloor energy and emotional depth, bridging generations and cultures effortlessly.

Talking about the track, Iqlipse Nova shares, "Saawariya is a soulful crossover of two different worlds of music that are often seen as opposites. I've always loved when different sounds come together to create something fresh. With this track, we wanted to make something personal, honest and relatable, something that makes you smile and will make you feel good!"

Hiten, whose music production anchors the track's emotional core, adds "There's something timeless in the melody of Saawariya. It feels personal as it draws from the kind of music I grew up hearing to around me. Creating this track felt like bringing a piece of my childhood back, preserving the nostalgia but giving it a new-age twist without losing the soul. Working with Iqlipse and Bandana was effortless and fun. Saawariya is a celebration of my roots, and I hope the audience will listen to the track on loop."

Some people are in love, some aren't. If you're one of these, this song Mile Tum, is for you CHANDIGARH : Some songs quietly find a way into your heart and "Mile Tum" by singer-songwriter Vismay Patel, is one of those. An excellent blend of heartfelt lyrics and delicate melodies, this track captures the moment when love feels calm, comforting, deeply grounding - like finally coming home.

Penned and sung by Vismay Patel, composed by Vismay and Shrey Gupta, and produced by Vismay Shrey and Nabeel Zubair, 'Mile Tum' captures the rare moment when the right person walks into your life, and suddenly, all the scattered pieces fall into place.

"'Mile Tum' is about finding that one person who makes life feel less scattered and the stillness that comes after the chaos," shares Vismay Patel while talking about the inspiration. It's that moment when you realise you've found the one - it's simple, easy and comforting. This track comes from a personal place. I wanted to try and put into words the feeling of finally being okay and finding peace. I hope Mile Tum offers a silent moment of calm and a reminder that love doesn't have to be loud to feel true."

A combination of soft pop and indie soul, Mile Tum is main character energy with a side of low-key heartbreak, if you've not found love yet. But it also gives hope because when you find the right person, the love will sound like this song. His discography keeps growing, and so does the emotional damage (in the best way). So go on, close your eyes, hit play, and let 'Mile Tum' soundtrack your softest moments.
