World elder abuse awareness Day observes by SLSA

CHANDIGARH: Under the guidance of the Executive Chairman, State Legal Services Authority (SLSA) Chandigarh the Authority has observed 'World Elder Abuse Awareness Day' on June 15 in Old Age Home, Sector-15, Chandigarh. This year's theme focuses on "Spotlight on Older Persons in emergencies", emphasizing the vulnerabilities of older people during crises and the urgent need for inclusive policies, support systems, and legal protections. Every year on June 15, World Elder Abuse Awareness Day is observed globally to raise awareness about the mistreatment, neglect, and abuse faced by older persons. This day serves as a crucial reminder of the need to protect the dignity, safety, and rights of our senior citizens.

The elderly are the pillars of our society, holding a wealth of experience, wisdom, and love. Unfortunately, many of them face abuse in various forms – physical, emotional, financial, or through neglect – often within their own homes or communities. Such acts not only violate their rights but also strip them of the respect they deserve. On this occasion, Ms. Sampreet Kaur, Member Secretary, SLSA, Chandigarh told the gathering about the services/working of the State Legal Services Authority, Chandigarh along with the NALSA.

Partap Bajwa and Sunil Jakhar are so worried about 'Khali Dal', are they planning to join them? : Sondh LUDHIANA/CHANDIGARH: AAP Minister Tarunpreet Singh Sondh tore into Congress leader Partap Singh Bajwa, lambasting his recent remarks on Akali Dal and calling out his political ambitions. Sondh stated that Bajwa's attempts to mislead Punjab's people will fail, as the state has already moved beyond Congress, Akali Dal, and BJP.

Sondh said, "Say whatever you want, Bajwa Sahib, but you will never become the Chief Minister of Punjab. Write it down. The people of Punjab are wise enough to see through you. They have already rejected all traditional parties and dynast politicians in 2022."

Are Bajwa and Jakhar Joining 'Khali Dal'?

Mocking Bajwa's concern over Akali Dal's miserable state, Sondh remarked, "First, Sunil Jakhar claimed Akali Dal is 'Khali' (hollow), and now Bajwa repeats it. Are the two of you planning to join Akali Dal or create a new version of it together? It seems neither Congress nor BJP has any direction in Punjab, and their leaders are just scrambling for relevance."

Highlighting Congress' lack of progress over decades, Sondh questioned Bajwa's contributions: "For 50 years in politics, what have you done for Punjab? Congress has only added to the state's problems, whether it was shielding drug lords or exploiting Punjab's resources. Can you name even one achievement for the people of Punjab?"

In contrast, Sondh emphasized the AAP government's commitment to tackling Punjab's drug crisis under CM Bhagwant Mann. "We are uprooting the drug menace decisively. Our police act without bias or interference. Where were you and your party when drug traffickers flourished under Congress' protection?"

The AAP Minister took a sharp dig at Partap Singh Bajwa, calling out his misleading remarks about the police, law and order and drug-related issues in Punjab. Sondh said, "Bajwa Sahib, if the so-called 'Thar Wali Bibi' was involved in wrongdoing, it was the same police who acted against her. This reflects the unwavering commitment of Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann to eradicate the drug menace from Punjab. Unlike your previous governments that shielded culprits, our government ensures unbiased action against all wrongdoers."

Sondh further pointed out the hollow promises made by Captain Amarinder where he promised to end drugs in four weeks, "Where is your 'Maharaja Sahib,' who once claimed he would eliminate drugs in four weeks? While you once hailed him as your 'Gurudev', now where is he? Punjab suffered while you all enjoyed your positions of power," Sondh said. He also reminded Partap Bajwa how during Congress rule, Punjab CMO was under a Pakistani, Aroosa Alam.

Punjab Has Rejected BJP, Congress, and Akali Dal

Sondh reiterated that Punjab's people have moved past traditional parties. "Bajwa may worry about Akali Dal being 'Khali,' but the truth is that Punjab has rejected Akali Dal, BJP, and Congress alike. The state is now focused on progress, not outdated politics and rhetoric," he said.

R.T.E form should be issued in Hindi as per instructions of Edu Min: Dr. Kulbhushan Sharma CHANDIGARH: Dr. Kulbhushan Sharma, National President of NISA (National Independent Schools Alliance), welcomed the schedule released for online admissions under the Right to Education (RTE) Act and said that NISA supports the policy of 25% admissions of children from economically weaker sections in recognized private schools and is fully prepared to admit such students in their institutions.

However, he raised some concerns regarding the proper implementation of this policy. He stated that while the state's Education Minister has recently emphasized communication and official work in Hindi, the RTE application form and schedule have been issued by the department in English, which goes against the sentiments of the Education Minister and official government orders. Dr. Sharma pointed out that most of the parents eligible under the RTE Act come from limited educational backgrounds and may not be able to comprehend the English forms and apply accordingly. If the department truly intends to ensure that a maximum number of beneficiaries apply and benefit from the scheme, the form must be issued in simple Hindi, along with a video tutorial clearly explaining how to fill the form.

In 11 years govt launched schemes for poor, helpless, and good governance: NRI Gagan Vidhu

GURDASPUR (VERMA): NRI and senior BJP leader Gagan Vidhu stated that under the leadership of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, the Central Government has implemented unprecedented schemes over the past 11 years aimed at poverty alleviation, support for the underprivileged, and ensuring transparent governance. He emphasized that these initiatives align with the core values of the Indian Constitution drafted by Dr. B.R. Ambedkar, which ensures equality and a dignified life for every citizen.

Gagan Vidhu remarked that for nearly 60–65 years after independence, Congress governments ruled the country, during which corruption and middlemen dominated the system, and only a fraction of the funds meant for the poor actually reached them. He recalled the late Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi's famous statement: "Out of every rupee sent from Delhi, only 15 paise reaches the poor."

He highlighted that after the BJP-led NDA came to power in 2014 with a full majority, the government made providing basic amenities and a dignified life to the poor its top priority. Several major schemes were launched, including:

81 crore people provided free food grains under the Garib Kalyan Yojana

15 crore families received tap water connections

Over 4 crore people received houses under the PM Awas Yojana

More than 12 crore toilets built under Swachh Bharat Abhiyan.

Drug mafia Rampant in Kullu, govt just watching: Govind Singh Thakur

ASHISH SHARMA

KULLU, JUNE 15

Law and order has gone completely out of control in the entire state including Kullu district. Drug mafia is spreading its roots deep day by day, but the state government and administration are turning a blind eye to this serious issue. This was stated by BJP state vice-president and former minister Govind Singh Thakur in a press release issued here. He said that the way the graph of law and order, drug smuggling and anti-social activities is increasing in Himachal, a peace-loving, tourism and culture-oriented state, is a threat to the dignity of the state. He said that a person pointing a pistol at a home guard jawan posted on duty at the Sada barrier recently installed in Sumaropa of Parvati Valley is a serious indication that now neither the fear of law nor the control of the administration is there. He said that such incidents not only break the morale of the security personnel, but also create an atmosphere of fear among the common citizens. He said that the tourists coming to the state from other states should be searched before entering the borders, so that such criminal incidents can be effectively curbed." On the other hand, BJP state vice-president and former minister Govind Singh Thakur said that drug smuggling is now happening openly in Kullu district. The spirits of the drug mafia are so high that now they are not even hesitating to threaten the local people who inform them. The local people themselves are catching the drug smugglers and handing them over to the police, which clearly shows that the role of the police has become only that of a spectator. There is a continuous increase in thefts, vandalism in houses and activities of anti-social elements every day. But the functioning of the police is so sluggish that no effective action is being taken on the complaints of the general public. The administration seems completely paralyzed in front of the uncontrolled drug smugglers.

Former minister Govind Singh Thakur said that during the tourist season, the traffic system of Kullu district has become completely unbalanced and disorganized. He said that lacs of tourists are coming towards Himachal, on the other hand, there is no police to manage the traffic system. Adequate police force has not been deployed, nor has any effective traffic plan been implemented. As a result, tourists are stuck in traffic jams for hours, which is not only causing them trouble, but also adversely affecting the tourism image of Himachal. Thakur said that the priority of the present government is only to earn political mileage.

Strengthening livestock based livelihoods: Govt's big push for Animal Husbandry

DINESH AGARWAL

SHIMLA, JUNE 15

In Himachal Pradesh, livestock has always held a special place in rural life and not only as a source of livelihood but also as a symbol of faith and sustenance. Recognizing the deep connection between rural households and their livestock, the state government during its last two and a half years has taken several progressive steps to promote animal husbandry as a viable and dignified source of income. A landmark initiative by Chief Minister Thakur Sukhvinder Singh Sukhu has been the fulfillment of a key election promise, the introduction of Minimum Support Price (MSP) for cow and buffalo milk. Himachal Pradesh has become the first state in the country to offer MSP on milk, setting a powerful example in support of dairy farmers. At present, the government procures 2.25 lakh liters of cow milk daily from over 38,400 livestock owners, paying Rs.51 per litre based on quality. Similarly, 7,800 liters of buffalo milk is being procured from 1,482 farmers at Rs. 61 per litre. In a pioneering move, a pilot project for goat milk procurement at Rs.70 per litre has also been launched.

To strengthen veterinary care at the grassroots level, the government has deployed 44 Mobile Veterinary Units (MVUs) across the state. These units provide door-to-door services, ensuring that livestock owners even in remote areas, receive timely medical attention for their livestock. A dedicated toll-free helpline (1962) is also in place to assist with livestock-related concerns. So far, over 18,700 disease-related calls and 17,850 other queries have been resolved through this service. In a bid to support marginalized farmers, the government has successfully implemented the 'Garbhit Pashu Aahar Yojna', under which 31,110 livestock owners have received high-quality animal feed at a 50% subsidy. This initiative has contributed significantly to better animal health and higher milk productivity.

The state has also been proactive in promoting poultry farming under the Him Poultry Scheme. To date, 6,02,500 one-day old broiler chicks have been distributed, and Rs. 6.13 crore has been allocated for the establishment of 155 commercial broiler units, providing youth and small farmers with new income opportunities.

Love and demons

Love is blind. Is this why Delhi University is trying to open the eyes of those in love? The university is launching a general elective course titled 'Negotiating Intimate Relationships', which aims to help young people deal with romance, friendship, jealousy, heartbreak and so on. While a university course on romance may seem like an odd idea, the logic behind starting this course is not trivial. The university felt that the rising cases of crimes among teenagers and young adults in relationships prompted by jealousy warrant such an intervention. The instances cited by Delhi University are indeed concerning. This year alone, 21-year-old Komal, 19-year-old Vijaylaxmi and 18-year-old Mehek were all brutally murdered by their partners in fits of jealousy and, in 2022, 27-year-old Shraddha Wal-kar was killed and dismembered by her live-in partner. In fact, love affairs with bitter endings were the third-biggest triggers of murders in India in 2022, according to the National Crime Records Bureau. In light of this, young Indians perhaps do need lessons in how to negotiate relationships and heart-breaks in these modern, complex times.

Yet, murderous partners are not the only peril faced by lovers in India. Be it the family or the State, caste, religion or gender, the barriers that love has to cross in a country as stratified as this are numerous. So a course that proposes to teach youngsters about relationship red flags needs to be sensitive to not just crime but also the other impediments to love. Consider the shocking case of Sonam Raghuvanshi that now has India in thrall; she has been accused of murdering her husband after she was forced into a marriage with him because the man she loved belonged to a different caste. No less than the chief justice of India has pointed out in the past that hundreds of couples are killed each year for marrying outside their caste. A university course on intimate relationships thus cannot afford to ignore hostile families and communities — the consequence of embedded social differences — when it comes to conceiving of a course on intimacy and its challenges. Moreover, the personal, as always, is political. Academic deliberations on love need to acknowledge the culpability of the State and its institutions. Although protection to interfaith and inter-caste couples is mandated by law, there are numerous instances of the police and even the court turning down pleas for help from such star-crossed lovers.

PM Modi's visit to Cyprus sends a message to Turkey

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's visit to the eastern Mediterranean island of Cyprus on Sunday, the first by an Indian Prime Minister in 23 years, is being viewed in Nicosia as a diplomatic signal to Turkey, which has occupied one-third of the island since 1974 and had backed Pakistan during Operation Sindoor last month.PM Modi is visiting Cyprus at the invitation of President Nicos Christodoulides and will be accompanied by a large delegation of around 100 officials.Despite historical ties between the two countries, visits by Indian Prime Ministers have been rare.

Only two such visits to Cyprus have taken place in the past 40 years, by Indira Gandhi in 1982 and Atal Bihari Vajpayee in 2002.His stop in Cyprus is part of a three-nation tour that includes Canada for the G-7 Summit and the first-ever visit to Croatia by an Indian Prime Minister.Diplomatic sources say the visit is aimed at sending a message to Ankara, which has angered New Delhi with its support to Pakistan during the recent conflict and statements on Kashmir.India has expressed concerns over Turkey's position and actions, which led to a public backlash and boycott of Turkish goods in India.

Cyprus, in contrast, has backed India on the issue of terrorism. After the April 22 terrorist attack in Pahalgam, Cyprus condemned the act and said it would raise the issue of cross-border terrorism by Pakistan at the European Union level.Cyprus forms part of the energy corridor that will connect India with Europe and strengthen East-West connectivity through the India-Middle East-Europe Corridor (IMEC).

President Christodoulides referenced this during his early May trip to Israel. IMEC, an international infrastructure initiative aimed at creating a connectivity corridor between India, the Middle East and Europe, represents a US-led initiative.PM Modi's visit is seen as quite significant from political and commercial perspectives.

The visit will serve as a timely revival of high-level contacts, as Cyprus is set to assume the European Union Council Presidency in the first half of 2026.

India has consistently supported a solution to the Cyprus problem according to the UN Security Council resolutions and international law, while Turkey seeks the recognition of the so-called Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus, which it has illegally established on the northern part of the island, occupied by the Turkish Army. For its part, Cyprus is a fervent supporter of India's campaign for a permanent seat at the Security Council as well as its membership of the Nuclear Suppliers Group and the International Atomic Energy Agency. PM Modi's visit to Cyprus comes at a time when economic and business relations between Cyprus and India are undergoing a period of continuous upgrading and rapid development, in a way that is beneficial for the two state entities, but also for their business communities, as new investment opportunities and prospects are created on both sides.

One of the biggest banks in Cyprus, Eurobank, has recently announced that it is opening a representative office in Mumbai to help make Cyprus a gateway for Indian businesses entering the European Union and promote the interconnection of capital and businesses between Europe, the Middle East, Africa, and South Asia.It should be noted that PM Modi and President Christodoulides will visit the southern port of Limassol on Sunday.

There, they will attend a round-table discussion with businessmen from both sides aimed at further boosting trade relations and cooperation between Indian and Cypriot businesses. On Monday, PM Modi will be officially welcomed at the Presidential Palace and will then have a private meeting with President Christodoulides, who will award him the Grand Cross of the Order of Makarios III - the highest honour in the Republic of Cyprus.

Today's world is in hands of Generation Z

I personally believe that every generation has a unique quality that makes it amazing for its time. Generation Z, however, never fails to leave me utterly astounded.

Let's take a look at some of the differences for those growing up in today's world. For one thing, they are the first generation that have lived with technology on a modern scale. Many of us remember the early days of the internet when it took an hour to download a 30 second music clip from a fan website. Others still remember the days before the web, or when cell-phones were giant bricks, or when there were no phones not attached to a cord in the wall.

The Generation Z people have made it entirely their own and created a new economy and way of life. They are quickly taking up the banner and doing amazing things that show the true innovation of their time.I watch this in my own child. He can get onto a computer and find information on literally any subject. He shows me how to protect myself on the web (a turnaround from my obsessive monitoring of his activities in childhood). Moreover most of the school work is online based and they not only have resources I couldn't have dreamed of when I was their age, but they make their own to share with others.

Little Flute

Thou hast made me endless, such is thy pleasure. This frail vessel thou emptiest again and again, and fillest it ever with fresh life.

This little flute of a reed thou hast carried over hills and dales, and hast breathed through it melodies eternally new.

PREETI SAINI
SADHAURA: Weekly Satsang was organized at Bilaspur based Divya Jyoti Jagrati Sansthan Ashram during which Sadhvi Rajvindra Bharti Ji, while lecturing on Bhakti Sutras said that manifestation of Guru Prem in human life was a supernatural achievement which was attained only as a result of the pious deeds of destiny and the infinite grace of God. Just as we searched for a clean vessel to pour milk, similarly God and nature also searched for a simple heart to pour the wealth of Guru Prem. When the soul takes a human body, the destiny and accumulated deeds of the previous birth continue with it until they mature and give the fruit of happiness or sorrow to the human. Further Sadhvi Ji explained in detail that when the formless God took a physical form and descended on earth as a Guru, then he showered affection on all living beings like a mother. He was called the ocean of compassion and the ocean of kindness because his grace was equally on everyone.

Inter Miami and Al Ahly kick off Club World Cup with goalless draw

Florida: Inter Miami and Al Ahly kicked off FIFA's Club World Cup with a goalless stalemate in front of a healthy crowd at Miami's Hard Rock Stadium on Saturday.

Al Ahly had the best opportunity to break the deadlock, but Trezeguet floundered during his first-half penalty, which goalkeeper Oscar Ustari saved. The Inter Miami goalkeeper was sturdy at the goalpost and boasted a remarkable performance in the opening 45 minutes of the game.

Argentinian wizard Lionel Messi, who turned up for Miami just four days after representing his nation in the World Cup qualifier against Colombia, was the beacon of hope for the MLS club. He went close with a free kick and almost set up Fafa Picault for a late winner with a late header, which hit the bar in stoppage time.

Despite Messi's match-winning efforts and Luis Suarez's presence, the Miami goalkeeper grabbed the spotlight all for himself. He made four crucial saves in the first 45 minutes and denied the Egyptian side the prospect of running away with an early lead.

AGENCY

ANTWERP : As the sun dipped behind the stands of Wilrijkse Plein in Antwerp and the Indian national anthem played once again, there stood a familiar figure--poised, composed, with eyes filled with purpose. For the 400th time, hockey icon Manpreet Singh walked out wearing the India jersey, adding his name to an elite list of legends who have graced the world stage with unwavering consistency and heart.

In that moment, Manpreet wasn't just a player lining up against Australia in the FIH Hockey Pro League 2024/25--he was a symbol of longevity, leadership, and an era that has seen Indian hockey return to global reckoning.

What makes Manpreet's story even more compelling is that it's far from over.

From his debut in 2011 as a spirited 19-year-old to becoming the heartbeat of the Indian midfield, Manpreet's career mirrors Indian hockey's resurgence.

He has won 4 Asian Champions Trophy titles (2013, 2018, 2023, 2024), 2 Asian Games Gold medals (2014, 2023), 2 Olympic Bronze medals (2020, 2024), 2 Commonwealth Games Silver medals (2014, 2022) and Podium finishes at the 2014-15 and 2016-17 FIH World League and Hockey Champions Trophy in 2018.

Manpreet's consistency on the field has been matched by his recognition off it. His accolades underline his immense contribution to Indian sport, including Arjuna Award - 2018, FIH Men's Player of the Year - 2019, Major Dhyan Chand Khel Ratna Award - 2021, Hockey India Balbir Singh Sr. Player of the Year - 2019, Hockey India Ajit Pal Singh Award for Midfielder of the Year - 2014, 2021

But for Manpreet, it was never about the medals alone. It was about showing up -- every single game and every training session -- with the same fire he felt when he first picked up a stick on the dusty fields of Mithapur, Jalandhar.

Speaking on the milestone, an emotional Manpreet said, as quoted from Hockey India, "I still remember the goosebumps I felt in my debut game. To be standing here, 400 games later, is beyond anything I imagined. This milestone is shared with every coach who pushed me, every teammate who backed me, and every fan who believed in me when I needed it most. I'm still learning, still growing -- and I play with the same hunger today as I did at 19."

Hockey India President and the only Indian player ahead of Manpreet in the all-time caps list, Dilip Tirkey, lauded the achievement and stated, "Very few athletes achieve this level of consistency and endurance. Manpreet has been the spine of Indian hockey through its most transformative decade. His fitness, leadership, and composure under pressure set him apart. We are proud to see him carry forward the legacy with such grace."

Hockey India Secretary General Bhola Nath Singh added, "400 caps is not just a number -- it's a legacy built on sacrifice, discipline, and devotion to the sport. Manpreet has set the bar for professionalism and pride in wearing the India jersey. He has been a true ambassador of Indian hockey and a generational role model."

"Enough talent to win series": Clarke feels India is in "safe hands", picks "X-factor" against England

AGENCY

NEW DELHI: Former Australia captain Michael Clarke believes India is in "safe hands" and has "enough talent" to trounce England, but it will all come down to how the young-looking squad will leave a mark in the series on a territory known for being "tough." : Former Australia captain Michael Clarke believes India is in "safe hands" and has "enough talent" to trounce England, but it will all come down to how the young-looking squad will leave a mark in the series on a territory known for being "tough."

India has taken the first steps towards a new era after batting maestros Rohit Sharma and Virat Kohli bid farewell to the Test format more than a month before the five-match series kicks off at Headingley on June 20.

Shubman Gill was deemed Rohit's successor and appointed the Test captain, with Rishabh Pant serving as his deputy. Apart from the two batting bigwigs, India will line up without crafty off-spinner Ravichandran Ashwin, who retired midway through the Border-Gavaskar Trophy in Australia, and seasoned pacer Mohammed Shami, who wasn't deemed fit to make the cut for the series.

Apart from the absent stars, India will have to devise a blueprint to maximise Jasprit Bumrah's limited availability. India has the option to exercise the policy of using its pace spearhead just three times in the series. As of now, clouds of uncertainty hover over which three Test Bumrah would be available to play for.

"Well, yes, I do give them a chance, but it's a lot more inexperienced team than the one I expected it to be on a plane to England. Having no Rohit Sharma, no Virat Kohli is huge. Players come, players go, people retire, and the game moves on. So, that does not mean a new captain is the worst thing for India. I'm not saying that. Somebody retires, and that gives somebody else an opportunity," Clarke said while speaking to Boria Majumdar on Revsportz.

"The main thing for me, though, is the Indian bowling attack. So we're all aware that Bumrah(Jasprit) is not going to play five tests. So, which test matches is he going to play? Does he play the first three in a row? You win this series, and the last two will not matter. I don't think that's going to be the case. I think it's going to have to be spaced out because the reason he's not going to play five is for his body," he continued. "And then I also saw no Shami(Mohammed) in the squad as well. I think him missing the Australian series was huge,

"Happy Father's Day to me": Shikhar Dhawan shares heartwarming post for son Zoraver

AGENCY

NEW DELHI : Former India cricketer Shikhar Dhawan, in a heartfelt post, wished himself on the occasion of Father's Day and posted a special message for his son Zoraver, assuring that he is "always" there for him.

Dhawan took to Instagram on Sunday and shared a video where he was playing with his son, and wrote, "Happy Father's Day to me. Always there for you Zoraver, waiting with lots of love for you."

Dhawan and his former wife, Ayesha Mukherjee, parted ways after a failed marriage in October 2023. During the separation, the Delhi family court granted Dhawan a divorce decree on the grounds of cruelty.

Since the end of the marriage, Dhawan has not been able to meet his son Zoraver in person for two years. He often shares pictures of his son on social media, expressing his longing to reunite with Zoraver.

Earlier this year, Dhawan opened up about not being able to meet his son and told news agency, "It's been two years since I saw my son. It's been a year since we talked. Because I'm blocked from everywhere. Of course, it's difficult. But... You learn to live with it, and I miss him. But again, I talk to him spiritually. I feel like I'm talking to my son every day. I'm hugging him."

On the professional front, Dhawan announced his retirement from domestic and international cricket in August last year. Following his retirement, he joined the Karnali Yaks after being released by the Indian Premier League (IPL) franchise Punjab Kings (PBKS) ahead of the 2025 mega-auction.

Australia head coach McDonald mulls top-order changes after WTC final loss to South Africa

AGENCY

LONDON: Australia head coach Andrew McDonald hinted at a rejig in the top order after misfiring in the World Test Championship (WTC) final defence against South Africa at Lord's.

Marnus Labuschagne was a hot topic during the buildup to the high-stakes final, which Australia lost by five wickets. Amid his lean phase with the bat, Labuschagne was promoted to the top of the order with hopes of his return to blazing form. However, he returned with scores of 17 and 22, leaving him with an average of 27.82 for the WTC cycle and making his position in the team uncertain.

With Australia's tour of the West Indies scheduled to begin on June 25, young Sam Konstas has been pushing his case for a return to the top spot since the Border-Gavaskar Trophy. Labuschagne could retain his spot if Steve Smith fails to recover in time after sustaining a finger injury on the third day of the WTC final.

"It was a big discussion leading into this Test match, and I was on the record a couple of weeks ago talking about the need to bed down that opening combination.

We've had a bit of musical chairs there, so it might be the time," head coach Andrew McDonald said as quoted from ESPNcricinfo.

Australia's seasoned opener, Usman Khawaja, returned to the unwanted spotlight after his twin dismissals to Kagiso Rabada at Lord's. Earlier this year, Khawaja struck his career-best 232 against Sri Lanka three Tests ago. However, his Achilles Heel against pace from around the wicket was again exposed.
