Massive fire breaks out at Vishal Mega Mart in Ambala

UNI
CHANDIGARH, SEP 9

A massive fire broke out at Vishal Mega Mart in Ambala, Haryana, engulfing the entire mall within minutes.

The fire was first detected when glass panels at the mall's entrance began cracking and shattering due to the intense heat, with thick smoke billowing from the structure.

Local staff immediately alerted the fire brigade, and three fire tenders were dispatched to the scene around 9:00 am this morning. However, the rapid spread of the blaze made firefighting efforts extremely challenging.

A fire department official said the fire, fuelled by flammable clothing materials, proved difficult to control. Falling glass further forced firefighters and bystanders to move to a safe distance. No casualties have been reported so far. Firefighting operations, ongoing for nearly two hours, have partially contained the surface flames, but the fire continues to smoulder in various sections of the building. Firefighters are cautiously assessing the situation inside. With the three fire tenders running out of water, additional units have been summoned.

Gold surges Rs 5,080 to hit fresh peak of Rs 1.12 lakh/10 g

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, SEPT 9

Gold prices skyrocketed by Rs 5,080 to hit an all-time high of Rs 1,12,750 per 10 grams in the national capital on Tuesday in line with strong global trends.

The precious metal prices have added Rs 33,800 per 10 grams or nearly 43 per cent in the current calendar year, climbing from Rs 78,950 per 10 grams on December 31, 2024.

According to the All India Sarafa Association, gold of 99.9 per cent purity had closed at Rs 1,07,670 per 10 grams on Monday.

In global markets, gold hit an all-time of USD 3,659.27 per ounce on Tuesday. The precious metal later traded at USD 3,652.72 per ounce, up by USD 16.81, or 0.46 per cent.

Traders said weak labour market data in the US last week has raised the likelihood of a monetary policy easing, which pushed investors towards safe-haven assets such as gold.

The dollar's retreat further supported the upward momentum in bullion prices.

Meanwhile, the dollar index, which gauges the greenback's strength against a basket of six currencies, was trading at 97.29, went lower by 0.17 per cent.

Earlier during the day, gold October 3 contract on the Multi Commodity Exchange (MCX) opened with a gain of Rs 429 at Rs 1,08,947 per 10 grams against the previous close of Rs 1,08,518. It further touched the day's high of Rs 1,09,500 - also a fresh all-time high. Last seen, it was trading at Rs 1,09,314 with a jump of Rs 796 or 0.73 per cent.

"Gold traded positive with gains of 0.50% at $3654 on COMEX and 0.69% at 1,09,250 on MCX as prices factored in the highly expected Fed rate cut after weak jobs and payroll data. The rally has stretched into overbought zones, keeping profit booking a possibility, hence trailing stop-loss for longs is advised. Any reversal signals from upcoming US data could trigger sharp reactions, with this week's CPI report expected to play a decisive role. Key support is placed at $3625 / Rs 1,08,000, while resistance is extended to $3675 / Rs 1,10,000," said Jateen Trivedi, VP Research Analyst - Commodity and Currency, LKP Securities.

DALJEET AJNOHA
HOSHIARPUR: Colors have the power to make our lives vibrant or dull. Every person has a preference for certain colors, and based on that, they choose different shades for the walls of their homes. Sometimes these colors turn harmful, while at other times, they become life-enhancing. These views were expressed by internationally renowned Vastu expert and author Dr. Bhupender Vastu Shastri.

He explained that especially for students preparing for competitive exams, the dominance of red color at home can be damaging. It often leads to anger and reduces concentration. Therefore, the use of red color should be avoided in the northeast and north directions of the house. To improve exam results, it is considered important to have the positive influence of planet Jupiter (Guru Brihaspati) at home.

Congress secures reinstatement of sanitation workers after government bow, says Rajesh Vaidh

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA
KARNAL/NILOKHERI, SEPT 9

The state government has reinstated nearly 700 sanitation workers who had been dismissed, following a sustained struggle led by the Congress. Karnal Rural District Congress Committee president Dr. Rajesh Vaidh, himself the son of a sanitation worker, welcomed the workers at the Nilokheri Congress office after their demands were accepted.

Dr. Vaidh recalled that during the sanitation workers' protest march from Sonipat to the Chief Minister's residence in Chandigarh, they had halted at his residence in Nilokheri and shared their plight. "Being the son of sanitation worker parents, I have lived and felt their pain since childhood. Fighting for the rights of the Valmiki community and sanitation workers is my foremost duty," he said.

He strongly criticised the BJP government for dismissing the workers instead of ensuring permanent jobs, fair wages, health facilities, and provident fund benefits. "This government, under the guise of policies like contractual employment and the Skill Employment Corporation, is dismantling reservation and pushing workers to the streets. Even the Prime Minister's symbolic act of washing sanitation workers' feet was nothing but drama," he remarked.

Dr. Vaidh praised the sanitation workers for their resilience, calling them warriors who risk their lives during floods, earthquakes, pandemics, and other crises. He said the BJP's slogan of "Sabka Saath, Sabka Vikas" stood exposed as hollow.

People of Kisan Basti suffer as road construction hangs in balance

PARDEEP MEHTA

NILOKHERI: Nilokheri. Road construction work of ward number one is going on only on paper for the last 2 years. Sometimes the contractor runs away, sometimes the grant does not come on time. In the name of labour, sometimes only a few labourers are seen. Whenever it rains, it is as if a mountain falls on the head of the people living in Kisan Basti. As can be seen in the photo, a tractor trolley is sunk in the middle of the road. In this way, some vehicle or the other keeps sinking day by day.

Ramesh Midda, a resident of Basti, says that there is no hearing anywhere. Whenever we complain to the Nagarpalika, they come to the spot and just do the formality and run away. There is no arrangement of light on this under-construction road, nor is there any place to go out on the side. Even now no officer is ready to tell when this construction work will be completed.

Speeding up trade deal with EU

Fast-tracking the negotiations to firm up a trade deal with the European Union must be seen as a strategic move on the part of India to send the right message to the United States in the wake of its irrational tariff war. This would be yet another demonstration of India's strategic autonomy in matters of trade and business. A series of meetings has been lined up between the representatives of the 27-member EU bloc and India's commerce ministry officials over the next few months to finalise the trade deal. The renewed push for a trade agreement with the EU comes close on the heels of the ice-breaking meeting between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Chinese President Xi Jinping on the sidelines of the Shanghai Cooperation Organization (SCO) summit held recently at the Chinese port city of Tianjin. The significance of the warm handshake between the two leaders went beyond good optics. The tone and tenor of the statements issued by the two sides on the occasion reflected a fresh and substantive approach to expanding bilateral cooperation. Importantly, Xi spoke about the need for India and China to treat each other as partners, not as rivals, and wanted the 'dragon and the elephant to dance together.' Standing firm on its core principles, in the face of provocative actions by the Trump Administration, India has been exploring alternative trade routes to counter America's bullying tactics. It would be mutually beneficial for India and EU to finalise a trade deal that will signal strategic stability in bilateral ties.

In the first of the proposed ten rounds of meetings, two top negotiators of the EU, in-charge of trade and agriculture, are coming to India this week to hold talks on resolving knotty issues of the deal. The negotiations will culminate at the India-EU leaders' summit, likely to take place in January or February, 2026. As per media reports, if all goes to plan, there is a possibility of New Delhi inviting EU leaders as chief guests for the Republic Day celebrations. On September 17, the EU Commission will unveil a strategic agenda roadmap document on what it has to offer to India. It will be a policy document to be circulated among the 27 member countries. This ambitious agenda will cut across political, security, defence, trade and tech sectors. Like with the US, agriculture has been a hot-button issue for India with Europe. However, the two sides have agreed to keep dairy, sugar, and rice out of the agriculture trade negotiations. As one of India's largest trading partners, the EU accounted for 124 billion euros worth of trade in goods in 2023, or 12.2 per cent of total Indian trade. India accounted for 2.2 per cent of the EU's total trade in goods in 2023. Trade in services between the EU and India reached 59.7 billion euros in 2023, up from 30.4 billion euros in 2020.

Turmoil in Nepal

The Government of Nepal has lifted the ban on social media after 19 protestors were killed on Monday, who were on the streets demanding measures to curb corruption and end the ban.

An emergency cabinet meeting held on Monday evening decided to end the ban, which had started from September 4, with the government alleging that social media companies were non-compliant with the registration requirements in Nepal.

Prime Minister KP Sharma Oli issued a statement late on Monday evening after the killing spree, announcing that the social media ban has been lifted. In the statement, Oli rather blamed "infiltrating" groups behind Monday's violence rather than taking responsibility for the incident."The Prime Minister will not resign now," Prithivi Subba Gurung, the Minister for Communication, Information and Technology, who is also the government spokesperson, confirmed.Following the government's decision, the social media sites including Facebook, YouTube and X have been accessible past midnight on Tuesday.The KP Sharma Oli-led government defended the ban as a means to curb the spread of fake news. However, the move was criticized by rights groups who said it was a tool for censorship.The protestors, especially college and school-going students, had pointed to a broader frustration over shrinking economic opportunities and persistent corruption.

At least 17 people were killed in the capital city of Kathmandu, while two others died in the eastern city of Itahari.

The protest under the banner of Gen-Z Nepal saw a spree of shooting by the security forces as they tried to break into the parliament. Police had indiscriminately fired upon the protestors with live rounds, followed by tear gas.

Following the incident, the embassies of Australia, Finland, France, Japan, the Republic of Korea, the United Kingdom, and the United States in Nepal have issued a joint statement expressing deep sorrow over the violence that erupted during Monday's Gen-Z-led protests in Kathmandu and other parts of the country.In the statement, the seven diplomatic missions extended their condolences to the families of those who lost their lives and to all those affected by the unrest. They also wished a swift and full recovery to the injured."We are deeply saddened by the violence seen in Kathmandu and elsewhere in Nepal on Monday, including the tragic loss of life and injury during demonstrations," the statement read.The embassies jointly reaffirmed their governments' strong support for universal human rights, particularly the rights to peaceful assembly and freedom of expression."We urge all parties to exercise maximum restraint, avoid further escalation, and ensure that these fundamental rights are protected," the statement concluded.The United Nations Human Rights Office (UNHRO) has also called for a prompt and transparent investigation into the killing and injury of protesters during demonstrations in Nepal on Monday.

The protests, organized by youth groups against corruption and the government's recent ban on social media platforms, turned violent after allegations of excessive use of force by security personnel. "We are shocked by the killings and injury of protesters in Nepal today and urge a prompt and transparent investigation," UN Human Rights Office spokesperson Ravina Shamdasani said in a statement.The UN body expressed concern over what it described as "deeply worrying allegations of unnecessary or disproportionate use of force" by security forces. It urged authorities to respect and ensure the rights to peaceful assembly and freedom of expression.At least 19 people were killed and scores of others injured as police used excessive force against the protest spearheaded by Gen Z against rampant corruption and attempts to curb freedom of speech on Monday.

Life insurance companies dismiss GST exemption concerns

Life insurance companies have dismissed concerns over the impact of Goods and Services Tax (GST) exemption on input tax credit, saying they have strategies in place to manage the situation. According to a report by Centrum Institutional Research, exemption on all health and life insurance premiums, thereby removing Input tax credits to insurers. The new rule will come into effect from September 22, 2025. The exemption is expected to make insurance policies more affordable for customers as they listed players in the life insurance sector remain confident that the effect on their Embedded Value (EV) will be very limited.It stated "life insurance companies remain confident in mitigating the impact of the GST exemption on Embedded Value (EV)".

The central government, after the GST rate rationalisation meeting, announced a GST will no longer need to pay GST on insurance premiums.However, it also creates pressure on insurance companies' margins, as they will lose the benefit of Input Tax Credit (ITC) that they could earlier claim on their expenses.

Despite this challenge, insurers have said that they are well prepared. Companies have already put in place a mix of strategies to deal with the change.These include optimising costs, repricing or relaunching products, and in some cases even absorbing part of the cost impact themselves. Because of these measures, most companies expect only a minor impact on their profitability and valuations.The report highlighted that all listed life insurance companies have guided for an Embedded Value impact of no more than 1 per cent.

Life Insurance Corporation of India (LIC), the country's largest life insurer, has expressed confidence that the GST changes will not create major hurdles.LIC expects the impact on its Embedded Value to be less than 0.5 per cent. On the contrary, the company believes that the GST exemption will support long-term growth in the industry.The company also sees the changes contributing to a stronger Value of New Business (VNB) in the years ahead.The report said it is maintaining its current estimates for the sector and reiterated that the GST exemption, while creating some short-term cost adjustments, is ultimately positive for the industry.

US proposes new annual approval system for Samsung

Instead of the previously more flexible regulations, the U.S. Department of Commerce is considering a new system of granting annual approvals for semiconductor equipment shipments to Chinese factories operated by Samsung Electronics Co. and SK Hynix Inc., as per a report by Pulse, the English service of Maeil Business

Newspaper Korea.Although still under review, the permanent comprehensive status applied until now will no longer be available. However, the worst-case scenario, requiring case-by-case approval for every single piece of equipment brought into the Chinese plants, appears to have been avoided.Citing Bloomberg, the report stated that on Monday, during discussions with South Korea last week, the U.S. Commerce Department proposed a "site license" system.Under this arrangement, companies such as Samsung and SK Hynix, which operate semiconductor fabs in China, would submit detailed annual lists of the equipment, components, and materials they need, and obtain U.S. government approval on a yearly basis.The "site license" system is stricter than the Validated End-User (VEU) program, which granted indefinite comprehensive approval for importing equipment into China. The Trump administration revoked VEU status for Samsung and SK Hynix after about three years. "While the site license is procedurally more complex than VEU, it is seen as a second-best option that allows Korean semiconductor companies to continue running their Chinese plants," the report noted.The Trump administration has consistently argued that the VEU system, introduced under the previous Biden administration, was a regulatory loophole and has maintained its stance against reinstating it.As a result, the industry had feared a worst-case scenario of requiring approval for every shipment of equipment.

POEMS

"One of A Kind"

You are one of a kind...
All the possessive potential,
Things which seem to be essential,
Just a fling of time they are,
That's what I've learnt so far,
It's just nothing but merage,
Petty things, just mind makes it large,
So come out, come out whatever it is,
Better listen now to this,
Mental health is just a state of your mind,
Come, live more, you are one of a kind,
If my words can reach your heart,
Let's begin from a new start,
No heavy words, no heavy regrets,
Don't remember the one who forgets,
Why to waste time and emotions,
Delete, those unseen notifications, Situations, relations are always fragile,
So damn it, let it be and smile,
However, just come out,
To live is ,life all about...!
So my friend, come out..!

Indian pharma sector needs price hikes, site and IP transfers to tackle US tariff uncertainty

The Indian pharmaceutical industry requires price increases, site and intellectual property (IP) transfers to deal with the prevailing uncertainty in the sector amid US tariffs, according to a report by Systematix Research.

The report highlighted that tariff uncertainty continues to prevail, with companies unwilling to add capacities in the US.It stated, "Price increase, site and IP transfers are the three tools the industry requires to deal with the tariffs."

At the same time, raw material prices are correcting sharply in certain categories, particularly antibiotics, while customers are destocking to take advantage of lower prices. Overall, generic API prices have stabilized.The report further noted that companies remain hopeful yet cautious around new growth avenues and product launches, which could help them offset the erosion in high-value launches.

On the CDMO front, requests for proposals (RFPs) for custom synthesis and CDMO services remain strong. Multiple companies are also eyeing GLP-1 opportunities in India and emerging markets, preparing for a day-one launch.

Meanwhile, firms continue to cautiously evaluate inorganic growth opportunities. Demand for anti-infectives in domestic markets remained weak during the quarter, while building over-the-counter (OTC) platforms continues to be a key focus area.On the earnings front, the report stated that 1QFY26 was weak, with underperformers outnumbering outperformers. Most players recorded mid-to-high single-digit growth in India pharma (organic). However, the US geography witnessed margin pressures, as price erosion began.

Among the outperformers, Sun Pharma (SUNP) exceeded expectations due to lower operational costs. India business was strong, but US generics came in weaker than expected. Pfizer (PFIZ) saw growth returning at 7 percent, which along with lower operational costs, helped it outperform.Similarly, Syngene (SLPA) generated higher-than-expected contribution from licensing income, leading to stronger margins.On the weaker side, Orchid Pharma (ORCP) was impacted by an adverse hit on industry-wide cephalosporin API volumes, likely due to customer inventory destocking in anticipation of price correction.Piramal Pharma (PLM) faced heavy pressure on its export business due to dumping by China. Dr. Reddy's Laboratories (DRRD) saw weakness in its high-value US generic business, which impacted margins. Divi's Laboratories (DIVI) reported in-line revenue but with slightly weak margins.The report concluded that the Indian pharma sector continues to face near-term uncertainty, though companies are positioning themselves for long-term growth opportunities.

Local social workers and farmer leaders have strongly objected to this. He alleged that BJP workers were publicly pasting posters and banners on the walls and trees of the rest house without the permission of the department. The leaders raised the question that when the municipality has set special sites for advertising in the city and there was a provision for fees on them, then how is BJP workers were exempted on government property without any permission and this matter forced to wonder whether it was appropriate to use the property of government institutions in this way for political campaigning? If this happens, then the role of the concerned department and administration also raises questions. In this regard, when the Executive Engineer of the Irrigation Department was talked to Ranbir Singh, he clarified that neither permission has been given by the department nor any fee has been deposited.

From Abhishek Banerjee in Stolen to Vaibhav Raj Gupta in Mandala Murders: Scene Stealers of OTT – The Unmissable Performers Who Own Every Frame

The OTT boom in India has given audiences not only fresh storytelling but also a new breed of performers who make every second of their screen time count. They may not always headline the cast, but when they appear, they light up the screen. These are the scene stealers of OTT—actors whose performances linger with us long after the episode ends.

At a time when the conversation often revolves around heroes and big names, these actors prove that acting depth and screen presence matter more than billing. Here's a look at some of the finest names who have mastered the art of stealing the show:

Abhishek Banerjee – Stolen

Abhishek has long been the face of versatile, layered performances. In Stolen, he once again showcases his ability to embody darkness and vulnerability with equal finesse. From Paatal Lok to Stree, Banerjee has consistently delivered roles that feel both unsettling and unforgettable, proving that he doesn't need long screen time to leave a permanent mark.

Vaibhav Raj Gupta – Mandala Murders

Vaibhav's journey from being the innocent boy-next-door in Gullak to the intense and gripping Mandala Murders is a masterclass in reinvention. As Vikram Singh, he reveals a darker, more layered side of his craft, breaking away from the warmth of Annu to step into a gritty, complex space. With his grounded charm and raw authenticity, he connects instantly with audiences. Vaibhav represents the new wave of actors redefining success on OTT—not by playing it safe, but by constantly exploring and surprising.

Adarsh Gourav – Superboys of Malegaon

Global recognition came early for Adarsh with The White Tiger, but he continues to choose projects that speak to his craft. In Superboys of Malegaon, he brings humor, grit, and a slice-of-life relatability that cements his place as one of the most exciting young performers of his generation. Adarsh is proof that authentic storytelling and stellar performances will always shine, regardless of the size of the canvas.

Ishwak Singh – Paatal Lok

Ishwak represents subtlety at its finest. In Paatal Lok, his controlled and layered portrayal of a young cop won him immense acclaim. He is the actor you can't look away from—not because he overpowers the scene, but because he pulls you in with stillness and quiet intensity. In an OTT world that often celebrates high drama, Ishwak stands out for his ability to do more with less.

Jitendra Kumar – Panchayat Season 4

Jitendra Kumar has become the heart of Panchayat with his portrayal of Abhishek Tripathi, the village secretary caught between dreams of a bigger life and the charm of small-town India. In Season 4, he continues to win audiences with his effortless mix of humor, sincerity, and quiet depth. Relatable, warm, and real, Jitendra makes us feel like we know him personally—a friend, a neighbor, or even ourselves. His natural performance is what makes Panchayat not just a hit, but a cultural phenomenon.
