UNI
CHANDIGARH, NOV 12

A day after the explosion near Delhi's Red Fort, security agencies in Punjab have gone on high alert, particularly in the state's border regions adjoining Jammu and Pakistan. Police have deployed the Special Operations Group (SOG) and set up intensive vehicle checks across entry points and highways.

In Pathankot, which shares a sensitive frontier with both Jammu and Pakistan, police have virtually sealed the Madhopur entry gate linking the two states. Every vehicle is being stopped and examined, while SOG personnel equipped with modern weapons remain on continuous duty. Senior officials said security drills will continue until further notice.

SSP Diljinder Singh told reporters that multi-layered checkpoints have been created across the district. "We're using high-definition surveillance cameras and AI-based monitoring tools to track movements and flag any suspicious activity. Patrol teams are also keeping watch on routes that usually see low traffic," he said.

Night patrols have been reinforced in Fazilka and Ferozepur, where police have blocked roads leading toward the international border. Video clips shared by Fazilka Police showed teams patrolling the frontier at night with sirens on. Officers urged residents to report suspicious activity immediately to the emergency helpline 112.

Police sources stated that no specific threat alert has been received from the Army or the Border Security Force. However, vigilance has been intensified given the region's strategic importance. Pathankot houses key defence establishments, including an Air Force base, making it one of Punjab's most closely watched zones.

To prevent any breach, women officers have been deployed for frisking female passengers, and detailed identity checks are being carried out at all entry points.

"Even for this project, which was approved on October 27, the state government has not acknowledged receipt of the official communication," Bittu claimed, urging Chief Minister Bhagwant Mann to personally intervene. Encroachment a headache for public in Indri causing traffic jams

MAINPAL KASHYAP INDRI, NOVEMBER 12

The problem of encroachment in Indri city is becoming increasingly serious. Shopkeepers in the main market and streets have spread their goods on the roads, making it difficult for people to even walk. The situation is such that traffic jams occur daily on the city's streets and main roads, causing significant inconvenience to the public. Local residents Manoj, Rajbir, Rameshwar, and Dharam, along with other residents, said they have repeatedly complained to the municipality about encroachment, but no concrete action has been taken. They say that the administration's negligence is not only affecting the city's beauty but has also completely disrupted the traffic system. At many places in the city, vehicles are parked on the roads, and shopkeepers have left their goods on the road, leaving no room for traffic. Long queues of vehicles form in front of banks near the bus stand, leading to constant traffic jams. This is also the route used by administrative officials, yet this problem is being ignored.

Former MLA Neeraj Sharma seeks SIT probe after migrant worker's death due to chemical exposure

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA FARIDABAD:

Former MLA Neeraj Sharma has written to Haryana Labour and Employment Minister Anil Vij, demanding the formation of an SIT and registration of a murder case against Shiva Technic Pvt. Ltd. following the death of a migrant worker, Dheeraj Chaubey, under suspicious circumstances.

The incident took place at Plot No. 319-20, Sector 24, Faridabad, where the company reportedly uses a banned technique involving the highly toxic chemical cyanide for heat treatment. According to Sharma, while Dheeraj Chaubey was working, splashes of cyanide from the salt used in the process came into contact with his blood, leading to his death — even though he had sustained only 10–15 percent burns. Calling it a clear case of chemical poisoning and administrative negligence, Sharma urged that strict action be taken not only against the company but also against all such industrial units using banned or hazardous chemicals like cyanide. He further requested a state-wide inspection of such units to prevent similar tragedies in the future. Sharma said he has informed officials in Chandigarh and Faridabad about the issue through a formal letter. It is noteworthy that Neeraj Sharma had earlier led a successful campaign to make sensors mandatory on power press machines across Haryana to ensure worker safety. "There is no issue more important than the safety of workers," he asserted, adding, "My fight will continue until every labourer in Faridabad is safe."

Congress launches mass movement over alleged vote theft in Haryana; leaders claim nearly 2.5 million fake votes

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA KARNAL, NOV 12

The Congress party launched a large-scale public movement in Haryana on Wednesday, protesting alleged vote theft in the state assembly elections. The party kicked off its "Vote chor, gaddi chhod" campaign from Karnal, calling it a statewide struggle to protect democracy and restore the mandate. A massive public meeting was held at 11 a.m. in front of Pathak Hospital, organised under the leadership of rural district president Professor Rajesh Vaid and urban district president Parag Gaba. Party workers and office-bearers later marched to the district secretariat, raising slogans and submitting a memorandum addressed to the President via the Deputy Commissioner.

Haryana Congress president Rao Narendra Singh launched a fierce attack on the BJP from the podium, accusing it of manipulating voter lists. Holding up a photo of a Brazilian model, he alleged that the BJP had used stock images to create fake voter entries in Haryana. "The BJP has become the 'Brazilian People's Party' — they have inserted foreign images into our voter lists and created bogus names such as Seema, Sweetie and Saraswati to generate votes," he said.

Rao Narendra Singh cited findings attributed to Rahul Gandhi's team, claiming that around 25 lakh (2.5 million) fake votes were cast in the Haryana assembly elections. He said irregularities were found even within Karnal district, alleging 2,13,405 problematic entries: 51,154 in Nilokheri; 38,715 in Indri; 69,679 in Gharaunda; and 32,304 in Assandh. "These figures are not Congress's allegations alone but come from Rahul Gandhi's investigative team," he said.

He demanded answers from the Election Commission, questioning why voter lists were altered before the assembly polls when Lok Sabha elections were reportedly free of irregularities. "If parliamentary polls were clean, why were voter rolls changed before the assembly election?" he asked, asserting that the mandate was stolen and that the public would now respond. Rao Narendra Singh also criticised the state government on farmer-related issues, saying the party had protested the alleged paddy scam both in the House and on the streets. "Farmers are not getting MSP, the government is failing on all fronts. Their crops were taken away and now their votes are too — this double injustice cannot be tolerated," he said.

The campaign's launch followed Rahul Gandhi's October 2024 allegations that 25 lakh votes were forged during the assembly polls. At a Delhi press conference, Rahul had displayed a blue-jacket photograph of a Brazilian model and raised questions about how that image appeared in Haryana's voter rolls. He claimed that the same model's photo was used to fabricate votes under various names across multiple booths. The Congress says this manipulation was a planned effort to influence election results.

Parliamentarian Deepender Hooda, who also addressed the Karnal gathering, accused the BJP of misusing power and colluding with the Election Commission to manage results. "The facts presented by Rahul Gandhi indicate roughly 25 lakh fake votes in Haryana. The margin in some places was a mere 22,000 votes. The Election Commission has yet to respond," Hooda said, adding that Congress has taken to the streets to defend democracy and the Constitution.

The party announced a 27-day schedule for the movement across 22 districts. After the Karnal launch on November 12, the campaign will visit Ambala (November 13), Faridabad (November 15), Charkhi Dadri (November 17), Hisar (November 18), Palwal (November 19), Kaithal (November 20), Sirsa (November 21), Rewari (November 22) etc.

Climate Summit — Of lofty talk and unmet goals

The moral outrage of a few will not solve the climate crisis; collective global action will. Lofty statements of intent will not save people from the catastrophic impact of climate change; delivering financial and technological help on the ground will. In the era of Trumpism, marked by anti-science policies and the spread of conspiracy theories, the political support for the climate change movement has been dwindling. There is an air of scepticism surrounding the global efforts to mitigate the impact of climate change, given the non-cooperation from rich nations like the United States. No wonder that a cloud of despair hovers over the ongoing global climate summit—Conference of the Parties (COP30)—in Brazil’s Belém, for which the Trump Administration has not sent an official delegation. Ironically, the world’s largest polluters have opted out of the conversation on how to check carbon emissions. The fight against climate change cannot be won through mere rhetoric but through genuine cooperation. The COP30 is being held at a crucial time, when global climate targets are significantly off the mark, as nations struggle to meet their goals. The climate finance commitments made by the rich nations in the past are far from being met. Meanwhile, the planet is running out of time. Every missed target and every broken promise deepens the crisis and blunts the efforts to overcome one of humanity’s greatest existential challenges. The lofty ideals of justice, equity, and compassion ring hollow when climate financing remains a bargaining chip rather than a shared moral commitment. The signs of the deepening climate crisis are too stark to ignore. Global temperatures are surpassing the 1.5 degrees Celsius threshold. Since the Paris Agreement was signed a decade ago, the global CO2 emissions have increased from about 39.6 billion tonnes to about 41.6 billion tonnes. Extreme weather events have been wreaking havoc around the world. Sea surface temperatures have hit record highs, while melting of sea ice in both the Arctic and Antarctic has added to the alarming trends. At the Belém summit, the world leaders will spend the next two weeks negotiating further action on climate change, with crucial questions on how to raise finance previously pledged for those already affected by the worst impacts of climate change. Climate finance is the most contentious issue, with nations disagreeing on who should pay, how much should be paid, and in what form—either loans or grants. The flow of funds has been erratic and inadequate over the years. At COP29, held in Azerbaijan’s capital, Baku, richer countries committed to give developing nations nearly $300 billion to help them tackle climate change. The agreement also included a proposal to raise this to USD 1.3 trillion from public and private sources. The commitment has not been fulfilled so far. Ahead of COP30, Brazil published a “roadmap” on how this goal could be achieved.

Trump’s soft stance on H-1B visa

US President Donald Trump has appeared to have softened his stance on his administration's aggressive push on H-1B visa reforms, acknowledging the need to import specialised foreign talent to fill critical roles in the American workforce. During an interview with Fox News host Laura Ingraham on Tuesday (local time), Trump defended the value of skilled immigrant workers, arguing that the US cannot simply repurpose long-term unemployed Americans for complex roles in manufacturing and defence without extensive training. The US President further noted that while he supports raising wages for American workers, the US must still "bring this talent" to maintain its industrial and technological edge. "I agree, but you also have to bring this talent," Trump said when asked whether H-1B visa reform would be a major priority for his administration. Earlier in September, Trump signed a proclamation that triggered a major overhaul of the H-1B visa petition. According to the proclamation, there will now be a USD 100,000 fee for new H-1B visa applications, a sharp increase from the previous level of about USD 1,500. The US State Department later clarified that the new fee requirement applies only to individuals or companies filing new H-1B petitions or entering the H-1B lottery after September 21. Current visa holders and petitions submitted before that date remain unaffected. Under the proclamation, a USD 100,000 payment must accompany every new H-1B visa petition filed after the deadline, including those submitted for entries in the 2026 lottery. When countered during the interview that the US has "plenty of talented people," Trump countered, "No, you don't. There are certain skills you don't have, and people have to learn them. You can't take people off the unemployment line and say, 'I'm going to put you into a factory where we're going to make missiles.'" The US President further cited an example from the state of Georgia, where, according to him, the removal of skilled foreign workers created difficulties in manufacturing complex products. "They had people from South Korea that had made batteries all their life. Making batteries is very complicated and very dangerous -- a lot of explosions, a lot of problems. They had like 500 or 600 people in the early stages to make batteries and to teach people how to do it," he said. Trump was referring to the raids conducted by the US

Immigration and Customs Enforcement (ICE) officials at an under-construction Hyundai plant in the state of Georgia in September, during which hundreds of South Korean workers were arrested and deported. He emphasised that such industries require specialised expertise that cannot be immediately filled by untrained or long-term unemployed workers. "You can't just say a country is coming in, going to invest USD 10 billion to build a plant, and take people off the unemployment line who haven't worked in five years and they're going to start making missiles. It doesn't work that way," he added. Trump's remarks mark a notable shift from his earlier headline stance on foreign worker visas, particularly the H-1B programme, which has been one of the central topics in US debates over immigration and employment.

China's economic crisis deepens as CCP purges intensify China's latest internal purge and economic slowdown have raised fresh concerns over the country's stability, according to a report released by Taiwan's Mainland Affairs Council (MAC). The report, submitted to Taiwan's Legislative Yuan, highlighted China's growing inward turn as the Chinese Communist Party (CCP) grapples with economic stagnation, deflation, and record unemployment, as reported by The Taipei Times. According to The Taipei Times, ahead of a questioning session with MAC Minister Chiu Chui-cheng, the report detailed findings from the CCP's 20th Central Committee's fourth plenary session held in China. The session approved China's 15th Five-Year Plan for Economic and Social Development, focusing on domestic priorities amid a "complex international landscape." The plan stressed the need to strengthen the "real economy," achieve self-reliance in technology, boost consumption, and promote "common prosperity" by 2035. However, the MAC report pointed out that economic indicators continue to plummet. Industrial output, foreign investment, infrastructure development, real estate prices, and retail sales all registered declines, reflecting deep structural weaknesses. Despite the CCP Politburo's July directive to stabilise employment and expectations, Beijing's efforts have failed to reverse its downward spiral. The report said China's GDP growth averaged 5.2 per cent for the first three quarters of the year but slowed to 4.8 per cent in the third quarter, well below expectations. Youth unemployment surged to a staggering 18.9 per cent in August, while consumer spending growth hit its lowest point since late 2023, as highlighted by The Taipei Times. Deflationary pressures remain severe, with producer prices dropping 2.3 per cent year-on-year for the 36th consecutive month. Simultaneously, political unrest within the CCP appears to be worsening. Fifty-two centrally managed officials, including eight ministerial-level figures, have been dismissed, alongside nine generals, among them Central Military Commission Vice Chairman He Weidong. Over 60 Central Committee members and alternates were absent from the recent plenum, marking an unprecedented level of internal instability under Xi Jinping's rule, as reported by The Taipei Times.

India, Bhutan reaffirm strong ties

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Tuesday received an audience with the King of Bhutan, Jigme Khesar Namgyel Wangchuck, in Thimphu on Tuesday. The two leaders exchanged views to further enhance and strengthen bilateral ties and discussed regional and global issues of mutual interest, according to an official statement by the Ministry of External Affairs (MEA). The King conveyed condolences on the loss of lives in the Delhi blast. The Prime Minister conveyed his appreciation for the guiding vision provided by the successive Druk Gyalpos (the Kings) in shaping the close ties of friendship and cooperation between the two countries. The King conveyed appreciation for the invaluable support extended by the Government of India for Bhutan's socio-economic development, the statement said. The two leaders prayed before the Holy Piprahwa Relics of Lord Buddha from India, currently enshrined at the Grand Kuenrey Hall, Tashichhodzong. The exposition of the Holy Piprahwa Relics in Thimphu coincides with the Fourth King's 70th birth anniversary and the Global Peace Prayer Festival organised by Bhutan for global peace and happiness, the statement noted.

The former King of Bhutan, Jigme Singye Wangchuck, who turns 70 on November 11, is popularly known as K4 (the fourth King of the Wangchuck line), while his son, the current King Jigme Khesar Namgyel Wangchuck, is referred to as K5. He reigned from 1972 to 2006, when he abdicated the crown for his son. Both leaders jointly inaugurated the 1020 MW Punatsangchu-II Hydroelectric Project, a milestone in the vibrant and growing mutually beneficial energy partnership between India and Bhutan, which has brought significant benefits to the lives of people in both countries.

They also witnessed the exchange of three MoUs in the fields of renewable energy, mental health services, and healthcare to further strengthen bilateral cooperation. On the occasion, the Government of India announced a concessional Line of Credit of Rs 4000 crores for Bhutan to fund energy projects, as stated in the MEA release.

Reaffirming the enduring friendship between the two nations, India and Bhutan share a unique and exemplary partnership marked by deep mutual trust, goodwill and respect for each other. The shared spiritual heritage and warm people-to-people ties are a hallmark of the special partnership, reflecting the deep-rooted cultural connection between the two neighbours. As part of this enduring friendship, Prime Minister Narendra Modi arrived in Bhutan's capital, Thimphu, on Tuesday for his two-day state visit to the country and was received with a "warm and gracious welcome" by Bhutan's Prime Minister Tshering Tobgay at the airport.

Trans/figuration

I have been made anew
like the first hour of sun
after days of rain.
I have kissed the face of the life that took from me
the only life I knew. Made anew, I have let love render me surrendered, naked
as a speck of dust in a beam of day let loose from an opened fist. I have kissed the fist open.
Open, I have effaced the face of every shame that did not say my truer name. Look,
I was given a cage I have come to see as a gift for it is a cage I can see.
Just yesterday, my love bent two bars into a bouquet of flowers on a day I did not believe in flowers. I am taking my body beyond its shape.

India 2030: 13 transformational shifts set to redefine the nation's growth story

As India races toward 2030, the nation stands on the threshold of a historic transformation fuelled by rising incomes, digital empowerment, and demographic dynamism. A report by Venture Capital firm "Fireside Ventures" titled "Indian Consumer at 2030" outlines 13 major shifts that will reshape India's economic and social fabric, positioning it among the most influential consumer markets globally.

The report noted that, at the heart of this transformation is the rise of Bharat's middle class. By 2030, over 80 per cent of Indian households are expected to belong to the middle-income segment, marking a decisive shift toward inclusive prosperity. This surge will expand the consumption base beyond metros, with small towns and rural India emerging as the new growth frontier.

Women's participation in the workforce is projected to play a defining role in India's economic ascent. By contributing nearly USD770 billion to GDP, women entrepreneurs and professionals are expected to drive innovation, reshape consumer decisions, and deepen financial empowerment across households. The report highlights India's digital-first transformation, with over 1.2 billion internet users by 2030. As digital consumption becomes integral to daily life, the "phygital" model, where online discovery meets offline delivery, will dominate sectors from e-commerce to entertainment.

Sustainability is also emerging as a defining theme. Under the banner of green growth momentum, India's investments in clean energy and the circular economy are projected to create millions of green jobs, reinforcing its global leadership in climate action. Powered by a young and entrepreneurial population with a median age of 31, India's startup ecosystem will continue to flourish. Innovation, digital enterprises, and tech-driven ventures are expected to make India a global hub for new-age entrepreneurship.

Meanwhile, Tier-2 and Tier-3 cities are fast becoming engines of consumption. These mini-metros, with improving infrastructure and aspirations, are likely to account for nearly 45 per cent of consumption growth by the end of the decade. A health and wellness revolution is reshaping consumer behaviour, with preventive healthcare, nutrition, and fitness forming a booming USD130 billion ecosystem by 2030. This reflects a broader shift from treatment to holistic well-being. As incomes rise, India's consumers are upgrading their aspirations, fuelling premiumization across product categories, from personal care and fashion to electric vehicles and smart homes. The experience economy is also taking centre stage, with spending on travel, dining, and leisure surpassing traditional goods-based consumption. The nation's fintech revolution continues to democratize access to credit, insurance, and investment. With innovations in UPI, insure-tech, and digital lending, financial inclusion is becoming a lived reality for millions.

Urban India, too, is transforming through smart urbanization. By 2030, over 600 million citizens will inhabit modernized cities equipped with integrated mobility, sustainable infrastructure, and smarter real estate. As local brands go global, the "Make in India" mission is evolving into "Brand India," showcasing home-grown excellence in technology, fashion, and wellness on the world stage. Complementing this, AI and automation are set to unlock a trillion-dollar productivity boost across industries. To sum up, India's journey to 2030 will be defined by confidence, inclusivity, and innovation. These 13 transformational shifts promise not only economic expansion but also a reimagined social contract, anchored in sustainability, equality, and global leadership.

Kunjapura's female Sarpanch dismissed; postponement of election sparks anger among Panchayat and villagers

MAINPAL KASHYAP

INDRI: Female Sarpanch of Kunjapura village was dismissed by administration after being found guilty of corruption charges. It is reported that corruption allegations were proven after an investigation lasting nearly a year and a half, leading to this action. After Sarpanch position fell vacant, Panchayat initiated process of electing a new Sarpanch in which a majority of Panchayat members were to be elected. Administration initially set election date for November 6 and issued a notice, but election could not be held that day. A second notice was subsequently issued on November 12, but election was not held on Wednesday either. Panchayat members have accused administration of bias regarding this delay. Panchayat members Sammi, Sanjeev Kumar, Anil Rana, Kalavati and Madhu Uppal accused the administration of deliberately favoring the former Sarpanch and preventing the elections. The dates are being repeatedly postponed, which clearly shows that administration is acting under pressure or favoring former Sarpanch. Sammi explained that when they spoke to BDPO regarding this matter, he evaded issue, stating that Village Secretary Subhash had gone to High Court. He also stated that a notice had been issued to Subhash to appear on November 12 and conduct Panchayat elections. However, this entire conspiracy is being orchestrated with connivance of administration and serious allegations are being leveled against BDPO Kunjapura.

Md Somrat Sikdar of Bangladesh, one of seven players with an unfinished second round, was sitting at a total of six-under after 16 holes when play came to a halt on day two. He will be contending for the halfway lead once play resumes on Thursday morning.

The tournament is supported by Title Sponsor Trident Group. Trident Group is an Indian business conglomerate and global player led by the dynamic Mr. Rajinder Gupta, Member Parliament (Rajya Sabha) and Chairman. Headquartered in Ludhiana, Punjab, Trident is one of the largest players in home textiles in India and abroad.

Former India No. 1 junior Shubham Jaglan, who has been playing professional golf in the United States this year and is making his PGTI debut this week, was tied third in the clubhouse at a total of four-under 140 along with Bangladesh's Badal

Thirty-five-year-old Akshay Sharma, a winner of three professional titles, is searching for his first win on his home course. Akshay began the day on a solid note with tap-in birdies on the second and third holes. As Sharma kept hitting his shots close to the flags, he picked up another birdie on the 11th.

Akshay, currently 20th on the PGTI Order of Merit with five top-10s in the season including a runner-up finish, dropped his only bogey of the day on the 13th.

Dharmendra discharged from hospital, to be treated at home

Veteran Bollywood actor Dharmendra has been discharged from the Breach Candy Hospital in Mumbai. According to the official statement from the Sunny Deol's, son of Dharmendra, team, actor Dharmendra will undergo home treatment and recovery under the supervision of a doctor. "Mr. Dharmendra has been discharged from the hospital and will continue his recovery at home. We kindly request the media and the public to refrain from any further speculation and to respect his and the family's privacy during this time." It added, "We appreciate everyone's love, prayers, and good wishes for his continued recovery, good health, and long life. Please respect him because he loves you." According to the close family members, "Dharmendra will undergo home treatment under the supervision of a doctor in an ICU." Earlier today, an ambulance was spotted entering Dharmendra's house in Juhu, Mumbai. Veteran actor Dharmendra was admitted to Mumbai's Breach Candy Hospital after his health worsened on Monday. As soon as the news came out, fans were left worried, with celebrities also rushing to the hospital to visit the actor. Amid growing concerns over the health of legendary actor Dharmendra, Bollywood stars like Salman Khan, Govinda, and Ameesha Patel were spotted visiting the hospital on Monday evening, where his family members, including sons Sunny Deol and Bobby Deol, grandchildren Karan Deol and Raveer Deol, wife Hema Malini, and others, were also present. On Tuesday, Aamir Khan, along with his girlfriend Gauri Spratt, also visited the hospital. In a career spanning over six decades, Dharmendra has given several memorable performances in films like 'Aaye Milan Ki Bela', 'Phool Aur Patthar', 'Aaye Din Bahar Ke', 'Seeta Aur Geeta', 'Raja Jani', 'Jugnu', 'Yaadon Ki Baaraat', 'Dost', 'Sholay', 'Pratiggya', 'Charas', 'Dharam Veer', among others. The actor will be next seen in the war drama 'Ikkis' starring Agastya Nanda.

Govinda admitted to Mumbai hospital, remains "conscious and under observation"

Actor Govinda was admitted to a Mumbai hospital on Wednesday; however, details surrounding his condition and the reason behind the hospitalisation remain limited. As per the latest update, Govinda has been hospitalised at the CritiCare Asia Multispecialty Hospital in Juhu. The actor is currently under observation and is in a conscious state, Govinda's manager Shashi Sinha told ANI. "The doctors are expected to review his condition around 12 noon, after which further decisions will be taken. Govinda's medical tests are still ongoing," he added.

The development follows the actor's recent visit to Dharmendra, who was hospitalised at the Breach Candy Hospital. Govinda was among the many Bollywood celebrities who arrived to check on the veteran superstar after his health worsened on Monday.

This is the second time that the 'Partner' actor has been hospitalised in recent months. In October last year, Govinda was rushed to the CritiCare Hospital after he sustained a bullet injury on the leg from his revolver. The incident took place during the wee hours when Govinda's licensed revolver accidentally discharged while he was putting it back in the cupboard, according to Mumbai Police. He was preparing to leave for Kolkata at the time. Meanwhile, further updates on Govinda's condition are still awaited.

After 'High On You', Jind Universe is redefining heartbreak with 'Love Exit'

AMRITSAR: Fresh off the massive success of his viral hit, "High On You", which captivated listeners across India and beyond, Jind Universe returns, and this time with "Love Exit". Written and performed by Jind himself, the track digs deep into heartache, nostalgia, and the slow process of healing, weaving them together through layered, evocative music. Known for his signature calm intensity and effortless cool, this new release marks yet another defining chapter in Jind's journey through Indian new-age music scene. With "High On You" still echoing through charts, playlists and night drives, many have praised Jind's lyrical craft. Carrying the same depth, 'Love Exit' finds Jind stepping into a sound that's more evocative, introspective and carries the same quiet confidence. It's less about grand gestures and more about the gravity of feeling. Set against the breath-taking Malaysian landscapes, the music video mirrors the emotional terrain of the track - love, heartbreak and finally, the quiet acceptance. Every frame captures a man in motion yet still, walking the fine line between pain and release. Perfectly balancing vulnerability with quiet strength, the visual is minimal in theatrics and maximum in emotion.

Speaking about the track, Jind Universe shared, "'Love Exit' is about that stillness after the storm, the quiet that follows love, loss, and everything in between. I wanted to capture that feeling of peace in the pause, when love fades and you learn to let it. I hope this track feels like a breath of calm to all the listeners, something that helps them accept without needing to say too much. And honestly, the massive response and love for High On You has been a huge source of inspiration, it reminded me that people connect deeply with honesty and emotion. That energy pushed me to keep exploring new stories and sounds, and Love Exit is just the beginning of what's coming next."

With 'High On You' crossing over 75 million streams and generating over 250K Instagram reels, Jind Universe has steadily built a loyal global fanbase spanning India, Canada, The USA and more. His smooth yet stirring sound is shaping a new wave for Punjabi music, one that values both energy and emotion. 'Love Exit' cements Jind's reputation as an artist unafraid to experiment with mood, texture, and storytelling. This track feels like his moment, a spotlight on an artist who's finally getting the recognition he deserves.

Mansimran Sandhu Drops Party Anthem Tere Piche where Desi Swag Meets Global Vibes

CHANDIGARH: Lights, rhythm, and pure desi swag, Chicago-based Punjabi artist Mansimran Sandhu is back with a party anthem that refuses to be ignored! His latest single, Tere Piche, is a riot of rhythm and romance, an electrifying, dance-heavy track that captures the chase, the chaos, and the irresistible charm of Punjabi beats done right. With smooth vocals fused with high-voltage charisma, Mansimran brings his signature swagger as the beat takes over, pulling listeners straight into a space where every step feels like a celebration. Tere Piche isn't just a track, it's an experience, the kind that commands the dancefloor and makes sure no one's sitting down. Speaking about the track, Mansimran Sandhu shared, "Tere Piche is all about energy, vibe, and that rush you feel when music takes control. I wanted to create something that feels like a chase, where every glance and move builds the excitement. This one is made for everyone who loves to live in the moment and lose themselves in the beat." Ever since making waves with his tracks 'Milde Milde' and 'Meherma', Mansimran Sandhu has been carving his own lane and proving why he's one of the most exciting new voices in the Punjabi music industry. A key part of his evolving sound has been his long-time collaborator and producer Hiten, who has worked with Mansimran on almost all of his previous tracks. Together, the duo has built a distinct sonic identity that blends emotion with infectious rhythm.

Producer Rass leads a powerhouse collaboration with Love Virk, Karam Brar and Inder Dhindsa in 'Glock Talk'

CHANDIGARH: In a world where volume often replaces vision, Rass brings back precision with his latest drop 'Glock Talk' in collaboration with Love Virk and Karam Brar. Built on a foundation of power, brotherhood, and unspoken respect, the record cuts deep into the psyche of street culture - a world where silence speaks volumes, and loyalty is the only language that counts. Get ready for a track that hits harder than the beat itself, where every look, every work, and every move is calculated and intentional. Penned by Inder Dhindsa, 'Glock Talk' is a fusion of precision and attitude that pulls you in from its first bar. With Love Virk's grounded yet commanding delivery and Karam Brar's piercing melodicism, the track captures the duality of restraint and dominance that is bold but not loud, fierce yet controlled.

At the centre of it all Rass, known as MusicByRass across Spotify and Instagram is the producer and creative architect steering the experience. Through his production, 'Glock Talk' becomes a visual in sound that is cold, deliberate and layered with tension. It's the kind of track that moves slow but hits heavy, built with restraint rather than excess. Each verse is deliberate, every pause intentional. The track is a musical statement on presence and control, about earning respect without asking for it. "'Glock Talk' is about power that just owns the room without asking for it. I wanted to match the energy with a sound that hits you right in the spot, which is deliberate, sharp and cinematic. I have tried to do the same with the sound of the track and hope the listeners connect with what we have created," said producer Rass.

HDFC ERGO Implements Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana for farmers In Haryana for Rabi Season

SONIPAT : HDFC ERGO General Insurance Company, India's leading private sector general insurer, has been authorised by the Government of Haryana to implement the Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana (PMFBY) for loanee and non-loanee farmers in the districts of Ambala, Gurugram, Karnal, Jind, Mahendragarh and Hisar, Sonipat for the Rabi 2025-26 season. The scheme will be implemented in the districts for the below-mentioned crops notified under the scheme by the Government of Haryana for which the crop-specific cut-off dates are also provided. PMFBY scheme insures farmers against any losses in crop yield arising out of a wide range of external risks such as drought, floods, dry spells, landslides, cyclones, hurricanes, hailstorms, inundations, pests, diseases and others. To determine the loss in the yield, the state government will plan and conduct Crop Cutting Experiments (CCEs) on the notified crops in areas notified for the scheme. In case the yield data, based on CCEs conducted, concludes to be low then the farmers will be considered to have suffered a shortfall in their yield for which the claims will be payable to the farmers. The scheme provides insurance cover for all stages of the crop cycle including pre-sowing, harvesting and post-harvest risks.
