As the NDA is speculated to again form the government in Bihar, Chief Minister Nitish Kumar expressed gratitude to alliance partners, emphasising that the "massive majority" reflects the "Unity" of the alliance.In a post on X, Nitish thanked voters and expressed gratitude to Prime Minister Narendra Modi, Lok Janshakti Party (Ram Vilas), Rashtirya Lok Morcha and Hindustani Awam Morcha.He asserted that Bihar will now progress even further with the support of all the NDA members.

For this, I bow to all the esteemed voters of the state, and express my heartfelt gratitude and thanks. I express my heartfelt gratitude and thanks to the Honorable Prime Minister Shri Narendra Modi Ji for the support received from him, while bowing to him," CM Nitish Kumar said.

In a series of posts on X, Modi also congratulated the BJP's alliance partners -- Bihar Chief Minister Nitish Kumar, LJP-RV supremo Chirag Paswan, HAM leader Jitan Ram Manjhi and RLM chief Upendra Kushwaha.

"Deepest gratitude to my family members of Bihar, who have blessed the NDA with a historic and unprecedented victory in the 2025 assembly elections," Modi said.

The prime minister said the resounding public mandate will empower the NDA to serve the people and work with new resolve for Bihar.

NDA's Tsunami in Bihar

RJD routed, Congress slide continues

AGENCY
NEW DELHI, NOV 14

The ruling National Democratic Alliance (NDA) has registered a landslide victory in the Bihar assembly polls, with the latest trends showing that it is poised to win over 200 seats. Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) is poised to emerge as the single-largest party in the Bihar assembly and has so far won 78 seats. It was leading in 11 constituencies when news last came in. The Janata Dal (United) has won 66 seats and was leading in 19 constituencies. BJP and JD-U supporters celebrated the NDA's victory in Patna by distributing sweets. Amid the battering, there is some consolation for the RJD as its leader and. LJP (Ram Vilas) has won seven 20 and was leading in 5, Hindustan Awam Morcha has won four seats and was leading in one seats and RLM is leading in four seats. Counting began this morning, and the NDA established its lead from the start in the election trends. The opposition Mahagathbandhan has suffered huge losses. RJD has won 20 seats and was leading in 5, Congress has won three seat and was leading on 3. The way they have risen above the boundaries of caste and community to cast their votes is a vote of hope and trust. The public has seen the work done by Nitish Kumar. They also remember and have seen Lalu Prasad's jungle raj. I am proud that our Bihar has stood up to walk on the path of development," he said.Union Minister and JD-U leader Rajiv Ranjan (Lalan) Singh said that people have given their stamp of approval to the development being carried out in the state and to accelerating its pace over the next five years. "Nitish Kumar is a tiger. The results have made it clear that the NDA was contesting this election under the leadership of Nitish Kumar, and the public has given them a huge mandate because of his work," he said. Another JD-U leader, Lovely Anand, said they were expecting this victory "because we have worked for the people and for Bihar's development". "Women came out in huge numbers to vote in this election. This victory is the result of Nitish Kumar and PM Modi's efforts to promote Bihar's growth. The opposition has alleged vote theft, but people have rejected their claims and chosen law and order and development in Bihar above all."Congress leader Digvijaya Singh expressed surprise at the results. "My suspicion turned out to be true. This whole game is of manipulated voter lists and manipulated EVMs," he alleged. Bihar went to the polls in two phases. The state recorded a historic 67.13% voter turnout, the highest since 1951, with women voters outnumbering men by a huge 8.8 per cent.

Several ministers among NDA winners

PATNA: Bihar ministers Prem Kumar, Maheshwar Hazari and Sanjay Saraogi were among prominent winners from the NDA camp which has, so far, won at least 21 seats in the 243-strong assembly.

Kumar, a senior BJP leader who was the agriculture minister in the outgoing Nitish Kumar government, continued his unbroken run in Gaya Town, a seat he has been winning since 1990. He defeated his Congress rival Akhouri Onkar Nath by a staggering margin of over 26,000 votes.

Hazari, a JD(U) leader who held the Information and Public Relations Department portfolio in the Nitish Kumar government, retained his reserved seat of Kalyanpur where he trounced his nearest CPI(ML) Liberation rival Ranjeet Kumar Ram by a margin of more than 38,000 votes. He has won the seat for a fourth consecutive time.

AAP's Harmeet Sandhu wins Tarn Taran bypoll

TARN TARAN : The ruling AAP retained the Tarn Taran assembly seat in Punjab on Friday, with its candidate Harmeet Singh Sandhu defeating his nearest rival and SAD nominee Sukhwinder Kaur Randhawa by a margin of 12,091 votes.

Harmeet Singh Sandhu secured 42,649 votes against Randhawa's 30,558 after the completion of all 16 rounds of counting, the Election Commission website showed. Celebrations broke out at AAP offices in Tarn Taran and Chandigarh, with party workers dancing to drumbeats and bursting firecrackers to celebrate the poll victory.

Mahila's trust, alliance synergy, development pitch leads NDA to sweep Bihar

AGENCY
PATNA, NOV 14

Nitish Kumar is projected to get a fifth term as Chief Minister of Bihar as per Election Commission which showed a decisive lead for the National Democratic Alliance (NDA) in more than 200 seats as counting of votes progressed on Friday.It seems that a combination of managing the alliance for vote consolidation, to women voter base rallying behind their trusted leader contributed to a victory for NDA alliance.Mahila vote Women voters outpaced men in the two-phase assembly elections held on November 6 and November 11. The state recorded a historic turnout of 67.13%, the highest since 1951 with 71.6% women voting compared to 62.8% of men. This is despite the fact that men outnumbered men in the updated electoral rolls by nearly 4.3 lakh. This nearly 9-point difference could point to the voter block rallying behind Nitish Kumar, getting behind the multiple women welfare measures implemented under the Nitish Kumar-led government.Ahead of the assembly elections, CM Kumar and Prime Minister Narendra Modi had transferred Rs 10,000 to 21 lakh women under the Mukhyamantri Mahila Rojgar Yojana. In comparison, the Mahagathbandhan seemed to have failed to connect to the women voter base despite announcing job schemes, and an increase in allowance to jeevika didis. Clean, corruption free image NDA also seemed to have banked on Nitish Kumar's corruption free image, in direct contrast to RJD chief Lalu Prasad Yadav being embroiled in multiple corruption scams. Currently, Lalu Yadav is undergoing trial in an IRCTC hotels corruption case after Delhi's Rouse Avenue Court framed charges against him, his son Tejashwi Yadav and others. The court framed charges in connection with Lalu Yadav's tenure as Railway Minister, alleged regarding the tender of two IRCTC hotels in Ranchi and Puri.The image of being free from corruption was repeated multiple times by the NDA, contrasting the idea of'Viksit Bihar' with the 20-year-old jungle raj flourishing under RJD. Defence Minister Rajnath Singh also highlighted during campaigning how "not a single corruption case" has been framed against Kumar.

Cong's Pramod Jain Bhaya wins Anta bypoll in Rajasthan

JAIPUR: Congress candidate Pramod Jain Bhaya won the Anta assembly bypoll in Rajasthan's Baran district with 69,571 votes, defeating his nearest rival and BJP nominee Morpal Suman by a margin of 15,612 votes, according to the Election Commission.

Suman got 53,959 votes, beating Independent candidate and Congress rebel Naresh Meena, who was initially in second place, by 159 votes in a tantalisingly close contest.

Results people's stamp of approval on NDA govt's service: Shah

NEW DELHI: Union Home Minister Amit Shah on Friday said the overwhelming mandate for the NDA in Bihar is the people's stamp of approval on its work for development, women's safety, good governance and the welfare of the poor.

In a series of posts on X, Shah said that in the last 11 years, Prime Minister Narendra Modi has worked wholeheartedly for Bihar and Chief Minister Nitish Kumar has worked to pull the state out of the darkness of 'jungle raj'.

Prashant Kishor: Man behind many leaders' electoral success bites dust in own fight

PATNA: Before launching into the Bihar assembly elections, the celebrated former poll strategist Prashant Kishor had made two predictions, one about his Jan Suraaj Party and the other about the JD(U), of which he is a former national vice president. His prediction of "arsh par ya farsh par" (either sky high or down to dust) for his own party has, much to his chagrin, come true, though JD(U) cadres, including its supreme leader Nitish Kumar, the Bihar Chief Minister, may ridicule him.

NC loses Budgam in first electoral test since last year's Assembly polls

UNI
SRINAGAR, NOV 14

In a major setback for the ruling National Conference, the Peoples Democratic Party today clinched the Budgam bypoll — only the second time since 1957 that the NC has lost this key constituency.

PDP candidate Aga Muntazir won the Budgam bypoll by a margin of 4,478 votes, delivering a significant blow to the National Conference in one of its traditional strongholds.

The by-election was necessitated after Chief Minister Omar Abdullah, who had won both Budgam and Ganderbal seats in last year's Assembly elections, vacated Budgam to retain Ganderbal.

In bypoll results today PDP's Muntazir secured 21,576 votes, while NC candidate Aga Mahmood finished second with 17,098 votes. BJP's Aga Mohsin polled 2,619 votes and Independent candidate Jibran Dar secured 7,152 votes. A total of 17 candidates including seven independents were in fray.

Congress' Naveen Yadav wins Jubilee Hills by-election

HYDERABAD: Congress candidate Naveen Yadav has won the Jubilee Hills Assembly by-election, defeating BRS nominee Maganti Sunitha by a margin of 24,729 votes. Naveen Yadav V (Congress) secured 98,988 votes, Maganti Sunitha Gopinath (BRS) received 74,259 votes, and Lankala Deepak Reddy (BJP) polled 17,061 votes.The Election Commission issued the formal declaration, after which District Election Officer R V Karnan handed over the certificate of election, officially confirming Naveen Yadav as the MLA from Jubilee Hills. Yadav maintained a clear lead from the very first round of counting, steadily widening the gap as the rounds progressed. BRS candidate Maganti Sunitha was unable to gain an edge at any stage. The decisive win has boosted the morale of the Revanth Reddy government and the Congress cadre.

Residents of Saidpura village, under the jurisdiction of Karnal Municipal Corporation, are facing continuous inconvenience as the main village road—dug up three months ago for replacement of the sewer line—has not been repaired yet. This is the same road on which the government school and most residential houses are located.

The road stretches from the village entrance towards Shivpuri and further up to the Bhakra Canal. Due to the broken surface, dust clouds rise throughout the day, spreading into homes and courtyards, making it difficult for residents to even breathe comfortably. Grey charter

Even as Bangladesh prepares for national elections in February, sections of its political class are demanding an urgent referendum on the so-called July National Charter of political reforms to make those legally binding. The Jamaat-e-Islami, one of the country's major political forces, demanded this week that a referendum on the Charter should precede the elections. On Thursday, the country's interim leader, the Nobel laureate, Muhammad Yunus, promised that the referendum would be held alongside the election. Whether it takes place before or along with the election, the very idea of a critical referendum being held under the auspices of an unelected government should raise concerns among supporters of a strong democracy in Bangladesh. That is especially so because of the ongoing debate over just how inclusive the upcoming elections will be, with the Awami League, the party of the ousted prime minister, Sheikh Hasina, currently barred from participating in the polls. While it is undeniable that Bangladesh's security forces carried out human rights excesses under Ms Hasina's rule, especially during the protests against her government last year, it is also impossible to ignore that the Awami League represents the political choice of millions of Bangladeshis. A referendum and an election that ignore that fact will always lack legitimacy in the eyes of many in that country.

Some of the provisions of the July Charter also deserve a closer look. The provision, for instance, to strengthen the powers of the president over the prime minister in effect weakens the voice of voters in a parliamentary system like the one that Bangladesh has. It also risks creating multiple power centres instead of endorsing a unified government.

The Charter proposes term limits for legislators, another proposal that runs counter to the Westminster model of democracy that Bangladesh follows. Before embarking on a referendum on the Charter, Bangladesh needs an appraisal of the past 15 months, reviewing both successes and shortcomings. Independent rights groups, for instance, are warning that extrajudicial killings and enforced disappearances that had become commonplace in the final years of Ms Hasina's rule have continued under Mr Yunus. The institutions, including security agencies, that abused their power to mistreat ordinary civilians remain largely untouched. On Monday, a tribunal is scheduled to announce its verdict on charges against Ms Hasina that she carried out crimes against humanity. But while all leaders must be held accountable for their actions, it is the institutions of Bangladesh's State that need an overhaul. A referendum alone will not do that.

Bihar elections: Tejashwi–Rahul and their promises defeated, development wins

Elections are not won through clever rhetoric, hollow promises, or atmosphere-building politics — the latest results of the Bihar elections have once again proved this. The public has shown the mirror of reality to those who mocked the exit polls, and has also shown them the door.

The NDA's massive victory is not the result of any single factor. There are multiple dimensions to it, each of which needs to be understood carefully — especially because the biggest contributors to this defeat of the Mahagathbandhan were none other than Rahul Gandhi and Tejashwi Yadav.

1. Bihar has moved beyond the "lantern era"

Bihar today is not a state that can be trapped in the politics of the past.

Mobile internet and global awareness have empowered every citizen with information.

Political consciousness has always been Bihar's identity. From street-corner conversations to discussions in village courtyards, everyone deeply analyses politics and then makes an informed decision. Had this not been so, the Congress would not have collapsed to just five seats, nor would the RJD have stopped around twenty-five.

2. Main reasons behind the Mahagathbandhan's defeat:

(a) Ego and internal conflicts between Tejashwi and Rahul

Even before elections, Tejashwi had begun presenting himself almost like a "declared Chief Minister."

On every platform, he projected his promises as "Tejashwi's guarantees," pushing the alliance into the background. Seats were declared without mutual consent, increasing internal rifts and causing clashes on many constituencies — later covered up as "friendly fights."

(b) Jungle Raj vs Development — a clear contrast

The NDA framed the election as a choice between jungle raj and development.

In contrast, Tejashwi did not stop supporters from raising slogans in favour of Shahabuddin; instead, he appeared to be accepting them.

The same Shahabuddin — accused in multiple murders and serious crimes.

The signal of offering tickets to his family conveyed to voters that the RJD might return to its old ways.

(c) The unbelievable promise of a job in every household

Tejashwi's promise — "one government job for one person in every family" — proved impractical.

Fulfilling this would require around ?10 lakh crore, while Bihar's total budget is only ?3.16 lakh crore.

It was clear that this promise was economically impossible, and the public rejected it.

(d) Bitter memories of the Lalu era

People of Bihar have not forgotten:

- Mafia rule
- Fodder scam
- Land-for-jobs scandal
- Dynastic politics
- Enormous wealth amassed through corruption
- Atrocities against women

The Mahagathbandhan also failed to present a clear development model.

3. Congress and Rahul: BJP's "guarantee"

Rahul Gandhi's election style has itself become a burden for the Congress.

No groundwork, no grip on issues — and foreign trips during crucial political moments.

In this election:

- Starting with allegations of "vote theft,"
- A Malaysia trip in between,
- Photos of him whipping coffee in Colombia during campaigns,
- A jungle safari in Madhya Pradesh,
- And roaming in Muscat right before results —

All of this signalled that elections are not a serious matter for him.

Rahul's statements also caused damage:

- Calling Chhath Puja a drama,
- Attacks on Sanatan Dharma,
- Insulting remarks about Modi and his mother,
- Comments like "Narendra Surrender."

The public notices all this — and responds with votes.

Attempts to mobilise JNU/Gen-Z crowds on the streets and provoke confrontation also did not sit well with Bihar.

4. Modi and NDA's positive narrative

In contrast, Prime Minister Modi and the entire NDA team consistently communicated a message of development, good governance, stability, and a progressing Bihar.

Schemes for women.

A clear model of development.

The public trusted this message.

5. Conclusion: Bihar's decision in national interest

Bihar has made it clear that it has moved past the politics of confusion, negativity, dynastic control, and disorder.

It has sent a strong message in favour of a developed Bihar and a developed India.

This result is reassuring for the nation and promising for the future.

Self Worth

Self-importance is crucial element for success that many of us overlook. We all crave for success, but the secret lies in prioritizing ourselves—our skills, our mental well-being, and our time—instead of becoming a doormat for others.In the constant race of life, we often lose ourselves, seeking admiration from people who barely care about us. We try to impress them, forgetting that we weren't born to please others; we were born to live the life we choose.

To live authentically, you must guard your health, as no wealth compares to your well-being. A health-conscious person is truly empowered to conquer their world.If you don't value your own opinions and presence, why should anyone else?Moreover, you must respect and believe in your own ability before seeking external validation.

Think of historical figures like Albert Einstein, Srinivasa Ramanujan, and Nikola Tesla. They faced immense doubt, yet their own conviction allowed them to succeed. If they had doubted their ideas, would they be famous today? Don't expect everyone to encourage you; not everyone can distinguish between copper and pure gold.Ultimately, be the fuel for your own dreams and give wings to your success. Don't wait for someone else to do it. Successful people see opportunities where others see problems—that's what makes them special. You don't need a perfect start; you simply need to start to become perfect.

Value your opinions, your peace, your skills, and commit to becoming the best version of yourself the world has yet to see. Take that first step, and watch how it changes the course of your life.

BBC apologises to Trump over documentary

The BBC has apologised to US President Donald Trump for a Panorama episode that edited parts of his January 6 2021 speech together, but rejected his demands for compensation, the broadcaster said.

The corporation said the edit had given "the mistaken impression that President Trump had made a direct call for violent action" and said it would not show the 2024 programme again.

Trump has threatned to sue for one billion US dollars in damages unless the corporation issues a retraction of the October 2024 documentary, apologises and compensates him.The scandal led to the resignations of BBC director general Tim Davie and head of news Deborah Turness. on Sunday. A second misleading edit from a 2022 Newsnight broadcast surfaced hours before the apology, adding to scrutiny.A report by CNN stated that a BBC spokesperson said that lawyers for the broadcaster had written to Trump's legal team in response to a letter received on Sunday."

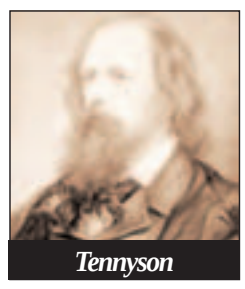

BBC chair Samir Shah has separately sent a personal letter to the White House making clear to President (Donald) Trump that he and the corporation are sorry for the edit of the president's speech on 6 January 2021, which featured in the program," the spokesperson said as quoted by CNN.

POEM

The Princess: Sweet and Low

Sweet and low, sweet and low, Wind of the western sea, Low, low, breathe and blow, Wind of the western sea!

Over the rolling waters go,

Tennyson

Come from the dying moon, and blow,

Blow him again to me;

While my little one, while my pretty one, sleeps.

Sleep and rest, sleep and rest,

Father will come to thee soon;

Rest, rest, on mother's breast,

Father will come to thee soon;

Father will come to his babe in the nest,

Silver sails all out of the west Under the silver moon:

Sleep, my little one, sleep, my pretty one, sleep.

Germany detects poliovirus in wastewater sample in Hamburg

Germany reported the detection of wild poliovirus type 1 (WPV1) in a wastewater sample in Hamburg, a statement by the European Centre for Disease Prevention and Control, an agency of the European Union, said.This follows previous reports about circulating vaccine-derived poliovirus type 2 (cVDPV2) in wastewater samples from several locations in Germany since the end of 2024, which comes as a setback when countries are vying to eradicate the virus.

The detections of cVDPV2 and WPV1 are unrelated, but both polioviruses can cause polio in people who are not vaccinated or not fully vaccinated, as per Thursday's statement.

The genome sequence of the isolate shows a very strong similarity to a genetic cluster in Afghanistan [REF]. WPV1 currently only circulates in Afghanistan and Pakistan, but in recent years it has also been detected outside these two countries: in environmental samples in Iran (2019), and in confirmed cases in Malawi (2021) and Mozambique (2022).The detection of WPV1 in a wastewater sample in Germany is unusual, but not unexpected. The risk to the European population from this WPV1 detection in wastewater in Germany is considered very low due to generally high vaccination rates across the region, the statement says.Given that polio has not been eradicated globally, the risk of the virus being reintroduced in Europe remains as long as there are people who are not fully vaccinated. All EU/EEA countries have polio vaccination programmes, and all use inactivated polio vaccines (IPV). Most EU/EEA countries report vaccination coverage above 90%. High vaccination coverage is needed to continue to protect people against polio.

The genome sequence of the isolate shows a very strong similarity to a genetic cluster in Afghanistan [REF]. WPV1 currently only circulates in Afghanistan and Pakistan, but in recent years it has also been detected outside these two countries: in environmental samples in Iran (2019), and in confirmed cases in Malawi (2021).

ECDC has recommendations for public health authorities after the previous detections of polioviruses in wastewater.Ensure the timely administration of polio-containing vaccines included in routine vaccination programmes in all EU/EEA countries, especially for young children, in order to maintain at least 90% coverage across all levels of society;Identify and reach out to people with incomplete or unknown vaccination status;Develop tailored, context-specific, culturally sensitive interventions to increase vaccination uptake, and conduct risk communication activities to highlight the importance of ensuring timely routine vaccination;Alert clinicians, in particular paediatricians and neurologists, to remain aware of acute flaccid paralysis (AFP) syndromes and about AFP cases potentially caused by poliovirus, and remind them that AFP surveillance is based on polio virus identification in faecal samples and that negative test results of samples from other bodily substances do not exclude polio virus infection;Strengthen environmental surveillance to rapidly detect introductions or circulation of the virus.

ECDC will continue to work closely with national and international partners to monitor the situation, provide guidance, and support efforts to maintain high vaccination levels, the statement added.

Haryana Assembly speaker Harvinder Kalyan listen to problems of people during public hearing

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA
KARNAL, NOV 14

Haryana Assembly Speaker Harvinder Kalyan said that the Bihar election results were the result of the trust built among the people in the government due to Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision and strong leadership to make India a developed nation.

Kalyan was speaking to reporters on Friday after listening to people's problems at the PWD Rest House in Gharaunda. He said that he regularly met with the people of the Gharaunda Assembly constituency. Public hearings were held periodically to address their issues and discuss development work. He strived to address as many people's problems as possible. Responding to a question about the Bihar elections, he said that according to current information, the NDA was poised to win a majority in Bihar. People have faith in Prime Minister Narendra Modi's vision and strong leadership to make India a developed nation. The Prime Minister's work to move the country forward in the national interest has increased people's confidence. The Bihar results are a result of that.

Irresponsible allegations against constitutional institutions are not good in the interest of the country.Responding to another question about vote theft, he said that rhetoric that created chaos should be avoided. We should trust constitutional institutions. It is not appropriate to level baseless accusations against these institutions. Like the government, the opposition also plays an important role. It works to hold the government to account but its role should be positive.

Services to be launched at the medical university from next year Kalyan stated that numerous projects have been implemented in the Gharaunda Assembly constituency over the past ten years. The Medical University will begin providing services to residents from next year. The construction of the ring road is expected to be completed within six months. Work on the NCC Academy has also resumed. Work has been completed on projects such as schools, colleges, and ITIs. New hospitals and roads have been constructed. Efforts are underway to ensure eligible residents benefit from government schemes. A large number of colonies in the city have been legalized and provided with basic amenities. Parks and a bus stand have been constructed. All development demands received in recent years have been addressed. Phase 1 of the mini bypass in Gharaunda was completed in the previous plan. A road connecting 20 villages was constructed by acquiring land from the railway. Future projects will also be pursued. Serious efforts are being made to take Gharaunda to new heights of progress. On questions regarding the stoppage of AC buses in Gharaunda and the opening of an AIPRO office, he said that he would obtain information from the department and take appropriate steps. On the question of only 25 tokens being issued daily to correct Aadhaar card-related errors at the district headquarters, he said that he would speak to the Deputy Commissioner about this.

They want work and development in reality." He added that "The aware citizens of Bihar have completely eliminated the 'jungle raj' from its roots and have rejected the politics of Katta Raj. The people of Bihar have accepted the development-driven policies of Prime Minister Narendra Modi, he asserted." Vij was responding to questions from media persons on Monday. He said that in the Bihar election, the strategy of Union Home Minister Amit Shah, who he described as "the Chanakya of this era," played a significant role. Axis Bank partners with JSW MG Motor India to promote EVs

CHANDIGARH : Axis Bank, one of the largest private sector banks in India, in collaboration with JSW MG Motor, has introduced an innovative Dual Loan program designed to make electric mobility more accessible and future-ready for Indian customers. Anchored in MG's pioneering Battery-as-a-Service (BaaS) model, this initiative allows customers to avail separate loans for the vehicle and its battery, significantly reducing the upfront cost of ownership. The program offers up to 100% on-road funding and flexible tenures of up to 8 years for the battery, turning conventional fuel expenses into predictable, long-term value, and making sustainable driving a practical, intelligent choice.

Commenting on the partnership, Munish Sharda, Executive Director, Axis Bank, said, "At Axis Bank, we are committed to offering customer-friendly solutions and driving innovation in vehicle financing. The Dual Loan program builds precisely on that premise, separating the battery from the vehicle cost to give customers financial flexibility without compromise. Much like how consumers have embraced subscription models in technology, BaaS allows them to experience cutting-edge mobility with smarter economics. Together with Axis Bank, we're turning innovation into everyday access, accelerating India's journey towards a more sustainable future." Said, Anurag Mehrotra, Managing Director, JSW MG Motor India.

HDFC ERGO Implements Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana for farmers In Haryana for Rabi Season

JIND : HDFC ERGO General Insurance Company, India's leading private sector general insurer, has been authorised by the Government of Haryana to implement the Pradhan Mantri Fasal Bima Yojana (PMFBY) for loanee and non-loanee farmers in the districts of Ambala, Gurugram, Karnal, Jind, Mahendragarh and Hisar, Sonipat for the Rabi 2025-26 season.The scheme will be implemented in the districts for the below-mentioned crops notified under the scheme by the Government of Haryana for which the crop-specific cut-off dates are also provided. PMFBY scheme insures farmers against any losses in crop yield arising out of a wide range of external risks such as drought, floods, dry spells, landslides, cyclones, hurricanes, hailstorms, inundations, pests, diseases and others. To determine the loss in the yield, the state government will plan and conduct Crop Cutting Experiments (CCEs) on the notified crops in areas notified for the scheme. In case the yield data, based on CCEs conducted, concludes to be low then the farmers will be considered to have suffered a shortfall in their yield for which the claims will be payable to the farmers. The scheme provides insurance cover for all stages of the crop cycle including pre-sowing, harvesting and post-harvest risks. All the products under the PMFBY scheme are approved by the Department of Agriculture, Government of Haryana. Farmers from the districts of Ambala, Gurugram, Karnal, Jind, Mahendragarh, Hisar and Sonipat can reach out to their respective banks, Common Service Centres (CSCs) in their district or contact the authorized HDFC ERGO agents to obtain the insurance cover under the PMFBY scheme for the crops listed above. The details of the validity period to obtain the insurance cover will be available for the farmers on the website of the Department of Agriculture. The farmer may also logon to the Farmers App or opt for self-enrollment of the scheme on the website https://pmfby.gov.in/farmerLogin.

India Could Save 8 Million Lives from Smoking by 2060, Says New Report Ahead of WHO COP11

CHANDIGARH : Tobacco use continues to be one of the world's most stubborn public health challenges, claiming more than eight million lives every year. A new global report suggests that this grim toll can be reduced dramatically if countries embrace the full potential of 21st-century innovations — from tobacco harm reduction (THR) and improved cessation support to early disease detection. Together, these measures could help save over 100 million lives worldwide by 2060.

There are currently over 1.1 billion smokers worldwide, with tobacco-related diseases posing a formidable challenge to public health systems everywhere. This critical report, "Lives Saved: Saving 100 Million Lives by 2060," authored by distinguished public health leaders including Dr. Derek Yach, Project Leader, and Dr. Delon Human, offers a clear roadmap for how innovative science-based approaches can markedly reduce smoking-related mortality.

A pragmatic blend of traditional tobacco control and modern harm reduction could halve global smoking-related deaths if 20% of the world's 1.1 billion smokers switched to low-risk alternatives in the next 10–15 years (with many others quitting via better support), smoking attributable deaths could be cut in half by 2060. In 23 countries studied, this strategy may prevent over 14 million premature deaths by 2060—doubling the impact of current measures. With innovation, prevention, and early screening, annual tobacco-related deaths could decline sharply by mid-century.

India, home to one of the largest populations of adult smokers with a prevalence rate of 21.8%, could save approximately 8 million lives by 2060 through the adoption of these harm reduction strategies. The report highlights that supplementing traditional tobacco control with regulated, science-based alternatives would accelerate mortality decline by 25 to 50 percent compared to continuing current measures alone.

SHIV KUMAR SHARMA
TOSHAM, NOVEMBER 14

State Women and Child Development and Irrigation and Water Resources Minister Shruti Chaudhary said that former Minister, late Chaudhary Surender Singh, was a leader of 36 communities. His leadership and ideology will remain an inspiration for all of us. His contribution to the development of not only the Tosham region but the entire state can never be forgotten. Shruti Chaudhary was delivering her message during a programme organised at the memorial site of her father, late Chaudhary Surender Singh, in Golagarh village on Friday, on the eve of his birth anniversary. She paid homage to her father, late Chaudhary Surender Singh, by offering floral tributes at the memorial site. In her address, she said that like former Chief Minister, late Chaudhary Bansi Lal, Surender Singh's life was filled with struggle for the welfare of the people. He worked for the benefit of every section of society. She said that he knew every single worker. Chaudhary Surendra Singh knew people directly in every village of Haryana. Chaudhary Surender Singh held a special place in the hearts of both workers and the general public of the state. She said that Chaudhary Surendra Singh's final decision in life was also in the interest of farmers, in which he worked to computerize revenue records, which is being praised throughout the state. She said that she, along with her mother, Rajya Sabha MP Kiran Chaudhary, is working to carry forward the work of late Chaudhary Bansi Lal and Chaudhary Surendra Singh.

Shruti Chaudhary said that her life's goal is to work for the prosperity of the area. She always wishes that whatever contribution she can make to empower society is not enough. Her endeavor is to carry out such public welfare work that people remember him. On the occasion of former minister Chaudhary Surender Singh's birthday, a programme was organized by Sarpanches from various villages in Kairu. During this, approximately 17 Sarpanches and two BDC members from the block joined the BJP under the leadership of Shruti Chaudhary. Shruti said that no effort would be spared to honor the workers who joined her. Respecting workers was also paramount for Chaudhary Surender Singh. A blood donation camp was organized during this period, in which 50 young people donated blood.

Shruti Chaudhary spread the message of cleanliness by sweeping the Surendra Singh Chowk in Tosham. Women and Child Development Minister Shruti Chaudhary arrived in Tosham after visiting Golagarh and Kairu.

Corteva Agriscience Launches Pixxaro new generation broadleaf weed control for wheat

CHANDIGARH : Corteva Agriscience announced the launch of Pixxaro®, a new broadleaf weed (BLW) control solution for wheat in India. A post-emergent pre-mix of Arylex™ active and Fluroxypyr, Pixxaro® is engineered to deliver strong, reliable control of tough BLWs with exceptional crop safety, helping wheat growers protect yield potential and quality. BLWs in wheat, when left unmanaged, compete for nutrients, moisture, and light, eroding yield. Research, including a paper published by Punjab Agricultural University (PAU), indicates uncontrolled BLWs can reduce wheat yields by up to 36%. Despite this, BLW control is often deprioritized versus narrow-leaf weeds like Phalaris minor, leading to regrowth, repeat applications, and visible crop shock with prevailing solutions.

Pixxaro® redefines BLW management with one-shot, broad-spectrum efficacy on problematic species including Chenopodium album, Rumex dentatus, and Medicago denticulate. The advanced formulation provides consistent performance in challenging conditions, including fog, supporting flexible application windows and dependable results across diverse environments. Extensive research and farmer demonstrations conducted across key wheat growing states, confirmed an excellent crop safety profile with strong BLW suppression and reduced regrowth. Pixxaro® provides excellent broad-spectrum control of broadleaf weeds in a single pass, effectively managing tough-to-control species that currently require multiple solutions. Corteva ensures responsible use through farmer stewardship initiatives, training, and best-practice guidance to ensure safe handling, regulatory compliance, and environmental care.

A highlight of Chief Minister Nayab Saini's campaign was that he spoke to people in their own accents at various places in Bihar and attempted to connect with the people of Bihar. During the Bihar elections, Nayab Saini campaigned in Arrah and Tarari constituencies in Bhojpur district, Dehri in Rohtas district, Wazirganj and Gaura in Gaya, Goh in Aurangabad district, Bagaha in West Champaran district, and Ramnagar in East Champaran district.

For nearly a month, a large team of Haryana leaders, led by Chief Minister Nayab Saini, campaigned for the Bihar elections. During the campaign, the Chief Minister dedicated his time to Haryana and fulfilled the party's assigned duties in Bihar. While a team from the Haryana BJP campaigned in Bihar, another team continuously engaged in outreach with voters of Bihari origin in Haryana. Voters from Haryana were encouraged to vote in Bihar and sent to Bihar by special trains. After sending Bihari voters to their hometowns in cities like Panipat, Sonipat, Gurugram, and others, elaborate programs were organized to ensure that they, even though far from home, were united in making them participate in this festival of democracy.

Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Saini, while campaigning in Bihar, directly interacted with the people, explaining that the Haryana government is not only working for the convenience of migrants but is also celebrating migrant festivals. Citing the example of Chhath Puja, the Chief Minister said in a public meeting that now even they feel like they are from Bihar. While the people of Bihar readily accepted this statement, the opposition in Haryana attempted to make it an issue but failed. Prior to the Bihar Assembly elections, Chief Minister Nayab Saini played a crucial role in the Delhi Assembly elections. Saini was in charge of campaigning for the Delhi Assembly constituencies bordering Haryana's Gurugram, Faridabad, and Sonipat districts. In Delhi, Saini campaigned as if he were contesting the elections himself. As a result, as in Bihar, the BJP not only won the seats in Delhi under Saini's leadership but also formed the government.

After leading the BJP to victory for the third time in Haryana, Haryana Chief Minister Nayab Saini, who led the BJP's campaign in Delhi and now Bihar, is steadily gaining ground within the party. By maintaining a balance between power and organisation, Nayab Saini has proven his growing acceptance not only in Haryana but also in neighboring states.

Smog Season Alert: How Poor Air Quality Harms Lung Health

PATIALA: With the onset of winter, smog levels across North India rise sharply, posing a severe threat to respiratory health. Prolonged exposure to poor air quality can trigger or worsen lung diseases like asthma, COPD, bronchitis, and even increase the risk of lung cancer. Tiny particulate matter (PM2.5 and PM10) present in smog penetrates deep into the lungs, leading to permanent lung damage on long term exposure, reducing oxygen levels in blood and other organs.

Dr. Anil Kumar, Consultant- Pulmonary Medicine, Manipal Hospital, Patiala, said, "Rising air pollution levels are a silent but serious threat to public health. Recognizing symptoms early and minimizing exposure are key to prevent long-term respiratory damage."

Common symptoms of lung distress during the smog season include persistent cough, wheezing, or shortness of breath, along with irritation in the eyes, nose, and throat. Many individuals also report chest tightness or fatigue even during routine activities, which can indicate reduced lung efficiency caused by prolonged exposure to polluted air.

Tips to Protect Your Lungs This Season:

- Avoid early morning or late evening walks when smog levels peak
- Use N95 or N99 masks to filter harmful particles
- Keep windows closed and use air purifiers during high pollution hours.
- Eat fruits like oranges, amla, and leafy greens vegetables to boost immunity levels
- Refrain from smoking and avoid burning candles, incense or room fresheners indoors

As smog season intensifies, small preventive steps can go a long way in ensuring a healthier winter.

Asian Paints Rekindles the Magic of "Har Ghar Kuch Kehta Hai", with a Fresh Perspective on Modern Indian Homes

CHANDIGARH : Asian Paints has brought back its popular, Har Ghar Kuch Kehta Hai campaign, remaking it to reflect modern homes and relationships. The new ad uses gentle narration and thoughtful storytelling to highlight the quiet, meaningful moments and memories that every family leaves behind. Through lighthearted stories and beautiful visuals, it shows multiple unique ways people make their home special – from a young couple personalizing their space, a food vlogger filming with the support of his grandmother, an elderly couple warmly hosting a foreign guest, and a pet parent treating their pet like family. Each story celebrates the little moments that turn a house into a home.

The film leaves a lasting thought: every home quietly tells who lives inside. It's a reminder that a home's essence comes from its people, their feelings, daily lives, memories, not just its walls and roofs.

Speaking about the refreshed campaign, Amit Syngle, MD & CEO, Asian Paints said, "With this new chapter of Har Ghar Kuch Kehta Hai, we're celebrating the evolving nature of Indian homes and the unique ways families bring them alive. Homes today are more dynamic, more expressive, and more personal than ever before. Through this campaign, we want to showcase how every corner of a home carries meaning whether through creativity, individuality, or shared experiences and continues to reflect the people who live within it. This film showcases homes as dynamic spaces of identity, creativity and connection."

This campaign builds on the brand legacy loved by millions showing the timeless spirit of Har Ghar Kuch Kehta Hai, celebrating every home, every wall, and every story. This campaign marks the final collaboration between Asian Paints and the late Piyush Pandey - a memorable conclusion to a legendary association that shaped the brand's storytelling for decades.

Zee TV Stars Celebrate Children's Day by Reconnecting with Their Inner Child

CHANDIGARH: In India, Children's Day is observed every year on 14 November in honour of the birth anniversary of the country's first Prime Minister, Jawaharlal Nehru, affectionately known as "Chacha Nehru". The day is dedicated to reaffirming children's rights and the vital role of education. This Children's Day, actors from Zee TV, including Shubhangi Latkar from Ganga Mai Ki Betiyan, Ayushi Khurana from Jaane Anjaane Hum Mile, Niharika Chouksey from Tumm Se Tumm Tak and Farman Haider from Jagadhatri has reflected on their childhoods and shared warm wishes for the day.

Shubhangi Latkar, who plays Ganga Mai in Ganga Mai Ki Betiyan, shared, "As a kid my biggest worry was homework and whether I'd win the fancy-dress competition. Today my challenges may be bigger, but still that child-like heart is inside me. From learning algebra to remembering my lines on the set, I have truly grown! To all little ones and the child in us, a very Happy Children's Day!"

Ayushi Khurana Kakkar, who plays Reet in Jaane Anjaane Hum Mile, said, "When I was young, our school playground felt like the entire universe, the ball was the moon, the swings were the spaceships, and every friend was a co-pilot in our adventures. Today, as I portray complex characters and find my way through adult realities, I often return to that playfulness to remind myself, 'What would I do if I still believed that the world was my playground?' This Children's Day, let's promise ourselves to keep that question alive."

Niharika Chouksey, who plays Anu in Tumm Se Tumm Tak, shared, "I still see myself as that little kid running around with scraped knees, laughing too loud, asking endless questions, and dreaming of a world much bigger than I could imagine. Even today, when I'm on set under bright lights, I can feel that same child inside me who is curious, hopeful, and full of wonder. This Children's Day, I wish that every child, and the child within all of us, never loses that spark, the freedom to dream big, make mistakes, and believe that life truly can be magical."

Farman Haider, who plays Shivaay in Jagadhatri, shared, "On this Children's Day, I think back to the fearless, curious child I once was, full of questions, imagination, and big dreams. That version of me taught an important lesson that no dream is too big, no idea too small, and every voice matters. Today, I want to remind every child and every grown-up to keep that spark alive. Let's hold on to our sense of wonder, believe in hope, and encourage every young dreamer to shine. After all, the children of today are the storytellers, dreamers, and changemakers of tomorrow."

"Ek din apna ghar hoga": Rajendra Chawla gets candid about living his Lakshmi Niwas moment in real life

CHANDIGARH: For every middle-class man, the dream of building his own home is not just about bricks and walls; it's a symbol of pride, stability, and love. Rajendra Chawla, renowned for his powerful performances in popular shows like Ghar Ki Lakshmi Betiyann, Meet, and several others, will now be seen as Srinivas in Zee TV's upcoming show Lakshmi Niwas, a role that deeply resonates with this very emotion. Much like his character, he too has lived a life driven by the simple yet profound dream of owning a home built on hard work and hope.

In Lakshmi Niwas, Srinivas is a sincere and selfless family man who has spent his entire life caught up in the everyday realities of managing household responsibilities, his children's education, their marriages, and fulfilling his wife Lakshmi's wishes for the family. However, in meeting these immediate duties, his own dream of building a home for his wife always took a backseat. Now, with retirement approaching, that long-held promise has once again become the heartbeat of their relationship.

Reflecting on how closely his real life mirrors Srinivas's story, Rajendra shared an emotional memory from his younger days, one that taught him the true meaning of stability and self-reliance. Rajendra said, "From my perspective, half my life has gone into building a home because I started my journey with that one dream: ek din apna ghar hoga. When you come from a middle-class background, you don't just dream, you plan, you save, you sacrifice. You grow up seeing your parents turn every small saving into a stepping stone for something bigger. I still remember the day my father took me to the bank and said, 'Beta, today we'll make a small, fixed deposit in your name.'

After 'High On You', Jind Universe is redefining heartbreak with 'Love Exit'

CHANDIGARH: Fresh off the massive success of his viral hit, "High On You", which captivated listeners across India and beyond, Jind Universe returns, and this time with "Love Exit". Written and performed by Jind himself, the track digs deep into heartache, nostalgia, and the slow process of healing, weaving them together through layered, evocative music. Known for his signature calm intensity and effortless cool, this new release marks yet another defining chapter in Jind's journey through Indian new-age music scene. With "High On You" still echoing through charts, playlists and night drives, many have praised Jind's lyrical craft. Carrying the same depth, 'Love Exit' finds Jind stepping into a sound that's more evocative, introspective and carries the same quiet confidence. It's less about grand gestures and more about the gravity of feeling. Set against the breathtaking Malaysian landscapes, the music video mirrors the emotional terrain of the track - love, heartbreak and finally, the quiet acceptance. Every frame captures a man in motion yet still, walking the fine line between pain and release. Perfectly balancing vulnerability with quiet strength, the visual is minimal in theatrics and maximum in emotion.

Speaking about the track, Jind Universe shared, "'Love Exit' is about that stillness after the storm, the quiet that follows love, loss, and everything in between. I wanted to capture that feeling of peace in the pause, when love fades and you learn to let it. I hope this track feels like a breath of calm to all the listeners, something that helps them accept without needing to say too much.
